SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

DR. STRAIT'S

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

Notices of the Press.

No more delightful travels are printed in the English language than appear perpetually in Harper's Magazine. They are read with equal interest and satisfaction by boys of every grade from eighteen to eighty. Its scientific papers, while sufficiently profound to demand the attention of the learned, are yet admirably adapted to the popular understanding, and designed as much to diffuse correct information concerning current scientific discovery as it could be if it was the organ of the "Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge." The great design of Harper's is to give correct information and rational amusement to the great masses of the people. There are few intelligent American families in which Harper's Magazine would not be an appointed and highly-welcome guest. There is no monthly Magazine an intelligent reading family can less afford to be without. Many Magazines are accumulated. Harper's is edited. There is not a Magazine that is printed which shows more intelligent pains expended on its articles and mechanical execution. There is not a cheaper Magazine published. There is not, confessedly, a more popular Magazine in the world.—New England Homestead.

It is one of the wonders of journalism—the editorial management of Harper's.—The Nation.

☞ The schooner "Onward" is to be taken into the Dry Dock this forenoon, to be calked and repaired. This vessel was injured by collision with the U. S. S. "Brooklyn" some weeks since in the lower harbor.

☞ The Sunday School of the Christian Society at Kittery Foreside will give an Exhibition, consisting of dialogues, addresses, singing, &c., on Thursday evening, Nov. 3, at the Christian Church in that town.

☞ In reply to very numerous inquiries, we are authorized to state, that Mr. Frank W. Miller, late of the Chronicle, has no intention of changing his residence; but intends permanently continuing a citizen of his own native Portsmouth,—which has no more public spirited Son than he, and is held in no higher esteem by any one than by Mr. Miller. Any business he choses to put his hands to will thrive, and we believe Frank W. Miller will show the old fogies how things can be done—practically as well as theoretically.

☞ Messrs. C. A. Hazlett and Frank W. Robinson, in connection with the Mercantile Library Association, are to issue a paper, to be called the "The Lyceum," to be mainly devoted to the interests of the P. M. L. A. Course of Lectures, Readings and Concerts.

It is to be made a spicy, readable sheet by the insertion of original matter by some of the leading literary gentlemen of this city. They intend to insert a limited number of advertisements and as 2,500 copies are to be distributed gratuitously all over the city and at the Temple, it will be a good advertising medium.

☞ The butchers in this vicinity say that never before have they found the Autumn fleeces of sheep and lambs in such splendid condition as at present, the wool being very close and heavy. From this they predict a winter of unusual severity; and whether they prophesy aright or not, Winter seems to be making an early start in this State. Snow has fallen already, not a great way north of us, and overcoats and gloves have been in requisition for some days, among such of our folks as have been out late at night or early in the morning. Perhaps we are going to be favored with all the cold weather we didn't get last Winter.

S. J. Court, Tuesday, Nov. 1.—In the case of State vs. Joseph A. Holmes of Greenland, indicted for attempting to procure Daniel D. Tuttle to vote the Republican ticket last March, the Jury returned a verdict of Not Guilty. Small for State; W. H. Y. Hackett for Deft.

The continued case of Woodman, for obtaining property under false pretences, was dismissed by the Court.

Simpson vs. Hazelton; suit to recover money alleged to be due. Defendant paid $40 into court, said that was all he owed, and the jury agreed to it.

The case of John Pottle against the Selectmen of Greenland, for excluding his name from the check list, was begun but not concluded.

The Amateurs at the Temple, Tuesday evening, had another good house to witness their second presentation of the Spy of the Shenandoah. As was to be expected, the piece went off much more smoothly than it did the first time, the actors (and actresses—we wouldn't slight them for the world,) having got into good running order; the improvement was marked, and the interest and satisfaction of the audience correspondingly increased. This (Wednesday) evening is the last time the play will be performed, and it is good enough, and played well enough, to deserve a third paying audience,—which we do not question it will receive. The Charity Fund of the G. A. R. has many calls to stand during the summer season, and the number and magnitude of the demands upon it will increase as the inclement weather approaches; and we hope the design of these theatricals—to increase the fund largely—will be successful in the highest degree. In our report of Monday evening's performance, we omitted to mention the fine out-door concert at the Temple volunteered by the Cornet Band, before the play commenced — but we will not forget to note their liberality this time; they gave a second instalment of their superior music last evening, in their best style—which is not easy to beat, as all know.

The Liquor Case.—Mr. W. W. Smith, Agent for Mr. Brintnall, a wholesale liquor dealer of Boston, sends us a long communication in defence of his action against Mr. Plaisted of Market Street, which we have neither space nor the disposition to publish except as an advertisement. We learn from the communication that Plaisted bought $181 worth of liquor on 60 days; afterwards wanted more, which Mr. Brintnall wouldn't let him have. As Mr. Plaisted did not come to time, Mr. Smith came to Portsmouth to get a settlement. Plaisted offered $150 to settle the whole bill, but on being frequently called on by appointment, finally refused to pay or give his note, hoping that by the law of New Hampshire he might escape payment. Mr. Brintnall, by advice of Mr. Smith, then complained of Plaisted for selling intoxicating liquor, thus taking the same law to collect his dues. The law gives the complainant one half the penalty and one half the value of the liquors seized, and that is the way Mr. Brintnall recovered part of the debt. The whole affair is a personal matter between the two liquor dealers, and would be devoid of public interest, did it not show how singularly the prohibitory law of our State is made to operate. We give the points of Mr. Smith's statement, without endorsing them.

Communication.

Portsmouth, Oct. 31.

Messrs. Editors:—Since finishing the sprinkling for the past season, I have had many inquiries as to whether it was my intention to sprinkle for the season of 1871. I will reply to these inquiries that it is my intention to do so, providing sufficient encouragement is given. No season that I have sprinkled have the receipts been equal to the expenditures; and as I do not propose to continue a business any longer which has not paid its expenses, without some guaranty, I shall soon canvass the principal streets of the city for the purpose of ascertaining how much will be subscribed for another season,—also to collect what outstanding subscriptions there are for the past season. Should the amount subscribed not be sufficient, I shall dispose of my apparatus, and let some one else try it, who has got more time and money to invest in a non-paying business than I have.

Wm. Plaisted.

☞ Thompson, the horse-thief who escaped from jail Friday night, is heard from. He stole a horse at Bath, and went on his travels. City Marshal Hill, of Biddeford, got on his track, and it was reported captured him; but Marshal Johnson, of this city, received a telegram from Mr. Hill at a late hour Tuesday evening, as follows:—"I have got the team; Thompson is gone—I am going for him." Hill is a smart officer, and will make things lively for the thief, but the latter is a slippery rascal.

New Subscribers who now pay in full in advance, for the Daily Chronicle or the N. H. Gazette, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ Job and Card Printing is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ Advertisements, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

DEATHS.

In this city, Oct. 31st, Mr. Isaac Maxwell, aged 60 years.

☞ Funeral on Thursday, Nov. 3d, at 2 o'clock, P. M., from No. 15 Washington Street.

In this city, Oct. 30th, Mrs. Nancy Norton, widow of the late Charles Norton, aged 67 years. Her remains were conveyed to Eliot, Me., her native town, for interment.

GREAT STOCK OF STOVES!

URIAH BLAISDELL,

AT THE OLD STAND,

43 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.,

Invites his friends and the public to look in at his extensive array of

STOVES,

Comprising the best variety both of

PARLOR AND COOKING STOVES,

Ever Offered in this City.

—OF OUR—

PARLOR STOVES,

—THE—

STEWART AND MAGEE

TAKE THE LEAD.

These two Stoves stand unrivalled, the Magee having been materially improved, and it would be difficult if not impossible to construct anything to surpass them as

Parlor Heating Stoves.

Besides these we offer a large assortment of other patterns of

PARLOR STOVES,

—BOTH—

Cylinders and Base Burners,

Some of very handsome design.

—ALSO—

PARLOR COOKS,

Both For Coal and Wood,

OVEN AND PLAIN AIR TIGHTS,

Of All Sizes,

Box Stoves, Cylinder Stoves, Scorchers.

In the line of Cooking Stoves we offer the

KEARSARGE,
STEWART,
CHILSON,
YOUNG AMERICA,
TIP TOP,
BALANCE,
ETNA, (a superior wood stove.)
WHITE MOUNTAIN,

And others, and last and best, the

AMERICAN,

—AND THE—

MAGEE ADVANCE.

The Magee Cook is too well known to need advertising commendation. The Magee Advance of 1870, is improved Magee, the most perfect and complete pattern of this celebrated Stove yet constructed, and leaves but little room for its further improvement.

The American is a new pattern Stove and a very superior one, possessing some excellent qualities differing from other Stoves. It is made in the most thorough manner, the castings are the very best, and it is offered at quite moderate price. It is having an extensive sale, and is giving great satisfaction as one of the quickest working, most economical and convenient Stoves ever offered to the Public. Call and Examine it and take references to those who are using it.

These two last named Stoves have no superior in the market.

In addition to the above we have two or three patterns of

PORTABLE RANGES,

Vessels' Cabooses and Ranges,

One of them particularly, the

Richmond Range,

Being a very nice Cooking Stove at a Low Price.

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

COUGHS, INFLUENZA,

SORE THROAT, COLDS, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Asthma, Bleeding of Lungs, and every affection of the Throat, Lungs and Chest, are speedily and permanently cured by the use of

WISTAR'S BALSAM

OF WILD CHERRY.

This well known preparation does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most medicines, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

Consumption can be Cured

by a timely resort to this standard remedy, approved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors.

Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & SON, Boston, and sold by dealers generally. We2moaw1yn13

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 43 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the interest and principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds will fall to cause them an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4¼ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9¼ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

No. 76 State St., opposite Kilby St., Boston,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."
Boston, Jan 1 1870.—1 yr.

EXTRACT OF RYE.

THIS POPULAR and well known article is, without doubt, the very best article that can be used to strengthen the system when debilitated by Pulmonary Complaints or weakened by disease of any kind.

H. M. SMITH, Proprietor.

BAZAINE'S TREACHERY,—According to the statement of General von Zastrow, on the morning of the 19th of August, Bazaine could have avoided being enclosed in Metz. He could, moreover, after he was there, readily have made a sortie and rejoined McMahon—easier by far than McMahon could have have joined him, after most of his cavalry and artillery had been beaten, when of course it was more difficult still. His movements are said to have lacked determination in the last two sorties, and this is charged to a complot in behalf of the Regency, according to which this army was to try and remain in statu quo until the conclusion of the war in western France, and then to become valuable, with Bazaine's consent, for the Bonapartists' purposes. Bazaine himself, in that case, was to be governor of the Imperial Prince and virtual Regent. The people of Metz seem to believe this, and their most influential men have avowed such a belief.

Bazaine's conduct has been suspicious from the first. He was rarely seen in camp. He took no care of his command, and gave it no encouragement. Every one believed him a traitor, and latterly he dared not show himself for fear of assassination. Soldiers starved to death while the officers of the staff used to feed their horses on bread.

For five weeks, amputations have been performed without chloroform or ether, and wounds have been dressed without carbolic acid. Thirty-five thousand persons have died in the town alone during the siege, the greater part from the lack of proper care. The prevailing diseases were varioloid, spotted typhus and dysentery. Scurvy has not prevailed, though even the sick have for over three weeks received their horse steak and horse broth without salt.

Soldiers, drunk and sober, wandered hither and thither in irregular groups, with their capes off and their sabres broken, sobbing and weeping like children, and crying, "O ma pauvre Metz! There is no longer a France." The civil functionaries asked each other across the street, "Who will be our master? Who will govern us? Whither shall we flee not to witness this ruin?"

When the rendition became known the people were furious. The National Guard refused to lay down their arms, and on the afternoon of the 28th a dragoon captain appeared at the head of a body of troops who swore they would sooner die than yield. Albert Colignon, editor of the ultra democratic siege daily Journal de Metz, rode about on a white horse, firing his pistol and exhorting them to seek victory or death to escape impending shame. He was followed by women singing the Marseillaise, which produced terrible excitement. The doors of the cathedral were burst open and the tocsin and death knells were rung nearly all night. When General Cafiniéres appeared to pacify them, three shots were fired at him. Finally by the aid of two line regiments he quietly dispersed the mob, but all night sounds of grief, indignation and terror continued. Respectable women ran about the streets tearing their hair and flinging their bonnets and laces under their feet, and asking wildly, "What will become of our children?"

Friday afternoon as Marshal Bazaine passed through Ars, on his way to Wilhelmshohe, in a close carriage marked with his name, escorted by several of his staff on horseback, the women of the village had heard of his coming, and, awaiting him, saluted him with exclamations of "Traitre!" "Lache!" "Poltron!" faineant!" "voleur!" "Brigand! Where are our husbands whom you have betrayed?" "Give us back our children whom you have sold!" They attacked the carriage and broke the windows, and would have lynched the Marshal but for the intervention of Prussian gendarmes.

A Government Council met and issued a proclamation announcing the capitulation, and declared that "the General upon whom France counted, even after Mexico, has just taken away from the country in its dangers more than a hundred thousand of its best defenders. Marshal Bazaine has betrayed us.

He has made himself an agent of the man of Sedan, and the accomplice of the invader; and, regardless of the honor of the army of which he had charge, he has surrendered, without even making a last effort, a hundred and twenty thousand fighting men, twenty thousand wounded, guns, cannons, colors and the strongest citadel in France (Metz) to the contamination of a foreigner. Such a crime is above even the punishment of justice."

The proclamation advises France not to be discouraged, but to seek, even in misfortune, under the egis of a republic, the renovation of the nation's political morality and manhood.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL, FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pillmkat can do injury to life or health. Sale in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization.

CHARACTER.

Build up the "Temple of the soul,"
With noble acts and holy deeds,
Aye, cultivate the life within,
Free it from briers, thorns and weeds.

'Tis character that makes the man,
By that he's judged in Heaven, on Earth,
There justice on its judgment seat,
Decides the question of his worth.

It is not blood of nobles, Kings,
Nor gold which we in man admire;
But purity of thought and life,
That's passed unscathed through storm and fire.

On this we build our future life,
Character's the soul's foundation stone,
Erected not in one short day,
But acts of years done one by one.

Built on the "Rock of Ages"—God;
Cemented by the bonds of love;
With walls of wisdom, faith, hope, truth,
All hell can ne'er one stone remove.

Its symmetry and beauty grows,
As we each act of life perform,
While every evil thought detracts,
Each lofty motive will adorn.

Then let our character be true,
Our aspirations, holy, pure,
On this foundation stone we'll build
A Temple in the Heavens secure.

Portsmouth, N. H. J. O. H.

RULES OF TABLE ETIQUETTE.—True politeness has its origin in Christian kindness, and all standard rules of etiquette were founded for the greater convenience and happiness of the members of society. Although the reasons may not be obvious at first sight, they exist and will be apparent on careful consideration.

1st. Do not keep others waiting for you either at the beginning or close of the meal.

2d. Do not sip soup from the tip, but from the side of the spoon.

3d. Be careful not to drop or spill anything on the table cloth.

4th. Keep your plate neat; do not heap all sorts of food on it at once.

5th. In passing your plate to be replenished retain the knife and fork.

6th. When asked for a dish do not shove, but hand it.

7th. While drinking do not look around.

8th. Instruct the servant to hand the cup at the left side so that it may be received by the right hand.

9th. Do not drink your tea or coffee without first removing the teaspoon from the cup to the saucer.

10th. Use the knife for cutting only; never put it to the lips nor in the mouth.

11th. Break your bread into small pieces and rest them on your plate while spreading.

12th. Do not eat too fast; besides giving one the appearance of greed, it is not healthy.

13th. If you find anything unpleasant in your food put it aside as quietly as possible without drawing the attention of others to it.

14th. Do not open the lips nor make any unnecessary noise in chewing.

15th. Do not touch the head.

16th. Do not rest the elbow on the table.

17th. Do not speak with the mouth full.

18th. Brush the table neatly before bringing on the dessert.

19th. Be thoughtful and attentive to the wants of those about you.

20th. Converse on pleasant subjects with those sitting near you.

21st. Do not say anything not intended for all present to hear.

22d. Leave your plate with the knife and fork lying parallel, the handles pointing to the right.

23d. Never leave the table before others without asking the lady or gentleman who presides, to excuse you.

☞ Many marine disasters are reported.

SEASON OF 1870-71.
MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements.
Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.
They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.
A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

THE OLD RELIABLE
NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
TO BE FOUND IN EVERY VILLAGE AND TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND, IS
DODD'S NERVINE
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. Is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASES,
COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSUMPTION, FAINTING FITS, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, NERVOUSNESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines. And all folks that
Can't Sleep Nights,
Should use this truly wonderful medicine.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
For Whooping Cough,
DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.
LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cure itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous or injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, NOV. 3, 1870.

THE WAR.—The statement of the French officer concerning the massacre of men, women and children before Metz by the Prussians has been confirmed by an official communication published in the Independence la Moselle.

General Bourbaki and one of the French admirals have resigned.

Two parties of Americans have been permitted to leave Paris.

The proposition of the Prussians for an armistice of forty eight hours, in order to facilitate elections, was instantly rejected by the Paris government.

Burnside's mission was to offer France on the part of the King of Prussia a semi-armistice of 30 days or longer, during the first 15 of which officials would be allowed to pass freely between Paris and Tours; the departments to arrange the preliminaries of the election, and as soon as these were perfected and complete, to grant an armistice of forty-eight hours all over France, and admit a perfectly free election, then return to the semi-armistice of fifteen days or longer, to enable the delegations elected to proceed to Paris and deliberate upon the terms of peace.

Bazaine says he was conquered by famine.

Eugenie is visiting Napoleon at Wilhelmshobe. Bazaine has arrived there.

A dispatch has been received from Arlon, Belgium, which announces that Metz has not capitulated, and that its garrison, forts and towns refuse to agree to the capitulation of Bazaine, and that the Prussians resume their positions about that place.

THE NEW YORK ELECTION.- The Tribune says: "For the first time in years there is a probability that every vote will count one and no more. We shall have a fair election and a fair canvass of the ballots. Thousands who care little for party questions in dispute, will go to the polls next week to decide whether we are to be ruled by respectable citizens or robbed by knaves and rowdies."

The exact number of troops within call is stated to be 16,000, ready to march to any part of the city within twenty minutes notice.

☞ There is a man in Buffalo who has registered a vow never to make a "humane society" of himself again. He took off his coat and leaped into the canal to save a lady from drowning, when a pickpocket stole $10 from his coat, and the rescued one was mad because he pulled her chignon off in getting her out.

SOUTH CAROLINA ELECTION. — The official returns show that the Republicans have elected their candidates for Congress in all the districts of the State. Bowen (white) was beaten by Selarge (colored) for representative of the Charleston district.

NEWS FROM THE SHENANDOAH.—A letter from on board the U. S. steamer Shenandoah at Lisbon, Oct. 11th, gives details of the late cyclone in the Atlantic and terrible buffeting received by that vessel, Sept. 11th.

☞ Two magazines at Fairfort, Ohio, containing 150,000 pounds of nitroglycerine, exploded Tuesday. Patrick Scribner, Edward Duncan and two men named Malone, father and son, were blown to atoms.

☞ John Stanton, for many years city editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, for which he wrote many amusing articles under the nom de plume of "Corry O'Lanus," died of consumption on Wednesday.

☞ The President has appointed Vernon H. Vaughan, of Alabama, governor of the Territory of Utah, and George H. Black, formerly private secretary to Governor Schaffer, secretary of Utah.

☞ The decrease in the public debt for the month of October was $5,129,-296,73; decrease of debt since March, 1870, $96,544,121,62. Total debt, Nov. 1, $2,346,813,652.28.

PERSONAL.—Miss Kate Field, according to the Boston Gazette, says that she received $500 from the publishers of the Atlantic Monthly for her article on Mr. Fechter's Hamlet.

☞ Rev. Dr. Bent of Baltimore reports that when in Boston he went to church where he heard music that made him wonder how he got in without a ticket.

☞ Registration in New York is completed, and the number of registered voters is 17,719 less than last year.

☞ Professor Agassiz has made no predictions regarding a tidal wave. All such reports are mere inventions.

New Hampshire Items.

The first engine on the extension of the White Mountains Railroad ran into Lancaster, Friday afternoon.

Six inches of snow fell in Bristol, and about the same at New London. The White Mountains are reported to be covered.

Hon. Hezekiah Hurd, formerly associate judge of the courts of the State, and for the last seventeen years cashier of the Cocheco Bank, in Dover, died on Saturday evening, aged 73 years.

The soldiers' monument at Dublin was dedicated a few days since.

Chichester has fifty-one inhabitants who are seventy years of age or upward, and of these nineteen are over seventy, and nine over eighty.

A schoolhouse in New Hampton was burned a few nights since.

The faculty of Dartmouth College have restored the game of foot-ball to the students; the faculty now furnish the balls.

The opening of the first free bridge across the Connecticut river, established by the voluntary action of the towns and the liberality of individuals, took place at Walpole, Tuesday. The toll bridge proprietors have given $7000 of property; Walpole citizens $2000; Westminster citizens, $1000, and the towns of Walpole and Westminster, $6000 and $3000.

Captain John R. Hynes of the United States army, died at his residence in Manchester, Tuesday morning, of consumption, at the age of thirty-four. He went to war in 1861, a second lieutenant in the third New Hampshire regiment of volunteers, and was soon advanced to the rank of captain. At the close of the war he was retained in the service, and was last stationed at San Antonio, Texas. He was a printer by trade, and was some time a reporter for the Daily Mirror.

The late earthquake was not felt at all on the summit of Mount Washington.

Mr. H. A. Kimball, photographic artist of Concord, is to try his hand at "frost pictures," with the party that will winter on Mount Washington.

☞ The history of Bazaine's experience for a few weeks while shut up in Metz, according to the special dispatches to the World is summed up by the Tribune as follows:—"First was the report that Bazaine had cut his way out of Metz with his whole army and gone to Verdun. Then Bazaine cut his way out again with a part of the same army. Then Canrobert cut his way out with another part. Then the army, after once getting away in a body, and again getting away in detachments, made a series of brilliant and successful sorties for the purpose of getting away once more. Then Bazaine, who had got out of Metz ever so often, and never gone back again, was killed in the streets of Metz by his own men, who were not in Metz either. Finally we have the news that Metz has surrendered, and whom should the Prussians find there but Bazaine and all his army."

CUBA.—The damage from the hurricane at Matanzas is estimated at six millions of dollars; and within the jurisdiction of that city, twelve millions. Bodies are constantly washing ashore.

Two fillibustering schooners from the United States have been captured near Nuevitas by the Spanish authorities. They were laden with arms and clothing for the insurgents. Four of the crew were captured.

It is estimated that the damage to the sugar cane in Cuba by both hurricanes is one-fourth of the whole crop. The fruit of the island was half destroyed.

A SENSIBLE MAN.—A Michigan man, who was nominated by the Prohibitionists for State Senator, has written a letter declining to accept, remarking that, should he be elected, he fears he would have but little work to do in legislating for temperance, as the present law is considered extremely proniboitory, requiring only enforcement. "Were I," he continues, "competent to frame a law that would enforce itself, I would be inclined to accept the nomination, but as it is must decline with thanks to the convention."

☞ Buggs says that if "Freedom shrieked when Kosciusko fell," Liberty must have died when Bazaine surrendered. The difference seems to be, however, that Kosciusko was a patriot and Bazaine was—not.

☞ The persecution of the Christians has been revived in Damascus, and so great is the irritation of the natives against them that a general massacre is feared. It's fortunate Mark Twain isn't there now.

☞ G. W. Custis Lee has been elected president of Washington College, to succeed his father, Robert E. Lee, and the name of the institution is changed to Washington Lee University.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

If you desire rosy cheeks and a complexion fair and free from Pimples, Blotches and Eruptions, purify your blood and invigorate your system by taking Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It has no equal for this purpose, nor as a remedy for "Liver Complaint," or "Biliousness," Constipation of the Bowels, severe lingering Coughs and Bronchitis. Sold by druggists. Dr. Pierce's private Government Revenue Stamp, bearing upon it the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness" is on the outside wrapper of the genuine.

FORTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE have tested the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and it is now generally acknowledged to be the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung diseases; embracing the whole range from a slight cold to a settled Consumption. Were it not for its merits, it would long since have "died, and made no sign."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world: the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effect of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful, black or brown. Sold by all Druggist and Perfumers, and properly applied at Batchelor's Wig Factory, No. 16 Bond Street, New York. lydawjel3

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopeas, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway N. Y.

None are Genuine unless done up in steel engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed H. T. HELMBOLD.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

DR. STRAIT'S

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE,"

With this FLEXIBLE EDGE the suction of atmospheric plates can be made so strong, that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruction; and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, pears, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyances, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of sneezing, eating, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how irregular the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same—

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

Deposits—Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank.
Wanted—A boy to learn the Printer's Trade.

S. J. COURT, Wednesday, Nov. 2d.—The case of John Pottle vs. the Selectmen of Greenland was continued.

☞ The whaling schooner Albert Clarence, of Provincetown, bound for New Bedford with a cargo of oil, went ashore on Block Island early Tuesday morning. Her crew have reached Newport. The vessel is partly owned in this city.

DENTAL CONVENTION.—There is to be a two days' convention of the Dentists of Merrimac Valley, at Congress Hall, commencing this morning at 11 A. M. We are requested to extend an invitation to Physicians, Clergymen and Teachers.

WHICH WE RISE TO EXPLAIN.—John Thompson, a horse thief, and R. H. Stoddard, a burglar, broke jail at Portsmouth last Friday night and escaped.—Boston News.

That's rather hard on Mr. Stoddard. Nobody ever accused him of burglary, that we ever heard of. "Thompson" stole a horse from him, that was all.

A FALL THAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN SERIOUS. — On Tuesday, Mr. Robert King fell from the end port of the Dry Dock at the Navy Yard, striking one wrist on a hawser and the other wrist on the gunwale of a boat as he landed in the water, after a fall of 20 feet. He was rescued by some fellow workmen and has a lame arm to carry around.

☞ A brief course of lectures is to be given under the auspices of the M. E. Church, commencing Tuesday evening, Nov. 8th, by Rev. S. F. Upham, D. D., of Boston. Subject, "Hits at Popular Delusions." Rev. S. K. Lothrop, D.D., of Boston, Prof. Q. G. Bidwell of Cambridge and Hon. Geo. B. Loring, M. D., of Salem, have been engaged to lecture in the course. The tickets are being rapidly taken up and the course promises to be very successful.

THEATRE.—The well known artiste, Mrs. G. C. Howard, will appear in this city on Saturday evening next in her quaint original character of Topsy in the old standard drama of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Mrs. Howard has represented this character some five thousand times, in this country and in Europe, and she stands unrivalled in her wonderful rendition. The full Boston Adelphi Company will sustain her. Reserved seats for sale now at Preston's and Thacher's.

GUIDE BOOK TO THE EASTERN COAST. Otis F. R. Waite, Esq., of Claremont, author and compiler of "New Hampshire in the Rebellion," was in town on Wednesday for the purpose of collecting materials for a new descriptive Guide Book, to include this section. The work is to be issued by Edson C. Eastman & Co. of Concord, who ask the aid and co-operation of all who are in any way interested in the conveyance and entertainment of the traveling and pleasure-seeking public.

THE FISHING FLEET of Harding & Doane have all arrived, bringing good fares. All have done remarkably well, and this enterprising firm, being encouraged by their great success the past season, propose to make large additions to the fleet in the Spring. The larger vessels of the fleet are now fitting for the West India and Southern trade We gladly chronicle the succeses of Messrs. Harding & Doane and with their largely increasing business wish them largely increased profits.

THE THEATRICAL finishing of the Rebel Spy by the G. A. R., Wednesday evening, was well attended, although there was not such a crowd as on the previous evening, which indeed was not to be expected on a third representation of the piece. The success of the enterprise has been very gratifying, the public having been pleased and the charity fund of Storer Encampment considerably increased thereby. The acting in the play has been good, for amateurs; the tableaux beautiful, and the music fine; and the Cornet Band, in addition to the advertised attractions, generously gave a free concert each evening in front of the Temple, before the performance in the building commenced. In common with the rest of the public, we are pleased that the whole affair has prospered so well.

☞ The recent gales in Cuba prove even more disastrous than at first reported. In the storm of September 19th, 2043 persons were drowned.

BOO HOO.—General Lee's physicians say that his death was brought on by protracted grief at the condition of his country.

☞ Governor Shaffer, of Utah, died Monday.

GOOD FOR THE MUSIC!—A most annoying custom, one that has often been unavailingly rebuked by public writers, and which is never indulged in by any persons but those who foster an utterly selfish disregard of the comfort and rights of others, is the practice of keeping time audibly with the feet to the music at concerts or other public entertainments. This annoyance is very commonly felt by those who attend the occasional performances at the Temple, if they have any preference for listening to music rather than to the clatter of a lot of old boots and shoes; and we have seen a singer on the stage there greatly embarrassed by the drumming with which the prelude to her song was accompanied, and a song itself completely stamped out, when the music was strongly accented. The man or woman who tries to get music out of a piece of sole leather and a pine board, in a place of public amusement, is almost as great a nuisance to others as is the chorus singer who likewise marks the time, to the persons in the immediate vicinity.

A good example—one worthy of being copied by other musicians when similarly insulted—was set by Cushing's Quadrille Band on Tuesday evening, at the second representation of the Rebel Spy by the G. A. R., in the Temple. The place was full, and as the Band struck up a lively quadrille, persons all over the house commenced kicking around their old boots; and by the time the "first number" was played once through, the consumption of leather going on in the building was prodigious. The musicians had put on extra steam, at first, to make themselves heard above the hideous din, but that only made the boots fly 'round still more vigorously,—when the music fired up, the boots sat down on the safety-valve. The music, perfectly aware that it was well worth listening to, tired of being smothered with such a confound-racket, then got mad and stopped. The noise stopped too, as suddenly as the music, and a gratifying stillness succeeded the uproar; when the music again went ahead, and was graciously allowed to finish the set.

We do not wish any one to understand that the audience was riotous, or offensively noisy, except through want of thought; but when thoughtlessness deprives people of a pleasure for which they have paid and which they have a right to enjoy, it is only less culpable than deliberate transgression, and deserves the rebuke it received Tuesday evening. If all musicians would act as did Cushing's Band on that occasion, —stop playing till the house is still,—and strike into vigorous silence whenever the stamping commenced, the vicious and senseless practice might in time become obsolete. Probably no other course could effect this desirable end, for when people are selfish enough and mean enough to wantonly annoy others, appeals to their sense of decency and right are but thrown away.

☞ Captain Napoleon B. Harrison, commander of the North Atlantic squadron, died at Key West of pneumonia, on Tuesday. He was on duty at this Navy Yard about two years ago.

☞ Late advices from China state that the Christian missionaries, whose lives were threatened at Fungchat, have been rescued and taken to a place of safety.

☞ Mr. Helleman, of the firm of J. & W. Seligman & Co. of New York, drew the $100,000 prize of the San Francisco Library Association.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

WHITE MOUNTAIN,

And others, and last and best, the

A M E R I C A N ,

——AND THE——

M A G E E A D V A N C E .

The MAGEE COOK is too well known to need advertising commendation. The MAGEE ADVANCE of 1870, or Improved Magee, is the most perfect and complete pattern of this celebrated Stove yet constructed, and leaves but little room for its further improvement.

The AMERICAN is a new pattern Stove and a very superior one, possessing some excellent qualities differing from other Stoves. It is made in the most thorough manner, the castings are the very best, and it is afforded at quite moderate price. It is having an extensive sale, and is giving great satisfaction as one of the quickest working, most economical and convenient Stoves ever offered to the Public. Call and Examine it and take references to those who are using it.

These two last named Stoves have no superior in the market.

In addition to the above we have two or three patterns of

PORTSMOUTH, N H.

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

——OF THE——

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.
2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.
3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.
4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.
5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.
6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.
7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,

Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,

Cashier First National Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

W. B. SHATTUCK, Treasurer.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.

It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.

One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats; while one gallon of the Chemical Paint, only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats,—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.

The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.

The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the Morning Chronicle.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

PORTLAND, ME., Nov. 2.

Editors Chronicle: The congratulations and good wishes of the occasion, Messrs. Editors and Publishers! Like that of the honest and worthy "Miller" with whom you have so long been associated. May the newspaporial grist of the Chronicle mill continue "good, true and acceptable." Sotto voce, we know it will!

November comes in smiling and delightful after the great storm of the otherwise beautiful October. The wells and cisterns will now be filled and deeply, ready for snow and winter. Great coats, thick underclothing, coal fires and long glorious evenings, lectures and concerts, pop corn and chatty times,—these and other signs of winter will soon be in full blast. After all it is a cheerful time if one has the chance to so experience it.

Gen. C. P. Mattock, the new County Attorney, and one of the smartest of the younger members of the Cumberland bar, has formed a partnership with a son of Judge Edward Fox of the U. S. District Court, Edward W. Fox, Esq., a graduate of Harvard College and Cambridge Law School, and recently a student in Hon. W. L. Putnam's office. Mr. Fox some three years since made a tour in Europe. The new firm promises finely. Gen. Mattocks was a brave soldier of the 17th of Maine, and is Capt. of the Portland Light Infantry, although we learn he has resigned and will leave the company by January, owing to pressure of his legal business. He was formerly editor of the Evening Courier, afterwards changed to the Star, and now to the Advertiser, and is an "intimate acquaintance" of "Grimies" of the Boston Advertiser.

Judge W. E. Morris of the Municipal Court is endeavoring to re-establish the gallery of portraits of members of the Cumberland Bar. The original gallery was destroyed in the great fire of July, 1866.

A grand boat race comes off here to-morrow, between the Emerald and the West End clubs. Considerable interest among the fraternity exists in the affair.

The Army & Navy Union of the city, are in the field this winter with a series of entertainments. Portland supports two war associations besides the regimental ones — the Bosworth Post G. A. R., and the Army and Navy Union. They are both most worthy and deserving institutions. Within a few months the A. & N. U. have moved into new and commodious rooms on Congress Street, near Brown Street, and at once took a new lease of activity. They have inaugurated one of the best courses of lectures and concerts that Portland has had for years. The opening concert will be on Nov. 10th, by Gilmore's full band and orchestra, assisted by Mrs. C. A. Barry of Boston; The succeeding "evenings" are—Nov. 15th, Miss Annie Louise Carey, the celebrated Contralto, Mrs. Annie Granger Dow, Soprano, of Boston, Mr. Packard, Tenor, and Mr. M. W. Whitney, Basso, also of Boston, all under direction of Kotzschmar of this city—a most magnificent attraction; Dec. 1st, Lecture by Rev. G. W. Bicknell of your city; Dec. 8th, Concert by the Arion Club of Portland, 40 male members with a select quartette, and readings by A. E. Sloan, the celebrated reader; Dec. 15th, Lecture by Gen. J. R. Hawley of Conn.; Dec. 29th, Lecture by Rev. W. H. H. Murray of Boston; Jan. 12th, Lecture by Matthew Hale Smith of New York, "Burleigh" of the Boston Journal; Jan. 26th, Concert by the Mendelssohn Quintette Club, assisted by Miss Addie S. Ryan of Boston.

This is a capital array of talent and notwithstanding the Mercantile Library Association also have a course which is being fully attended, that of the A. & N. U. will be a great success. Let Portsmouth friends make a note of this course especially the Cary Concert—which will be worth visiting this city to hear. Max Strackosh agreed at first to charge only $250 for Miss Cary's services, but Strackosh-like he raised on the price and the association pay him $400. Miss Carey is a Gorham, Me., girl, and not a Bostonian. Her father is Dr. N. H. Carey of Gorham. She has a younger sister who bids fair to make a splendid soprano singer. The whole family of parents, brothers and sisters are all musical, and when the domestic circle is full beneath the parental roof, music reigns grandly triumphant.

We were especially pleased to read the long notice of Mr. O. L. Towle in the Portland Press of Oct. 22d, giving a history of his 30 years' experience as Conductor of the P. S. & P. road. Mr. Towle is one of the most gentlemanly and worthy men and officials that one with in meets travel.

We regret to hear of the serious illness of Mr. Payson Tucker, the popular ticket-agent and conductor of the P. S. & P. road. His friends are legion and his illness is causing them sorrow indied. That he may survive and live many happy years is everyone's earnest wish.

William C. How, Esq., the efficient and popular Chief Clerk of the Post Office here—the working head of the establishment, has been removed by Judge Woodbury Davis, the Postmaster. Mr. How was a candidate for Postmaster and failed to get it, although supported by the largest portion of the community. Judge Davis was re-appointed for 4 years—the most unpopular act Hon. John Lynch ever did in this city. Mr. How's place has been uncomfortable to him since last winter and now he is "forced to resign." Democrats and Republicans all severely censure the removal. Mr. John W. York, the Chief Mail Clerk is his successor and he is a most genial and efficient man, besides being popular.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL, FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Paleness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysteria, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Sale in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization. S. D. HOYT, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAN LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

The Chronicle.

OLIVE LOGAN has come to the front again — this time on the suffrage question. It appears that she received over the dashing signature of the mayor, and under the official seal, the following note, dated "Executive Department, City Hall, New York, Oct. 24, 1870:—

As head of the local government of the city of New York, anxious to preserve for it the honored title of the Metropolis of the Union, I therefore appeal to you, whatever the political party to which you may belong, to lay all other business aside, if necessary, either on Monday, Oct. 31, or Tuesday, Nov. 1, which are the last registry days, and personally to register your name, without having performed which duty you cannot vote."

To this note she replies as follows:—

I am flattered by the interest you take in the matter of my voting; and I beg to assure you in the most positive manner that, if it were possible for me to be at home on the days mentioned, I should rally round the registry office (wherever it is) as early as possible in the morning and register my name in the largest kind of leters. My experience in registering my name has hitherto been confined to one or two performances on hotel registers in the West; but I can confidently say that whatever I have done in this way has been done as legibly as any man living could have done it. Accept the expression of my regrets at unavoidable absence, and (if not asking too much) oblige me by registering for me.

Yours, my dear mayor,
OLIVE LOGAN.

P. S.—On closer examination of your polite favor, I am struck with an unpleasant suspicion. The signature is certainly yours, but the whole letter is too evidently an elaborate engraving. The envelope bears this address; "O. Logan, 264 Pearl St., New York," and I am the Only Logan at 264 Pearl St., New York. Can it be possible that it is all a mistake? that a stupid clerk, with a directory of the city of New York before him, has taken me for one of the superior sex? O. L.

MISTAKES OF HISTORY.—History is difficult to write. Information is obtained from musty and almost illegible documents; dates are found that do not agree with each other; and what is obtained from aged persons is often unreliable as memory is treacherous. Then, printers may find it about impossible to decipher what is written, such is the blindness of the copy.

Historians too may sit in judgment of the facts they narrate, and this with minds warped by prejudice or misled by faction. And thus it is found that this sort of writing is full of mistakes and liable to just criticism.

Let us give one or two specimens. In Appleton's New Cyclopedia, a most excellent work, in the article on Gen. Henry Dearborn, it is stated that when he first went into the war of the Revolution he was a practicing physician in Portsmouth. The facts were, he never practiced medicine in Portsmouth in his life; Nottingham was the place. Mr. Parton wrote a biography of Aaron Burr. The most scathing review of a book, we ever saw was given of it in the Atlantic Monthly. "Old Time Chronicles" may not have been perfect. One error we will correct. In No. 21 it is stated that the population of the Shoals in 1767 was 2884. Please read 288.

These articles may be criticised. We expect it, nay, desire it. A good cause counts investigation. Let it done be in fairness, kindness and faithfulness. Then it shall be an excellent evil that shall not break over our heads.

"Old Tom" in the Chronicle of July 26th, was welcome, although he appeared a little hasty and excited in what he said. He made but one mistake as to historical facts. "L." in the Chronicle of Aug. 4, wrote fairly, but in his criticisms are two historical mistakes. UNCLE JOSEPH.

HARNESS BLACKING. — An English scientific journal gives the following as a composition that has been thoroughly tested, and which keeps leather (of boots and shoes, as well as harnesses) in excellent condition:—

Two oz. best white wax, 1-2 oz. Prussian blue, 1 1-2 oz. ivory black, 1-4 pint of spirits of turpentine, 1 table-spoonful spirits of wine. Melt the wax, over a slow fire, in an earthenware vessel, then add the blue and black, taking care to put in the black gradually at first, or it will boil over; when cool, add the spirits. Stir it well from first to last. After applying it to the leather, polish with a soft cloth or brush.

SEASON OF 1870-71.
MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements.
Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.
They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humans, Automatic Swells, &c., $150. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.
A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

THE OLD RELIABLE
NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
TO BE FOUND IN EVERY VILLAGE AND TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND, IS DODD'S NERVINE
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. Is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASES,
COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSUMPTION, PAINTING FITS, PALPITATION, RESTLESSNESS, DIZZINESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines. And all folks that
Can't Sleep Nights,
Should use this truly wonderful medicine.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
For Whooping Cough,
DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.
LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will care itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of a stimulating nature as to be somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone,

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although Pulmonary Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patients great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the origens that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, NOV. 4, 1870.

THE WAR.—Garibaldi's headquarters are at Affanges. In encounters with the Prussians, near Besancon, he captured over 1000 prisoners.

All Englishmen and Americans were to leave Paris on the 28th.

Mazzini has gone to Tours.

The escape of Paul Cassagnac from the Prussians, and his arrival at Vienna, is confirmed. So he isn't dead.

All the French marshals and generals have been ordered by King William, at the request of Napoleon, to report at Cassel without delay.

At Metz, the Prussians found in the magazines and arsenals stores of all kinds, including provisions sufficient for the maintenance of the garrison till March.

The reports of the refusal of the garrison and town of Metz to surrender had their origin in a plot by citizens and those soldiers who were not satisfied with the turn of affairs, to seize the arms in the arsenals and make a forcible resistance to the entry of the Prussians. The consummation of the design was prevented by the Imperial Guard.

The greater portion of the German army at Metz is under Prince Frederick Charles, and will operate in the centre of France.

Thiers had an interview with King William and Bismarck on Tuesday.

The Prussians have commenced a movement northward from Soissons.

Advices from Tours state that the Red Republicans at Marseilles are again rampant and revolutionary. A proclamation has just been issued by the leaders announcing the establishment of a new Republic, embracing the cities and territory of sixteen departments to the southward.

POLITICAL.—One of the Democratic congressmen in Indiana was elected by a majority of four in a vote of 25,118.

The New York city Republicans have turned their backs on the Young Democracy, and the Y. D.'s have gone home to Tammany.

Judge Woodruff of the United States district court in New York has decided in a case before him that the clause of the new constitutional election law regarding registration was constitutional. Terence Quinn, for fraudulent registration, was sentenced to two years in the Albany Penitentiary and to pay the costs of prosecution.

UNCLE SAM RAIDETH.—The internal revenue officers, aided by a force of 2500 United States marines and regulars, made a grand raid on the illicit whiskey distilleries in the fifth ward of Brooklyn, on Wednesday, and captured and destroyed over twenty establishments and their contents. Eight fire-engines were employed several hours in pumping out the contents of the stills and wash-tubs, which afterwards were completely demolished by a large force of laborers accompanying the troops. In the early part of the affair, the mob hurled several volleys of stones, brickbats and other missiles, upon the marines under Col. Broome, but were routed by a bayonet charge. Col. Broome then warned the crowd that the troops would fire, if any further violence was offered, but they were not again molested.

NEW YORK BURGLARS MUST RUN THEIR OWN RISKS.—Recorder Hackett has rendered an opinion setting aside the action of the coroner in holding Joseph Agostino in bail for placing a trap gun so as to kill a burglar attempting to enter his gunshop. He said that no statute could be found which made the killing of Treddle, a burglar, an offence; that the accused would have been justified in killing Treddle under the circumstances, had the former surprised him in such an attempt, and added, "I order the clerk to discharge the recognizance taken from the accused by the coroner, and file the papers away. The verdict of the coroner's jury should have been 'Death by inadvertence while engaged in the commission of felony.'"

New Publications Received.

Coachmaker's Journal, for November; a valuable number. I. D. Ware, Pub., Phila. $3 pr. year.

☞ Will be sent free of charge for the year 1871; a copy of Merry's Museum enlarged and improved, to any one who will act as agent for it and get up a club. This is a rare chance for the boys and girls, as the Publisher says "Merry for the coming year will be the most attractive of all the juvenile Magazines." Don't take his word for it, but send for a specimen number free, and judge for yourself. The terms of the Museum are $1.50 a year, and the publisher is Horace B. Fuller, Boston.

New Hampshire Items.

The earthquake here did more damage than was thought. In the cemetery there were several monuments moved, and one was broken, belonging to Kimball B. Fletcher, Esq.—Coos Republican.

A derrick in one of the quarries at West Concord fell Wednesday morning and crushed two men. One of them named Nutting, was fatally injured, and the recovery of the other is doubtful. Nutting has since died.

Six students of the scientific department in Dartmouth College have been given an indefinite vacation for ducking a freshman under the college pump. The faculty express a determination to stop all forms of "hazing," even if whole classes are lost from the institution.

In Mason, Mr. Thomas Tarbell caught a hand in his cider mill and crushed the fingers so badly it is feared that the whole hand will have to be amputated.

On the 1st, the powder mill at Bennington, owned by Mr. G. W. Burns, was blown up. A man named John Blanchard, about thirty-five years of age, was feeding the kernelling mill at the time the explosion occurred, by which the building was blown into atoms. Blanchard was thrown some twenty-five feet, into the canal, but got out and walked a few rods. His body was burned horribly, every rag of clothing being burned or torn off.

Mr. W. H. Noyes of Chester has shown the Mirror a potato of the black variety that weighs two pounds and ten ounces.

A Nashua innocent, aged sixteen, has been inveigled and threatened into matrimony lately while drunk, by a woman over forty years of age. The Justice who did the marrying is to be hauled over the coals.

PERSONAL.—Nilsson is 27.

Carlotta is worse.

Josie Orton is playing in Albany.

Gambetta is thirty-two years old.

John G. Whittier declines to run for Congress.

Bierstadt is to visit the Pacific coast for a year or more.

Miss Austin of Milwaukee is a new star in the singing world. She is 18 and has an extraordinary soprano voice.

Victor Emanuel has a nice job. He is going to Rome.

Mrs. Partington says she gets up every morning at the shrill crow of the chandelier.

Brick Pomeroy has sold out his interest in the N. Y. Democrat.

Green Clay Smith, formerly member of Congress from Kentucky and a major-general during the war, is now a Baptist preacher.

Mrs. Esther M. Davis of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who left her husband because he was too lazy to work, and was in the habit of whipping her seven times a week, announces that the situation is open if any of the Cedar Rapids women want to try him on.

The house of David Bancroft, at Litchfield, was burned Wednesday night; loss $3500; no insurance. It was the work of an incendiary.

THEATRICAL. — Charlie Wilkinson's company is at Providence, playing the Ticket-of-Leave-Man, with Lillie Wilkinson cast as Sam Willoughby and Harry Taylor as Robert Brierly.

Maggie Mitchell's total receipts last week were over $7,000. After deducting expenses, she has two-thirds and Manager Lowell one-third. In the last four weeks she has cleared over $6,000. Her yearly income from her theatrical engagements is nearly $40,000, and she has besides the income from $300,000 invested.

☞ The Supreme Court of Ohio has decided unanimously that the State, having ceded the ground occupied by the Soldiers' Home to the United States, cannot confer the right of suffrage upon the soldiers therein, and that a soldier who is a citizen of the State ceases to be such when he becomes an inmate of the asylum.

☞ Professors Hall, Haskins and Eastman, of the Washington naval observatory, and Professors Peters of Hamilton College and Wheslock of Harvard University have sailed for the island of Sicily to take observations of the total eclipse of the sun, December 22.

☞ The corpse of a female, in a jacket and red flannel skirt, and wearing gold earrings and necklace, supposed to be a victim of the Cambria disaster, was washed ashore at Rathlin Island, Ulster County, in the North of Ireland, a few days ago.

☞ Rev. George Richards of Bridgeport, Conn., has recently died, it is said, the victim of scandal, and of the unjust persecutions of two of his brother clergymen.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of acute and chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research then made in the United States Patent works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice-rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of greattalent and ability on his part leaves me no alternative but to recommend parties to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

Notices of the Press.

No more delightful travels are printed in the English language than appear perpetually in HARPER'S MAGAZINE. They are read with equal interest and satisfaction by boys of every grade from eighteen to eighty. Its scientific papers, while sufficiently profound to demand the attention of the learned, are yet admirably adapted to the popular understanding, and designed as much to diffuse correct information concerning current scientific discovery as it could be if it was the organ of the "Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge." The great design of HARPER'S is to give correct information and rational amusement to the great masses of the people. There are few intelligent American families in which HARPER'S MAGAZINE would not be an appreciated and highly-welcome guest. There is no monthly Magazine an intelligent reading family can less afford to be without. Many Magazines are accumulated. HARPER'S is edited. There is not a Magazine that is printed which shows more intelligent pains expended on its articles and mechanical execution. There is not a cheaper Magazine published. There is not, confessedly, a more popular Magazine in the world.—New England Homestead.

It is one of the wonders of journalism—the editorial management of HARPER'S.—The Nation.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.

It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for use, by simply stirring it; dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly; with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.

One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats; while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats,—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.

The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.

The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

With this FLEXIBLE EDGE the suction of atmospheric plates can be made so strong, that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruction; and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, pears, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyance, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of sneezing, eating, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how irregular the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same—

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

WANTED.—A young MAN as Salesman, one who has had some experience in the Dry Goods Business. C. H. MENDUM & CO.

WANTED.

A GOOD and Well Educated Boy, to learn the Printer's Trade at the CHRONICLE OFFICE.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

MRS. HOWARD as Topsey in Uncle Tom's Cabin, at the Temple to-morrow evening.

☞ The Ladies Humane Society will meet at Mrs. Lyman's, No. 1 Austin St., on Tuesday, Nov. 8, at half past 2 o'clock.

☞ Schooner Decatur, Oakes, sailed from this port on Thursday with 1664 bbls. Apples, shipped by C. Hiram Hayes, Esq. How is that for Hi?

☞ Petitions are being circulated in Dover asking that an article be inserted in the warrant at the city election to see if the city will vote to subscribe 2 1-2 per cent. of its valuation in the stock of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad.

Will Portsmouth act in the matter.

☞ The lovers of dancing have an opportunity to enjoy themselves at Irving Hall this evening, when the third Social Assembly of the course will be given,—rain or shine. The preceding two were very successful, both as to the numbers attending and the amusement afforded. Tickets 50 cts.

☞ The funeral services of the late Isaac Maxwell were attended by the Knights Templar, Masonic Lodges and the Mechanics Association, of which organizations he was a member. The music was furnished by the Cornet Band. The drenching rain that fell saturated the clothing of all in the procession.

☞ Attention is called to the advertisement of Hair Work at the establishment of Mr. D. Rodrick on Congress Street. The ladies will find the best of specimens on exhibition and cheap rates. Mr. Rodrick's Hair Dressing Saloon has been re-fitted and the proprietor prides himself on the best workmanship in the city.

S. J. COURT, Thursday, Nov. 3.—The jury, in the case of Pottle vs. the Selectmen of Greenland, for refusing to put his name on the check list last March, disagreed after being out five hours.

The cases of George Hadley, Samuel Dennett and Winthrop Manson, for illegal voting in Ward 3, last March, were tried by the Court, in the afternoon; Manson, not guilty; other cases not finished.

THE COMING MUNICIPAL ELECTION. A decayed punster rushed into the office of a Chicago paper at half past 12 o'clock in the morning, to enquire "why local politics are like charity?" He was kicked out, but hurled back from the stair-foot the obvious answer, "Because they begin to hum!"

The aforesaid d. p. couldn't have delivered himself of such a wretched pun had he lived in Portsmouth. Less than 20 days intervene before our citizen voters will be casting their ballots for municipal officers for 1871, and there is no discussion of policy or candidates that we hear of. We presume that the people generally are very well satisfied with the course of our present city government, notwithstanding the absurd attacks made in quarters where opposition is expected. It is rather ridiculous for citizens whose lives have been spent in Portsmouth, to be instructed in local matters by those who have hardly been here long enough to gain a residence, and who growl for pay.

We hear of no opposition to the reelection of our present popular Mayor, and hope that a City Council will be chosen that will carry on the improvements so well begun by the present and past city goverunments.

MERRIMACK VALLEY DENTAL ASSOCIATION.—The annual meeting of this Association commenced in this city at Congress Hall on Thursday, and the sessions continue through to-day. The following named gentlemen were elected as officers for the ensuing year:—

The sessions were devoted to the reading of an essay on "Orthodontia" by Dr. I. A. Salmon of Boston, and an essay upon "The Filling of Difficult Cavities" by Dr. I. J. Wetherbee of Boston, (discussion following subjects) and on "Preservation of Deciduous Teeth," "Anaesthetics" and "Mechanical Dentistry." To-day, clinical instruction will be given by Drs. Stevens of Portsmouth, Cummings of Concord, and Shepard of Boston, commencing at 8.30 A. M. The public are respectfully invited to be present and witness the operations, which will probably be of a very difficult and interesting nature.

THE M. E. LYCEUM LECTURES will commence at the Methodist church next Tuesday evening. Rev. S. F. Upham, D. D., of Boston, will open the course. Subject, "Hits at Popular Delusions."

☞ Sch. Lizzie M. Stewart, from Bangor for this port, ran on some rocks off Townsend, but came off with assistance. She has a cargo of lumber for Mr. Thos. E. Call.

☞ Hiram Jones the Newmarket murderer, was committed to prison at Concord, on Thursday, to await his execution.

☞ The Universalists of Kittery are to have a three days' Fair in Armory Hall in that town, next week.

A FEARFUL FALL.—John Brick fell from the fourth story of a building on Bromfield Street, Boston, on Wednesday. He was cleaning glass outside the window, where he stood upon the sill or capstone, holding to the window frame with one hand, while with the other he pursued his occupation. The hand he was holding by was wet, and suddenly slipped from the frame; and in a moment the unfortunate man was descending with fearful velocity, turning over once or more while coming down, and striking the cobble-stone pavement, fifty feet below, with terrible violence. He struck almost square on his feet, a supposition that is strengthened by the fact that both ankles are badly fractured. He also received a severe cut on the right side of his forehead, and must have sustained internal injuries. His escape from instant death was indeed wonderful. He would have been killed had he not been a Brick.

BASE BALL.—The White Stockings beat the Mutuals at base ball 7 to 5—in eight innings. The game was broken up in the 9th inning, Wolters of the Mutuals refusing to pitch, on the ground that the umpire unjustly called balls on him; and darkness coming on, the umpire decided that the game must be ended in the 8th inning.

Stars 11, Harvards 7. In the first game the score was 12 for Harvards to 6 for the Stars. A third game will be played.

Red Stockings 28, Mutuals 7.

☞ The mother of Calvin Plaisted of York, the man who was recently sent to State prison for life, for setting fire to the house and outbuildings of Leander Parsons in the night, died in that town recently. Grief at her son's misconduct hastened her end.

☞ The Tribune's Washington special says that the English mission has been tendered to Gen. Schenck.

☞ Gold, Thursday, 110 5-8.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

GREAT STOCK OF STOVES!

URIAH BLAISDELL,

AT THE OLD STAND,

43 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.,

Invites his friends and the public to look in at his extensive array of

S T O V E S ,

Comprising the best variety both of

PARLOR AND COOKING STOVES,

Ever Offered in this City.

—OF OUR—

P A R L O R S T O V E S ,

—THE—

STEWART AND MAGEE

TAKE THE LEAD.

These two Stoves stand unrivalled, the MAGEE having been materially improved, and it would be difficult if not impossible to construct anything to surpass them as Parlor Heating Stoves.

Besides these we offer a large assortment of other patterns of

PARLOR STOVES,

—BOTH—

Cylinders and Base Burners,

Some of very handsome design.

—ALSO—

P A R L O R C O O K S ,

Both For Coal and Wood,

OVEN AND PLAIN AIR TIGHTS,

Of All Sizes,

BOX STOVES, CYLINDER STOVES, SCORCHERS.

In the line of Cooking Stoves we offer the

YOUNG AMERICA,
TIP TOP,
BALANCE,
ETNA, (a superior wood stove.)
WHITE MOUNTAIN,

And others, and last and best, the

A M E R I C A N ,

—AND THE—

M A G E E A D V A N C E .

The MAGEE COOK is too well known to need advertising commendation. The MAGEE ADVANCE of 1870, or Improved Magee, is the most perfect and complete pattern of this celebrated Stove yet constructed, and leaves but little room for its further improvement.

The AMERICAN is a new pattern Stove and a very superior one, possessing some excellent qualities differing from other Stoves. It is made in the most thorough manner, the castings are the very best, and it is afforded at quite moderate price. It is having an extensive sale, and is giving great satisfaction as one of the quickest working, most economical and convenient Stoves ever offered to the Public. Call and Examine it and take references to those who are using it.

These two last named Stoves have no superior in the market.

In addition to the above we have two or three patterns of

P O R T A B L E R A N G E S ,

Vessels' Cabooses and Ranges,

One of them particularly, the

Richmond Range,

Being a very nice Cooking Stove at a Low Price.

THE

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,

Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,

Cashier First National Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

W. B. SHATTUCK, Treasurer.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 43 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 30 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9 per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

THE HOG.—A writer in the Chicago Post grows eloquent in praise of the hog. We quote:

The hog has been in disrepute for a long time, at least ever since he began to play his part in the ancient religions. It is fashionable to ridicule and denounce him, to call him a filthy brute, and to insist that he is the dire author of leprosy, consumption, cancer, scrofula, and the most disgusting diseases that afflict humanity.—This is the teaching of prejudice, not of science.

The hog outlives all hostility, and laughs, so to speak, at the success of his slanderers. Still is the reeking roast pig the sacrifice of many a dinner table, and still is the rural celling festooned with the savory sausage and the smoke-house fragant with ham. We deal with facts, not sentiment. The hog is a true cosmopolite—a citizen of the world. He increases and multiplies and inherits every part of the habitable globe. He is as ubiquitous as a bat. He does not stand in high repute for his manners, but he is most accommodating, thriving with equal content in the sty of the rich man and the kitchen of the indigent.

He wallows sometimes, but naturalists tell us he does this for the sake of cleanliness which is next to godliness—for the same reason that the Pacific Islanders grease themselves. Among his quaint peculiarities are his grunt of satisfaction and his squeal of remonstrance and reproach. He should never be fed till he stops his squealing; it is the approved method of breaking him of the habit.

Homer, in his Odyssey, honored the swine-keeper, with the confidence of Ulysses, and why not? The hog, called stupid, is really one of the most enterprising and sagacious of animals. The game-keeper of Sir Henry Mildmay actually broke a black sow to hunt game in the woods; and she ran in the hunt with wonderful success. She would track game, back and stand, and point partridges, pheasants, snipes and rabbits, as skillfully as a bred pointer. She would bound in response to a whistle, and would wag her head and squeal with delight on being shown a gun.

The Babylonian Talmud says: "Cursed be he that breedeth hogs;" and the history of the Maccabes tells us that the scribe Eleazer walked straight to the tortures of persecution rather than eat a slice of spare rib, heroically preferring the martyr's stake to the pork steak. This animal has been under the ban of many religions. The Mohammedans learned from the Jews, as the Jews had previously learned from the Egyptians, to hate him because he perversely declined to "chew the cud," but he still manages to masticate and digest considerable pottage in the course of a year.

The hog is the product of nature's most economical thought. There is no part that cannot be utilized. His flesh, fat, bristles, hair, hoofs, and bones are all turned to account. "The divisions of his unctuous body," says Apicius, "are familiar as the divisions of the earth. His ears and feet go to souse; his brains are a choice dish for the epicure. His tail has for ages been claimed by successive generations of children as their peculiar property. Tradition points out how to appropriate it; roast on the coals, take in the fingers and eat without salt."

The hog is the staff of life—the arch enemy of famine—the poor man's best friend. Moreover, in his earlier days, he is strikingly playful, frisky, cunning and graceful—as much more interesting than a human infant of the same age as the latter is more interesting than so much putty. In adult pighood he is omniverous and self-reliant, bold and expeditionary, and he breeds faster, grows faster, and keeps cheaper than any other domestic animal.

America is pre-eminently the home of the hog—he is a logical deduction from Indian corn. He was introduced to Virginia in 1609, and here he multiplied so rapidly that the colonists were compelled to palisade Jamestown—high to keep out the Indians, close to keep out the hogs. Mrs. Hog can produce ten to twenty at a birth, as often as twice a year. The descendants of a single pair, allowing six young for a litter, would amount to six million in fifty years. The gratitude of the country is due to Cincinnati for that, by assiduous harvesting, she keeps down the inundation which constantly threatens to overwhelm us in an uncommon ruin.

POLITICAL TALENT.—Punchinello relates the following anecdote of a pious politician:

Deacon K——— lacked the confidence of the inhabitants of M———. He was most sincerely detested for his hypocrisy and double-dealing, and so very unpopular, that a few wags conceived the idea of drawing up a paper requesting him to leave the town.

Once endorsed by two or three respectable names, the joke took; the paper circulated like wildfire and soon contained every business name in the place.

A most horrible position to occupy in respect to one's neighbors.

But the Deacon was a genius in his way. Getting possession of the document, he adroitly changed the heading, and behold! the intended rebuke was transformed into a humble petition to the President that Deacon K——— be appointed Postmaster of M———. In due time the appointment came, much to the consternation and chagrin of the envious villagers.

—"Phil, my jewel," said Pat, "I'm mighty sorry you can't dine with me to-day." "Arrah, and why can't I dine with you?" said the astonished Phil. "Because, my dear," returned Pat, "I havn't asked ye as yet."

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL,
FOR FEMALES.
Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies who have tried other married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., Green Sickness, Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regularly establishing and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Safe in their operation, perpetual in their happy influence upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization.
S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAN LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

The Chronicle.

AN EVENTFUL BRIDAL TOUR.—Among the passengers who arrived in the city on board the steamer Colorado, on Sunday, were A. Mejia and his wife. Senor Mejia is the son of the Mexican Minister of War under the Juarez Government, and during the war with the French held the position of Paymaster of the Military Division of the West, and was located at Guaymas. He was married a few months ago at Guaymas, to Miss Connor, daughter of the late American Consul at that place. It was the design of the newly-married couple to pay a visit to the City of Mexico, but a few days after the marriage took place the pirates of the steamer Forward made their appearance, and for a short time carried everything with a high hand. Among other exploits achieved by them was the capture of Mejia, whom they carried off to the mountains of Sinaloa. Vega, who was at the head of the piratical movement, demanded $50,000 as ransom for his prisoner, and threatened to kill him if the money was not paid.

Information of this demand reached the father of the prisoner; but he, instead of paying down the coin, secretly organized a small force of picked men, and penetrated the mountain region where his son was detained. They there attacked a guard of seven men, killed five of them and wounded the other two, and rescued young Mejia from imprisonment. They lost one of their own men in the attack.

After the husband rejoined his wife at Guaymas, they found it difficult to get to Acapulco. To accomplish this object, they embarked on board the steamer Continental for San Francisco, intending to take the next Panama boat. They were both saved from the wreck of the Continental, and reached this city in safety, having lost all their baggage and personal property. Since arriving here they have made up their minds to go overland to New York, and sail from that port to Vera Cruz. They will keep a sharp lookout for railroad accidents, conflagrations, earthquakes and first-class disasters on the route.—San Francisco Bulletin.

WINDOW PLANTS.—The Massachusetts Ploughman, in an article on "House Plants" says: Ivy may be trained about your pictures, to creep over the mantle and windows, or to form a border of the paper around the room, close to the ceiling. The most brilliant flowers do not give so pretty an effect to a room as a thrifty, climbing ivy. Money, Wandering Jew, Myrtle, &c., growing well when hung in the window, and the effect of the gracefully drooping sprigs is extremely pleasing, both outside the house and in it.

Turnips and carrots scooped out, filled with earth, planted with canary seed or chicken weed, and suspended by strings in the window, are very pretty. The leaves sprout from the root, underneath, and the plants spring from the seed, simultaneously. Besides the pretty effect, your birds, if you keep them, can have a feast through the winter upon vegetation.

A common pine cone planted in its several crevices with canary seed, and placed halfway in winter in a hyacinth water-glass, is another original and very effective flower vase. For hanging vases, you can make for yourself highly ornamental ones. Bread-baskets, sea-shells, with three holes drilled for a cord, are very pretty; a common wooden chop-basin covered with little knotted branches, gnarled joints, dried fungi, &c., the whole highly varnished, is as picturesque and ornamental a vase as can be desired.

HEDGE PLANTS.—The beech makes a very good hedge if a deciduous hedge is wanted. It is hardy, bears close cutting, succeeds well on a poor, dry soil, and forms a compact, stocky hedge. Among the evergreens, the Norway spruce stands in very high esteem. It succeeds best in a light, rich loam, but grows freely in any soil not wet. It bears shearing with impunity, and is therefore especially valuable as a hedge plant.

The barberry is a pleasing ornamental shrub, and answers well as a fancy hedge or screen, the bright orange flowers in spring, and scarlet or purple berries in autumn—often hanging on nearly or quite all winter—forming a very pretty effect. A deep, rich loam suits it best, but it will grow well in any dry soil.

Used either as a low hedge or as a high wall or screen, the arbor vitæ is one of the most desirable of the whole list of evergreens in certain locations, although we give our own preference to the spruce. In using it for hedges that are to be kept from four to six feet in height, the plants should stand about one foot apart. It does not succeed well on a dry soil.—The hemlock is also a good hedge plant, as it bears clipping remarkably well.

The soil for a hedge should be in good condition and well pulverized. Use transplanted plants from the nursery, or plant the seed. The fall is the best time for setting the plants or sowing the seed. We presume any of our dealers in nursery stock would be glad to fill your order for plants of either of the above varieties.—Maine Farmer.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

BUCHU! BUCHU!

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

Diosma Crenata—Buchu Leaves.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaint of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement, or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, &c.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms; Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudence in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere. Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SEASON OF 1870-71.
MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements,
Patented June 21st, and August 13d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need evidence of their superiority.
They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. The SAME DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Aeolian Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.
A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4we19

THE OLD RELIABLE
NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
TO BE FOUND IN EVERY VILLAGE AND TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND, IS DODD'S NERVINE
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. Is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASES,
COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSUMPTION, FAINTING FITS, PALPITATION, RESTLESSNESS, DIZZINESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines. And all folks that
Can't Sleep Nights,
Should use this truly wonderful medicine.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
For Whooping Cough,
DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in teething, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.
LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will care itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, NOV. 5, 1870.

THE WAR.—In consequence of the terms proposed by Thiers, and accepted by Bismark, the latter offers the French an armistice of twenty-five days to allow the general elections to be held throughout France, and to be based on the military status existing on the day of the signature. It is said that the Provisional Government of France accepts the armistice:

The conditions of the proposed armistice are the following: Its duration is to be twenty-five days. The inhabitants will have the liberty to bring in food during the interval. Free elections will be held in all the departments.

The London Figaro publishes a version of the Emperor Napoleon's pamphlet on the campaign of 1870, and the causes which led to the capitulation of Sedan. The Emperor recalls his manifesto just after the misgiving with which he listened to the cry, "On to Berlin." He says his plan was to mass 150,000 men at Metz, 100,000 at Strasbourg and 50,000 at Chalons, and cross the Rhine near Haguenau with a large force in order to separate Southern Germany from the Northern Confederation. He hoped to win the first battle, and secure the alliance of Austria and Italy with France in imposing neutrality on Bavaria and Wurtemburg. The defects in the French military system and the delay in bringing up men and material defeated this plan. The Germans having ample time to bring their forces into the field, the French were outnumbered and put on the defensive. A new plan was necessary, involving a retreat on Chalons. This the regency disapproved as discouraging to the public, and the Emperor was urged to resume the offensive, yielding his convictions to McMahon's advice and the plan was adopted. He alludes to his situation after he had given up the command of the army, and when his name and authority were ignored at Paris, as exceedingly painful. He acquiesced in the march for the relief of Metz, though conscious of the dangers of that enterprise. He describes the operations, analyzes the battles which preceded the surrender at Sedan, and gives an account of his interview with Bismark and the King of Prussia. The pamphlet closes with the declaration that the German successes are due to their superiority of numbers, improved artillery, vigorous discipline, respect for authority, and the military and patriotic spirit of the people, which absorbs all other interests and opinions.

The National Guard and the Garde Mobile refuse to fight under Garibaldi, who is organizing the Franc-Tireurs.

The news of an armistice being agreed on is confirmed. The terms are as follows:—

First. The military line of demarcation is to remain as at present constituted.

Second. Paris is to be daily provisioned.

Third. The Constituent Assembly is to be convoked upon the 15th day of November at Tours.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Flynt, the Boston dressmaker, whose charges were recently razed by a jury, is said to be worth $80,000, the result of a successful business of less than fifteen years.

Parepa returns to America in March.

Carrie Goldsticker is a new concert singer.

Prof. Noyes has charge of the deaf and dumb in Minnesota.

Miss Charlotte Cushman was a passenger in the steamer Scotia, which arrived at New York Thursday.

Patti expects to visit this country in 1871.

☞ The whiskey raid in Brooklyn resulted in the discovery and destruction of nine illicit distilleries, and over ten thousand gallons of mash in various stages of preparation. The revenue officers were again assisted by a large force of United States troops and marines, who were posted on the roofs of houses, at the corners of streets and in all commanding positions. They thoroughly cowed the mob, which manifested many indications of hostility. The distilleries already destroyed had an aggregate capacity of two thousand barrels weekly.

☞ Paymaster James S. Girard, of the United States Navy, was arrested on Wednesday, and is now confined at the Washington Navy Yard, for embezzling $30,000 of the Government funds.

☞ Senator Morrill of Maine is very ill.

New Hampshire Items.

Three men captured fourteen coons last month, weighing in all 229 pounds, in Lisbon.

It is said there will be worked into starch in Lancaster and Jefferson, this season, full 100,000 bushels of potatoes. Starch potatoes sell for 35 cents, and table potatoes for 50.

The ice house of L. B. Legg, at Dover, was destroyed by fire on Monday. Loss about $700; insured for $400; incendiary.

The Congregational Society of Barrington have bought a new library for their Sabbath School.

The Parker Mills at Barrington are undergoing repairs, preparatory to being occupied by a party from Maine, who is to manufacture water-proof cloaking.

The clothing store of J. F. Buzzell of Bradford was entered on Wednesday night and a large amount of stock was taken.

The recent explosion of the Bennington powder mill is said to be the seventeenth explosion of that establishment.

The house and outbuilding of Mrs. Melinda Stiles, in Hudson, were burned Tuesday night.

☞ The murder of Mr. Samuel S. Caswell, formerly of Strafford, in Kansas, by a Mexican, is described in the Dover Enquirer as follows:—

On Monday, Oct. 17, while en route from his home in Junction City, Kansas, to attend a term of Court in Ottawa, he was attacked and stabbed by one of a party of four Mexicans, who had noticed him getting a fifty dollar bill changed. Mr. C. had been making collections, and it was supposed had a large amount of money with him. He immediately turned upon his assailants, whereupon they all ran, except the one who directly made the assault. A scuffle ensued, the Mexican getting the worst of it. As soon as Mr. C. thought he had the fellow secure, he left him lying upon the ground and went to a neighboring house, when it was discovered that he had blood upon his clothes, and then he first became aware of the serious nature of his wounds. Every attention possible was rendered by friends, but he lived only four days afterwards. The immediate cause of his death is supposed to be inflammation of the bowels, caused by the too free application of cold water immediately after the affray, while he was yet perspiring freely.

Mr. Caswell was a young man of fine education, upright character, good natural abilities, every way calculated to make his mark in the world, and was fast rising to distinction and popularity in his adopted State.

He served honorably in the army and afterwards studied law with Hon. S. M. Wheeler of Dover. In 1867 he went to Kansas and the Junction City Union says:—

By a close application to the duties of his profession he won a reputation surpassed by few of his years anywhere in the State. His career of usefulness had just commenced, he was coming into prominence before the people, his name had already been approved by the Republicans of this county, as their first choice for the State Senate, and imagination, running not far into the future, saw him holding positions of high trust in the government, when he was suddenly called from the scenes of earth.

"After life's fitful fever he sleeps well," honored and respected by all, and beloved and esteemed by those who knew him best.

THE BROOKLYN NAVY YARD.—Secretary Robeson writes to General Slocum of Brooklyn, a denial of the report that he [Robeson] lately said that if Slocum was elected to Congress the administration would close the Brooklyn navy yard on the first of December, but says further:—

It is my opinion that it is not for the interest of the government to maintain navy yards in the midst of great cities. This opinion applies to the navy yard in Brooklyn in common with all others situated within the limits of great municipalities with adverse interests under an independent government. The carrying out of such an opinion, however, is not within the power of the department, but must depend upon the will of the people expressed through their representatives in Congress.

WENDELL PHILLIPS.—The Biddeford Journal finds fault with our nomination of Wendell Phillips for the British Mission, and says:—

He is one of our most brilliant orators, keen and dashing, but a national scold, a ship without rudder, compass or ballast, an engine without a governor, a kite without a tail, which soars high enough but you never can tell where it is going to light. The one idea of those who advocate the sending of such a man, seems to be, because he can talk. So he can, more in in one hour than a majority of men can in a week, but the class of men to which Mr. Phillips belongs are not distinguished as practical men, prophets or statesmen.

And yet this scold, this rudderless ship, this tail-less kite could accomplish more in four years than four hundred Motleys would in a century.

LOSS OF THE STEAMER VARUNA.—The Steamship Varuna, from New York for Galveston, foundered during the night of October 15, off Jupiter Inlet, Florida, and all on board except the second mate and four men were lost.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

If you desire rosy cheeks and a complexion fair and free from Pimples, Blotches and Eruptions, purify your blood and invigorate your system by taking Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It has no equal for this purpose, nor as a remedy for "Liver Complaint," or "Biliousness," Constipation of the Bowels, severe lingering Coughs and Bronchitis Sold by druggists. Dr. Pierce's private Government Revenue Stamp, bearing upon it the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness" is on the outside wrapper of the genuine.

FORTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE have tested the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and it is now generally acknowledged to be the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung disease; embracing the whole range from a slight cold to a settled Consumption. Were it not for its merits, it would long since have "died, and made no sign."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world: the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effect of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful, black or brown. Sold by all Druggist and Perfumers, and properly applied at Batchelor's Wig Factory, No. 16 Bond Street, New York. lydawly2

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

☞ Would not a Steam Laundry be a good investment for Portsmouth? If not, why not, as well as elsewhere?

☞ A new sidewalk has been laid in front of the Cutter mansion on Congress Street, after a long delay. It's a decided improvement.

THEATRE.—Mrs. G. C. Howard, the favorite actress, will appear in the character of "Topsy" in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," this evening, at the Temple. The company is a good one.

☞ The lecture of Rev. S. F. Upham, D. D., is spoken of by the newspapers as able and instructive—well worth hearing. The second lecture of the course is to be delivered by Hon. Geo. B. Loring of Salem, Nov. 16.

☞ The closing session of the Merrimac Valley Dental Association was held at Congress Hall on Friday, there being a good attendance of spectators. The exercises opened with Clinical Operations by Drs. Shepard of Boston, Cummings of Concord, and Stevens of Portsmouth, which were very interesting to members and visitors. Drs. E. B. Goodall and John S. Pray of this city became members. The Association adjourned to meet in Manchester on the first Thursday in May, 1871.

S. J. COURT, Friday, Nov. 4.—By agreement of counsel, the suit of the town of Newtou vs. the town of East Kingston, a pauper case, was continued.

Samuel Dennett, charged with illegal voting in Ward 3, Portsmouth, was discharged.

Catherine Reagan, who appealed from a decision of Judge Odell in the Portsmouth Police Court, where she was sentenced to the House of Correction for two months, was tried by jury on a charge of being a common drunkard, and was sentenced to three months in H. of C., and to pay costs of prosecution. Catherine pleaded her own case and made music by her original way of becoming a lawyeress. When sentenced, she endeavored to faint, but couldn't make it work; then she swore she wouldn't go to the House, but several officials persuaded her contrawise. Catharine is a public nuisance.

PORTSMOUTH & DOVER R. R.—We understand that a petition is in circulation to have an article inserted in the warrant at the city election, to see if the city will vote to subscribe 2 1-2 per cent. of its valuation in the stock of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. This is an important matter for our citizens, and should receive their serious consideration before it is decided. There can be no question of the great importance of this road to the business interests of our city. As we look upon it, no enterprise of greater moment or that promises more immediate and permanent benefits to all classes of our citizens, could be presented for their action. Whether that action shall take the form here proposed is a question that will admit of much discussion, and its merits should be fully and clearly understood before the vote is taken.

A subscription of 2 1-2 per cent. by the cities of Dover and Portsmouth would give about $300,000, and it is thought that this sum, together with the individual subscriptions that can be obtained, will be sufficient, or nearly so, to complete the road. The road when completed cannot but be a paying road for our citizens, as it would form part of one direct line to Boston, opening to them competition on all freight and passenger traffic, and giving them the choice of routes and the opportunity to make advantageous terms with either. As it is the amount subscribed, it would be sufficient for the cities simply to pay the interest on the sums until the road is completed, when its business would relieve them from all further outlays, and probably pay back a handsome surplus. Or, if they then wished to dispose of their stock, it could be done with advantage and profit. As a part of the Eastern line to Boston, this portion must be as profitable as any other part of the route.

One thing is certain; the interests of Dover require the road. If this action seems unwise let us see if any other and better way can be devised; such as making it for the interests of other roads to aid it, or arousing among our own people a livelier appreciation of their wants and capabilities, and awakening a public spirit that will not always rest content with doing nothing. We trust this new movement will not end as all others in this direction have done. The people of Dover have been at the mercy of one railroad long enough. Let us now have a new road if we have to seek new alliances.—Eng.

If our citizens are to act in conjunction with the Dover people, they must move promptly. The building of the road to Dover means increased business here and all citizens would be benefited; no doubt a majority of the voters of Portsmouth would vote to aid the movement by loaning the credit of the city to the proposed Road. Is it necessary? Would it hasten the completion of the Road? Is it feasible?

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.—The Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad has been leased to the Eastern Railroad Company, on such terms that the stockholders of the P., G. F. & C. Railroad are to receive at all times the same dividends that are paid to the stockholders of the Eastern Railroad Company, and the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire; and, with the understanding also, that the new stock to be issued to provide means for extending the P., G. F. & C. Railroad should be offered at par to the stockholders of the Eastern Railroad Company and Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire. It has been voted to issue new stock of the P., G. F. & C. Railroad, to be distributed at par to the stockholders of the Eastern Railroad Company, and the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, in the proportion of one share in the said stock to eight shares of the stock of the Eastern Railroad Company and of Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, held by said stockholders respectively.

☞ Funds are being raised by subscription, to pay a portion of the expense of laying a good brick pavement in Vaughan Street, west side, in place of the wretched stones which citizens and visitors have stumbled over so long. The whole cost will be $400 or $500, of which the City will pay the customary half; and some of the abutters being poor, — public-spirited neighbors and others are desirous of aiding the work by private subscription. This will be a great improvement, in the principal thoroughfare of the city.

The similar stone flagging on Deer Street, near Market, is also to be replaced with brick, which will be more in keeping with the other recent improvements in that street.

☞ The total revenue collected for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1870, was $168,560,107 against $143,007,988 for the year ending June 30, 1869.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

DEATHS.

At Breakfast Hill, Rye, Oct. 26, Martha Maria Drake, aged 40 years, daughter of Deacon C. W. Drake.

Enduring through life a physical weakness which confined her to quiet habits, she early learned to seek that joy which is ever present. An intelligent and affectionate christian woman, she won the love of all with whom she associated, and through her brief sickness of six days, suffering with lung fever, loving hands administered to her wants, but above all she received the tender careof her Savior. The Psalms of David and His word were her continual comfort. She welcomed death with the same sweet smile with which she greeted friends in health, and with the ease and quiet of peaceful sleep she passed away, illustrating

"O, death, where is thy sting, O, grave, where is thy victory?"—Com.

——AND THE——

M A G E E A D V A N C E .

The MAGEE COOK is too well known to need advertising commendation. The MAGEE ADVANCED 1870, or Improved Magee, is the most perfect and complete pattern of this celebrated Stove yet constructed, and leaves but little room for its further improvement.

The AMERICAN is a new pattern Stove and a very superior one, possessing some excellent qualities differing from other Stoves. It is made in the most thorough manner, the castings are the very best, and it is afforded at quite moderate price. It is having an extensive sale, and is giving great satisfaction as one of the quickest working, most economical and convenient Stoves ever offered to the Public. Call and Examine it and take references to those who are using it.

These two last named Stoves have no superior in the market.

In addition to the above we have two or three patterns of

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

——OF THE——

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

Morning Chronicle.

COTSWOLD SHEEP AND LAMBS.—Some time since, I called the attention (through the columns of your paper,) of my brother farmers to their sad neglect in regard to improving their flocks of sheep, giving them my experience in sheep breeding, and recommending the Cotswold as the best kind of sheep to keep. I again beg leave to call their attention to the same subject.

I have been engaged for the past year in butchering, and I find too many mutton frames, with but a very slight covering of meat and a still lighter covering of wool. Consumers are calling for better meat or for more meat and less bones, but the butcher cannot much longer afford to pay farmers for bones, because the American people have not yet learned to eat them; and, therefore, we cannot find a market for them.

If it will pay to keep sheep, will it not pay to keep good ones? I answer, yes. Good lambs were worth from the 15th of June to the first of August of the present year, from five to six dollars per head, for mutton. At those prices no one can deny that sheep pay as large or larger net profit than any kind of farm stock; but farmers are neglecting their sheep and letting their flocks run down, because they say that the sheep fever is over, and it won't pay to bother with them. But the fault is all with them; the demand for good, early lambs was larger than the supply the present season, and no one can say that they did not command prices that would pay well for raising them.

I called the attention of my brother farmers to the Cotswold sheep as the right kind of sheep to keep for mutton and wool combined. I also asked them to try the experiment and report to me this fall. Several have done so, and are well pleased with the result. One of them, Mr. Wm. R. Dearborn, of New Hampton, bought last fall a pure bred Cotswold buck, weighing three hundred and seventy-five pounds, and used him with his sheep. I saw his lambs in August; he had a pen of six back lambs, selected to keep for breeders, which were the best lambs I have seen this season. I helped him weigh two of them at that time; one of them weighed 100 pounds, and the other 112 pounds, and a ewe lamb weighed a day or two after, 117 pounds. These lambs would not average over four and a half months old at the time they were weighed, and for beauty of form, quantity and quality of wool, I think it would be hard to find their equal.

I would like to have those interested in sheep breeding, try the Cotswolds. We must have better mutton, or the demand will die out. I believe it will pay to raise mutton, and an improvement in our mutton sheep will be money in the pockets of all concerned, and a source of wealth to the whole country. A word to the wise is sufficient.—Cor. N. E. Farmer.

MERINO SHEEP.—A correspondent of the Prairie Farmer says, I have never yet found any breed of sheep that would realize me as much clear gain as the merino. I have never found any other breed that I could keep a large flock of and keep them healthy. I generally keep about five hundred head, and scarcely ever lose more than two per cent. a year. I get from five to five and one-half pounds of wool per head. My sheep at three years old will weigh from ninety to one hundred and ten pounds. I call my sheep every year, never keep any until they are past five years old (unless it be a choice breeding ewe.) I have my lambs come in the latter part of March and April, so that they are big and strong by the time cold weather comes on.

Perhaps some breeder of Cotswolds will say he can do better than that. If so let me know it.

TREES ON DECLIVITIES.—We deem it rather remarkable, says the Ruralist, that we found in visiting fruit-growing districts in Europe, in our late visit, five years since, the best cultivators there, when they could, planted their orchards or vineyards on a gentle sloping hill, with a southeastern aspect, experience having taught them, as they stated to us, that such was the best situation for an orchard or a vineyard. Dodart first observed that trees push their branches in a direction parallel to the surface of the earth. If a tree stands on a steep hill-side, it pushes both towards the hill and the declivity; but on both sides it still preserves its branches parallel to the surface.

As there is attraction between the upper surface of leaves and light, we are also persuaded, and, more than that, certain of it from experiment, that there is an attraction of the same nature between the under surface and the earth. This we consider the true cause of the phenomenon. We had longobserved that the most fruitful orchards, and most fertile trees, are those planted on a declivity, and the steeper it is, though not quite a precipice, the more prolific they prove. It is well known that the spreading of trees always renders them fruitful. On the plane they incline to shoot upward; and, therefore, art is employed by skillful gardeners and applied in various ways to check their perpendicular and promote their lateral growth.

But this point is obtained on a declivity by nature. There a tree loses its tendency, although its character of growth may be that way, to shoot upward, and in order to preserve its branches parallel with the surface is constrained to put them in a lateral direction. Hence an important rule in the choice of orchards and fruit gardens. [Journal of Agricultural.

The Chronicle.

☞ The Dayton, (Ohio) papers give lengthy accounts of the annual visit of the Board of Managers to the National Soldiers Home in that place, and the dedication of a new chapel which has been built for the veterans, largely by the government, which is said to be the first instance on record of a church being built by the United States. Among the addresses to veterans, was one by Ex-Gov. Frederick Smyth, of our own State, a member of the Board of Managers,—which is highly spoken of.

☞ The following question is said to have proved a stumbling block to a great many of the applicants examined for places in the Census Bureau at Washington. A. sold a cow for $25, and by the transaction lost 16 2-3 per cent. He sold another cow at an advance of 16 per cent for just enough to cover the loss upon the first cow? What did the second cow sell for? The problem is known in the Department of the Interior as the Cow Catcher.

☞ The La Crosse Leader is responsible for the following; "Not long since, while one of the river boats was taking on some live stock, among the lot was one large gray mule, that refused to walk the staging. The mate sung out to a roustabout to 'twist his tail, and he'd come.' A Coroner's jury have decided that the man came to his death 'by obeying orders.'"

STRAWBERRIES.—The soil for strawberries, beds or plantations, should be well prepared by deep tillage and abundance of manure. If the land is not naturally dry, artificial drainage will be indispensable; and if in connection with this the subsoil plough is put down to the depth of eighteen inches, the furrows crossing the drains, the soil will be completely freed from stagnant water. One acre deeply tilled, or thoroughly drained properly manured, will produce more strawberries than half a dozen acres of land not half tilled or manured. The making of large plantations of strawberries in the fall is not advisable, as dry weather may set in, and watering may be indispensable. The land may be prepared in the fall, and then there will be no delay in the spring but to freshen up the soil and set out the plants. Well rotted barnyard manure is well suited for this crop, but if this is not available in sufficient quantity, a compost of seasoned muck and barnyard manure will do very well; also spent hops from the breweries, wood ashes, and decayed vegetable substances. Fresh stable manure generally stocks the land with white clover, dandelion, grass, etc., and on this account is not much used by intelligent growers of the strawberry.

HOW TO CLEAN OIL-CLOTHES.—If you wish to have them look new and nice, wash them with soft flannel and lukewarm water, and wipe perfectly dry. If you want them to look extra nice, after they are are wiped drop a few spoonfuls of milk over them, and rub them with a dry cloth.

—The Titusville Herald says: "One of our largest oil refiners is engaged in filling a contract with a Western firm for several tons of "spruce gum." This is obtained from the very last "boilings down" of the refiner's stills, and in a crude state possesses all the fragrance of a barrel of "soap grease." School girls and those who dote on a "chaw" of "perfectly elegant gum" can practice on this."

—It is said that the mosquitoes are so plenty in the Adirondacks that they can't all get on a stranger at once, so they stand around in reliefs and wait for their turns, like customers in a barber shop. They exhaust a man in three days, and then let him alone, like a deserted well, to accumulate more blood.

—A Maine paper perpetrates the following upon our innocent industry: "Pennsylvania puddlers can boast of having converted their olfactory organs to such a degree that they smelt iron." The joke is not worth minding. The people of Maine are a lumbering set.—Germantown Chronicle.

—A youth of Altoona has left off smoking for a few days, because, to conceal it from his mother, he put the lighted stump of his cigar into his pocket, which contained some loose gunpowder.

—Milwaukee has been chosen as the site of a new ship-yard for building iron ships for the lake trade. Eight hundred thousand dollars will be put into the enterprise at once.

—The last depravity of New York is the commitment of a cross-eyed woman by a Judge because she wouldn't look at him when told to.

Tinted cards and note paper are authoritatively pronounced the correct thing; pale pink, buff and pistache are the favorite colors.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœas, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature, which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

BUCHU! BUCHU!

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

Diosma Crenata—Buchu Leaves.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous mint.

MEDICAL PROPRETIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaint of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement, or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, &c.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine Increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms; Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudence in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SEASON OF 1870-71.
MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements.
Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.
They now offer the CELEBRATED OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.
A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, preventing a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to anyone sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

THE OLD RELIABLE
NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
TO BE FOUND IN EVERY VILLAGE AND TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND, IS DODD'S NERVINE
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. Is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASES,
COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSUMPTION, FAINTING FITS, PALPITATION, RESTLESSNESS, DIZZINESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines. And all folks that
Can't Sleep Nights,
Should use this truly wonderful medicine.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
For Whooping Cough,
DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.
LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cure itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, NOV. 7, 1870.

FRANCE.—The government at Tours has ordered a levy en masse on all men between twenty and forty years of age.

Trochu has issued a proclamation showing the advantages of an armistice.

On Wednesday there were 21 generals and 8 superior officers with the Emperor Napoleon, at Wilhelmshohe.

Cluseret recommends George Francis Train as general-in-chief of the national guards.

Earl Granville has received a despatch announcing the acceptance by General Trochu of an armistice on the terms proposed by Bismark. The protocol of the armistice is signed by Trochu, Favre, Arago, Fernay, Garnier-Pages, Pelletan, Picard and Simon on the part of the provisional government, and by Bismark and Von Moltke on the part of the Germans. The armistice begins on the 4th of November, and ends on the 28th. The Constituent Assembly is convoked to meet on the 15th instant.

The elections in Paris on the question of maintaining the powers of the government of the national defence resulted in an overwhelming majority in favor of the government. The national guard marched in battalions to the polls, and deposited their votes. They were all "Yes." The returns of the city are nearly complete, with the exception of three arrondissements. The result is as follows, in round numbers: Ayes, 442,000; nays, 49,000—a majority of 393,800. Perfect tranquility existed in Paris. According to the latest despatches there has been no military movements since Sunday.

A special dispatch from Brussels says:—During the armistice, free ingress to and egress from Paris will be permitted.

The relations between Austria and Prussia have grown threatening within a few days. When Bismark's last circular was read to Beust, he replied in a highly unfriendly manner, and a rupture appeared imminent. Prussia is now drained of her last division of the landwehr, having at home only 80,000 soldiers, who are doing garrison duty and guarding prisoners. Bazaine's surrender was made known at Vienna, however, and caused Beust to adopt a milder tone.

Seventy thousand Prussians from Metz are half-way to Paris. Fifty thousand others are marching on Garibaldi at Besancon. Garibaldi has 25,000 men in his command.

A Berlin correspondent says:—

Europe will find herself taken aback within a week, at the new triumph Bismark's genius has achieved in quite another direction than that looked for. Be prepared for a big thing close at hand—some Bonapartist scheme which Bismark's party has hidden beneath the armistice negotiations. The cessation of hostilities during 25 days gives such a balance of military advantages to France, that Bismark could not have granted such terms without secret reasons.

☞ Victor Hugo went for the Prussians on the 2d of October, as thus;—

It seems that the Prussians have decreed that France shall be Germany and that Germany shall be Prussia: that I who speak, born in Lorraine, shall be a German; that it shall be midnight at noonday; that the Euphrates, the Nile, the Tiber and the Seine shall be affluents of the Spree; that the city which for four centuries has been the light of the world has no more reason for existing, and that Berlin will suffice; that Montaigne, Rabelais, d'Aubigne, Pascal, Corneille, Moliere, Montesquieu, Diderot, Jean Jacques, Mirabeau, Danton and the French Revolution never existed; that we have no more need of Voltaire, since we have M. de Bismark; that the universe belongs to the conquerers of Napoleon the Great and Napoleon the Little; that henceforth thought, conscience, poetry, art, progress, intelligence, shall begin at Potsdam and end at Spandau; that there shall be no more Paris,—that henceforth the human race shall be only a second-rate power.

And wound up his corruscations of sublimity, this how:—

Attack Paris. Prussians; blockade, hem in and bombard!

Try it!

Winter is coming.

And France.

Winter,—that is to say, snow, rain, frost, sleet, hail, ice.

France,—that is to say, fire.

Paris will defend herself madly.

To fire, all of you, citizens! There is henceforward only France here and Prussia there. Nothing but necessity exists. What is the question of to-day? To fight. What is the question of to-morrow? To conquer. What is the question of every day? To die.

Since the arrival in France of George Francis Train, Hugo seems to have hushed.

☞ French's Oriental circus and caravan was sold at auction at Trenton, Thursday. The elephant Empress brought $5000; 13 double-humped camels brought $5200.

"RED HOT."—The New York correspondent of the Concord Statesman says Brick Pomeroy "has lost all he was once worth. His failure was an assured fact from the very beginning. The old proverb concerning the fool and his money was never more correctly illustrated. Pomercy was spoiled by early success, which, indeed, is a far harder trial than adversity. He is an easy writer and sometimes shows a great deal of power; but all this is not enough for success in New York. He went West early in life, and his journal, the La Crosse Democrat, reached a large circulation. It was adapted to the rude habits of Western Democracy, being coarsely abusive, but at the same time racy and attractive. During the war excitement, such a journal might be profitable; but the calm reign of peace demands a different tone. Mr. Pomeroy, at the age of thirty-five, had made the enormous sum of $200,000. This was enough to dazzle him.

He chafed under his distance from the great centre of politics, and in an unlucky hour he planned a new journal, to be established in this city. To use his favorite term, New York needed a 'red hot' journal. The World was too elevated in style and tone for the masses; besides this, it was controlled by Belmont and the capitalists, and did not represent the people. It was deficient in pungent strength, and hence a field was ready for such a man as he. The two years which have elapsed have taught Mr. Pomeroy his error. New York did not want him. The rude Democracy, whose organ he desired to be, neither read papers nor hear them read. Pomeroy opened his effort with a poster headed with these words: 'Damn it! Damn it!' and the paper has been most effectually damned."

☞ Nilsson sang in Boston for the first time, Friday evening, and Boston went crazy. The receipts at the ticket office were $8000. Mlle. Nilsson was dressed in an elegant white corded silk, with elaborate overskirts beautifully trimmed with a profusion of white lace. Her skirt was also festooned with white flowers, green leaves and trailing vines, some of the same being used to adorn her hair and left shoulder. Her corsage was made low, and was also trimmed with white lace. She wore a necklace of pearls and diamonds. No colors but green and white, it will be seen, were used in her costume, and the former only in the shape of leaves and vines.

ELECTIONS take place this week in the States of Arkansas, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Florida, Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota and Nevada,—in all twenty States which will choose members of Congress. These States decide the complexion of the next Congress, and great interest is felt in the result. At the elections in September and October, 56 Republicans and 29 Democrats were chosen,—a Republican loss of ten. The twenty States above named choose 123 Congressmen. In the present Congress they chose 72 Republicans and 51 Democrats, as follows:—

	Repub.	Dem.
Alabama	4	2
Arkansas	2	1
Delaware		1
Florida	1
Illinois	10	4
Kansas	1

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether mildly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

FOR THIRTY YEARS

Has that well-known, standard, and popular remedy, the

PAIN KILLER,

manufactured by PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R. I., been before the public, and in that time has become known in all parts of the world, and been used by people of all nations.

It remains, to-day, that same good and efficient remedy. Its wonderful power in relieving the most severe pains has never been equalled, and it has earned its world-wide popularity by its intrinsic merit. No curative agent has had so widespread sale or given such universal satisfaction.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which reversed IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of greattalent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

DR. STRAIT'S

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE,"

With this FLEXIBLE EDGE the suction of atmospheric plates can be made so strong, that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruction; and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, pears, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyances, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of sneezing, eating, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how irregular the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same—

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of forcing the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Three Families and Seven Business Firms Turned out of Doors.

Shortly after one o'clock, Sunday morning, fire was discovered in the building No. 58 Congress Street, occupied by Mr. David Rodrick on the lower floor and the Free Will Baptist Young Men's Christian Association in the second story. Accounts differ as to the exact locality in which the fire originated, but there is hardly a doubt that it was caused by a defective chimney. One statement is to the effect that when first discovered the fire was just under way in the rear room occupied by Mr. Rodrick for Hair Work. Others say that the fire came through the floor of the room occupied by the Y. M. C. A. and passed out of the front door of the Hair Dressing Saloon, creeping along the ceiling. Mr. Rodrick states that he left the building about 20 minutes before 12 o'clock. At that time, there was no fire in the Hair Work apartment, but he left a coal fire in the Hair Dressing Room. The Y. M. C A. room was heated by a wood fire and was closed about 10 o'clock. Mr. Rodrick states that the chimney had been very warm all the evening.

From the commencement, the fire burned rapidly and but a few minutes elapsed before the building was burned to the ground. Nothing was saved from the second story and the loss of the F. W. B. Y. M. C. Association is estimated at $200. They had just moved in and fitted up the room. Mr. Rodrick had lately fitted his place of business. His loss is about $1800. Insured for $700 in the Independent Co. of Boston, A. F. Howard, Agent; and $400 in Pacific Co., Cal., John S. Harvey, Agent. Mr. Rodrick saved three barbers' chairs and a settee. The building was leased from Benj. Cheever, Esq., and was insured for $300 in the North America Co. of Philadelphia, J. S. Harvey, Agent, and $500 in the Home of New York, John Sise, Agent.

The fire communicated to the adjoining buildings, east and west, and for a time disorder reigned supreme. The Thacher building (east) was occupied by the families of Messrs. J. B. Burleigh and Charles Rowe, the lower floor being occupied by Chas. H. Sides & Co. as a back office and by Dr. J. H. Thacher as a drug store. The eager crowd aided in saving nearly all the furniture and stock in the building. The loss of C. H. Sides & Co. was trifling and Dr. Thacher's stock, though somewhat damaged, was mostly saved. The building was damaged to the extent of $1500 or more and is insured in the Independent Co. of Boston, for $3000, by A. F. Howard, Agent. Dr. Thacher's stock and fixtures, were insured for $2500 in the Ætna Co. of Hartford, at Sise's Agency.

The Haven and Cheever block, west of Rodrick's was greatly damaged, losing the roof, and being gutted in the upper stories. It was occupied by J. S. Pfeiffer as a residence and store, J. B. Burleigh, milliner, and by Dr. E. B. Goodall, dentist, and Dr. B. Dearborn, City Physician. Mr. Pfeiffer is the greatest sufferer from the fire. His stock valued at $3000 was nearly all taken out, much of it damaged and a large portion stolen. He lost a piano, valuable clothing, a gold watch and two silver watches—and most of the wine stored in his cellar was stolen by plundering wretches. Mr. Pfeiffer is one of our best citizens, and had acquired a handsome little sum which he had invested in his business, and has the sympathy of the public. He was insured in the City of Hartford Co. at Sise's Agency, for $700, and in the International Company, J. C. Butler, Agent, for $500. This will not cover half the loss.

J. B. Burleigh's loss in millinery stock is $500; insured in the Independent of Boston, A. F. Howard, Agent, for $1100. Loss of furniture, slight; insured for $500. Dr. Dearborn's loss is trifling; uninsured. Dr. Goodall's stock was all removed, but damaged; insured for $1000 in the North American Co. of New York. The building was insured for $2200 in the North America Co. of Philadelphia, J. S. Harvey, Agent, and for $2000 in the Security Co. of New York, John Sise, Agent.

The house adjoining the Haven and Cheever building was wet down but was not injured by fire. It is occupied by Mr. Wm. H. Dennett, who moved out and then moved back again, losing about $100; uninsured.

The buildings burned were of wood and the two standing, though badly damaged by fire and water, may be patched up. But we hope, with the public, that they may be replaced by a brick block.

The total loss by the fire is about $9000. Had it occurred 48 hours earlier, during the gale of Thursday, the business portion of the city would have been in ruins. The water in the reservoir at Haymarket Square gave out but the fire was got under by the engines stationed elsewhere.

Cinders set fire to the roof of the Temple, but it was promptly extinguished by Mr. Stavers.

Our city authorities would do well to construct that water main, so long talked of; in case of another fire the wind may not be so favorable as on Sunday.

☞ At a meeting of the stockholders of the Mechanics' Protective Union Store, Friday evening, it was voted to sell the remaining stock of goods at auction, and to close up the affair of the concern, within thirty days. Mr. J. P. Morse, and the Agent and Secretary of the Company, were appointed a committee to carry this resolution into effect. The failure of this enterprise is owing to the short-sightedness of the stockholders in neglecting to patronise a store in which they had a direct interest.

ACCIDENT AT THE SHOALS.—On Saturday, a man whose name we did not learn, was brought from the Shoals, where he fell last week from the addition being built on the Appledore House, a distance of 50 feet, striking on his feet and paralyzing him. His limbs have been confined in a straight box since the accident. He was taken to his home near Boston on Saturday, and is not expected to live.

☞ The Theatre, Saturday evening, drew a fair audience to the Temple, to see Uncle Tom's Cabin performed. It gave very good satisfaction, the Eva, and Mrs. Howard's Topsey, being worthy of especial commendation. The scenery was hardly worthy so good a play and such meritorious acting.

☞ The Atlantic Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Exeter has voted to wind up its affairs. Policy holders! stand from under.

☞ We learn that Mr. Andrew Lowd has purchased the residence of Mr. Alfred T. Joy on State Street.

☞ Dr. John S. Perry (not Pray) was admitted to the Dental Association on Friday.

☞ Naval Band Assemblies open at Congress Hall, Tuesday evening.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

NOW FOR WINTER!

GREAT STOCK OF STOVES!

URIAH BLAISDELL,

AT THE OLD STAND,

43 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.,

Invites his friends and the public to look in at his extensive array of

S T O V E S ,

Comprising the best variety both of

PARLOR AND COOKING STOVES,

Ever Offered in this City.

——OF OUR——

P A R L O R S T O V E S ,

——THE——

STEWART AND MAGEE

TAKE THE LEAD.

These two Stoves stand unrivalled, the MAGEE having been materially improved, and it would be difficult if not impossible to construct anything to surpass them as Parlor Heating Stoves.

Besides these we offer a large assortment of other patterns of

PARLOR STOVES,

——BOTH——

Cylinders and Base Burners,

Some of very handsome design.

——ALSO——

P A R L O R C O O K S ,

Both For Coal and Wood,

OVEN AND PLAIN AIR TIGHTS,

Of All Sizes,

BOX STOVES, CYLINDER STOVES, SCORCHERS.

In the line of Cooking Stoves we offer the

KEARSARGE,
STEWART,
CHILSON,
YOUNG AMERICA,
TIP TOP,
BALANCE,
ETNA, (a superior wood stove.)
WHITE MOUNTAIN,

And others, and last and best, the

A M E R I C A N ,

——AND THE——

M A G E E A D V A N C E .

The MAGEE COOK is too well known to need advertising commendation. The MAGEE ADVANCE of 1870, or Improved Magee, is the most perfect and complete pattern of this celebrated Stove yet constructed, and leaves but little room for its further improvement.

The AMERICAN is a new pattern Stove and a very superior one, possessing some excellent qualities differing from other Stoves. It is made in the most thorough manner, the castings are the very best, and it is afforded at quite moderate price. It is having an extensive sale, and is giving great satisfaction as one of the quickest working, most economical and convenient Stoves ever offered to the Public. Call and Examine it and take references to those who are using it.

These two last named Stoves have no superior in the market.

In addition to the above we have two or three patterns of

P O R T A B L E R A N G E S ,

Vessels' Cabooses and Ranges,

One of them particularly, the

Richmond Range,

Being a very nice Cooking Stove at a Low Price.

A Good Stock of Tin, Britannia, Japanned & Glass Ware

——AND OF——

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS,

On hand as usual; also

Cauldron Kettles, Farmers' Boilers, Iron Sinks; Oven, Boiler and Ash Mouths; Funnel Irons, &c, &c.

Repair Pieces for the principal Stoves in Store, or procured, and Stove and Tin Work done Promptly to Order.

Give us a call before purchasing, as we think we can give satisfaction in Quality and Price, and shall be pleased to show our goods, whether we sell or not. 1mo oct5

PORTSMOUTH, N H.

THE

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

——OF THE——

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,

Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,

Cashier First National Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

W. B. SHATTUCK, Treasurer.

32 Pine Street, New York.

After a full examination, we have accepted an Agency for the Sale of the above First Mortgage Bonds, and desire to recommend them to our customers AS A THOROUGHLY SAFE, AS WELL AS PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

A WORD WITH YOUNG MEN.—It is as easy to be a good man as a poor one. Half the energy displayed in keeping ahead that is required to catch up when behind, would save credit, give more time to attend to business, and add to the profit and reputation of those who work for gain. Be prompt—keep your word. Honor your engagements. If you promise to meet a man, or to do a certain thing at a certain moment, be ready at the appointed time. If you go out on business, attend promptly to the matter on hand, then as promptly go about your own business.

Do not stop to tell stories in business hours. If you have a place of business be found there when wanted. No man can get rich by sitting around stores and saloons. Never "fool" on business matters. Have order, system, regularity, liberality, promptness. Do not meddle with business you know nothing of. Never buy an article you do not need, simply because it is cheap, and the man who sells it will take it out in trade. Trade is money. Strive to avoid harsh words and personalities. Do not kick every stone in the path; more miles can be made in a day by going steadily on, than stopping to kick. Pay as you go. A man of honor respects his word as he does his bond. Aid, but never beg. Help others when you can, but never give what you cannot afford to, simply because it is fashionable. Learn to say no. No necessity of snapping it out dog fashion, but say it firmly and respectfully. Have but few confidants, and the fewer the better. Use your own brains rather than those of others. Learn to think and act for yourself. Be vigilant. Keep ahead rather than behind the times.

KEEP 'EM OUT.—A certain Dr. Sheppard has been lecturing in New York, to show that the Chinese ought not to be allowed to come here. [Dr. Sheppard is a D. D., and not an M. D.] The Chinese will obliterate our middle classes. They are of a different race. They are barbarians. They have not sufficient acumen to comprehend the Christian religion. They are idolators. Their language has not a single word which expresses our idea of God, and they believe in polygamy. Therefore, let us put a heavy tax upon each immigrant that comes, and keep these Chinamen out.

An able, profound and imposing argument that, Dr. Sheppard! You will get a crown of glory if you keep on. Middle classes, look out,—don't get obliterated! Caucasians, beware of the Mongolians—they are not human! Ye civilized, barbarism knocks, hungry, at the door. It may eat you up! Christians, save your virtue. Waste no influence upon men without acumen sufficient to understand your complex scheme!

This country belongs to a chosen race; to the regenerated of mankind; to men who bow not down to the almighty dollar; who have no social sin; who tell the truth; and whose churches love one another in a beauty of affection touching to behold. No! keep the Mongolians out; let us not be contaminated. How sublime and virtuous we are!—Germantown Chronicle.

—A capital joke, and all the more palatable because it is true and can be vouched for, took place a few Sundays since at one of the prominent Fourth Street churches. It seems that a worthy deacon had been very industrious in selling a new church book, costing seventy-five cents. At the service in question the minister, just before dismissing the congregation, rose and said —"all you who have children to baptize will present them next Sabbath." The deacon, who by the way was a little deaf, and having an eye to selling the books, and supposing his pastor was referring to them, immediately jumped up and shouted,—"all you who haven't any can get as many as you want at seventy-five cents each."

The preacher looked cross-eyed at the brothers, the brothers looked at the clergyman, the audience punched the audience in the side, the bubble grew larger until it burst in a loud guffaw; ladies colored up, crimsoned, blushed, and thanked the Lord for the low price of peopling the earth. There was no benediction that morning worth speaking of. The deacon, after he had found out his mistake, changed his pew to the rear; and though he cannot hear the sermon, he is consoled with the thought that the young ladies can't snicker at him.—N. J. Patriot.

—An enterprising ice-cream maker in Chicago advertises: "Families supplied by the quart or gallon, and delivered in any part of the city." For those who wish to obtain families, this is an eligible opportunity.

—A cotemporary says in boiling onions or cabbage, place a dish of vinegar on the stove at the same time. The boiling vinegar will destroy the odor of the vegetables.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL.
FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Bowels, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Sale in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization.
S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAH LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

A CAMP-MEETING IDYL.

"Now, Miss Wilder, 'bout them chickens?" "Just let me knit to the middle of my needle, Draxy."

Draxy waited, her busy hands finding something to do in the little pause. The things on the table were straightened—the daguerreotypes (it was the best room) tilted more accurately on their open covers, a minute speck of dust dislodged from the mantel-piece—all before the gentle "click, click" of the needles ceased, and Mrs. Wilder laid down her stocking.

"The chickens—let me see. It was those six little broils of the speckled hen's I was a-thinking of, and the pepper-and-salt roasters." (Mrs. Wilder viewed chickens from a purely practical stand-point.) That'll be enough, won't it?"

"I don't know"—doubtfully—"folks eat a heap at camp-meetin'."

"So they do. Well, then, kill three of the black hens, and make a pie. They'll make a plenty."

"I guess so." Business thus disposed of, Draxy assumed a chair and waxed confidential.

"How many of our folks is a-goin', Miss Wilder?"

"You and me and Mr. Wilder and Nathan and Ellen, that's five, and Lucy's six."

"Lucy!"

"Yes. Mr. Wilder said he guessed she'd better, and Brother Parker plead so hard about it. He thinks she's old enough to get religion, and ought to have it, and her pa says there's no harm tryin', only he won't have her flustered. I don't know what to say 'bout it myself, but I guess pa's right." And Mrs. Wilder ended with a little sigh.

"Mr. Parker!" There was a concentrated and conspicuous sniff in Draxy's voice. She said no more, and in another minute got up and left the room, her errand accomplished. There were a few waste places in Draxy's life. Satan might have dodged around her for mouths without finding one idle chink in which to practice his nefarious arts.

Pretty soon the door opened and Lucy came in—a girl of seventeen, with the shy beauty of a wild doe in her hazel eyes. The delicate cameo like outline of her face was full of an expression of appeal. Not that there was anything to appeal against in her life, the petted only daughter of this honest life, the petted only daughter of this honest home. Some women possess that look naturally, and before it, when combined with youth and loveliness, the hearts of men go down like nine-pins. Lucy as yet knew not the value of her dower, but such knowledge never lingers long.

"Where have you been dear?"

"Over to Esther's, mother. They're beginning the camp meeting cake, and I staid to help to beat eggs."

"Do tell! I suppose they're making a great fuss, like the rest of the folks?"

"Oh yes. Mrs. Robinson has killed a turkey and eight pairs of chickens, and had two pieces of beef boiled, and Esther and Hepsy were making gingerbread, and raised cake, and all sorts of pies that you can think of—mince and apple and Canada plum—I can't remember half."

"Land's sake! And who's going, Lucy?"

"Mrs. Robbins and the squire and the girls, and James and his wife, and aunt Mirey, and—here the happy, girlish voice sank a little, just a little; only a close observer would have noticed the infection—"and Kane."

"Elkanah! I want to know! Well, it's time he got hold of something good. You'll have to help Draxy make our pies to-morrow, dear. The weather's splendid. I guess we're going to have a good week."

This camp-meeting about which all Ammonoosuc was in a stir, was a yearly affair, planned for and anticipated with eager and invariable pleasure. After the heat of the summer and the toil of the harvest, when the hay was in, the potatoes stored, the corn and corn-shucks safely housed—when the rye and wheat had gone to the mill, and the "boarders" to their city homes—came in the beautiful September weather, this holiday, which half a religious exercise, brought neighbors together, brightened the links of church-brotherhood and old friendships, and gave to body and soul alike refreshment. But oh, what a different thing it was to the different people who were looking forward to it!

Mrs. Wilder, and other good matrons of her stamp, viewed it as a sober species of jollification, combining much good cheer with some comfortable preaching and praying. A time, too, for the exhibition of notable housekeeping—of piecrust and fatted fowls, which, duly partaken of, might impart to the occasion a certain toothsome solemnity.

Brother Parker, of the Pemigewasset Conference, on the contrary, regarded it as a crucible in which souls should be melted and changed—a four days' opportunity, during which the doors of heaven should stand open for whomsoever pleased. In his thoughts he saw them enter, some stained and shrunken with sin, some pure and spotless as Lucy Wilder's — for Brother Parker thought much of Lucy's soul. Had it

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.

It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for roofs retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.

One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats,—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.

The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.

The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings on your age, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857,

No. 75 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of patents and conspicuous legal and counsel advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGART."

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds, while the work upon the road is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an unbidded security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency income, while these Bonds pay 9½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are listed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup and Spasm, it should be kept in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the complaints of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it,

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is controlled.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above dangerous complaints, for often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other help. Keep it by your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a nasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a graceful perfume.

SEASON OF 1870-71.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

Important Improvements.

Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.

The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.

They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.

Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.

The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.

They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant cases, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.

A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, in any one seeking the address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

THE OLD RELIABLE

NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.

TO BE FOUND IN EVERY VILLAGE AND TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND, IS

DODD'S NERVINE

AND INVIGORATOR.

A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,

DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. Is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of

NERVOUS DISEASES,

COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSUMPTION, FAINTING FITS, PALPITATION, RESTLESSNESS, DIZZINESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.

DODD'S NERVINE

Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines. And all folks that

Can't Sleep Nights,

Should use this truly wonderful medicine.

DODD'S NERVINE

Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the treatment of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

For Whooping Cough,

DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.

LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.

It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will care itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids and kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone,

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOV. 8, 1870.

ELECTIONS OF CONGRESSMEN take place in eighteen States to-day, (Tuesday,) and two voted on Monday,—twenty in all, electing 123 members, and deciding whether the next Congress is to be Republican or Democratic. The interest felt in the general result is of course very great; but we doubt if it exceeds that bestowed upon the enforcement of the new election laws in New York, and the possible result of a fair vote in that city.

New York city, at the last election, gave a democratic majority of about 43,000, while the entire State, outside of that city, went republican by about 15,000 majority. At the previous (Presidential) election the democrats carried the State by only 10,000 majority, which shows that the republicans lost largely at the last one; but this is easily explained by the fact that the people of the country districts were aware, from the circumstances attending the election of '68, that no matter how large an honest majority the republicans might roll up in the rest of the State, the fraudulent democratic vote of New York city would overbalance it. Knowing this, thousands of republican voters kept away from the polls.

But this year, if there is any virtue in good laws with determined men to carry them out, very few fraudulent votes will be cast in New York city; and that the democrats fear that the State will be rescued from their misrule by such a state of affairs, is evident from the tremendous outcry their party papers have raised against the laws that will bring it about.

Those papers deal largely in loud talk about "Grant's hirelings," "liberty," "bayonet charges," "resistance," "atrocious tyranny," and all that sort of thing; but not one of them that we have seen has even pretended to believe that the election laws will prevent a single legally-qualified voter from depositing his vote in the ballot-box. The most rigid enforcement of these laws can only prevent repeating and fraudulent voting; and the shout raised against the abolition of these "liberties" with the ballot, is proof that the democratic party—as a party—has made use of (and believes in making use of) such practices.

One paper says that the election laws are "obnoxious" to the citizens of New York; and another asks, "if obnoxious laws are to be enforced with the bayonet, what then becomes of our boasted liberties?" Obnoxious! so are laws against theft "obnoxious" to thieves; but we never heard that advanced as a reason for not enforcing them. And our "boasted liberties" are still boasted of, though the "obnoxious" fugitive slave law was enforced by the bayonet in Boston, and Kansas was ravaged to make its free-soil settlers swallow the pro-slavery constitution prepared for them by Missouri slaveholders—aye, even though the bayonet was used, not merely threatened, last week in Brooklyn, to enforce the "obnoxious" U. S. revenue laws on the illicit whiskey mills. If force has to be used to carry out the election laws so as to secure a fair vote vote in New York, those who in the interests of fraud and rascality oppose those laws will alone be responsible for the results which may follow.

We expect to chronicle general Republican victories in our next issue, and have made arrangements for the prompt reception of returns until 2 o'clock, Wednesday morning.

THE WAR.—The negotiations for an armistice have been broken off by order of the Paris government, which will not assent to the conditions required by Bismark, for a cession of territory to Prussia.

Favre has issued a proclamation, saying:—

"The deliverance of the country is only possible by obedience to the military chiefs and respect for the laws."

There was a serious engagement on the road from Dijon to St. Jean de Losue.

The Empress Eugenie passed through Brussels, incognito, on her way to Chislehurst, Saturday. She was with the Emperor only one day.

The rate for a passage in a Nadir balloon is $400.

The kingdom of Wurtemburg and the Grand Duchies of Baden and Hesse have accepted the North German Confederation. Bavaria refuses to accept, and insists upon a separate treaty for herself, reserving her military and diplomatic sovereignty.

—An Indiana paper makes its mark by the following: "But few readers in the United States, of Napoleon's despatch that the soldiers were full of elan, know that the word means 'beans.'"

THE WAR IN EUROPE has had one effect which must be very gratifying to those who still cherish vindictive feelings towards England for her unfriendly bearing towards this country during the Rebellion—for the immense moral support she gave the rebel slaveholders, after having for years sneered at the slavery-stain on our liberty, and for the cheers with which the British House of Commons greeted the news of the depredations of the pirate Alabama on our commerce.

The effect to which we allude is the still further humbling of England's pride, which fell many degrees in the time of the Schleswig-Holsteint roubles, when Prussia, disregarding the open menace that the first gun fired at Denmark would precipitate England into the war, kept unmoved on her way,—and proud Albion, "the arbiter of Europe," looked silently on while Denmark was dismembered.

In the present disturbance, neither Prussia nor France paid the least attention to England when they initiated the contest, nor have her faint remonstrances had any effect on either party during its continuance; and Prussia even proposes to alter the map of Europe by annexing a slice of France, without so much as saying "by your leave" to the nation that once assumed to settle the boundaries of other nations as she always has her own—according to her own wishes and power, without any regard to justice or the rights of others.

England can no longer tell the continental powers, "Thus far shalt thou come, and no farther," with a full assurance that her dictum will be obeyed, or if not, that she can enforce it with the bayonet. She has had a hard lesson to learn—that other nations besides England have rights, and may be able to protect them—but she is in a fair way to master its difficulties, and the Franco-Prussian war has been a great assistant to her in so doing.

CENTRAL IOWA RAILROAD AND BONDS.—The rapidity with which railroads are built in the Western States is something that our eastern people are not accustomed to see. We have heard much, during the past year, of the prospects and progress of the Central Railroad of Iowa, whose route traverses the State from north to south, through the most thickly settled and largely productive sections of that rich State. The names of eminent capitalists of the east were associated with the enterprise, and it was announced that the road should be pushed through with all practicable speed, without depending for funds upon sales of the Company's securities.

This promise has been made good. Twelve thousand tons of the very best iron was bought, paid for and shipped to the line; three thousand men and teams were put to work; the President of the road remained upon the ground to see that nothing halted the construction; an abundant supply of the best rolling stock was contracted for, and during the summer and autumn months the rails have been advancing from point to point, and new stations have been opened in rapid succession, each one contributing its valuable quota to the business of the road.

The grand result is becoming manifest. The road is now finished from Marshalltown, near the centre of the State, to the Minnesota line, and cars are now running regularly between St. Paul and Marshalltown, a distance of 237 miles. So much of the remaining distance from Marshalltown to the Missouri line is also done that there are laying to open the entire grand line between St. Paul and St. Louis. This will be done in a few weeks, and before the close of the year, the great work will be accomplished, and the direct line of 580 miles between these two great commercial cities of the West will be in full operation. Upon this line (now practically finished), whose connections must give it a large through traffic, and whose location will ensure to it a profitable local business, First Mortgage 7 per cent. Bonds to the small amount of $16,000 per mile are issued, which are sold at 96 and accrued interest. At this rate these bonds are much more profitable than Governments, and the Treasurer's advertisement in another column shows that financiers of unquestioned judgment pronounce them "thoroughly safe as well as profitable." All the circumstances confirm the soundness of this opinion.

☞ Five survivors from the steamship Varuna, from New York for Galveston, which foundered off the Florida coast on the night of Oct. 20, have arrived in New York. They are W. Kirtland, second mate; William Wallace, quatermaster; Thomas Glennon, James Burns and George Watson, seamen. After the Varuna sunk, they were sixty hours in an open boat, without food or water, until cast ashore by the breakers on the Florida coast.

☞ Colored Cadet Smith, at West Point, is honorably acquitted. The court found:—1, That he did smite his fellow with a cocoanut dipper; 2, That soldierly achievement was justifiable under the circumstances.

—Sweet-potato juice is the Jersey cosmetic for clear complexions.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FORTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE have tested the virtues of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and it is now generally acknowledged to be the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung disease; embracing the whole range from a slight cold to a settled Consumption. Were it not for its merits, it would long since have "died, and made no sign."

Look here, reader, we do not wish to tell you that Consumption can be cured when the lungs are half consumed, nor that Dr. Wonderful, or any other fellow, has discovered a remedy that will make men live forever, and leave death to play for want of work. No, you have heard enough of that, and we do not wonder that you have by this time become disgusted with it. But when we tell you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will positively cure the worst cases of Catarrh, we only assert that which thousands can testify to. Try it and you will be convinced. Sent by mail for sixty cents. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by druggists.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. daweodlmoll

FOR THIRTY YEARS

Has that well-known, standard, and popular remedy, the

PAIN KILLER,

manufactured by PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R. I., been before the public, and in that time has become known in all parts of the world, and been used by people of all nations.

It remains, to-day, that same good and efficient remedy. Its wonderful power in relieving the most severe pains has never been equalled, and it has earned its world-wide popularity by its intrinsic merit. No curative agent has had so widespread sale or given such universal satisfaction.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

The Song Garden—Oliver Ditson.
New Store—H. W. Mason.
Sewing Machines—E. A. Joy.

A SUCCESS.—The advertising columns of the new paper, "The Lyceum," are full, and the circulation has been increased to 3,000 copies.

☞ Mr. J. B. Adams was appointed on the Committee to wind up the affairs of the M. P. Union Store, and not Mr. J. P. Morse, as reported.

☞ Mr. E. A. Joy advertises Sewing Machines in variety, for sale at his Music Store and Sewing Machine Emporium, No. 9 Pleasant Street. Persons in want of a machine will do well to read his advertisement and then give him a call.

☞ Mr. H. W. Mason advertises to open his commodious and convenient New Store on Market Street, with new goods, on Monday, Nov. 14. Mr. Mason is an active and experienced business man, and his store is wondrously improved in appearance.

☞ One of Portsmouth's unburied dead men chose to throw obstacles in the way of our reporter, while the latter was collecting details of the late fire. We do not propose, however, to "wake" him, as the powder necessary to do so thoroughly would be wasted.

☞ We are informed that Mr. Pfeiffer has recovered one gold and one silver watch, which he supposed were lost at the late fire, and that his piano is in the keeping of A. W. Haven, Esq., uninjured; where also is most of his stock of fine wine. His loss is much less than was at first supposed.

☞ We understand that Mrs. Weaver of Biddeford, Me., a lady who has acquired a fine reputation as a reader, is to give a select reading from the poets, in the Universalist Church in this city, next Monday evening. A rich feast is in store, and we hope the lady will meet with a full house.

☞ The International Telegraph Line (at Shedd's) is now in charge of Mr. E. O. Cole, recently of the Western Union Line. The International Company are fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Cole, who possesses the confidence of the business community and is one of the most accommodating operators it has been our fortune to deal with.

FATAL SPORT.—On Saturday week, two workmen at the Navy Yard were engaged in a good-humored trial of strength, when one of them, a large, powerful man threw his arms about the others waist, and gave him a hearty squeeze. The latter went to his home as usual that evening, but complained of feeling unwell; next morning he was worse, and a physician was called, who said the man was injured internally; and on Monday morning he died. From the character of the man who squeezed him, and his friendship for the disease, there could be no possible suspicion of his having any injurious intent in giving the fatal hug; it was but a sad accident.

Some time ago the deceased had a dispute with his mother, and it is said that when the old lady was dying he refused to visit her, although he was three times sent for, in one day,—his brother being the messenger. The brother was so much incensed at this, that when the recent death of the stubborn son occurred, the other refused to attend his funeral, but kept at work on the Yard as though nothing had happened, the day it took place. Happy family.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

OLD-TIME WORTHIES.—In the Gazette of Oct. 7th, your correspondetn "G. O.," in writing of Madam Wood, alludes to "the Stearns" of Kittery. I think he must have intended Stevens of Kittery.

In the year 1714, Nov. 4th, Rev. John Newmarch was ordained pastor of the church at Kittery Point; and May 1st, 1751, Rev. Benjamin Stevens was ordained colleague with him. Mr. Newmarch died Jan. 15th, 1754; and Dr. Stevens succeeded him as pastor, and so continued until May 18th, 1792, when he also died, suddenly.

Rev. Joseph Buckminster was ordained at Portsmouth, Jan. 26th, 1779. Dr. Buckminster married the daughter of Dr. Stevens, and their son was named Joseph Stevens Buckminster, and not Joseph "Stearns" Buckminster. Joseph was reputed to be a very pious and talented youth, and it was said that even in boyhood he led the family religious services in the absence of his father. He died at an early age, after being settled in the ministry. It was reported that when his father laid on his death bed, many miles distant from the residence of his son, he exclaimed, "My son is dead;" and that after a due lapse of time a message came that his son was dead. "The oldest inhabitant" of Portsmouth can tell if this be true.

Dr. Buckminster was one of the most eloquent men of his day. When Rev. Joseph Litchfield of Kittery was to have an exchange with a certain neighboring minister, who was not a very popular preacher, the parishioners were not apprized of it until the minister made his appearance on Sunday morning. But when Dr. Buckminster was to preach, general information of the fact was spread over the parish on the week previous. He had a most charming voice, that would secure the earnest attention of his audience. When it suited his subject he spoke in a very soft tenor tone, and again his voice would flow out in a deep, strong, yet pleasant bass, thrilling the congregation. M. D.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 3.

☞ The firemen worked too well in extinguishing the flames at the Congress Street fire, according to the ideas of many citizens. There was a general hope among the spectators that both buildings now standing would be pulled down by the Hook & Ladder Co.

☞ A Kittery youth, who desired to wed the object of his affection, had an interview with her paternal ancestor, in which he stated that, although he had no wealth worth speaking of, yet he was "chuck full of days' works." He got the girl.

☞ Somebody's leetle dog Shnyder fell out of a wagon opposite the City Rooms, Monday, and passed away under the wagon wheels. His complexion was white and his funeral was speedy, City Marshal Johnson acting as undertaker.

S. J. COUTT, Monday, Nov. 7.—A case was brought against the town of Candia for damages from defective highway. The jury and counsel went to Candia in charge of Deputy Sheriff Chas. H. Joy to view the premises.

☞ The opening lecture of the M. E. Course will be delivered this evening at the Methodist Church by Rev. F. S. Upham, D. D. The tickets are nearly all sold, and there will be a large attendance.

☞ Assembly at Congress Hall this evening. Tickets 50 cts.

☞ The main building of the Boston Lead Works was destroyed by fire, Saturday evening. Loss, $250,000.

☞ Parepa-Rosa measures three feet and nine inches around the waist. How is that for circumference?

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of those papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

——AND THE——

M A G E E A D V A N C E .

The MAGEE COOK is too well known to need advertising commendation. The MAGEE ADVANCE of 1870, or Improved Magee, is the most perfect and complete pattern of this celebrated Stove yet constructed, and leaves but little room for its further improvement.

The AMERICAN is a new pattern Stove and a very superior one, possessing some excellent qualities differing from other Stoves. It is made in the most thorough manner, the castings are the very best, and it is afforded at quite moderate price. It is having an extensive sale, and is giving great satisfaction; one of the quickest working, most economical and convenient Stoves ever offered to the Public. Call and Examine it and take references to those who are using it.

These two last named Stoves have no superior in the market.

In addition to the above we have two or three patterns of

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

——OF THE——

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,

Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,

Cashier First National Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

W. B. SHATTUCK, Treasurer.

32 Pine Street, New York.

After a full examination, we have accepted an Agency for the Sale of the above First Mortgage Bonds, and desire to recommend them to our customers AS A THOROUGHLY SAFE, AS WELL AS PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

Morning Chronicle.

been contained in a body less fair, it had perchance occupied less of his attention; but he was a man, though a good one, and having twice tasted the sweetness of married life, he was naturally ready to try it again. Only—here he was firm—a minister's wife must be of one mind with himself. She must belong to his church; and no temptation should induce him to lay such a snare and scandal in the path of his people as to marry a woman without a religion. So Brother Parker looked forward eagerly to the coming week.

Elkanah Robinson was equally eager. A strong, brown, handsome fellow, he had been a wild boy, but of late had grown so steady and so attentive to his farm that folks said "Kane must be thinkin' of settlin';" only where, or with whom, nobody knew.

To Lucy and other girls the camp-meeting was invested with a delightful vagueness, in which merry meals, rustling tree-boughs, sleeping under canvas, whispers, laughter, "good times" generally mingled. In more than one young heart another more secret element of bliss was consciously or unconsciously recognized. In Lucy's it was —Kane.

The brown, fearless boy and the fair girl had grown up together as playmates till that day when, "for his badness," the neighbors said, Kane was sent away to Uncle Elkanah's, at Swift Water, for a year, which year had lengthened into five. It was three now since he came back — tall, bronzed, strange yet familiar—and during those three, womanhood had crept unaware over the little maid who had shared his baby sports. Playmate no longer, Lucy was very shy, but in her secret heart she was proud of him; proud of the strength that could heave the heavy timber up which her brother Nathan avoided, of the skill that could tame the wildest colt. She was sure he would always be good hereafter. The four days' dwelling in a grove with him was a delight so great that it almost frightened her.

So the day came. All Monday the committees were at work arranging the tents, in the form of a hollow square, beneath the shelter of the trees. A bright little stream curved around two sides of the encampment. In its centre arose a covered platform, to which was affixed a derrick painted pea green, whose top supported a sharp toned iron bell. Ranks of rough benches confronted this stand, in the midst of which, and directly under the platform, was a small benched inclosure for the use of the "anxious," who were expected to resort thither at the close of every service to listen to the prayers and appeals of the brethren. Nor was the carnal man forgotten. Besides the eating-saloon, open to all, each tent bore a long table, duly spread three times a day with amplest provision. These tents represented each a village, and sheltered by night and by day a whole neighborhood.

The name of the place—"Pemigewasset," "Stowe," "Lacon"—was lettered upon the front, accompanied by some floral device or text of Scripture. Upon the Ammonoosuc tent was the inappropriate recommendation to "Watch and Pray," around which, by way of antidote, a wreath of flowery hops was garlanded. The space within was gorgeous in its appointments, and boasted, besides a small book-case of religious reading, a round table with a red cover, which supported a huge nosegay of flowers, and gave the whole a "tasty effect," as Mrs. Wilder exultingly remarked to Mrs. Robbins, equalled by none of the others—of which effect all Ammonoosuc was justly proud. And so the camp-meeting began fairly.

Concluded to-morrow.

An Old Bible.—The oldest Bible probably, in New Hampshire, is kept in the family of Joseph A. Philbrick of Hampton. It was printed in London, in 1583, in English black letter. It contains about 1,300 pages, and is eighteen inches in length, twelve inches in width, and six inches in depth as it lies on the table. It weighs twenty seven pounds. The following account of the Bible was written many years ago, and placed on the fly leaf by the late Rev. Jonathan French of North Hampton,

"English Bible, printed in London in 1583."

The tradition in the Philbrick family is that one of their ancestors, an Englishman, was captain of a vessel, which was captured by a French man-of-war. The French vessel would afterward have been wrecked, had not Philbrick, by his skill and efforts, been the principal agent in saving it. As an expression of gratitude, his liberty and his vessel were restored to him. This Bible had been taken by the Frenchmen in a former prize. Whether the French, being Catholics, viewed the Great Protestant Bible as a sort of Jonah, or for what other cause tradition does not say, but the Bible was brought on deck, with the intention of casting it into the sea. Philbrick, encouraged by the favor he had found in the sight of his captors, entreated them to give him the Bible. It was given to him. He took it into London, and had it rebound in its present binding.—News Letter.

—An Ohio lady seeks a divorce on the ground of a want of tenderness on her husband's part. He hammered her with an ax-beive for over three-quarters of an hour, and then sardonically inquired of her, "How is that for high?"

—Mr. Blanchard is having considerable trouble in persuading a jury at Schenectady that it was all right for him to marry three wives without any intervening funerals or divorces.

—The hair of a prominent member of the Cabinet is said to be rapidly disappearing. The name of the woman is not given.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable. Viz., General Debility, Headache, Paintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fainting on a slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, viz., Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Safe in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization. S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAH LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

A CAMP-MEETING IDYL.

All day Tuesday people were pouring in. Each one-seated wagon brought three and a baby; each two-seated, five and two babies. By night hundreds were assembled. The moon was brilliantly full, and the singing and prayer meeting which inaugurated the assembly so spirited and satisfactory that Brother Little rubbed his hands, and remarked to Brother Smith that he'd been to forty camp-meetings in his time, but in his opinion this was going to be the greatest yet.

"How funny!" whispered Hepsy Robinson, as they watched the bustle inside the tent, "See Lucy, the beds this side are for us, and that side for the men folks. Don't it look queer?"

"But who sleeps on the table?" laughed Lucy, as a row of rustling mattresses was hifted up.

"Don't you know? Why, the elders and deacons, of course. That's to keep people in order, and stop any sky larking and frolicking among us young ones. Say, Lucy, which bed will you have? Here, take this one next to mine."

"Lucy," called her mother, and she whispered, "here's your place, next to me. I don't want you down there with those girls, for you'll talk and chatter all night, and not be fit for a thing in the morning. Just slip off your frock there, behind the curtain, and put on your double gown, and I'll fix you."

So, like Christabel, "her gentle limbs she did undress," so far as gown and hoop went; and pretty soon, in her neat gray wrapper, she was lying comfortably tucked up in the bed her prudent mother had provided with pillow and quilt. Sweet, musty smells filled the air from the hay-covered floor. The struggling moon-rays, the flapping curtain, the chewing and champing of the horses tethered close by—all was odd and novel. She could not sleep. By-and-by the men came in, spread their quilts and blankets, and subsided into repose. Good Elder Adams occupied the end of the table nearest to Lucy's couch. His righteous slumbers quickly became audible, and, peeping round to look at him, Lucy saw a pair of eyes intently fixed upon her. A strange thrill came over her brain as she met them. Only the width of the narrow table and the elder's boots separated her from Kane! She blushed uncomfortably, and dropped her eyelids not to open them again; but, for long after, fairy lights and visions seemed to dance before her and trouble her repose.

At dawn the camp awoke. Small chance was there for late sleeping. Thin blue smoke began to curl from early fires. Horses whinnied for their corn. Impatient hands waited to pack away the beds, and restore the tents to daytime order. By eight o'clock breakfast was eaten and dishes washed; and white-haired Elder Adams took his place, Bible in hand, at the head of the long table, to lead in prayer. Lucy sat just within the door. The stillness, the beautiful peace of the new born day seemed reflected in her face. One golden beech leaf fluttered down, and lay upon her fair braids. Kane wasn't given to poetry, but somehow a line came into his head as he looked:

"Oh, my Love is like the morning!"

He read it somewhere. He thought it was true—about Lucy.

At ten o'clock the clanging bell announced general services, and the crowd assembled. Truth to tell, it was not a picuresque crowd. The American of the rural districts is rarely a handsome animal. He is lean. He is brown. He loses his teeth early. Hard work and soda soon transform the loveliness of youth into palior and sharp outline. Saleratus claims its own. Here and there one sees a sweet young face, or an old one with fine, strong lines, deep cut and inscrutable, like a carving in stone; but personal beauty is the exception. Beauty apart, however, we may be proud of our multitudes. For decorum, for good humor, for general neatness of appearance, for civility to strangers, for a sense of propriety which almost ranks as dignity, it would be hard to find their parallel in any other country. At this Cadiz camp-meeting even the babies caught the spirit of the occasion, and sucked their thumbs contentedly throughout the service without a cry. Thirteen ministers occupied the platform. With able generalship the lesser lights were first brought forward, leaving the greater for the third day, when the excitement was expected to culminate. The sermon was a quiet one; the wild and beautiful songs of the Methodist hymnal blended with the soft rustling of the trees above, and the morning sped quickly away.

Great cheer was held in all the tents at noon, and unlimited quantities of pie eaten—fit preparation for the after services. Pie usually precedes repentance, as pie-eaters know. In the evening, under the blaze of the harvest-moon, Brother Parker arose for the first time. A tall, thin man, with a sallow, tender face, and emotional. His sermon was unusually fervid. A certain thrill moved over the assembly, and, at its close, a number of persons passed quietly and without excitement into the "anxious seat," as candidates for the

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs, and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats.—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction the paint after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.—CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of greatness and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.
The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the bonds, which will materially enable the company to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 45 miles, and miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.
The extensive and direct character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an unobjected security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.
The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to enhance them in early day to a premium, and must place them considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4 per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9 per cent., and we believe to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, which we anticipate for the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably more misery in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, and has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against sudden and severe attacks of disease, and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous ailments of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although such a remedy as it is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patients restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it,
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses of it before, or do and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the parents a long and painful anxiety, and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your house or the etiquettes that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here; or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such an remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SEASON OF 1870-71.
MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements.
Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and added to their former facilities large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.
They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $60 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, SIX and NINE STOPS, DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE OCTAVE, DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $125. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.
A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending their address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

THE OLD RELIABLE
NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
TO BE FOUND IN EVERY VILLAGE AND TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND, IS DODD'S NERVINE
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. Is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASES,
COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, IRRITABILITY, FAINTING FITS, PALPITATION, RESTLESSNESS, DIZZINESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines. And all folks that
Can't Sleep Nights,
Should use this truly wonderful medicine.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
For Whooping Cough,
DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones from the long and distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.
LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will care itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 9, 1870.

THE ELECTIONS.

HEAVY REPUBLICAN GAINS IN NEW YORK City.

A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS.

MASSACHUSETTS UNANIMOUS.

Only 50,000 Majority in Louisiana.

We present our readers with all the returns received up to 2 o'clock, this (Wednesday) morning, thanks to the courtesy of Mr. E. O. Cole, Telegraph Operator. The news we publish will be most satisfactory,to Republicans,—more favorable than the most sanguine expected. The figures speak for themselves.

(Special Dispatches to the Chronicle by the International Line.)

NEW YORK.

The following Congressmen are elected in New York City; fifth district, Wm.Roberts, Dem.; sixth district, Cox, Dem., over Greeley; 9th district, Fernando Wood, Dem.

Kinsella and Slocum Dems., are elected to Congress in Brooklyn.

Syracuse gives a Republican majority of 283.

Returns up to midnight indicate Hoffman's majority in N.Y.city will be about 30,000, showing a loss of 40,000 compared with the vote of 1868.

New York, Nov. 9, 2 A. M.

Brooklyn gives a Democratic majority of over 10,000, a Dem. gain of 3500.

Wayne and Orleans Counties give about 1200 Repub. majority each;—Republican gain 367.

It is estimated that Hoffman's majority in the State will be 25,000. Tammany elects all the Congressmen in New York City.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Hull; Claflin 16, Adams 16,Phillips 4.

Boston; Claflin 10,046, Adams 9832, Phillips 1876.

Worcester; Claflin 2400, Adams 1544, Phillips 459.

Fall River: Claflin 1103, Adams 603, Phillips 514.

Salem; Claflin 1122, Adams 684, Phillips 274.

Twitchell, Republican,is re-elected by a small majority in the 3d Congressional district.

In the 4th (Boston) District, Hooper, Repub.,is re-elected by nearly 2500 majority.

Boston elects 30 Republicans and 15 Democrats to lower house of the Legislature; and 3 Dem. and 3 Repub. State Senators. Wendell Phillips expresses himself well satisfied with the vote he received.

Henry Wilson will be returned to the U. S. Senate. The Republicans elect all their Representatives to Congress. Legislature largely Republican.

Gov. Claflin will have about 80,000 votes, Adams 45,000, and Phillips not over 20,000. State Senate will stand about 30 Repub., and 10 Dem. and Labor Reform. House of Representatives, 150 Repub., 40 Dem.,—50 prohibitory; but little change from last year.

NEW JERSEY.

Newark; Geo. A. Halsey, Repub., is elected to Congress from the 5th district by about 3276 majority, a Republican gain. John Hill, Repub., is re-elected from 4th district by 900 majority.

DELAWARE.

The Democrats elect their Governor and member of Congress.

MARYLAND.

Archer, Dem., has 4026 majority for Congress in the 2d District, and Swann, Dem., 4667 in the third.

Returns come in slow; as far as heard from they indicate the success of Democratic Congressmen in every district.

KENTUCKY.

The Republicans concede the election of 7 of the 9 Democratic candidates for Congress, gaining the other two.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Midnight.

There is every prospect that at least 12 Repub. Congressmen are chosen. The Republicans carry the State by 25,000 majority. They gain 3 Congressmen.

ALABAMA.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 8, Midnight.

Voting passed of quietly; there are 6 Congressmen to be elected; the present State Officers and 4 Congress men are Republicans, and 2 Congressmen are Democrats; from present indications they will all be re-elected.

LOUISIANA.

A special to the Tribune from New Orleans says the returns indicate the election of the Republican State ticket by 20,000 majority, with Republican Congressmen from four of the five districts, and the Legislature largely Republican in both branches. Congressmen Sypher, Sheldon, Darrall, McCleery, all Republicans are elected. Watkins, (Dem.) Congressman, is elected. The Republicans gain three Congressmen. Sypher's majority is 2,000; Sheldon's 10,000; Darrall's 3,000; McCleery's 4,000.

Very great Republican majority; will probably be upward of 50,000 in the State.

New Hampshire Items.

A suit in equity has been begun by O. C. Fisher of Henniker, Joseph S. Lund of Concord and William Parker of Boston, against the Concord Railroad, to annul the last election of directors.

The Amoskeag Company at Manchester have sold 6000 carbines. They are supposed to go to France.

Mr. John Blanchard of Bennington, blown up in the powder mill accident of the 1st, died on the morning of the 3d, after great suffering. He leaves a wife and several small children.

On the 31st ult., in North Conway, Mr. Jona. Seavey went up Picked Mountain to visit a bear trap, which, the season being dry, he had cunningly set beside a stream of water. In the trap he found a big fellow, weighing at least three hundred pounds, caught by a fore foot. Afraid it would get away, Mr. Seavey sailed into bruin with a club, which was knocked out of his hands by the bear with great regularity at every lick. Finally, Mr. S. resorted to a small hatchet and made several blows before he hit the bear on the head. In spite of his rashness, the man killed the bear.

Sixteen young gentlemen graduated at the medical school at Dartmouth College on Thursday last. One of the above named graduates, Mr. Parm, is a native African and was educated partly at the expense of the American Colonization Society. He passed a highly creditable examination and has already been appointed surgeon of a Liberia emigrant steamer. The purpose of the society in educating Mr. Parm was to have a native physician who should be better able to gain the confidence of the people of Liberia.

Recently a most terrific squall came over Mount Washington and struck down the Androscoggin river, sweeping trees and fences from their foundations, taking in its course the covered bridge across the river in Shelburne, which was built two years ago at an expense of $8000. It lay flat upon the water, but most of the timber was saved, as the water was very low.

The house and outbuildings of Mr. J. Day in South Alexandria, were burned a few nights since. The inmates had barely time to escape, the bed occupied by the youngest child being on fire when he was rescued. Cause not known. Loss nearly covered by an insurance of $1450.

Reports from Sullivan County state that the thunder storm of Thursday afternoon was very severe there. The town-house at Fitzwilliam was struck by lightning and considerably damaged. Other places in that vicinity are also reported to have been struck. At Marlborough a terrific bolt descended near the public-school building, knocking the teacher insensible and more or less affecting the pupils. The teacher is recovering, but it was a wonderful escape for herself and the school.

Centre Harbor is considered the healthiest place in Belknap county, no deaths occuring in that town last year, according to census returns.

THE WAR.—There is ample confirmation of the reports that the negotiations of Bismark and Thiers for an armistice have been broken off. Each party is now attempting to saddle the other with the responsibility for the continuance of the war.

The French papers express the bitterest resentment at the duplicity of Bismark, who pretending to negotiate for the suspension of hostilities,thus gained time for approach of reënforcements,and warded off the attack of the army of the Loire,which could have taken the offensive with advantage.

The French goverment has ordered the arrest of Bazaine and staff wherever found.

The village of Ansior, near Besancon, has been taken twice by the Prussians and recaptured each time by the French. As the Prussians have shot numerous peasants, the Papal Zouaves are giving no quarter. Accounts from various parts of France announce that the entire population is rising.

The returns from the entire city of Paris show 557,996 votes in favor of sustaining the present government to 62,638 against it. The municipal election results in the choice of Republican mayors in nearly all the arrondissements.

☞ Steamer Ontario, formerly of Boston, has cleared from New York for Cowes and a market with one hundred thousand muskets, carbines, revolvers and rifles, seventeen million of cartridges and fifty-five pieces or artillery. A French man-of-war will probably meet and convoy the Ontario.

☞ On Saturday Mr. Bonner's mare Pocahontas was driven on the Fleetwood course, a half mile in 1:6 1-2.

—Save your cats. Silk velvet is now made from their hair.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A FINE THING FOR THE TEETH.—The fragrant SOZODONT has taken a very prominent place among the most approved dentrifices of the day. It is a very popular article for the toilet, highly recommended by all who have used it, as a beautifier and preserver of the teeth, refreshing the mouth, sweetening the breath, and arresting the progress of decay.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," stickiest thing out.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 31 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. daw2mn9

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

☞ Auction Sale this day, at the Navy Yard, by M. T. Betton & Co., of a lot of Steam Engineering materials. See advt.

☞ Nashua is to hold a public meeting, called by the Mayor, to consider the securing of the State Normal School there. Why not Portsmouth?

☞ One of the livest men in Portsmouth says that if the Banks would let enterprising men have $100,000 capital at 4 per cent. for 3 years, and the taxes be remitted, our city could have all the manufactures we desire.

NAVAL. — Commander James S. Thornton has been ordered to navigation duty at this Yard, relieving Commander E. Y. McCauley, who is ordered to the Naval Academy.

Assistant Paymaster William C. McGowan is ordered to duty as assistant to Paymaster Emery, at the Navy Yard, New York.

☞ Hon. Frank Jones is boring an artesian well at his Brewery, through a solid ledge. He is also laying a large sewer from the Rockingham House, through Warren and Chestnut Streets, to the Congress Street sewer—the excavation for which, through ledges and all, is a work of great labor and expense. Mr. Jones is now employing 160 men.

☞ There is no reason why Portsmouth should not resume its former and proper high position among her sister cities, as a business mart, when her Railroad communications shall be completed to the interior, and so westward. And there is no reason why, with the natural attractions of the city and suburbs, it may not be developed into a second Newport—toward which the elagant and spacious new Rockingham House is a first and very important step.

S. J. COURT, Tuesday, Nov. 8.—The court is engaged with the trial of case Henry Eastman and wife vs. Town of Candia, to recover damages for alleged injuries to Mrs. S. by reason of a defective highway in that town. Mr. S. is the Station Agent of the C. & P. R. R. in Candia. Many citizens of Candia are in attendance. A view has been had by the jury, of the place of accident. Evidence for pliff. is nearly concluded. Small and Stanley of Manchester for pliff. Clark and Ham of Manchester for the town.

☞ The health of Senator Morrill of Maine is improving, and has not at any time been so bad as was reported.

☞ A fine growth of sponge was recently found upon piles taken up in Portland (Me.) harbor.

—Louisville men get rid of their mothers-in-law by greasing the cellar stairs.

—Vesuvius has had another eruption recently.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

MARRIAGES.

In Deerfield, by Rev. J. Chapman, Mr. HENRY C. ACKERMAN of Exeter, and Mrs. ELIZABETH N. TILTON BALLOU of Deerfield.

DEATHS.

In Deerfield, Sept. 18th, infant son of David Young.——Oct. 20th, EDMUND RAND, Esq., aged 68 years. He had been an active and useful man, and endured his long and painful illness with Christian fortitude.

In Northwood, Nov. 2d, Mrs. MARY CATE, wife of Jonathan Cate, aged 68 years. Mrs. C. will long be remembered as a kind neighbor, and a faithful and affectionate wife and mother.

THE ANT.

BY JOSH BILLINGS.

The ant is a meany-footed insekt.

They live about five hundred and fifty of them (more or less) in the same hole in the ground, and hold their property in common.

They have no holy days, no eight hour system, nor never strike for any higher wages.

They are very cheerful little toilers, and have no malice, no back door to their hearts.

There iz no sedentary loafers among them, and you never see one out of a job.

They get up early, go tew bed late, work all the time, and eat on the run.

You never see two ants arguing sum phoolish question that neither of them didn't understand: they don't kare whether the moon iz inhabited or not; nor whether a fish weighing two pounds put into a pail of water already phull, will make the pail slop over or weigh more.

They ain't hunting after the philosopher's stone, nor getting crazy over the sudden earthquakes.

They don't care wether Jupiter is thirty or thirty-five millions of miles up in the air, nor weather the earth bobs around on its axes or not, so long as it don't bob over their korn crib and spoil their barley.

They are simple little bizzy ants, full uv faith, working hard, living prudently, committing no sin, prazing God by minding their own bizzness, and dieing when their time comes, tew make room for the next crop uv ants.

They are a reproach tew the lazy, an encouragement tew the industrious, a rebuke tew the vicious, and a study tew the Christian.

If you want tew take a lesson in arkitekture go and set down bi the side of their hole in the ground and wonder how so many kan live so thick.

If your pashuns need consolation, watch the ant and be strengthened. If man had (added to his capacity) the pashuns and grit of these atoms of animated nature, every mountain on the buzzum of the earth would before this have been leveled, and every inch ov surface would scream with fruitfulness and countless lots of human critters would have been added tew the inhabitans of the universe, and bin fed on corn and other sass.

I hev sot the hour and a half down near an ant hill, and marvelled; hav wondered at their instinks, and hev thought how big must be the jackass, who was satisfied to believe that even an ant, least of the bugs, could be created, made bizzy, and sot to work by chance.

O, how i do pitty the individual who believes that all things here are the work of an acksident! He robs himself ov all pleazure on earth and right in heaven.

I had rather be an ant (even a humble bandy-legged, profane, swearing ant) than to look upon the things ov the world az I would upon the throw ov the dice.

Ants are older than Adam.

Man (for very wize reasons) warn't build until all other things were finished and pronounced good.

If man had been made fust he would hav insisted upon bossing the rest of the job.

He probably would have objected to having enny little bizzy ants at all and various other objekshuns would have been offered, equally green.

I'm glad man wuz the last thing made.

If man haven't hav bin made at all, you never would hav me find fault with it. I haven't much fault in man, not bekause he kan't do well but bekause he won't.

Ants hav bye laws and a constitushun, that mean sunthing.

Their laws ain't like our laws, made with a hole in them, so that a man kan steal a hoss and ride thru them on a walk.

They don't hav any whiskey rink, that is virtuous simply because it hooks bi the milyun and then legalizes its own acks.

They don't hav enny legislators that yu kan buy nor enny juges laying round on haff shell reddy to be swallered.

I rather like the ants and think now I shall sell out mi money and real estate and jine them.

Colonel Ames and another man were killed and a woman wounded in a row te a circus in Dawson, Ga., on the 2d.

PARLOR AND COOKING STOVES,

Ever Offered in this City.

——OF OUR——

P A R L O R S T O V E S ,

——THE——

STEWART AND MAGEE

TAKE THE LEAD.

These two Stoves stand unrivalled, the MAGEE having been materially improved, and it would be difficult if not impossible to construct anything to surpass them as Parlor Heating Stoves.

Besides these we offer a large assortment of other patterns of

PARLOR STOVES,

——BOTH——

Cylinders and Base Burners,

Some of very handsome design.

——ALSO——

P A R L O R C O O K S ,

Both For Coal and Wood,

OVEN AND PLAIN AIR TIGHTS,

Of All Sizes,

BOX STOVES, CYLINDER STOVES, SCORCHERS.

In the line of Cooking Stoves we offer the

KEARSARGE,
STEWART,
CHILSON,
YOUNG AMERICA,
TIP TOP,
BALANCE,
ETNA, (a superior wood stove.)
WHITE MOUNTAIN,

And others, and last and best, the

A M E R I C A N ,

——AND THE——

M A G E E A D V A N C E .

The MAGEE COOK is too well known to need advertising commendation. The MAGEE ADVANCE of 1870, or Improved Magee, is the most perfect and complete pattern of this celebrated Stove yet constructed, and leaves but little room for its further improvement.

The AMERICAN is a new pattern Stove and a very superior one, possessing some excellent qualities differing from other Stoves. It is made in the most thorough manner, the castings are the very best, and it is afforded at quite moderate price. It is having an extensive sale, and is giving great satisfaction as one of the quickest working, most economical and convenient Stoves ever offered to the Public. Call and Examine it and take references to those who are using it.

These two last named Stoves have no superior in the market.

In addition to the above we have two or three patterns of 1000 GALS. PURE CIDER, for sale by BUTLEK & LAIGHTON, No. 1 Market Square.

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

——OF THE——

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,

Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,

Cashier First National Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

W. B. SHATTUCK, Treasurer.

prayers of the congregation. Some were parents, who carried their children thither; some members of the church, who felt that their faith had suffered a decadence. All were welcomed and rejoiced over by the good brethren, and mention was made of the fact that still there was room for others, further urgency being held in reserve for the next day.

It was then, after two long and "searching" discourses, that Brother Parker had "fixed" to have Lucy succumb. He came to her among the throng, and pleaded earnestly. He even took her hand, and strove, with gentle force, to draw her to the front. To his surprise, she resisted. The girl had her own reserve of character, her own thoughts as to spiritual things. The small inclosure of rough boards, within which it seemed to him so important that she should kneel, was to her no sacred place. God had appeared nearer often—in the woods, on the hills, alone in her little room. Even the spectacle of her friends, Hopsy and Esther, conducted weeping, to the "anxious seat," failed to move her. "I can not; it would not be honest." Such was Lucy's creed; and her flower-like beauty concealed an underlying strength, even as beneath the mountain slopes enameled with butter-cups spread the indestructible granite.

By the afternoon of the third day a wide-spread excitement had seized upon the camp. A rugged and reserved people like those of New England are the most formidable when under the influence of unexpected emotion. The very novelty of sensation and expression astounds them. Strong men sobbed; women became hysterical; young girls rushed forward and fell upon their knees, the elders went to and fro among the crowd, expostulating, explaining, entreating. Over all rang at intervals the voices of the choir in wild, sweet snatches. A dark thunder cloud for a moment hid the sun, and one low peal shook the air. Brother Parker stood again by Lucy; he held her hand. She was excited and in fears, but she was firm. Just then a stir took place near them. A young man with bowed head was hurried past by two of the elders. His face was hidden in his hands, but Lucy could not mistake. A sudden tide of emotion shook her soul. If Kane yielded—if Kane was going to that place—then she should go too.

Was not her place by him—in time and eternity? Brother Parker felt the fingers quiver in his grasp, the resistance slacken. Another moment he had led her forward. She was kneeling, by Kane's side; and this victory of an earthly affection, which was to him as a heavenly one, had power to bring tears like rain to the good man's cheeks. Sweetly rang the hymn over them, the cloud floated past, the clear sunshine streamed in and bathed the place, and Heaven seemed to smile upon the scene.

To our young lovers—who shall say? To some hearts God has revealed himself in this manner. We may not dare to question. But with their deeper thoughts mingled the strange sweetness of being there side by side—the earthly blended with the unearthly, as it will do while we are things of earth.

"Don't let her converse with any one, Sister Wilder," said Brother Parker, as he restored the agitated Lucy to her friends. "Keep her aloof this evening. Let no vain conversation or gossip arise to disturb the impression on her mind. To-morrow I will talk with her further."

Oh, Brother Parker, had you noticed the hand-clasp, warmer and more lingering than became those who met merely upon a spiritual platform, exchanged between your young converts? Did you hope to make matters quite safe for the important conversion of the morrow? Oh, Brother Parker, who shall guess or compute the moral blindness which Cupid can throw over even a good man's soul?

So Mrs. Wilder kept Lucy "aloft." Poor Kane, hovering about the family group, for the chance of a word, found only downcast lashes on the part of his idol, and discouraging looks from the rest. Father, mother, brother Nathan, sister-in-law Ellen, and faithful Draxy, all were determined there should be no "philandering" that night at least. So the flame in Kane's soul, thus repressed, burned more hotly than ever; and at "Mirk midnight" he was still lying, unable to sleep, and longing for the dawn, his eyes fixed on the fair head not a yard from him.

A slight movement showed him that Lucy too slept not. In a moment, prudence and propriety alike forgotten, he had gently pushed his pillow some inches nearer.

"Lucy!"

Such a tiny whisper! Smothered by Deacon Allen's hearty snore, it would scarcely have caught the attention of Fine Ear, but Lucy heard.

She half turned her face dyed with scarlet blushes as she saw that bold head so near. "Oh don't!" she breathed; "somebody will hear!"

"They are sound as dormice," whispered Kane; "they won't wake. Do let me speak, Lucy. I shall die if you won't listen. This afternoon, when I knelt there, you know, I said to God, 'O Lord, I will be a good man and a church member with Thy help; but how can I be any thing good unless I have the girl I love to go along with me? Oh, let me have her, Lord!' And just then, Lucy, your dress rustled, and you came and knelt down by me. I knew it in a moment though I didn't open my eyes. And then I felt that the Lord was as good as they say, and I took it as a sign from Him that I was to have my heart's desire; and I prayed, Lucy—I prayed with all my might, for the first time in my life. Did you pray too, darling?"

"Yes, Kane."

"And for me?"

"Yes, Kane."

"Oh, Lucy, is it real? Could you really care for me? I have loved you always, dear—did you know it? But till to-night I could not speak it out. Will you really be my love and wife, Lucy."

Never sounded words so sweet as those three "Yeses," breathed in that fairy whisper. Kane put out his hand—little fingers met and clasped it; and just then somebody stirred, and Deacon Atwater, at the far end of the tent, gave a species of snort, and half raised himself. With frightened haste the locked hands unclosed. In half a second Kane and Lucy, to all appearance, were fast asleep. And from that time till morning not a sound broke the stillness of the tent.

Brother Parker was perplexed next day at the attitude of mind in which he found his young disciple. She was very sweet and gentle; bore his questionings patiently. And when he asked, Did she feel as if she loved God, she said, Yes, and she hoped always to love Him now, for He had made her very happy. But when the further inquiry was propounded, Was this feeling so strong that she felt justified in becoming the wife of a minister of the Gospel, the answer was immediate. No! She could never have married a minister, any way; and besides—

"Besides what?"

She had promised Elkanah Robinson to marry him.

But when had this promise been made? Long and sorely did Brother Parker puzzle over the matter, and so did Mrs. Wilder, who, in the heat of her astonishment at "that child's thinkin' of a husband," was heard to say, that for her part she couldn't think how they got at each other! Lucy and Kane kept their own counsel, and the affair in time got to be spoken of as "happenin'-at the camp;" which fact makes it more than usually interesting to the neighbors. Small and transient opposition had our young couple to contend with. They were married the next year. Both are members of the church now, and Kane was on the Conference Committee for the last camp-meeting. When people ask if he got religion at Cadiz, he is wont to answer that, "that's a matter between him and the Lord; but if not, he got something most as good"—his eloquent glance finishing the sentence. Elder Robinson will be an indulgent friend to the next generation in Ammonoosue. And if he should over lie in tabled state, and hear a little silvery confabulation break in upon the silence of the "guarded tent," we may be pretty sure that he will be conveniently blind and deaf to what is going on, remembering how sweetly once his Lucy's voice broke the stillness with, "Yes, Kane."

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL. FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these pills were well known and were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Paintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Disease of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Safe in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization.

S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAH LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

HOW COULD I?

He carried my satchel to school,
And me through the drifts carried, too;
Could I think why he hugged me so close?
If I couldn't, how could I? could you?

At eve, he tied under my chin
My hood, with its bright ribbons blue;
Why he gazed in my face could I tell?
If I couldn't, how could I? could you?

He told me my eyes were so black,
The brightest of any he know;
I blushed and looked down—could I help it?
If I couldn't, how could I? could you?

He left on my cheek a warm kiss,
Then off with the lightning speed flew;
If I could, I'd have scolded and stamped;
If I couldn't, how could I? could you?

'Twas long years ago, and since then
He has spoken words loving and true;
I only leaned close to his breast,
For how could I help it? could you?

DEPARTURE OF RAILROAD OFFICERS. On the 7th, Supt. J. R. Kendrick of the Concord Road left for the South, to assume the position of Superintendent of the New Orleans and Mobile Railroad. Mr. K. has been a most active, efficient and faithful officer, and every citizen will be glad to hear that it is not unlikely that he will return to assume his position here in the spring. Meantime, Mr. J. W. Hildreth, Master of Transportation, acts in his place.

The following gentlemen also went on to assist in running the newly completed road; Mr. George T. Benedict, Travelling Agent of Vt. Central, to be Agent of the Mobile end; Mr. Wm. J. Phelps, Freight Agent of the Connecticut River Road, to be Freight Agent; Mr. D. D. Ranlet of Boston, formerly of this city, Cashier; of the Hartford and Erie Road, to be Cashier; Mr. George G. Sanborn of this city, formerly Ticket Agent of Concord Road, to be Ticket Agent; Mr. I. H. Chandler, of this city, Conductor, to be a Conductor. Mr. Chandler takes two sons as train men, and several of the best men of the Vermont Central trains are also booked to go.—Patriot.

MORE QUAKE.—The Burlington Free Press, in a clever sarcasm on the usual reports of such things, describes the effect of the earthquake on some of the mythical people of that city, as follows:

Augustus Carom declared the cussed thing spoilt the best shot he made in the game, and lost him ten points. He thought earthquakes were a dashed humbug.

Miss Angelina Languish had read about earthquakes, but never knew before what they were. She trembled all over, and had to cling quite tightly to his arm. Indeed she thinks she would have fallen down if it had not been for his assistance.

Prof. Barnacles was of opinion that the shock arose from a tremulous motion of the earth, and its course from north to south showed that it did not proceed from east to west. He deprecated alarm, believing that no farther shock would be felt unless it occurred.

—A gentleman, whose taste for collecting forest leaves is well known, was walking on the track of the Boston and Providence Railroad last week with a huge bunch of glaring red oak leaves. The sun shining on them gave an intensity to the color. The Dedham special train, under the command of Colonel Rice, was approaching in an opposite direction, and the engineer, mistaking the red display for a red flag, immediately whistled on the brakes, which brought all hands to the platform. Discovering the mistake, the brakes were whistled off. The gentleman, in turn, mistaking the demonstration as a mark of respect, gracefully bowed his acknowledgments.—Ex.

☞ The following verdict, which was rendered in Calhoun County, Illinois, shows that the darkness of Egypt has not been entirely cleared away:—

Kurner's Verdict.—We, the jurys find the deseesed dead man kum to his death in the hands of sum unbeknown parson, with an unlauful iron weeping—named a ax with a hickory handle; which unlauful weeping wos used with deadly intent to kill the aforesaid Ded Man.

P. S.—We the aforesed and undersigned jury hopefully beleeve that the Ded Man was Beheaded by the said ax.

A SINGULAR ADVERTISEMENT. — A man in Webster, Mass., being unable to restrain his appetite took advantage of a lucid interval to cause the following card to be inserted in the Webster Times:

Notice to liquor sellers.—I hereby forbid all liquor and beer sellers giving or selling me any liquor or beer; if they do they may consider themselves responsible, because at another time I shall take legal proceedings against them. OBADIAH GEORGE.

—A countryman in a Detroit factory bet the engineer a dollar that he could seize the fly-wheel and hold it. He seized it, and was picked up on a pile of bricks outside the building, with a window sash for a necktie.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SEASON OF 1870-71.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

Important Improvements.

Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.

The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.

They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.

Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.

The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need more than mention of their superiority.

They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.

A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

THE OLD RELIABLE

NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.

TO BE FOUND IN EVERY VILLAGE AND TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND, IS

DODD'S NERVINE

AND INVIGORATOR.

A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,

DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. Is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of

NERVOUS DISEASES,

COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSUMPTION, FAINTING FITS, PALPITATION, RESTLESSNESS, DIZZINESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.

DODD'S NERVINE

Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines. And all folks that

Can't Sleep Nights,

Should use this truly wonderful medicine.

DODD'S NERVINE

Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

For Whooping Cough,

DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unrumpled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.

LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.

It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cure itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone,

THURSDAY, NOV. 10, 1870.

THE ELECTIONS.—Massachusetts increases Gov. Claflin's majority.

Twichell's plurality for Congress is 591; Hooper's, 2408.

The vote of Newburyport was:—Claflin 747, Adams 757, Phillips 35. The Democratic candidates for Representatives were chosen, including G. J. L. Colby of the Herald. Jos. B. Morss, Esq., is chosen State Senator.

The project of a new park in Boston was defeated, a two-thirds vote being necessary. The vote was—Yeas 9238; nays 5963.

Rhode Island has chosen two Republican Congressmen. In the 2d district there were two Republican candidates. Eames has 2975 plurality over Thos. A. Jenckes of civil reform fame.

New York State elects Hoffman by 30,000 majority.

McMahon is defeated in the 4th Congressional District by Roosevelt, by 4300 majority.

New York city gives Hoffman between 49,000 and 50,000 majority.

Hall, the Tammany candidate for Mayor of New York, has 25,000 majority.

The New York World (Dem.) claims 31,000 for Hoffman and 17 of the 31 Congressman. The Tribune claims 16 of the 31.

The Republicans claim a majority in the Assembly.

New Jersey has gone Republican and we gain 2 Congressmen. The legislature is Republican and will chose a Republican U. S. Senator—a gain.

Delaware elects the Republican State ticket, a Democratic Congressman, and a Republican legislature.

Virginia elects 4 Republicans and 4 Democrats to Congress.

Kentucky shows large Republican gains.

Tennessee elects Brown (Dem.) for Governor. Horace Maynard is re-elected to Congress by 1000 majority.

R. B. Butler claims a re-election.

Wisconsin elects 4 Republicans and 2 Democrats to Congress—a Democratic gain of one.

Illinois will be represented in Congress by 9 Republicans and 4 Democrats, as at present.

Arkansas elects a Conservative ticket.

Missouri elects the bolting (Gratz-Brown) ticket in opposition to the regular Republican.

Nevada is close; probably Republican.

Kansas gives a Republican majority of 15,000.

NO FRAUD.—The method of the Republicans to detect registration frauds in New York was very successful, no less than 15,000 fraudulent names having been discovered, and warrants issued in each case.

The republicans made careful copies of the registry list, and sent a letter through the post-office to every address on the lists. The post-office messengers were instructed to try to find each person, and report those that were undiscovered. Their testimony was taken Saturday night, and thus the republican inspectors had complete lists of persons falsely registered. In many instances ten or twenty persons were registered from places where nobody lived. Eight were registered from one bonded warehouse, 17 from a lumber yard and 15 from one vacant lot! Almost every Tammany Democrat had several names registered from his house, but the numbers were not so large as in the election two years ago. The whole registry was 25,000 less than in 1868.

The sentence of Terence Quinn to two years in the penitentiary for fraudulent registry alarmed the repeaters, and pleas of guilty were entered in the cases of two other repeaters, in order to prevent the production of testimony that would implicate democrats in the election frauds, and expose some of the schemes that were to be attempted.

☞ Dr. Dio Lewis submits that a man's stomach is nearer his soul than his brain, that dyspepsia ruins character, and that the examination of a man's liver gives a better clue to the kind of man he is, than an examination of his skull. This is almost as bad as the testimony of another doctor, quoted by Emerson, who noticed that when his patent's liver was disorded he was gloomily Calvanistic, but when it was all right he was a cheerful Unitarian.

NEW BOOKS.—Sheldon & Co. have just published "Words and Their Uses," by Richard Grant White, and "The Castaways," by Capt. Mayne Reid. They are nicely printed and handsomely bound in purple, being got up in the well known style of the popular publishers. "Words and Their Uses" will be a valuable work in any library, and "The Castaways" is a book interesting to boys and girls under 70.

GEORGE P. ROWELL & Co. of New York, the well known and enterprising advertising agents, have purchased the agency of John Hooper & Co. of the same city, an equally well known and reliable firm, and by the union of the two will have by far the largest and most flourishing advertising establishment in the country; and if it is as well managed in the future as in the past it cannot fail to become more gigantic and successful. Messrs. Rowell & Co. publish the American Newspaper Directory, the most complete volume of the kind ever issued in this or any other country, and at their New York office they keep on file more than five thousand periodicals, which are always open to the free use of their patrons when in New York. Both the retiring partners of the late firm of J. Hooper & Co. are to remain with Geo. P. Rowell & Co. for some months, until their own business matters can be adjusted, after which Mr. Wayre contemplates going abroad, and Mr. John Hooper, who has been elected treasurer of the Colwells, Shaw and Willard manufacturing company, of New York, will give his attention to the introduction of the patent tin-lined pipe, an article of great merit, extensively manufactured and sold by that company.—Springfield Republican, Oct. 18th, 1870.

☞ Professor Olmsted some time since announced the theory that the aurora borealis is due to the presence of nebulous matter, which is encountered by the earth in her annual journey around the sun, the light being caused by the friction of the earth's atmosphere in passing through the matter. If this be so, then the only difference between the aurora and the meteoric showers is that the one arises from diffused matter, and the other from matter concentrated into dense masses. The conclusion receives a partial confirmation in an experiment recently made by Mr. D. K. Wilder, of Toronto. He exposed a glass slide in a very elevated position during an auroral display; and, on examination with a powerful microscope, it was found to be partially covered with the well-known meteoric dust. The particles were spherical and about one five-thousandth part of an inch in diameter—one half the size of the human blood globule.

New Publications Received.

Peters' Musical Monthly for November, J. L. Peters, Publisher, 599 Broadway, N. Y. $3 per year. For Sale by E. G. Adams.

Appleton's Almanac for 1871 is really brilliant—and useful as well as handsome. It is full of practical information and has a choice miscellany. Its art features are particularly noticeable. Its cover of colored butterflies is gorgeous, and most of its illustrations gems of engravings. The price is forty cents. D. Appleton & Co., Publishers, New York.

☞ Mr. George H. Baker committed suicide about one o'clock Monday morning by shooting himself in the head with a small pistol, while lying in bed by the side of his wife, at the residence of her father, 54 Saratoga Street, East Boston. He was 22 years of age and married last February. He had been ill for three weeks past.

☞ Pittsburg, Pa., has 32 iron, 9 steel and 2 copper mills. The daily consumption of the iron mills is 1200 tons, and their annual production is $23,000,000. There are 40 foundries, employing 2000 men in all, and adding $5,000,000 per year to the wealth of our country.

☞ "Salt Lake city has no rat." So say the papers. We have hitherto supposed that the saints were a parcel of "aly old rats" themselves.

☞ Wolcott's pain annihilator finds a rival in a South Bend urchin, who has smashed one thousand panes of glass this year.

☞ Mr. Francis Bret Harte, the California poet and satirist, is a native of Albany, N. Y., and is coming east on a brief visit.

☞ A survivor of the ship Levant, lost in the Pacific in 1861, has just reached Norfolk, Va.

THE WAR.—The town of Verdun has capitulated to the Prussians.

☞ Col. Fisher, Commissioner of Patents, has resigned.

—The Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin says that genial little Greenville boys think nothing of playing the national game with a nine-pound Thomas cat as a ball, and the open window of a street car as a home base.

—A crowded horse-car—First passenger (to a sturdy laborer standing in front of him,)—I say there! I've got toes! Second passenger—Y-e-s (a gleam of intelligence lightens his face,) I felt 'em.

—An animated horse-frame was sold in Pickering Square, yesterday, for seven dollars and fifty cents, and the buyer paid part in potatoes.—Bangor Whig.

—A new burglar alarm in Cincinnati rings the bell, indicates the window attacked and lights the gas. The only thing left to do is to shoot the burglar.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FORTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE have tested the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and it is now generally acknowledged to be the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung disease; embracing the whole range from the slight cold to a settled Consumption. Were it not for its merits, it would long since have "died, and made no sign."

Look here, reader, we do not wish to tell you that Consumption can be cured when the lungs are half consumed, nor that Dr. Wonderful, or any other fellow, has discovered a remedy that will make men live forever, and leave death to play for want of work. No, you have heard enough of that, and we do not wonder that you have by this time become disgusted with it. But when we tell you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will positively cure the worst cases of Catarrh, we only assert that which thousands can testify to. Try it and you will be convinced. Sent by mail for sixty cents. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by druggists.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. dawzmn9

FOR THIRTY YEARS

Has that well-known, standard, and popular remedy, the

PAIN KILLER,

manufactured by PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R. I., been before the public, and in that time has become known in all parts of the world, and been used by people of all nations.

It remains, to-day, that same good and efficient remedy. Its wonderful power in relieving the most severe pains has never been equalled, and it has earned its world-wide popularity by its intrinsic merit. No curative agent has had so widespread sale or given such universal satisfaction.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to the milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it,

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

DR. STRAIT'S

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE,"

With this FLEXIBLE EDGE the suction of atmospheric plates can be made so strong, that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruments, and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, pears, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyances, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of sneezing, coughing, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how irregular the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same—

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

Adams offered prayer at the opening of the course. The next lecture is to be delivered by Dr. Loring, of Salem, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 15.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. F. G. Weller, photographic artist, of Littleton, N. H. for several views of White Mountain scenery, including the wonderful Summit Railroad at both its termini. The pictures are finely taken, and the scenes are an interesting study to all, whether one have visited them or not, and especially as the likenesses of a Portsmouth party who happened there at the nick of time, can plainly be distinguished near the train, just ready to start up into the clouds.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—On Monday evening, Newcastle was visited by a delegation of live, active, working young men from Old Oaken Bucket Division, No. 2, S. of T., of this city, and a pleasant hour was enjoyed in consulting with citizens of that town regarding the evils of intemperance which are so prevalent in their midst.

The meeting was holden in the Christian Meeting House and a large audience were present, showing that old Newcastle is awake in the glorious cause of temperance. Rev. Mr. Dinsmore was called upon to preside, and performed the duty in a very graceful manner. Remarks suitable for the occasion were made by B. F. Thorndike, Rev. Mr. Dinsmore and L. Augustus Fletcher of this city, also by a number of gentlemen, residents of Newcastle. We trust in a few days to be able to report a good working division of the S. of T. in Newcastle.

It is time and high time that all interested in the temperance cause in our State were wide awake in this matter. God speed us in the good work.

SQUIBBS.

AID TO THE PORTSMOUTH & DOVER RAILROAD.—At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Monday, on a petition of Hon. Wm. Simes, C. H. Mendum, Esq., and 50 other prominent citizens, requesting that a section be inserted in the election warrants, to take the sense of the voters of this city on the question of aiding in the construction of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, it was voted to instruct the selectmen of the various Wards to insert the following:—

To take the sense of the voters on the following question—

Is it expedient for this city to aid in the construction of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad to an amount not exceeding two and a half per cent. of the Assessors' valuation according to law.

We are glad that a serious move is being made for the construction of this much needed Railroad. To Portsmouth citizens, especially, it is a matter of great importance and our columns are open for public discussion of the question from now to the day of election. We do not hear of any opposition to the scheme, thus far. The action of the citizens at the polls is only advisory, as the City Council have the power to act in the matter. It is probable, however, that the members will not vote the desired aid unless they are supported by a majority of the voters who take any interest in the matter. The valuation of the City for 1870 is $6,017,002.

The citizens of Dover are to vote on the same question of aiding the P. & D. R. R. at their municipal election, which takes place the same day as our own, Nov. 22d.

APPOINTMENT. — Mr. Charles W. Gardner has received an appointment to a $1500 clerkship in the Department of Yards & Docks at the Navy Yard. Mr. Gardner is a wide-awake Republican and one of the most popular young men of Sebastopol.

A REAL GHOST.—A young man residing in this city, one evening recently went out for a stroll with the fair enslaver of his affections. After awhile the pair found themselves near one of the cemeteries, where they seated themselves on a large stone by the roadside, —the young gentleman disposed his coat-sleeve so as to protect the lady's belt from being injured by the falling dew, and they became happily oblivious to the world and the flight of time, fancying themselves in Paradise until their senses were recalled to earth by the sound of the Old North clock striking midnight.

At that moment a terrible apparition presented itself from the neighboring burial-ground—the tall, shadowy figure of a human being—a man, with gleaming eyes and hair on end, clothed in spotless white, with ghastly countenance, and gliding noiselessly over the frosted ground.

The unhappy pair of mortals shrank into the smallest possible compass, hoping that the dread spectre might pass on his evil errand (probably to vote the democratic ticket at the New York election) without molesting them; but the shade advanced to within a few yards of where they were cowering, and with an awful frown and in a sepulchral tone demanded, "What are you two young fools doing here?" adding in a stern and warning voice, "You'd better be getting home!"

The ghost disappeared the instant he finished speaking,—at least, neither of the young mortals saw anything more of him, though both are confident of having been nearly suffocated with the fumes of sulphur. But they took his advice and scooted down the street, the young lady making time that was only exceeded by that of her companion and protector. The youthful pair now speak with great respect of ghosts and demons, and care nothing for evening walks.

We know a gentleman who resides near the cemetery where the ghost lives, and who on the night in question, hearing a noise in his garden, arose from his bed, and arrayed only in slippers and a long white "garment," proceeded to drive away a marauding cow that was raiding on his pet cabbages. Having driven her far enough, he made a short cut home through the graveyard; and happening to see two young folks sitting on a stone by the roadside, in the chilling night air, he forgot his costume and approached to offer them some good advice, which they at once took. This was about midnight, but the gentleman did not see any ghost; he has no desire, however, to throw any discredit upon the statements of those who did see him.

☞ Mr. Henry Burroughs died in Boston on Tuesday at the age of 87. He was father of Rev. Henry Burroughs, rector of Christ church and brother of the late Dr. Burroughs of this city.

— Mrs. Albert D. Richardson will have an essay on "Shakespeare as a Plagiarist" in the next number of the Galaxy.

—A dangerous character—A man who takes life cheerfully.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopæa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 10 Years' Experience.

(From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway N. Y.

CENTRAL RAILROAD
OF IOWA,
Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION
—OF THE—
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.
2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.
3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.
4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.
5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.
6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.
7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 22.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

ELIAS SMITH IN PORTSMOUTH.—We say Elias Smith as simply by his name without any title is the common way of referring to him now. For years, half a century ago and more, he was called Elder Smith. He was a minister, but rejected the title Rev., as not Scriptural.

Mr. Smith was born in Lyme, Conn., June 17, 1769, in early life moved with his parents to Woodstock, Vt., was ordained a Baptist preacher in Lee, N. H., in Aug. 1792, married for his first wife a Miss Burleigh of Newmarket, and was located at Salisbury, N. H., and Woburn, Mass.

Eld. Smith was an engaging speaker, and very familiar with the Scriptures. He was original and struck out for himself independent of the views of others, unless they were in accordance with what he understood to be the teachings of the Bible. His great fault was instability. Sometimes he preached Calvinism, then renounced it. Before taking up his residence in Portsmouth he became satisfied that Baptist, Methodist, &c., being unscriptural names, were not proper as applied to sects. He adopted that of Christian,—Acts 11:26. He became identified with the Christian Denomination; and awhile after 1816, embraced Universalism. He finally became a Botanic physician in Boston, where he died, we think about 1846.

Mr. Smith had preached in Portsmouth some, and Dec. 12, 1802, moved his family to the town. His residence was in Bridge Street, where a house was hired at 60 dollars per year.

Elder Smith preached first in what was called the north school house, then in a hall, then in the Court House, and finally in a place fitted up as a sort of a meeting house. He lived in town 7 years, and in February, 1810, moved to Portland, Me.

Elder Smith had resided in Portsmouth but two weeks when a great fire destroyed a considerable part of the compact portion of the town. It was before light when it occurred, on the morning of Dec. 26, 1802. Both sides of Market Street for some way were burned, also on Merchant's Row and other places. A bank building, a printing office and a hall for meetings were destroyed. The hall was the one where Elder Smith held meetings.

Mr. Smith was down hard upon ministers having a stipulated salary. He called such ministers "hirelings." He preached and wrote against "man-made ministers," that is, made by a collegiate education. He opposed sprinkling for baptism, and ridiculed sprinkling children. Crowds went after him, and in most places where he preached he would draw from the established meetings. So he had enemies and considerable opposition.

Once in Portsmouth he was obliged to leave a house where he intended to remain all night, at eleven o'clock, as the man's wife would not consent to have him stay. When evening meetings were held the house would be stoned. In June, 1805, a pamphlet was published which gave great offence, and he was credited with being the author. About 40 men met in Paved Street, now Market, where he was in a printing office; he was sent for to come down, but declined. The man who occupied the room below carried an axe up to the office door, and some of the mob went to a store and called for whips. John Melcher, Thos. Treadwell and Henry Bufford befriended Mr. S., and two of them escorted him to his dwelling. In the evening the tumult was renewed, but he preached in his usual place. Hundreds were around the house, making so much noise that the speaker could hardly be heard; but at the close of the service his friends surrounded him twenty deep, and got him safe home. He never saw the pamphlet until after it was published.

Elder S. was a very prolific writer. Pamphlets, sermons and books were thrown off rapidly. On the first day of Sept., 1808, he commenced at Portsmouth a religious paper, called "The Herald of Gospel Liberty." It was supposed by him, and is still believed by the Christian denomination, that this was the first religious newspaper ever published; but it appears that one or two others had commenced before.

☞ Small-pox is raging at Victoria, on the Saskatchewan, with terrible violence. It has cut off hundreds of people. At Fort Pitoone a hundred died. Many missionaries had fallen victims, and the Blackfeet Indians have suffered at the rate of fifteen per day. The same reports come from other parts of the Territory.

The Strongest and best secured, as well as most profitable investment now offered in the market.

7 PER CENT. GOLD

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

COUPON OR REGISTERED, AND

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

Principal and Interest Payable in Gold,

ISSUED BY THE

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railroad Co.

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Interest payable May and November.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an unquestioned security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this year, no immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price we realized by us on their sale.

All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL. FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly period. It is over forty years since these now to well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening disease, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy, to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Safe in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization.

S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAR LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

ANGLING FOR DOG.—An editor thus relates a fish story:

We were travelling our ground we had no right to travel over. The excuse was like that of military necessity—it was better fishing through the farms where the trout had been preserved than in the open lots where all could fish.

It was early in the morning. We had risen at three, ridden ten miles, and struck the creek as the trout were ready for breakfast. Looking carefully for a sheltered place to hitch our horse, we slyly crept on behind fences, etc., till we reached the part of the stream not generally fished. A farm house stood a quarter of a mile away. We saw the morning smoke curling lightly from the stove-pipe; saw a man and two boys come out to do the chores; saw a woman busy about the door, and a ferocious bull-dog wandering about the yard.

If we ever fished close it was then. Not a whisper to disturb the birds or the owners of the land. We crawled through the grass, and dodged behind clumps of elders, lifting large speckled beauties out of the water until our basket was full.

This was the time to have gone; but the trout were so large, and bit so readily, that we could not resist the temptation, and so we decided to string and hide what we had, and take another basketful. So at it we went. No sooner would the hook touch the water than we had a trout. We forgot the house, the man, the boys and the dog!

Suddenly there was a rushing through an oat-field, as if a mad bull was coming. We looked toward the house, and saw the farmer and his two boys on a fence, the woman in the door, and the bull-dog bounding towards us. We saw it all—we had been discovered! The well-trained dog had been sent to hunt us out, and as the matter now appeared, it was safe to bet that he was doing that thing right lively.

To outrun a dog was not to be thought of. There was no time to lose. He cleared a fence and came for us just as we reached the tree and by great activity took a front seat on a limb above his reach.

Here was a precious go! a vicious bull-dog under the tree, and the farmer and two big boys ready to move down upon our works. It was fight, foot-race or fangs!

The farmer yelled to his dog. "Watch him, Tige!"

Tige proposed to do that little thing, and, keeping his eye upon us, seated himself under the tree.

Then spoke this ugly farmer man, "Just hold on thar stranger, till we get breakfast: then we'll come and see you! If you are in a hurry, however, you can go now! Watch him, Tige!"

We surmised trouble; quite much! for thrice had that bold man of bull-dogs and agriculture elegantly waloped innocent tourists for being seen on his suburban premises. His reputation as a peace man was not good, and there arose a large heart towards our throat!

Time is the essence of contracts, and a savage ordinance for those in trouble. We had a stout line in our pocket, and a large hook intended for rock bass, if we failed to take trout. And, as good luck would have it, we had a nice sandwich and a piece of boiled corned beef in our pocket.

We called the dog pet names, but he wasn't on it; then we tried to move down—when he'd move up! At last we trebled our bass line, fastened the great hook to it, baited it with corn beef, tied the end line to a limb, and angled for dog!

Tige was in appetite. He smelt of the beef; it was very nice. He swallowed it, and sat with his eyes on us for more; but with no friendly look beaming from his countenance. Not any?

Then we pulled gently on the line—it was fast! Tige yanked and pulled, but 'twas no use!

We quickly slid down the tree—almost blistering our back doing it—seized our pole, and straightway went thence somewhat lively.

We found our string of fish, and reached the buggy and commanding spot in the road, in time to see the sturdy yeoman move forth.

We saw him and his cohorts, male and female, move slowly, as if in no haste. We saw them look up the tree. We saw the anxious crowd engaged about the dog.

We came quickly home, and kindly left the bass line and hook to the farmer.

SENSITIVE MEN.—An exchange hits the nail on the head, and perhaps, some scalawag at the same time, in the following neat paragraph:—

"It is strange how sensitive some men are. They will get drunk, rave about the streets, yelling like savages, go home and beat their wives and children out of doors, being so proud of the achievement as to make the neighbors conscious of the fact, pay a fine with great complacency before a magistrate, and after having made themselves as notorious as possible, will slide around to the editor and beg him, with tears in their eyes, not to bring disgrace to their families by mentioning the little affair in the paper.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most careful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can cure the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of soiling the hair with a sticky preparation, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SEASON OF 1870-71.
MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements.
Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and adapted to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.
They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $60 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.
A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

THE OLD RELIABLE
NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE,
TO BE FOUND IN EVERY VILLAGE AND TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND, IS
DODD'S NERVINE
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. Is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASES,
COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSUMPTION, FAINTING FITS, PALPITATION, RESTLESSNESS, DIZZINESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicine. And all folks that
Can't Sleep Nights,
Should use this truly wonderful medicine.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
For Whooping Cough,
DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.
LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will care itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, NOV. 11, 1870.

THE ELECTIONS.—The returns received up to Thursday evening indicate the following results:

Massachusetts chose 34 Republicans, 5 Democrats and one Labor Reformer to the Senate.

New York shows Democratic gains in the interior. The Tribune says that the State Assembly will stand; Republicans 66, Democrats 62. The World claims 72 Democrats and 56 Republicans. The 15th election district in the 6th Ward of New York gave Hoffman 318 and Woodford 1. Six men in that district went before Justice Kerr and took oath that they were legally entitled to vote, and did vote for Woodford.

Complete returns from New York city give Hall, for Mayor, 23,810 majority. Hoffman's majority for Governor in the city is 49,405.

Michigan elects the Republican State ticket by over 20,000 majority. Five Republicans and one Democrat are elected to Congress. The Republicans have forty majority in the Legislature, which elects a U. S. Senator.

Delaware is Democratic, Governor, Congressman and Legislature.

Alabama has gone Democratic and the same party elect 3 Congressman and a majority in the lower branch of the legislature. The Senators hold over and a majority are Republican.

Florida is Republican by a reduced majority.

Tennessee gives John C. Brown, Dem., 35,000 majority for Governor.

Nevada has chosen a Democratic Governor and a Republican Congressman.

THE WAR IN FRANCE.—That Bismarck's canning showing of his own action in the armistice affair will deceive many, no one can doubt. We can imagine his conversation with King William to be in the following strain:

"Sire! shall we offer an armistice? The sympathy of nations, heretofore with us, is now tending towards the enemy."

"But delay gives the French physical strength"—

"And our cause moral strength amongst the nations we fear. Leave it to me; I will offer terms that the Republic cannot honorably accept, and during my conference with M. Thiers the army from Metz will be drawing nearer."

And he was as good as his word. He offered to allow Paris to be revictualed during the proposed armistice of 25 days, to allow elections in that part of France held by German troops, except Alsace and Lorraine, the provinces that Prussia claims as the spoils of war. "Alsace and Lorraine must be annexed to Prussia. Do you accept the armistice M. Thiers?" And M. Thiers says "no." France re-echoes the refusal and Bismarck proclaims that France wants more war, because France will not agree to a dishonorable armistice leading to a more dishonorable peace.

THE WAR.—The French army has crossed the Loire and is on the north bank.

At Paris, Trochu has a force of 230,000 men fit for offensive service in the field.

THE PEACEFUL SOUTHERNERS!—At Lake City, Florida, on election day, a band of 200 men, mounted and armed, took possession and drove the white and colored republicans from the town, including the republican candidates for lieutenant-governor and for the legislature. Five colored men were shot.

At Baton Rouge, Louisiana, supervisors and counters of ballots were attacked by an armed mob. The ballots were saved. Four persons were killed and two wounded. They were all republicans. Marshal Schoonmaker was killed.

☞ One of the most gratifying results of the late elections, is the defeat of Horace Greeley for Congress in New York city. Any Republican who could be such a toady as Horace was when he went bail for Jeff. Davis does not deserve the support of Republicans.

☞ The Transfer house and 300 empty cars, belonging to the New York Central Railroad Company, were destroyed by fire Thursday morning, at East Buffalo. Loss estimated to be over $600,000.

☞ Thanksgiving in Maine, Nov. 24.

—Josh Billings says the pumpkin is a very good berry, but not much of a success as a shade tree.

New Hampshire Items.

The store and house of James Griffith, at North Groton, was entirely consumed by fire on Tuesday night, with their contents. Loss $3000; insured for $1000.

The Pavillon Hotel at Wolfeborough was struck by lightning during the fierce thunder storm of the 3d. Plastering was knocked down, carpets perforated with big holes, bell wires melted, &c.

Ebenezer Osgood of Milton Mills has a cow which for productiveness might be deemed a model among horned kind. By accurate account the yield of butter and milk for one year from May 1,1869, brought $194.46. The expense of keeping the cow for the same time was $81.10. Net profit, $113.36. This is exclusive of milk used in the family during the same period. The cow is 4 years old, and is half Durham with a sprinkling of Ayrshire blood.

New Publications Received.

Peterson's Magazine for December is unusually attractive. It has two superb steel plates, a mammoth colored fashion plate, a costly colored Berlin pattern, and more than fifty wood engravings. It will give, in 1871, one thousand pages of reading, 14 steel engravings, 12 double-size colored steel fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and about 900 wood engravings. A leading merit of this Magazine is its unequalled stories and novelets. Mrs. A. S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, and others of the best writers, contribute to it exclusively. In 1871 there will be given 5 copyright novelets, besides about 100 shorter stories. Only $2 a year to single subscribers, while other magazines of its class are $3 or $4. To clubs the terms are lower still, viz: 5 copies for $8, or 8 copies for $12. Every person getting up either of these clubs will receive the magazine for 1871 gratis, and also a splendid copyright engraving, (24 inches by 20,) "Washington at the Battle of Trenton," of the merit of which we can speak from personal inspection. Specimens of the magazine sent gratis if written for. Address Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

A Monogram on our National Song, by Rev. Elias Nason. This is a beautiful little volume, from the press of Joel Munsell, Albany, N. Y.; and is a complete history of all our National airs, Yankee Doodle, Hail Columbia, Star-Spangled Banner, &c., &c. It is replete with the patriotism of the learned author and is an exhaustive treatise of the subject indicated.

Mr. Munsell also publishes the oldest Almanac in this country, "Webster's Calendar, or the Albany Almanac," and we are indebted to him for copies.

BASE BALL.—A comparison of the playing of the Red Stockings, White Stockings, Mutuals, Atlantics and Athletics during the season of 1870 shows that the Athletics have done the best batting, but the Red Stockings have been the most accurate in the field; so that a comparison with the grand average of all the games is necessary. The contests were seventy-two in number, and the total number of runs made 820, the grand averages being, therefore, 11:28 for both winners and losers. Compared with this the Cincinnati club appears to take the lead, their own average being two runs to a game above the general average, while their opponent's average is nearly two below. The Athletics show three runs a game above the general average, while their opponent's average was a trifle below. The Chicago men equalled the general average in batting, but their opponent's show a superior record. The Mutuals do not show up well, their opponents average being a run and a half better to a game than their own, and the Atlantics, who foot the list, are far below the average in both batting and fielding. The Red Stockings must therefore be acknowledged once more as the champion ball players, although the Athletics are the champion batsmen.

AFRAID TO RETURN.—King William must soon be under the same conditions as was the Emperor after the battles of the 14th, 16th and 18th of August, when he dared not return to Paris without achieving successes to efface the previous disaster. William also seeks success before daring to return to Berlin, otherwise the Prussian power will collapse like the dreams of the Emperor. N. Y. World.

We should like to know what the Prussians would call success, if they regard the sudden stopper clapped on the famous "on to Berlin" march, the capture of the valiant Emperor and his vast armies, with fortresses and thousands of cannon, and the blockade of the French capital, as disasters! The miserable condition to which the World has reduced King William, is about as near the truth as the terrific fighting which the same paper made Bazaine do when that hero was shut up in Metz.

ROUND OR WHOLE SHOES FOR OXEN. When an ox has a bad claw by calking, or one claw gets lamed by sprain, gravel or stone bruises, take two of his common shoes, properly fitted, and weld them together at the toes; put on a toe calk, as on a horse-shoe; let the claws of the foot touch at the toes; nail on your shoes, and go to work with your oxen. All will be right in a day or two. Shoes thus set will last as long as two or three settings of single shoes, when at work on a stone quarry or other very rough place.

Brother teamster, don't let the blacksmiths frighten you on this subject. No dirt or gravel will work up between the claws to injure in the least. At first thought, perhaps you will say that it is contrary to nature to thus confine the claws of the foot of an ox. Be this as it may you will find that such a shoe will greatly assist nature in curing a very bad foot. By thus shoeing one ox, in particular, that tore off a part of one claw, which had been badly cut by calking, I did not lose a day's work. The shoe was set with but two nails in the lame claw, and those at the heels. I have saved the work of three different oxen by thus shoeing, this season, I have no doubt.

Our cattle, which are very heavy, work on a granite quarry which is as rough as need be. Friends, try the round or whole shoe, and if not pleased with it, you can cheaply take off the shoe if it does not prove beneficial.—N. E. Farmer.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A FINE THING FOR THE TEETH.—The fragrant SOZODONT has taken a very prominent place among the most approved dentrifices of the day. It is a very popular article for the toilet, highly recommended by all who have used it, as a beautifier and preserver of the teeth, refreshing the mouth, sweetening the breath, and arresting the progress of decay.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," stickiest thing out.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS prominent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world: the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effect of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful, black or brown. Sold by all Druggist and Perfumers, and properly applied at Batchelor's Wig Factory, No. 16 Bond Street, New York. 1ydawly2

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. dawzmn9

"The Best Fruit Gets the Most Stones!"

It is not always the article that is sold the most which is the best, oft-times proving the greatest humbugs in the end.

THE ÆTNA

is not one of the last named, as is demonstrated to a fact, and it does not depend on the amount of its "blows" to introduce it, but upon its merits. I do not advertise Ten Dollars discount on Machines sold before January 1st, 1871, thereby to make it sell, because it has needed no such propelling motion since its introduction here. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses a few times a day and put the foot in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

41,781 more than the Howe S. M. Co.
7,915 more than the Wheeler & Wilson S. M. Co.

We publish the above figures to show the uninitiated and those who contemplate purchasing, what machine is the public favorite.

The above list includes all of what are commonly called the first class machines, but the

NEW FAMILY SINGER SEWING MACHINE

Has proved itself the best for all classes and kinds of operators and work.

All that persons need to do to satisfy themselves of this is to enquire of those who have used them the most.

They Hem, Braid, Tuck, Quilt, Cord, Embroider, Fringes, Ruffle, Fell, Puff, Gather, Fagot, Trim, Bind.

☞ They are light running, easy to learn and keep in order, and for durability unrivaled.

☞ They will stitch equally well the heaviest beaver or the thinnest muslin, in fact they will do every work that mechanical skill has yet perfected in the Sewing art.

☞ These celebrated Machines are Sold for Cash or on the installment principle, as best suits convenience of the purchaser, at the Regular Agency for Portsmouth, Kittery, York, Eliot, Newcastle, Rye, Hampton North Hampton, Hampton Falls, Greenland and Seabrook.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Sewing Machines—Charles S. Dodge.
Rooms and Board Wanted.
Card—B. Dearborn.

COMING—Satsuma's Japanese troupe of jugglers and acrobats, on Wednesday evening.

NAVY YARD MATTERS.—U. S. S. Wyoming was launched from the ways into the Dry Dock, Thursday. U. S. S. Monongahela is to be docked. Ferry Boat Emerald has been nicely fitted up and is ready for launching.

☞ City Physician Dearborn informs us that the Pest House on Pest Island has been cleansed, as its occupant has recovered from the attack of small pox. The house in Brewery Lane, where he was first taken, has also been cleansed. The disease was of a light form and was communicated to no one.

PERSONAL.—Lieut. G. F. Towle, 19th Regt. U. S. infantry, formerly of this city, has recently been tendered the position of Prof. of Military Science in St. John's College, at Little Rock, Ark., but declined. He has been temporarily stationed at Ship Island, during the sickly season, but will shortly return to New Orleans, to resume his duties as Instructor of Military Signalling at that post.

☞ The Cape Ann Advertiser of Gloucester, Mass., thus speaks of the readings of Mrs. Weaver, who is to give our citizens an evening with the poets in the Universalist Church next Monday.

The readings by Mrs. H. L. Weaver were listened to by a large audience. The hall was crowded with people who showed their appreciation by frequent applause. Mrs. Weaver with her fine voice, and dramatic power never fails to make her entertainment a perfect success.

☞ In the course of years, we have frequently heard the remark from shrewd men, that Portsmouth and vicinity might easily be made a second Newport. A prime move towards this, would be a railroad from this city to the Navy Yard, to Newcastle and to Rye Beach; and another, the beach road from Boar's Head to Frost's Point. Doubtless many will smile at the suggestion,—but could either project fail to pay, for the community? And these would not be half so much an achievement for the public, as the reconstruction of one Hotel by a single individual.

MECHANICS' ASSOCIATION.—At the annual meeting of the "Associated Mechanics and Manufacturers of the State of New Hampshire," Tuesday evening, the following persons were elected as officers for the ensuing year:—

Wm. A. Vaughan, Jr., President; Isaiah Wilson, Vice President; Alfred T. Joy, Treasurer; Lewis G. Davis, Edmund M. Brown, Trustees; Benj. M. Parker, Secretary; Alonzo F. Craig, Dept. Secretary; Andrew J. Beck, Marshal; John M. Davis, Dept. Marshal; James W. Sowersby, Standard Bearer; Edmund M. Brown, Samuel W. Moses, Isaac Dow, Auditors.

☞ The through freight train from Boston to Portland, which left this city at eleven o'clock Tuesday night, met with quite a serious accident two miles and a half east of the Wells station, at five o'clock Wednesday morning. An axle of a heavily loaded car broke, throwing the car and eleven others off the track and smashing eight of them. They were piled up in seemingly inextricable confusion across the road bed, preventing the passage of the train from Portland, which transferred its passengers to cars sent from Berwick Junction. A large gang was at once set to work clearing away the debris and replacing the broken rails, and at noon everything was in readiness for the passage of the passenger train from Boston, which was only forty-five minutes late. No one was injured.

OUT OF PLACE.—Residents in this city and vicinity were startled by a very heavy thunder shower which passed over at about 9 o'clock, Wednesday evening. The thunder was very loud, and buildings shook at every peal; the lightning was vivid, and of a fine blue color; and rain fell in torrents. This thunder-storm had no more business to be hanging 'round in these latitudes at this time of the year, than had the two-cent earthquake which got adrift from California or Peru a short time ago, and obtruded itself upon the notice of our peaceful northern communities, causing the bottom to fall out of Daniel H. Spinney, Esq's well, (near the Plains,) so that the water, which stood at three feet ten inches on the morning of the shake, nearly all escaped, and has not exceeded ten inches in depth since. The tropics had better keep their old thunder-storms and earthquakes at home; nobody around here hankers after them.

☞ The rum business is again in full blast in Kittery.

☞ N. D. has solved the "Cow Catcher" question, and says that the second cow sold for $36.25.

S. J. COURT, Thursday, Nov. 10.—State vs. Nathaniel Wiggin, indicted for promising to pay Jos. G. Simpson of Greenland, $20 for voting for him at the last election for Representative; Verdict, Not Guilty. Small for State, W. H. Y. Hackett for Wiggin.

The jury in the case Saltmarsh and wife vs. the town of Candia, found for the plaintiffs.

☞ The Universalist Society of Kittery opened their Fair at Armory Hall last evening. It continues this evening and to-morrow. A lively competition is in progress in favor of the 2 Silver Castors; one for the Lady, and one for the Gentleman, purchasing the largest number of admission tickets. This evening the Portsmouth Cornet Band will be present and enliven the occasion with their choice music.

☞ The St. Croix Courier, of St. Stephen, N. B., has a very complimentary notice of a new volume of the Helping Hand Series, published by Lee & Shephard, Boston. The author or authoress, is May Mannering, author of Climbing the Rope, &c., and as the Courier says, "is the wife of a distinguished clergyman of Calais, who is already well known in the literary world" —and we will add that both are natives of this city. The new book is entitled The Little Maid of Oxborn, and is pronounced one of the best works of the kind that has been issued from the press.

☞ It is reported that Messrs. B. Cheever and A. W. Haven, owners of the Waldron estate on Congress Street, recently burnt, have disposed of a fourth part of the lot to Mr. J. B. Burleigh, to erect a store and dwelling. We hope the report is not correct, for the site is worthy a good substantial block, and we think there are enterprising citizens enough to be found to erect such an one there.

It is also reported that the three stores on and adjoining the west corner of Market Street and Square, have been again re-sold, to a citizen who will remodel all and put in an iron front, and lease to the present occupants. We hope this is true; and we regard it a good omen that so many of our young business men are of late years coming to invest in real estate in the city. Why not build in Portsmouth, as well as aid foreign places?

THE NEW JERSEY SENATORSHIP. The most prominent candidates for U. S. Senator from New Jersey are ex-Senator Frelinghuysen, Cornelius Walsh and Secretary Robeson.

☞ The Republican State Central Committee will meet in Concord next Wednesday evening, for the purpose of appointing the times and places for holding the various Conventions.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

MARRIAGES.

In Lee, Nov. 2d, by Rev. A. Tobey, D. D., Mr. HALL PIERCE of Barrington and Mrs. SARAH A. WOODMAN of Lee.

DEATHS.

☞ Funeral services of the late Mrs. MARY A. PARKER, will take place from her residence No. 3 Adams Street, this (Friday) afternoon at 2 P. M.

In this city, Nov. 9th, SUSAN F. MAGRATH, wife of Mr. Charles Magrath, aged 42 years.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.

It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.

One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats,—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.

The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.

The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Portsmouth, Sept. 12, 1870.

Morning Chronicle.

THE QUICKSAND OF THE GRAIN-BIN. The Ithica (N. Y.) Journal says that recently an unusual and nearly fatal accident occurred at the Inlet. In the storehouse of Mr. King, a quantity of barley was being let down from a large bin in the third story to the second story through the usual spout leading from above. Mr. Charles King, and his cousin, George King, were superintending the process, and Jerome Leonard, about sixteen years of age, was in the third story. When the grain in the large bin began to settle in the centre, young Leonard got on it and sat down in the centre, right over the spout where the grain was going down the fastest.

Probably the sensation of slowly sinking induced him to remain, which he did, strange to say, till the barley had closed in around him so, that when he attempted to stir, he only sank the faster, and caused the grain to pour in around him the more, just as would happen to a person in a bed of quicksand. He became alarmed and the boys ran down to give the alarm. Mr. King at once shut the spout through which the grain was running at the rate of 20 bushels per minute, and went up stairs. When he looked in the bin he saw only a hand sticking out of the grain. It moved for a minute and then dropped limber on the grain. Mr. King jumped in and took hold of the hand, but could nothing toward pulling the boy out. The grain kept sliding down and burying the victim deeper. The hand turned black, and when other aid arrived it was thought young Leonard must be dead.

They began shovelling, and succeeded in getting hold of his feet, (for he had gone as he sat, his head and feet the highest,) but couldn't pull him out. They feared to shovel for fear of cutting his head, and succeeded in finding his hair without striking him. The grain was then cleared away by hand till the boy's nose and mouth, which were full of grain, were uncovered. His face was black, and he did not breathe for some seconds. Soon he gasped, opened his eyes and began to breathe. Meanwhile it was impossible to draw him out till about 60 bushels more had been drawn off, those in the bin supported his head, but all sinking with the body. The boy was finally got out almost senseless. He was taken home, medical aid summoned, and he is now recovering. It was a narrow escape from suffocation, and should be a warning to boys who play about the storehouses.

PLOUGHING HEADLANDS. — Many farmers practice ploughing headlands previous to ploughing the remaining portion of the field. This is a wrong idea, as the trampling thereon by the team and ploughman render the whole part of the field nearly as solid and unyielding to the action of the harrow as before the operation of ploughing had been performed.

By leaving a strip at each side, from ten to fifteen feet in width, to be ploughed after the other portion has been finished, much time will be gained. A team will not be unnecessarily wearied by travelling over the ploughed surface at the ends, and the land will be left in a more desirable and suitable state for tillage.

If the soil is about level and smooth, of a porous nature, or well underdrained, plough the headlands by passing round and round the field, turning the furrow from the fence, if at the last ploughing it was thrown toward the fence. It matters not in what manner or when you plough the headlands. Never, at two ploughings in succession, throw the furrow to or from the fence. It leaves the land in an undesirable condition for proper tillage and is a very unpleasing sight for the careful, scientific farmer.—Rural New Yorker.

FRED HAY CAREFULLY.—There are hundreds of tons of hay lost every winter among farmers by careless feeding. We have been astonished sometimes when witnessing the amount wasted around barnyards and stacks. This waste is entirely unnecessary, and if it were made the rule of every farmer never to feed any kind of stock upon the ground, thousands of dollars might be saved annually. There are times, to be sure, when the earth is frozen dry and clean; but if racks are not provided, full one-half of the time the hay will be dealt out either in wet snow or mud, and a good portion lost.

Portable racks should be used around stacks, and their location changed every few days. The rack should be so constructed that the stock can get at their feed handily, and at the same time made so that the hay cannot be pulled out and trampled under foot.

IMPORTANCE OF GOOD COWS.—I had a cow from which we could not make over fifty pounds of butter a year, and that soft and white as lard. I have another that we could make two hundred pounds from in the same time, and solid, high colored, nice butter; but we could never get the butter without from six to twelve hours persistent hard churning. I had another yielding two hundred pounds a year of the very best butter, requiring only ten to twenty minutes' churning.—Cor. St. Johnsbury, Vt., Times.

X HIS MARK. — The Boston Lyceum Bureau has received the following telegram, dated Buffalo, Nov. 8, from Mark Twain:

A son was born to me yesterday, and with the true family instinct he has gone to lecturing already. His subject is the same as 'Josh Billings'—'Milk.' You are hereby constituted his agent, and instructed to make arrangements with Lyceums. S. L. CLEMENS.

7 PER CENT. GOLD

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, COUPON OR REGISTERED, AND

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

Principal and Interest Payable in Gold,

ISSUED BY THE

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railroad Co.

The small remaining balance of the Loan for sale

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Interest payable May and November.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 43 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in hoping that the enterprise will prove profitable to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 20 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 6½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale

All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL. FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now to well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Bowels, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart. Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Safe in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organisation.

PAT'S IDEA OF DEITY.—Pat was but an idle boy; one day he was suddenly called up and the question propounded by the pedagogue:—

"Patrick, how many Gods are there?"

"Pat was not a distinguished theologian, but he promptly responded:—

"Three, sir."

"Take your seat," thundered the Master, "and if you don't answer in five minutes I will welt you."

The probationary period passed, and Pat taken the floor hesitatingly stated the number of Gods to be "five, sir." He received the promised "welting," and returned to his seat—ten minutes for consideration.

Ten minutes up, Pat was too; and satisfied that he hadn't fixed the number sufficiently high before, shouted out:—

"There's ten, sir."

He saw the ferule descending, and broke out of the door; he cleared a five-rail fence and broke like a quarter horse across the meadow. Panting with exertions, he met a lad with a book under his arm, and with a look of one in pursuit of knowledge under difficulties.

"Where are you going?" asked Pat.

"To school yonder," was the reply.

"How many Gods are there?"

"One," answered the boy.

"Well, you'd better go down there. You have a good time with your one God I left there with ten and that wasn't enough to save me from the darndest licking you ever heard of."

UNCONSCIOUS INFLUENCE OVER ANIMALS.—The horse is like his driver, and the dog like his master. A nervous, timorous man is almost sure to have a skittish horse, shying at anything, unsteady, and a runaway if he gets a chance. Many a cow is spoiled by lack of patience and quietness in the milker, and the amount of milk depends more upon the milker than the pasturage. If a man is afraid of a horse, the animal knows it before he goes into the stable. We have seen the most inoffensive cow in the herd so wrought upon by the nervousness of a greenhorn son of Erin, as dextrously to plant her foot in his breast, and send him rolling heels over head. A noisy, boisterous fellow in a fattening stable will cause a serious loss in the animals' gain of flesh; so important is quiet to them when they are digesting their food.—Ploughman.

BOTANY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.—Dr. Nathan Barrows of Claremont says that our flora is characterized by the abundance of willows, duck-weeds, pond-weeds, ladies' slippers and ferns. We have fourteen hundred and forty-seven flowering plants, and four hundred and ten of the lower orders, making a total of nearly nineteen hundred species of plants in the State. The summits of New Hampshire are said by the Doctor to be islands of Arctic vegetation, having no parallel this side of the Mississippi. Over fifty are found nowhere else in New England, four being quite common on the very tip top of Mount Washinton. All are perennials and are in no wise dwarfed. Seventy-nine per cent. of them are found on similar summits if Europe.

IN A BAVARIAN CAMP before Metz, a sudden shot was heard on a very dark night, and rumors of a French sortie were rife. The officer of the pickets visiting the outpost who had fired, asked him the cause. "A Frenchman was crawling up to me on his hands and knees." "Did you challenge him before firing, and what answer did he made?" "Yes, I did, but he only said 'Oui! Oui!' and kept on; so I fired!" The ground in the vicinity was immediately and carefully patrolled, and before long the unfortunate "Oui, Oui" was discovered, mortally wounded. He was raised upon his hind legs amid shouts of laughter, and proved to be a very fine wild boar. He was at once handed over to the mess.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway N. Y.

BUCHU! BUCHU!

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

Diosma Crenata—Buchu Leaves.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaint of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Uretha, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement, or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, &c.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given.

Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudence in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SEASON OF 1870-71.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

Important Improvements,

Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.

The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.

They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.

Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.

The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.

They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same Extra, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.

A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

D O D D ' S N E R V I N E

AND INVIGORATOR.

A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,

DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. Is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of

NERVOUS DISEASES,

COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSUMPTION, FAINTING FITS, PALPITATION, RESTLESSNESS, DIZZINESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.

D O D D ' S N E R V I N E

Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines. And all folks that

Can't Sleep Nights,

Should use this truly wonderful medicine.

DODD'S NERVINE

Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

For Whooping Cough,

DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.

LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.

It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cave itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, NOV. 12, 1870.

THE CONTEST for the Republican nomination for Congress in this District is a warm one. The competitors named are Hon. Nathaniel Gordon of Exeter, Hon. Wm. B. Small of Newmarket, Hon. Samuel M. Wheeler of Dover, Hon. Jacob H. Ela of Rochester and James W. Emery, Esq., of Portsmouth. Whether Mr. Emery is really a candidate we are unable to say, but we hear of no effort in his behalf outside of this city. If Portsmouth intends presenting a candidate before the Convention it is time that earnest work should begin. This city has as able and popular men for the position as any named from other places.

No one can predict with surety the result of the canvass. The multiplicity of candidates would seem to aid the present incumbent, Mr. Ela, who is travelling about the District as if he means business. His hold on in Portsmouth has been weakened by the position he chose to take on the question of taxing the bonds—in opposition to the majority of Republicans in Congress and (we think) in this District. The main difficulty in the way of his opponents is want of harmony. They may be beaten by division.

We hear denunciation of every candidate mentioned. Mr. Gordon is said to be "worth too much money, is too orthodox and illiberal in his religious notions, would fall into the hands of the Exeter clique, and Portsmouth interests would suffer." Yet Mr. Gordon is developing a strength in Rockingham and Carroll Counties which was not expected by friends or opponents.

Mr. Wheeler thinks he should have the nomination, as he was only defeated by one vote, four years ago. His opponents charge that Mr. Emery of this city is put forward for the sake of carrying the delegation, that if may be transferred to some other candidate. It is very evident, however, that if Mr. Emery wants the nomination, Portsmouth will try for him.

Mr. Small has many strong personal friends, who hope for his nomination. He is a man of sterling integrity, honest and able; yet character does not always win in politics, against money and trickery.

Our preference for Member of Congress, laying aside the question of a candidate from this city, is for Hon. John P. Hale, "the noblest Roman of them all," the pioneer of Republicanism in New Hampshire, who bore the standard and led the advance of those cherished principles he so eloquently advocated, until long after the State was redeemed. He would not be the oldest candidate in the field, and with his renewed health would become again a leader in National councils. But as he is not a candidate, we see no other man who has particular claims to the nomination. As it is, things are decidedly mixed.

THE WAR. — The Rappel, Victor Hugo's organ at Paris, makes a statement that King William having been expelled from the order by the grand lodge of Free Masons, all the brethren are empowered to kill him.

A despatch to the World from Tours, dated 10th, says that at length the French army have achieved a glorious triumph. Von der Tann, who was at Orleans with a corps of 25,000 men, became afraid that his position might be hemmed in by the 16th corps of the army of the Loire, on the north bank of that stream, and the 17th corps on the south bank were confronted towards the west by bodies advancing from Chartres and Chateaudun. Von der Tann was preparing to make a defensive retreat northwest towards Paris, when he was assailed by the 16th corps under General Lassac, and after a severe engagement was compelled to evacuate Orleans, which is now occupied by the French. The Prussian loss was 500 killed and wounded. The pursuit of the retreating Prussians is now going on, and the defeat and capture of the whole force is probable.

Despatches chronicle important French successes before Paris through the capture of several Prussian camps. Garabaldi has been again victorious, having routed a force of 5000 strong.

The Prussians have captured New Breisach and 5000 prisoners.

Prussia has sent a sharp reply to Austria in response to her note offering mediation, on the ground that Austria, having armed at the beginning of the war, is now disqualified to act as neutral.

☞ The corrected census returns show a population of 9115 in Wyoming Territory, and 14,021 in Dakota, exclusive of Indians.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The usage of many years, and a grateful recognition of Divine goodness, unite in selecting the close of the harvest season as an appropriate time for a special day of thanksgiving and praise to God for his manifold blessings.

The year which is now closing has brought its occasions for thanksgiving, and renewed our obligations to praise.

The fruits of the earth, though threatened by heat and drought, have not failed.

The husbandman has gathered the harvest of his toil, and labor, in every branch of industry, has received its reward. The prosperity of the State has been advanced by the enterprise and thrift of its citizens. Intelligence, virtue and love have dwelt in our peaceful and happy homes.

While war has devastated other lands, we have been blessed with peace; and although our homes have been visited in some instances by want, affliction or death, we can confess a Heavenly Father's love, and find abundant cause to revere the wisdom, and praise the goodness of our God.

I, therefore with the advice and consent of the Council, appoint Thursday, the twenty-fourth day of November, as a day of public Thanksgiving and Praise; and I recommend that on that day the people throughout the State assemble in their respective places of worship, and express their gratitude for the blessings they have received, and to recall, with earnest Christian faith, that divine bounty which fills the earth with good, and reveals, through the gospel of our Lord, the happiness of heaven.

And while we enjoy our own happiness and abundance, let us not forget those whom sorrow or want render deserving of our sympathy and aid.

Given at the Council Chamber, in Concord, this eighth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and of the Independence of the United States, the ninety-fifth. ONSLOW STEARNS.

By His Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Council.

NATHAN W. GOVE,
Secretary of State.

THE ELECTIONS.—In South Carolina, the Republican majority for Governor is 33,537. In the first congressional district, Rairey, Republican, is elected by 8,593 majority.

In the second district DeLarge, Republican, has 986 majority. In the third district Elliott, Republican, is elected by 6,567 majority. The above are all colored. In the fourth district Wallace, Republican, has 3,378 majority. The Republican majority in State Senate is 77 and in the House 80.

The official vote of Boston for Governor is, Claflin 10,051, Adams 9785, Phillips 1949, Scattering 10. Last year Boston gave Adams 3000 plurality.

The next House of Representatives will be Republican by 50 majority.

The Republican quarrel in Missouri has given the legislature to the Democrats.

DONE SOMETHING.—Secretary Robeson is the only Cabinet officer who has done anything that tells in a political way for the administration. Thanks to him and the colored troops, New Jersey is redeemed. Good for Robeson, the accomplisher. He deserves well of his country and State, and we hope he will be chosen U. S. Senator, if he wants the position. The only position we covet is that of Secretary of the Navy—and that only that we might introduce reforms and abolish its aristocracy. We hope Secretary Robeson will do this before he leaves, and then we will be no longer coretous.

☞ The following is given as a truthful statement of the "subsequent proceedings" in a Michigan divorce case: "The wife chopped a good wagon to pieces, entirely ruining it, split open 150 sap troughs, and burned up 10,000 shingles which her husband had made. The latter, not to be outdone, smashed up a stove and took off a trunk which the wife claims had money of hers in it, and she has now got him into jail on a charge of larceny, and is monarch of all she surveys, which at present, isn't much."

☞ A little girl of New Britain, Conn., some six years old, was playing with her father's horse a few days ago, by offering the animal an apple which she had in her teeth. The horse accepted, and the child lost a part of her nose. The little one bore the pain well, saying see knew the horse didn't mean to do it, because he looked very sorry.

—"Punctual men," said A. Ward, "are nuisances. Where their heart should beat, they have only a clock ticking. Your doctor is like the New England doctor I tell about sometimes. He was very punctual. When his wife died he went to her funeral. As the earth fell on her coffin everybody around cried. All he did was to take out his watch, look at the time, and say: 'Well, we've got her under, and it's just twenty minutes past two!'"

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.—W learn from the Biddeford Journal that the High School scholars of that city netted $27 by a course of lectures on Geology.

A Biddeford man has killed a white robin. Why?

New Publications Received.

The Galaxy has printed and sold of the November number, four editions. The first edition was as large as has ever been called for before during an entire month; but this time the entire edition was sold within five days of its publication, and three times since then the publishers have been obliged to stop all other work to get out fresh editions. This looks like success.

A Grain of Salt is the title of a new temperance paper in Dover. It is published by the Women's Temperance Committee.

BASE BALL.—Athletics 23, Mutuals 19.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FORTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE have tested the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and it is now generally acknowledged to be the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung disease; embracing the whole range from a slight cold to a settled consumption. Were it not for its merits, it would long since have "died, and made no sign."

Look here, reader, we do not wish to tell you that Consumption can be cured when the lungs are half consumed, nor that Dr. Wonderful, or any other fellow, has discovered a remedy that will make men live forever, and leave death to play for want of work. No, you have heard enough of that, and we do not wonder that you have by this time become disgusted with it. But when we tell you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will positively cure the worst cases of Catarrh, we only assert that which thousands can testify to. Try it and you will be convinced. Sent by mail for sixty cents. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by druggists.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A National Medicine.

One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Prof. So-and-so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. At the outset all medical preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in diseases of the throat, bowels and liver. In that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburgh, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor.—Extracts from the Muscatine Courier, Iowa, Feb. 7, 1867. n12dawlw

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world: the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effect of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful, black or brown. Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. dawm2mn9

SEWING MACHINES.

"The Best Fruit Gets the Most Stones!"

It is not always the article that is sold the most which is the best, oft-times proving the greatest humbugs in the end.

THE ETNA

is not one of the last named, as is demonstrated to a fact, and it does not depend on the amount of its "blows" to introduce it, but upon its merits. I do not advertise Ten Dollars discount on Machines sold before January 1st, 1871, thereby to make it sell, because it has needed no such propelling motion since its introduction here. SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

☞ Notwithstanding the recent wet weather, the long drought still holds on, so far as wells are concerned. The rains have not yet succeeded in reaching to any great depth in the earth. Wells in this vicinity are still dry, or so nearly so as to be useless, though not more than twelve or fourteen feet below the surface; and deep wells, in which water has stood all through the heats of summer, are now drying up. A visitor from York informs us that it is the same over there; and that wells that furnished plenty of water until recently, have failed entirely within the last two or three weeks. If more rain does not come before the ground freezes, there will be so much snow melted the coming winter, to supply water, that very little will be left for sleighing.

IN THE ALDERMEN, Thursday even'g, the Committee on streets were authorized to have a brick sidewalk laid on the west side of Vaughan Street, and the Board voted to pay fifty dollars more than one-half of the cost. Ald. Miller agrees to collect the balance by subscription. The entire cost is estimated not to exceed five hundred dollars.

Leave was granted to John Trundy to repair drain in Hanover Street, and to Thomas E. Call to remove a small building from Court Street to Market Street.

The Committee on Bills on second reading reported back the ordinance reorganizing the Fire Department with amendments, which were adopted, and the ordinance was passed and sent to the Common Council for concurrence.

A communication from the Chief Engineer was received, asking for several needed improvements in his important department. The several matters referred to were acted upon as follows:

The Committee on Streets were authorized to grade around the reservoir on Haymarket Square, and put a new hatch in it.

The Mayor was authorized to buy a new pair of harnesses. The Mayor and Committee on Fire Department were directed to put larger supply pipes into the reservoirs, if they think it expedient. So much of the Chief Engineer's communication as relates to the employ of a driver permanently was referred to the mayor with power to act.

Orders were passed to re-number McDonough, Anthony, Washington and Water streets; to provide furniture and ventilation for Ward Room in Elm Street; to make an opening into the sewer on the west side of Middle Street, if Committee on Streets think expedient; to make partial repairs on Islington Street; to repair sidewalk on Fleet Street.

A CITY HALL.—No better place could be selected in Portsmouth, as a site for a City Hall, than the lot occupied by the buildings which did not burn quite down on the morning of the 6th,—the corner of Congress and Vaughan Sts. The location is central, and the purchase of the small lots at the back of the burnt district would give ample space for the erection of a building that would be an ornament to the city, would supply a long-felt want of the citizens, and would doubtless pay well as a speculation.

A building on that spot would have valuable frontage on two principal streets, for stores; and the lower story, fitted up for that purpose, would command a rental that would go far towards paying the interest on the first cost of the structure. A public Hall, far more spacious and convenient than any we now have in the city—spacious enough to afford ample accommodations for all public gatherings, could be made on the second floor; and with entrances from each of the two streets, would be easy of access, and as easily and safely left by the multitude in case of a panic from any cause. Such a Hall would be in frequent demand, and some such building would yield good returns for the money put into it by any enterprising man who has got the money to spare for such a purpose. And it would pay the City, too, well to invest in it—a good many more thousands than could be raised by disposing of the venerable and awfully homely old crop-eared ark at present known as the City Building. Most citizens will agree that a commodious City Hall is badly needed here, although possibly some may think the present not the most favorable time for erecting one; but waiting for favorable opportunity is not a good way to get along for there is no certainty that such an opportunity will ever yet come.

THE CAUSE OF IT.—That pungent odor about the region of Market Square, Friday evening, was caused by the upsetting of a barrel of spawns, belonging to Marvin Bros. & Bartlett. They were being carried to the manufactory to be converted into Cod Liver Oil. The horse attached to the trucks ran away. He knocked down Hoyt & Trefethen's barber pole and spilt the spawns in front of Freeman's oyster house.

S. J. COURT, Friday, Nov. 11.—The case Spinney vs. Selectmen of Ward 3, in Portsmouth, for illegally refusing to put pltf's name on check list, occupied most of the day; the jury disagreed and were discharged.

The case H. Downing vs. Chas. Moore, Chas. H. Joy and J. Horace Kent, (claim for damages arising out of an attempt to arrest the pltf.,) was commenced.

ANNALS OF PORTSMOUTH.—According to the check list, the number of voters in Portsmouth in 1680, was 71. Dover 61, Hampton 57, Exeter 20. Portsmouth, Dover and Hampton sent three representatives each to the General Assembly, and Exeter two. Taxes were usually paid in lumber. The prices for 1680 were as follows, merchantable white pine boards, 30s per M., white oak pipe staves 3 per M., red oak do. 20s per M., red oak hhd. staves 25s per M., Indian corn 3s. per bush., wheat 5s per bush., malt 4s per bush. Silver was rated at 6s 8d per ounce.

WHAT CAN THE MATTER BE?—There appears to be one continuous growl of dissatisfaction from one of the shire towns of Rockingham County. Is it because for a short time past its usual supply of government pap has been cut off? The organ published in that place hits rights and left, without regard to friend or foe. In its last issue the worthy Assesor of this district, in common with the M. C., and others from this District, comes in for his share of abuse. Are there no good people living outside of Exeter? Surely one would think such is the estimate of certain of its citizens. We doubt not there are good men living in that good old town, now as formerly, but we also know there is as dirty a nest of politicians there as is to be found anywhere in the state. It is to be hoped that the gentlemen who is looking upward from that locality Congressward will keep out of that nest at least.—Granite State News.

☞ Several fellows who have been discharged from different railroads in this State and Vermont, left Concord this week taking a "jimmy" along with them, and bound for Mobile or New Orleans. If they do not open a Bank or a Railroad before long, down South, we miss our guess.

—The many friends of Mrs. O. A. Frost, landlady of the Great Falls House, will regret to learn that she is lying dangerously ill in Troy, N. Y., where she is visiting with her husband. Her friends were telegraphed for Monday and have left for that city.—Great Falls Journal.

☞ Portland desires more acquaintance with Mrs. C. A. Barry.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

CENTRAL RAILROAD
OF IOWA,
Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.
NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.
This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.
ONE MILLION
—OF THE—
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.
Among their advantages are—
1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.
2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.
3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.
4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.
5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.
6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.
7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.
We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.
Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by
JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,
Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,
SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,
Cashier First National Bank,
Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.
W. B. SHATTUCK, Treasurer.
32 Pine Street, New York.
After a full examination, we have accepted an Agency for the Sale of the above First Mortgage Bonds, and desire to recommend them to our customers AS A THOROUGHLY SAFE, AS WELL AS PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

ESSAY ON THE APPLE-TREE BORER, Read before the Keene Farmer's and Mechanics' Club—By S. Woodward.

The parent of the Borer, and the finale of its existence in the tree, is a striped beetle of about three fourths of an inch in length, very shy of human observation, and possessing nothing but the machinery of its head that would lead to a suspicion of the destructive habits of its earlier existence. But little is known of its length of days or its habits in the beetle state, except the ample provision it makes to insure the continuance of this class of beetles. The female deposits its eggs in perforations of the outer bark of the tree, generally very near the surface of the ground.

If from action of the winds or other cause there is an open space around the neck of tree, the beetle will deposit its eggs at the lowest accessible point, not unfrequently at the junction of the upper lateral roots with the neck or base of the trunk of the tree, and when grass or any vegetable is suffered to grow around the tree's trunk, the beetle will deposit its eggs several inches above the surface of the soil. The beetle apparently selects a location for the operation that is fully or partially concealed from the observation of men and birds.

The season for depositing their eggs continues from the latter part of May till July, or during the season the bees send forth their colonies. As I have before stated, the egg is deposited by perforating the outer bark of the tree, and a close observer may discover its location by the oozing of a small globule of sap, sometimes not larger than a clover seed, but so discolored that it may be distinguished from dew or other transparent moisture.

The egg is soon changed to the embryo borer, which subsists upon the sap and alburnum for several weeks, and may be removed with a sharp pointed knife without making an orifice larger than a pea and without any injury to the tree. If the young borer is unmolested it will prey upon the alburnum or outer wood of the tree until the frosts of winter check its ravages. It is unable during the first year of its existence to work up the hard wood of the tree, and is confined to the outer grain of wood formed during its own growth. It spends its first winter on one side of its summer's work in a cozy recess from which it has contrived to remove the moist debris.

It will work over the first season a surface from one-half to one and a half inches, sometimes in a circular form but more frequently in an elongated or irregular circle. This cavity may be detected by a pressure upon the outer bark of the tree, and in most cases by the borer pressing out its debris at the perforation made by the parent beetle.

The second year it works deeper into the tree and generally takes an upward course, cutting a path from four to twelve inches in length. It works till late in the Fall, when it fits up its temporary tomb and retires from a professional borer's life. The next spring, being two years from its ovate beginning, it emerges from the tree a perfect and beautiful beetle. It escapes from the tree by the apparatus it preserved from its borer existence, consisting of a semicircular saw or rasp, and a curiously constructed mortising machine with driving power.

The hole from which the beetle emerges is circular and about three-sixteenths of an inch in diameter, and no chips or debris are thrown outward, nor is any debris left in the hole, as the beetle does not use the chips for food. Many, however, mistake the hole from which the beetle escapes, for the one by which the borers enters, and make fearful cuts in the tree with the full assurance of securing their victim, subsequently assaying their disappointment by filling the cavity they have made with brimstone and other offensive substances; thus showing their appreciation of the deportment of the borer. Having given a brief history of the life and doings of the borer, I will try to be as brief in prescribing a successful mode for its destruction. A sharp pointed jack knife is the only instrument necessary to be used during the first year of its existence. Trees should be examined at least three times during the Spring and Summer, once as early as May to ascertain if any borers have wintered in the trees.

By removing the earth from the neck of the trees to the depth of two or three inches, and carefully scraping off the rough bark and adhering dirt, the chips and debris of the borer's work will betray its retreat. The bark covering its first year's operations should be removed, taking care not to cut the bark beyond the work of the borer. Then scrape away the chips and debris till the enemy is discovered and duly impaled. By attending to the trees in June and July the infant borers may all be destroyed with but little trouble and without injuring the trees.

Their location will readily be discovered by the exading of a small quantity of their debris through the outer bark. At this season they may be removed without cutting a space in the bark larger than a half dime (such as were used in the days of Benton.) If the operator is unable to distinguish the borer from the debris that surrounds it, which is frequently the case without the aid of a glass, he should make its destruction sure by removing all the chips and discolored bark.

An incision in the bark during the summer months does no injury to the tree provided the alburnum is not disturbed. And every suspicious spot should be examined and the discolored bark removed. If in any examination of the tree it is discovered that a borer is finishing up its second year's work, it should be following with such instruments as will make its destruction certain. All the chips should be removed till the channel in which it is at work is discovered.

If the course is downward the better way is to cut a slit with a sharp knife or very narrow chisel from outside to the channel made by the borer, following the same till its grubship is laid open to view. If the course is upward the borer can generally be destroyed by following it up with a piece of annealed iron, which should be thrust to the head of its work a sufficient number of times to insure its impalement. There is no preventive of the beetle's depositing its eggs in the tree, that is infallible.

What I have found most effectual is to cultivate about the trees, and to frequently stir the earth around the trunks. Soap suds if frequently applied is a good preventive and a still better fertilizer. A solution of whale oil soap and also a decoction of hen manure are highly recommended and ought to be sure remedies. The presence of the owner and his frequent examination of his trees are also good preventives, provided he suffers no grass or weeds to grow within several feet of his young trees.

SURGERY.—A capital story is told of the late Doctor Charles Cheever, of Portsmouth, N. H., one whom many remember with feelings of the most grateful emotion. He was a man, literally "born to command," of grand presence, and possessing a wonderful magnetism that exerted a most powerful control. One day Codline, of that ilk, came into Preston's druggistry, looking hollow-eyed and very miserable, complaining of a felon on his thumb. He showed it to Preston, who advised lancing it. O no, he could not have it done—his nerves had been so tried that the thought of the knife erazed him—he would wait now and let the thing take care of itself. At this moment Dr. C. drove to the door, and dropping his horse anchor, came in. The doctor, seeing poor Codline hide his hand beneath his jacket, said, in his severest tone:

"What's the matter?"

"O, a little sore finger, that's all," said Cod., feeling the severe eyes of the doctor on him.

"Let me see it!"

Out came the hand reluctantly, and the doctor having examined it said it ought to be lanced.

"Couldn't think of it," said Codline; "'twould kill me I know."

All this while the doctor was manipulating it with his left hand, (watched keenly by Codline, suspicious of trap,) while he held his hand open on the counter, into which Preston placed an unsheathed lancet.

"Whoa," shouted the doctor, as if to his horse.

Now if there is any sound that will quicken a man, even if dying, it is just such a cry as this. Codline's eyes were for an instant diverted from his charge, the doctor's armed right hand came round, and, quick as lightning, the thumb was cut from the root to the apex, discharging freely, and poor Codline, spinning round the room like a top, shouting, "O God! O God!" and so several other prayers of a less reverent character.

It was a funny scene, in spite of the sympathy with the sufferer, and in a few minutes, as he felt so much better, he joined in the laugh at his own expense, praising the good doctor's slight-of-hand trick.—Mrs. Partington, in Am. Union.

HOW THEY VOTE IN KENTUCKY.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette describes the system of voting practiced in the above mentioned State:

We vote viva voce in Kentucky. It is a purely Democratic way of voting. To show the full force of this patent arrangement, I offer an explanation. The voter gives his name, which he is requested to spell, and after the lapse of a very few minutes, the clerk has the name registered and is ready to take the vote.

Clerk—Who do you vote for?

Voter—For what office (supposing there are a half dozen offices to be filled)?

Clerk—Congress.

Voter—Mr. Speed.

Clerk—Jim Speed?

Voter—Yes, sir, Honorable James Speed.

The clerk looks at the voter to see if he is in earnest, then at the top of the page, turns his head sideways, looks cross-eyed at the names of candidates which are written parallel with the lines running from top to bottom, gets his finger on the name and then carefully traces the column downward till he reaches the horizontal line upon which the voter's name is written, and then he writes the total number of votes cast for the candidates named. If there are not more than two or three candidates each, for fifteen or twenty offices, and the clerk isn't unusually slow, several persons can vote in this way in the course of an hour. The total vote for the candidate named is placed opposite the last voter's name, so that any hour of the day the exact standing of each candidate may be known, and the Democratic vote regulated accordingly.

ABOUT PIGEONS.—There is a man in Nottingham named Nathan Parker, but better known as "Pigeon Parker," who has made a business of ensnaring wild pigeons for a large portion of his life. During the flight of these birds, in the early part of this Fall, he caught, in a net, as many as 170 dozen. He says that these birds breed three times during the year. They go South for the winter, and hatch their first young in the Middle States, in May and June. In July they hatch in New York State or Canada, and in August and Sept. they go into Maine, and lay more eggs, but, if two birds are brought forth, only one is reared,—the other being killed. The male bird is guilty of this infanticide; and it is he, also, that feeds and takes charge of the remaining young-ling.—Exeter News Letter.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœas, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

BUCHU! BUCHU!

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

Diosma Crenata—Buchu Leaves.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaint of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Uretha, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement, or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, &c.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms; Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudence in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SEASON OF 1870-71.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

Important Improvements.

Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.

The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.

They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.

Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.

The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.

They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new VOX HUMANA, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.

A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

For Whooping Cough,

DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also vanquishes Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.

LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.

It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will care itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of man, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in smaller and frequent doses.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

MONDAY, NOV. 14, 1870.

THE WAR.—The Tours journals report that the Prussians lost over 10,000 men in killed and wounded, and 1800 prisoners, in battles around Orleans, and are retreating towards Chartres and Etampes. A large number of guns have been picked up and distributed among the national guards at Orleans. The entire army of the Loire is moving forward.

The Lille city council unanimously passed a resolution that "Marshal Bazaine, in telling the army which he traitorously surrendered to the enemy that Lille and all northern France craved for peace at any cost, lied signally. This body indignantly spurns the lie." Lille is strongly fortified, and preparing for a vigorous resistance to the Prussians.

A rupture is reported between Bismarck and Von Beust of Austria.

From Prussian sources we have a rumor that Garibaldi has surrended, but the report is discredited.

THE ELECTIONS.—In New York city the corrected returns of the vote for mayor give Hall a majority of 26,993. The Albany Journal thinks the entire result will be closed with the chances in favor of a Democratic majority of 5 or 6 in the assembly. The World figures Hoffman's majority in the State at 33,193. Frauds are reported in counting the ballots in the city. In the 15th district, where 94 votes were polled, over 300 were counted. In some instances the supervisors appointed by Judge Woodruff were bribed.

The representatives elected to Congress from Tennessee are Butler, Maynard, Garrett, Bright, Golliday, Whitehouse, Caldwell and Vaughan.

In Illinois, General Logan's majority will not be much over 1500. General Farnsworth claims his election by 1500 majority.

The Nevada election returns are not yet complete, but it is generally believed the Democrats carried the State, except the lieutenant-governor and congressmen.

The N. Y. Times and the Tribune concede that the democrats have two majority in the State legislature.

—We respectfully ask the Democracy of the country to bear witness to the fact that in New York we have the secret of carrying elections, while in other States, where different ideas prevail, the party on every trial finds itself a minority. We commend the contrast to general attention as an instructive fact. N. Y. World.

The democratic "secret of carrying elections" in New York, is no secret at all; but has long been held up for "general attention" by the republican press, and somewhat interfered with at the late election by the Federal election laws for the prevention of fraud. Several of the "elements" of democratic success have gone to work for the government, at Albany, and more we hope are to follow; and if the laws are enforced as rigidly as possible in future, we may yet hope to live long enough to see an honest election in New York. In the meantime, the pure democracy of other places have adopted the World's "secret of carrying elections," and have tried it on with success in various places—in our own Third Ward, for one of them.

RUMORS.—It is rumored that Collector Murphy has signified his intention to resign at once; and the names of Judge Pierrepont, Gen. F. E. Spinner and Gen. Pleasanton are mentioned in connection with the place. Another rumor sends Senator Conkling to England, and still another transfers Judge Allison, now registrar of the treasury, to the office of commissioner of patents.

TENNESSEE. — Thomas A. Prebles, Senator elect from Maury County, was shot and killed near Spring Hills, by G. A. Pointer. The difficulty was of a personal character, and Pointer acted in self-defence.

Wednesday night a party of masked raiders took a negro from his house at Nacmaury Station, on the Nashville and Chattanooga railroad, and shot him.

☞ Jerry Dunn, alias Hawkshaw the detective, alias John Matthews, the murderer of James Logan, and the alleged murderer of Charles M. Rogers, in New York, has been arrested in St. Louis, and is now in prisou in the former city.

☞ About $4000 worth of diamonds, secreted on the person of a sterage passenger on the steamer City of Cork, were discovered and seized by the revenue officer in Boston, Thursday.

☞ General F. A. Duncan has assumed charge of the Patent Office as Acting Commissioner of Patents.

Our Correspondence.

RYE, Nov. 11th.

A heavy shower, accompanied by two very heavy peals of thunder passed over us between 8 and 9 o'clock, Wednesday evening, followed on Thursday by a very high nor'west wind, but no serious damage has resulted therefrom, from either lightning or wind. A large supply of rain would be very acceptable before the ground freezes up, so that the water in the wells might rise, a great many of them being dry now; what rains have fell having had no effect on them as yet—and to be without water, convenient of access, in the winter, would put many to a great deal of trouble and labor.

There is nothing to break the quiet monotony of the town now, but four singing schools, and the Lodge of Good Templars. With such an abundance of the former, it would seem that if there is any efficacy in schools for the cultivation of the vocal powers, it ought to be made manifest in Rye this winter. There is plenty room for improvement, and it is to be hoped that this opportunity will be improved, and that at the close of the schools, much progress will be noticed. One school is at the Congregational Vestry, taught by Mr. Warner of North Hampton; one at Chesley's Hall, where Mr. Chase of Seabrook imparts instruction; one at the East School House, presided over by Mr. Collins; and the last one, for the juveniles, held afternoons, at Congregational Church, and taught by Miss Barber.

The Baptist Society have recently purchased an organ for their church, but have not placed it in position yet. The weekly gathcrings of this Society at the various residences of the members, are quite popular, and will be continued during the winter. Mr. Nelson, their pastor, who not long since announced his determination of dissolving his connection with the Society, has reconsidered, and remains for the present. It is announced that Rev. Mr. Leach, who has supplied the pulpit of the Congregational Church for several years past, will leave the 1st of January, and it seems doubtful whether his place will be filled at present.

The farmers are selling large quantities of apples just now, at $2 a barrel, and deliver them at Greenland Depot and Portsmouth. Many sold at 30 cts. per bushels not four weeks since.

A new road is being built across Little Boar's Head by Mrs. Philbrick of the Farragut House, and it is understood that quite a number of house lots have been sold there, and that cottages will be erected by the purchasers next spring, or a year from then.

The addition to the Sea View House is progressing, and it will give accommodation to quite a number ef guests when completed. Another cottage is being constructed at Straw's Point, and more are talked off. R.

Our Correspondence.

DEERFIELD, Nov. 10.

Corn and potatoes have proved better in quality and larger in quantity, in this town, than was expected. Apples are offered, — 1st class, hand picked Baldwins for 30 cents a bushel; and 2nd class at 15 cts.

The light rains and warm weather have produced fine fall feed for stock; but the deep wells are, many of them, still dry.

The Congregational and Free Will Baptist Societies are painting their churches.

Deerfield would afford many superior advantages to any company that wishes to establish a shoe manufactory.

Yours, J. C.

Our Correspondence.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 12.

The Fair at Armory Hall closed Friday evening, after a successful series of entertainments. The announcement that the Portsmouth Cornet Band would be present the last evening, brought out a large assembly. The social interchange of friendly greetings gave evidence that Mr. Thompson and his associates were perfectly "at home" among their Kittery friends. The music was delightful, for which the Ladies Aid Society feel under obligations.

Miss Annie Buckman's select readings the second and third nights, were commendable and well received. It is said that the Fair will prove quite as profitable as interesting, upwards of $150 being realized from the sales, &c.

ACCIDENTS.—A railway train was thrown from the track by the breaking of a wheel, near Columbia, S. C., Thursday. The train crashed through a trestle into a gully 25 feet deep, and four persons were killed and three mortally wounded. Many others were hurt.

A train was thrown from the track in Mississippi, Wednesday, and two men killed.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A FINE THING FOR THE TEETH.—The fragrant SOZODONT has taken a very prominent place among the most approved dentrifices of the day. It is a very popular article for the toilet, highly recommended by all who have used it, as a beautifier and preserver of the teeth, refreshing the mouth, sweetening the breath, and arresting the progress of decay.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," tickiest thing out.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A National Medicine.

One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Prof. So-and-So has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They are humbugs. At the outset all medical preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in diseases of the throat, bowels and liver. In that terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburgh, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor.—Extracts from the Muscatine Courier, Iowa, Feb. 7, 1867. n12dawlw

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world: the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effect of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful, black or brown. Sold by all Druggist and Perfumers, and properly applied at Batchelor's Wig Factory, No. 16 Bond Street, New York. lydawl6f

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. dawzmn9

FOR THIRTY YEARS

Has that well-known, standard, and popular remedy, the

PAIN KILLER,

manufactured by PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R. I., been before the public, and in that time has become known in all parts of the world, and been used by people of all nations.

It remains, to-day, that same good and efficient remedy. Its wonderful power in relieving the most severe pains has never been equalled, and it has earned its world-wide popularity by its intrinsic merit. No curative agent has had so widespread sale or given such universal satisfaction.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

With this FLEXIBLE EDGE the suction of atmospheric pinies can be made so strong that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruction; and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, pears, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyances, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of sneezing, eating, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how irregular the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same—

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

☞ Dr. J. H. Boardman has been appointed Examining Surgeon of the Pension Office in this city.

☞ Capt. Joseph H. Thacher has donated $25 to the Firemen's Relief Association fund, which now amounts to about $1200.

☞ We learn that Messrs. Goodall, Pfeiffer, Burleigh and Stavers have purchased the Waldron estate, recently scorched—the buildings on it, at any rate—near the corner of Congress and Vaughan Streets. Hope they will put as good a building on the lot as it is worthy of.

S. J. COURT, Saturday, Nov. 12.—The case Downing vs. Moore, Joy and Kent, for damages growing out of an arrest, occupied the day. The jury found for the pltf. in the sum of $40. The defendants couldn't have damaged his property, reputation, peace of mind and such things very seriously, when $40 covered the lot.

THAT PUNGENT ODOR.—By an unlucky misunderstanding, we stated that the powerful "spawns" (a barrel of which so affected the olfactories of our citizens near Market Square, Friday evening,) were being carried to the Cod Liver Oil manufactory of Marvin Bros. & Bartlett This was incorrect—the aforesaid spawns were from Newcastle, bound for Boston via the Eastern Railroad; and the above firm had nothing to with them. We regret the mistake the more, that from personal inspection on several occasions we know that the firm in question use only the best cod livers, perfectly fresh and sweet, in their manufacture—which has deservedly won a high reputation in the markets, as the very best oil of the kind produced.

When the driver of that runaway team has another such high-pressure load behind his horse, he would do well to hitch the animal before he leaves him—for no decent quadruped could be blamed for leaving in a hurry, when propelled by a truck-load of such stuff.

WHERE DOES HE LIVE?—A queer case was tried before the Supreme Judicial Court in this city, last week—State vs. the Selectmen of Ward Three. The facts in the case are as follows: A Mr. Spinney, for 18 years a resident of Ward Three, and a voter there, lived in the same house as his mother; the mother moved out of the ward some months before election day, while the son remained—not only in the ward, but in the same house in which he had lived for years. The copperhead Selectmen, in revising the check lists, erased Mr. Spinney's name; and though the facts of the case were fully made known to them, the sapient "coppers," in their ardor to serve their party, decided that the man's "residence followed his mother!" and refused to restore his name to the check-list. On this the action in question was brought.

This is one of the most comical and barefaced cases of political rascality in the shape of swindling a man out of his right to vote, that we ever heard of. Because a woman goes away, a man who stays behind cannot throw a ballot! Mr. Spinney was of age, or he would have had no claim to a ballot; so that he had no more interest in his mother or she in him, legally, than exists between total strangers; and to have discovered any possible connection between the mother's leaving her residence and the son's right to vote, would have puzzled anybody but a board of Democratic supervisors seeking pretexts for depriving Republicans of heir legal privileges. "His residence followed his mother!" Wonderful! Does the Republican party in this city understand the danger it is in? A young lady left Ward Three a few weeks ago, and went to Boston; and as likely as not the profoundly intelligent Democratic check-list-fuglers in that ward will disfranchise every Republican there, on account of the aforesaid young lady's leaving. They have as much legal right to do this as they had to disfranchise Spinney because his mother had left—and of this fact they were perfectly well aware at the time of perpetrating the rascality, unless they are stupid to the verge of idiocy.

The evidence produced in Court having shown the facts of the case to be as we have stated—that the copperhead Selectmen had not a shadow of cause for refusing to restore Spinney's name to the check-list, except that he was a Republican voter—the case was given to the jury, who disagreed as to their verdict. Wonder if it went by a "strict party vote?"

OVER THE RIVER.—When a woman takes up a paper, the first thing her eye seeks is the Marriages and Deaths,—the banker and retired merchant looks for the Stock Report, the trader the Markets, the ship owner and seafaring man the Ship News, the loafer the Police Court report, the servant the Wants, the newly married pair—the Houses to Let, the politician the Election News, the rumseller the result of a certain Liquor Seizure case, and so on, ad infinitum. But there is a class—small it may be—who commence with the first column on the first page and read the newspaper straight through, advertisements and all. And it is in view of this fact that we are encouraged to give a brief review from time to time of matters and things pertaining to the other side of the river.

There is not much work being done on the Navy Yard at the present time; not so much as there should be—and in saying this, we mean in reference to the amount of patronage bestowed upon neighboring Yards—Charlestown and Brooklyn—which have the one three and the other four times the number of men employed; and for no apparent cause, save that more influence is brought to bear upon the government to induce or compel the managers to this unequal distribution of the work to be performed. It certainly is not because this Yard has not the facilities for the accomplishment of any kind of work, or that our mechanics are less skillful than those of any other Yard, for we believe it to be already conceded that our resources for building or repairing are ample, and that in the whole country no better workmen are found than those whom we are proud to claim as our citizens, as well as our neighbors of other towns adjoining. And in this connection we are obliged to chronicle the discharge of nearly 100 men in the department of Steam Engineering, on Saturday; and other large reductions in the number of men employed are soon to take place in other Departments.

The Wyoming was taken into the Dry Dock on Saturday, and will be floated out to-day. The Monongahela will be taken up immediately.

The steamer Emerald will soon be making her regular trips to and from the Yard, it being the intention of those having her in charge to launch her in a few days. Her engines and machinery have been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, while the hull is being painted and improved in a manner worthy of the original design of this swift, comfortable and convenient little craft.

The time of commencing and leaving off work at the Yard is changed, to take effect this (Monday) morning. The order is that work shall commence at 7.45 A. M., (instead of eight, as formerly,) and stop at 4.30 P. M., (instead of five o'clock,) with forty-five minutes for dinner, instead of the former one hour.

We notice that the Steam Fire Engine which was lost overboard from the scow, up river, some months since, has been repaired, and is again in working order, and as good as when capsized. The matter of losing the steamer was an unfortunate occurrence, it is true, but not half so bad as at first reported; nor was the recovery of the scow and engine attended with one quarter of the expense which was at the time of the disaster estimated by outsiders not conversant with such matters.

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

——OF THE——

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

New Hampshire Items.

Messrs. Daniel and Nathaniel Wiggin have leased the American House on Franklin Square, Dover, for a period of five years.

Mrs. Charles Wentworth of Dover was severely injured by being thrown from a carriage on Sunday week.

The Strafford Co. Musical Convention at Dover last week was a success.

The heaviest man in the County of Strafford resides in the town of Strafford. His name is Mr. Isaac Foss, and he weighs 410 pounds.

On Friday, Mr. Alfred Davis of Warner Lower Village was found to have committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. Some years ago Mr. D. attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a pen-knife, in a fit of aberration. His present rash act is supposed to have a similar cause. He was aged about fifty years, and unmarried.

Mr. I. H. Russell, a prominent builder and contractor of Keene, disappeared last week. The sufferers by his failure are numerous, among whom are most of the workmen employed by him during the past season, and upon whom the loss of their wages falls with a heavy blow. Several business firms are losers to the extent of two or three thousand dollars each. Mr. R. had building contracts in Peterboro, Springfield, Vt., and in Keene, most of which were fulfilled. His failure is attributed to mismanagement of affairs, rather than to intentional fraud.

At Washington, on Friday, the card manufactory of Sargent Bros. of Worcester, Mass., carried on by Mr. George F. Fowler, was totally destroyed by fire, with all its machinery. Most of the stock was saved. A barn belonging to the same parties was also burned. Loss large; fully insured.

On the 29th ult., in Alton, Mr. Geo. L. Gerrish was at work driving four oxen, drawing a load of cider. At the top of a hill the cattle became alarmed and turned round, and while Mr. G. was trying to stop them he was thrown to the ground, one wheel passing over his left shoulder and side, crushing it in such a manner as to cause his death on the 1st. Mr. G. was a member of the Third Regiment and was badly wounded at James' Island. His age was thirty-two.

A Crash.—A portion of Draper & Hall's brick livery stable, in Boston, fell Saturday morning, burying 15 or more horses, and a man named Charles French. The accident was caused by having too much weight of grain on an upper flour. The fire department rescued several of the horses unhurt from the ruins, but many of them were killed.

☞ Queen Victoria has now nine grandsons and eight grand-daughters, together seventeen grand-children, of whom the Crown Princess of Prussia gives five, (one died in 1866,) the Princess of Wales five, the Princess Alice five, and the Princess Helena two. And the Queen has still five unmarried children.

☞ The Pope has despatched to King Victor Emanuel his formal protest against the occupation by the Italian government of the Quirinal Palace, and its confiscation for state purposes. The Pope has fixed his compensation for improvements made by him in Rome, at five millions.

☞ A Havana correspondent says that important negotiations, touching the sale of Cuba to the United States, are going on between Spain and the United States. It is reported from Puerto Principe that a Cuban leader and fourteen or sixteen men have been shot.

☞ A New York Herald correspondent has interviewed Napoleon, who declares that he prefers private life for himself and son to the French throne. In a born!

☞ At Wheeling Va., the jury in the trial of Mattie Bothiam for murder in shooting her seducer, W. J. McNash, a year ago, rendered a verdict of not guilty.

☞ George Hanson, an Iowa gambler, was abusing his wife Friday night, when she emptied six chambers of a revolver at him. He won't abuse her any more.

☞ The railroad bridge (building across the Mississippi river) at St. Charles, Mo., fell Fridsy afternoon, killing six men and injuring nine others.

☞ The race between George Palmer and American Girl, at Prospect Park Thursday, was won by Palmer. The best time was 2:24 1-2, to wagon.

We publish the above figures to show the uninitiated and those who contemplate purchasing, what machine is the public favorite.

The above list includes all of what are commonly called the first class machines, but the

NEW FAMILY SINGER SEWING MACHINE

Has proved itself the best for all classes and kinds of operators and work.

All that persons need to do to satisfy themselves of this is to enquire of those who have used them the most.

They Hem, Braid, Tuck, Quilt, Cord, Embroider, Fringes, Ruffle, Fell, Puff, Gather, Fagot, Trim, Bind.

☞ They are light running, easy to learn and keep in order, and for durability unrivalled.

☞ They will stitch equally well the heaviest beaver or the finest muslin, in fact they will do every useful work that mechanical skill has yet perfected in the Sewing art.

☞ These celebrated Machines are Sold for Cash or on the installment principle, as best suits convenience of the purchaser, at the Regular Agency for Portsmouth, Kittery, York, Eliot, Newcastle, Rye, Hampton, North Hampton, Hampton Falls, Greenland and Seabrook.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL, FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Sale in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization. S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAH LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for weeks or by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

Principal and Interest Payable in Gold,

ISSUED BY THE

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railroad Co.

The small remaining balance of the Loan for sale

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Interest payable May and November.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and rich section of the fertile State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending the Bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale

All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

The Chronicle.

☞ A correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post exposes what he calls "Watering Place Tyranny." This consists in the extortious practiced by waiters and chambermaids at sea-side hotels, who ingeniously contrive for the guests to pay smartly for ordinary civility and attention. The following is not one whit exaggerated:

The head waiter has his mode of resenting neglect. If you are new to hotel life, and are not informed as to the precise right a head-waiter has to expect anything of you, he will soon make you aware of his official existence. He will come to you and tell you he must change your seat, that "a party" engaged your place a week before you came, and has now arrived and must have it. If you submit, you are moved to a less comfortable part of the room. The head-waiter has been studying you for some time—that's part of his business—and he knows you suffer with neuralgia, and can't stand a draught, (as straight into one you go) until such time as discipline has perfected you in the grace of giving. If you understand him at first, and slip something into his ever-open palm, "the party" will inevitably find convenient accommodations elsewhere.

The chambermaid, too, has her method. She knows you like your room to be cleaned early, and she puts it off every day until the last. In vain you remonstrate; words without money are wasted breath, and if you wish to use your room you must do so with an unmade bed and untidy washstand confronting you. Paying every one who comes near you under whatever pretence of service, becomes a necessity, and the uninitiated often wish a standard scale of fees could be established, because without it one often finds one's self insulting some dignitary.

THE DOG AND THE LOBSTER.—A man who was "somedele" fond of lobster was wistfully regarding a basket of them in the market, with his dog by his side, while another bystander was sticking the end of his cane into one of the disengaged claws of a big fellow at the top. "How he does hold on!" said the man with the cane.

"Yes," responded the man with the dog, "but it is because he dents the cane, and his claws won't stick on the wood. But he couldn't hold on to a critter, or you or I, in that way. When he feels anything soft a lobster always stops pinching."

"Guess not," said the owner of the basket; "you put your dog's tail in that ere claw, and you'll see whether he'll hold on to it or not."

No sooner said than done. The lobster-lover lifted up his dog, dropped his tail in the open claw, which closed instanter, and the dog, as smit by sudden pain, set off howling, at the top of his speed.

"Hello!" exclaimed the owner," whistle back your dog, blast him! he's running off with the lobster!"

"Whistle back your lobster!" rejoined the other: "that dog ain't coming back; that dog's in pain; I can't get him to come near me when he's in pain!"

ABSENT MINDED.—There is a man in Camden who is provoked. He is absent minded. A few nights since he went out to drive home his cow. Arriving at the pasture ground, he found that the cow was gone, but the bell which should have been around her neck was lying upon the ground. He placed it in his pocket and forgot all about it. Every now and then it would give a smothered jingle, and he would think it was his cow and would start off in a fresh direction. He followed that bell as he thought until twelve o'clock that night, and walked twenty miles. When he reached home the cow had been there five or six hours, and his wife went over to advertise for him in the Lost and Found column of the Ledger. Perhaps he wasn't mad when he found that bell in his pocket!

His wife says she has heard Mr. Greeley and all the eminent profanists, but her husband swore them into hopeless inferiority.

ACCIDENT.—On the evening of the 29th ult., as Mr. Samuel M. Winslow of Kingston, was driving his horse, attached to a coal cart, past the "Willow Tree Crossing" in Plaistow, a passing train took off the rear half of his cart, threw him some rods, and promiscuously scattered a lot of groceries he had bought and was carrying home. Mr. W., although apparently but little injured, has since been obliged to keep his bed.—News Letter.

—A youthful Michigander tried to learn to smoke, the other day, in the secluded recesses of his father's barn. As soon as the foundation stones get cooled off enough his father will begin to build another one.

—I. Miller of Ohio, traded his wife to Jim Gregory for a watch, and the when Jim came to claim his property, he filled him up with shot. That's no way to use a man.

—A proud and loving Missouri father, in setting forth the accomplishments of his daughter, said she could "everlastingly paw ivory, and howl like a mule."

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for wood inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats.—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS,
which are for sale at the

SEASON OF 1870-71.
MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements.
Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and added to the former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.
They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. The SAME. DOUBLE REED, $60. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.
A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

THE OLD RELIABLE
NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE,
TO BE FOUND IN EVERY VILLAGE AND TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND, IS
DODD'S NERVINE
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
DODD'S NERVINE is not a new medicine, but has been before the public for the last fifteen years. It is compounded from the best and purest drugs. Contains no OPIUM, STRYCHNINE or MERCURY in any form, and is expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASES,
COUGHS, COLDS, FEVERS, AGUES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, NEURALGIA, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, HEADACHE, CONVULSIONS, SLEEPLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSUMPTION, FAINTING FITS, PALPITATION, RESTLESSNESS, DIZZINESS, CHILDREN'S TROUBLES, &c., &c., &c.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscles like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines. And all folks that
Can't Sleep Nights,
Should use this truly wonderful medicine.
DODD'S NERVINE
Is one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
For Whooping Cough,
DODD'S NERVINE is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember it contains no OPIUM in any form.
LOOK OUT FOR COLDS.
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cure itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOV. 15, 1870.

THE WAR. — General de Paladine, commanding the army of the Loire, has given the particulars of the defeat and flight of the Prussians under General Von der Tann, from Orleans, after the battle of two day's duration. His latest telegram announces that the overthrow of the Germans was decisive. The fighting was terrific and lasted two days. The bayonet charges of the French drove the Prussians in wild confusion northward, with the victorious French in hot pursuit. The losses of the French, in killed and wounded, was 2000. The loss of the Germans was much greater. Upon the re-occupation of the town about 1000 Prussians were surrounded and taken prisoners, and in the pursuit which followed 700 more were captured. Two guns which the Prussians could not remove were also captured. Much material such as war stores and camp equipage, was abandoned. The French troops continued the pursuit to Toury, 27 miles southeast of Chartres.

A later dispatch says General de Paladine took 2500 prisoners in his last engagement. The French troops now hold the entrenched camp occupied by the Prussians at Arthenay. The victory of the army of the Loire has roused the wildest excitement throughout France. Great numbers of troops are hurrying from the south of France to join the forces of General de Paladine. The use of balloons for observing the movements of the enemy is to be introduced into the army of the Loire. A number of steel breech-loading cannon are ready for the armies of the Loire and the North.

A Tours dispatch says that nothing further has been made known of the movements of the French army since the recovery of Orleans and the occupation of Chevilly. The German retreat on the 9th was executed with perfect order. The losses of the Germans since the 7th amount to 10,000 men. General Werder is evidently moving to join Von der Tann. The bridges on his route are to be destroyed and the roads obstructed in every possible manner.

Garibaldi isn't captured. After the battle between Montbelliard and the Swiss border, Garibaldi, with 12,000 men, marched on Belfort.

Dispatches received from the German headquarters at Versailles, announce that Paris will not be bombarded.

Prussians are killed every night in Strasbourg.

The whole tide of popular feeling now in England is running strongly in favor of the French. Even the Times is feeling this influence and has changed its tone, and now urges Germany to make peace and withdraw from France while she may do so with safety. This feeling is partly due to the horror excited by the barbarous and wholly unjustifiable conduct of the Prussians in attempting to suppress the popular resistance in France, and partly to the growing conviction that England will be the next victim of German ambition.

Moltke has ordered additional forces sent to Toury, in order to prevent another disaster. An attack by the army of the Loire is expected.

Masses of French troops are seen daily around Mont de Valerien, Paris, practicing evolutions on a great scale. A general sortie is imminent.

An engagement occurred on Saturday between the Gardes Mobile and the Prussians near Eyreux. The French were successful, driving the enemy with loss.

A battle is expected at Toury. The army of the Loire is advancing on that town, from Orleans.

One of the tunnels on the Strasbourg Railroad has fallen in, hopelessly interrupting Prussian communication by that line.

The London Times correspondent, writing from Tours, says that the moral effect of the victory near Orleans is incalculable. Reinforcements have gone forward to General Palladine, who now has a large and effective army.

☞ Viscount V. Treilhard, the new French minister to this country, appointed by Napoleon, arrived at New York on Saturday, from Chili, but is informed by the department of State that he cannot be received in his diplomatic capacity by this government. Berthemy will continue the representive of France until relieved by the proper authorities.

☞ The accident at St. Charles, Mo., previously referred to, involved a loss of sixteen persons, all of whom were precipitated into the river by the breaking of a wire rope while hoisting a heavy column for a new bridge over the Mississippi river at that place. Fourteen bodies have been found.

THE ELECTIONS.—Nevada is democratic. Fitch, Republican, is defeated for Congress by 200 majority.

Alabama has probably chosen the Democratic State ticket. The House is Republican. The Republicans have a majority on joint ballot of six. The legislature will elect a Republican U. S. Senator.

Kansas gives the Republicans 20,000 majority. Further returns indicate the election of Sidney Clark to the United States Senate, in place of Ross. There are numerous candidates, among whom are Clark, Walker, Kalloch, Ex-Gov. Carney and Ross. The legislature stands on a joint ballot—107 republicans to 16 democrats.

Iowa is heavily Republican. The Congressional majorities are—McGeary, in the first, 3166; Collins, in the second, for full term, 4248; Wolfe, to fill vacancy, 6907; Conners, in the third, 4966; Walden, in the fourth, 4592; Palmer, in the fifth, 7382; Orr, in the sixth, 10,507.

The national democratic committee foot up 107 democratic members of the next house.

SKILLED NURSES.—We urged attention some months ago to the business, or rather profession, of educated nurses as a path open for women which would insure them work that would demand their best powers of body and mind, and at the same time pay them a safe and comfortable income. From the number of letters which we have received since then on the subject we are confirmed in our opinion of the imperative need of such calling for a large class of women who are not illiterate and yet not capable of teaching or any artistic pursuit, and the fulness with which this work meets such need.

Many women in our own knowledge have studied during the summer to fit themselves for the occupation but found an almost insuperable difficulty in the way of obtaining instruction or preparatory practice, there being only one institution which would furnish either in the country—that in Philadelphia, which could admit only a limited number. The subject has attracted attention also in England, and provision is making for as thorough training of nurses as that of physicians.

A late writer in Fraser, discussing the demand for educated women in the sick room, places the proper maximum price for a skilled nurse at three guineas per day, which is certainly higher than they are at all likely to obtain. "A gentleman who educates his daughter as a nurse," the writer says, "has provided for her future as securely as for that of his son to whom he has given a profession."

However this may be, the fact here is that so long as there is sickness there will be a constant demand for nurses, and the prices now paid to even illiterate, incompetent women who fill the posts are higher than those commanded by ordinary teachers. The women are waiting, and so is the work, and nothing is needed but the education to bring them together. Will not some of our pioneers in works of charity take this work in hand, and furnish the missing link before winter begins? To place the means of self-help in the hand of the needy is assuredly worth treble the sum expended in alms. Besides, the expense here is small.

In the institution inaugurated by Warrington, some twenty years ago, in Philadelphia, the machinery of charity is, with true Quaker shrewdness and wisdom, made to react upon itself so as to become almost self-supporting. Two months is enough for a capable and alert woman to fit herself for the business; education under the best physicians and boarding are furnished at a nominal sum; a lying-in department provides at the same time practice to her and attention to a large number of charity patients; while the house, becoming a home for the trained nurses when out of work, pays a large share of its own expenses.

We hope to see a similar institution started before cold weather begins in New York. It would accomplish more good for women than a dozen Conventions to discuss their condition. In a week it would be crowded with applicants ready to be taught how to use their heads and hands effectively, while at the same time it would supply a deficiency long felt among us, by furnishing a place where skilled aid could certainly be found in time of illness or sudden peril.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ Austria has been officially notified that Russia would no longer observe the treaty of 1856, touching the neutrality of the Black Sea. This is construed as a notice of a speedy advance on the part Russia towards Constantinople.

☞ The treaty of 1856, which the telegraph says Russia has notified Austria that she repudiates, was settled at a council of the nations of Europe, at which the representatives of England, Prussia, Austria, Russia, France and Italy were present. It was made to settle the "Eastern Question," and by its terms forbid either Russia or Turkey from putting more than five vessels of war on the Black Sea, and held that sea to be a neutral water. By the repudiation of it Russia virtually declares war against Turkey.

PERSONAL.—Bret Harte is a native of Albany, N. Y.

Miss Sarah Russell has become the city editor of the New Haven Palladium.

☞ The $100,000 prize in the San Francisco Mercantile Library Lottery has been paid. The holder of the prize authorized the disbursement of $10,000 for charities, $5000 in San Francisco and $5000 in New York.

—There is one fat man less in Cincinnati. He drank two gallons of sweet cider, pocketed the wager, rose, chuckled, tried to make a remark, and fell over on the floor. That night he perished miserably, having earned the apple-ation of sui-cider.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THOUSANDS HAVE BEEN CHANGED by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP (a protoxide of iron) from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. For Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific. 1wn14

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It also cures the worst lingering Coughs, at the same time strengthening and purifying the whole system. Remember that Dr. Pierce's private U. S. Government Revenue Stamp bearing upon it his portrait, name and address, is upon every bottle of the Genuine. Sold by druggists.

☞ POMEROY'S DEMOCRAT has the largest circulation of any political paper in the world. It is thoroughly democratic; contains, each week, political editorials from "Brick" POMEROY, such as no other man can or dare write; Pomeroy's Saturday night chapters, and social chats with friends; Terrence McGrant's letters; full and correct financial and commercial reports; mining and agricultural departments, and general news, rendering it a first-class family paper.

Subscription price $2.50. Send for specimen copies and circulars, with premium lists and club rates. Address M. M. POMEROY, editor and proprietor, or C. P. STEES, publisher, P. O. Box 5,217, N. Y. city. 11daw

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, | Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul and Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these Bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an unloubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an increased advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 30 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The coupons, payable semi-annually, at the Bank, in Boston, cannot fail to command a premium, when only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to a National Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of those Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A National Medicine.

One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Prof. So-and-so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. At the outset all medical preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in diseases of the throat, bowels and liver. In that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburgh, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor.—Extracts from the Muscatine Courier, Iowa, Feb. 7, 1867. m12dawlw

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 24 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. daw2mn9

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

DR. STRAIT'S

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE,"

With this FLEXIBLE EDGE the suction of atmospheric plates can be made so strong, that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruction; and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, pears, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyances, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of sneezing, eating, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how irregular the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same—

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

FOR HOT AIR FURNACES.

This invention has now been thoroughly tested for Four Years, and is offered to the Public as a perfect remedy for the Inconveniences, Dangers and Annoyances arising from Furnaces as ordinarily managed. Some of its advantages are.

1st. A sure Remedy for the Escape of Gas or Smoke through the House.
2d. An Economy in the use of Coal.
3d. It prevents Clinkers and the necessity of Sifting Ashes.
4th. Insures all Danger against Fire from an overheated Furnace.
5th. Gives uniformity of Temperature with every change of the Weather, saving care and time in the Management of the Furnace.

In order to gain these advantages, it is only necessary to kindle the fire, supply the coal and leave the Furnace, without regard to the Drafts, to the "GOVERNOR."

Oliver Jones plff. in review, vs. Joseph W. Perkins and Daniel W. Ladd, Jr., was next tried. This was an action to recover for meat sold. Ladd is defaulted, and Perkins defends, denying his liability as a co-partner with Ladd. This action is now tried in review. It was tried here a year ago Unfinished. Hopkins and Small for plff., Wood for Perkins.

Communication.

FOR CONGRESS.—The Chronicle has hardly given a very clear indication of the real state of the case in the First District, it seems to me, but if straws show which way the wind blows, readers may differ about the fact, that of five prominent men who were in attendance on Court here recently,—in "marking" for the candidate they regarded strongest for Congress, three named Gordon, one each, Small and Wheeler. Allow me to add that those who deem Mr. Gordon aristocratic or illiberal, (either in head or heart,) do not know the man.

Yours, FACT.

ROBBERY AT RYE.—Our correspondent R. writes that the dwelling house of Mr. John P. Philbrick, near the west school-house, was broken into by some person or persons during the absence of the family at church on Sunday, and robbed of some money, the exact amount of which is not at present ascertained.

The thieves obtained access by means of a window on the back part of the house, and then forced a door which led into the parlor, and took the money from a desk which was in that room. The amount taken was not very large, and no clue has as yet been obtained to the thieves.

The commissioner of pensions has directed the organization of the board of examining surgeons at Concord, to be as follows:—Dr. W. D. Buck, President; Dr. A. A. Moulton, Secretary and Treasurer.

The trial of Rev. Charles Greenword, of Plymouth, on the charge of arson, commenced in that town, in the Supreme Judicial Court, on Monday last, and will probably be concluded before the last of this week. The accused has lately been engaged as an insurance insurance agent.

On the 7th, Mr. Gilman Kimball of Manchester lost two valuable heifers from their eating too much salt. The cattle had been to pasture and were so greedy that they caused their own end. Their bodies swelled and their agony was intense till death ensued.

Mr. Edmund Freeman of Dover, Ex-Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, was presented with an $85 watch, chain and seal, on the 5th, by the firemen of that city.

At the Supreme Judicial Court in Lancaster, thirty-seven indictments for liquor selling were found. Ten of the respondents pleaded guilty, and were fined $50 and costs.

The Gazette says that Mr. John C. Cochrane, formerly of Nashua, is superintending architect of the new capitol of the State of Iowa.

Steps are being taken to establish a free public library in Wilton. Ten citizens have subscribed $100 each as the starting point or nucleus for one.

THE BOTTOM FELL OUT.—A singular circumstance occurred near a small station named Basket, on the Delaware division of the Erie Railway, recently. About three acres of land, heavily timbered with hemlock, occupying an elevated position, suddenly sank to the depth of about forty feet, leaving the tops of trees just visible above the surface. The sinking was accompanied by a loud crash, which died away in a dull rumble, heard at a considerable distance. The trees are standing in their natural position, having evidently experienced no particular injury in their descent. It is usual when such freaks of nature occur for the sunken earth to be immediately submerged by volumes of water, but in this instance no such phenomenon attends.

☞ The compact which was signed in the cabin of the Mayflower, Nov. 21, 1620, contained the germ of all the civil liberty now enjoyed in the world. It is fitting that the descendants of those far-seeing, self-denying men, on the coming 250th anniversary of this great epoch in their history, should appropriately observe it.

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

OF THE

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,

Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,

Cashier First National Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

SHOOTING THE RAPIDS
ON THE COLUMBIA RIVER.

Floating down the great Columbia, I grew very lazy. Four miles there was nothing to change the sameness of the view—hills, and little points of rocks jutting out into the water; now and then a long strip of bunch-grass land; here some Indians were fishing; there large bands of cattle and horses, owned by Indians; now and then an Indian garden; but nothing grand. I got very tired of it, so went to building a few more air-castles, and seeing how much tobacco the Indian in the bow of the boat would smoke. Then I watched a white man washing gold on one of the many "bars" we passed; went ashore to talk to him. I lay on a log, and he told me some admirable lies. He is, without any doubt, the grandest liar in America. I just had to start him on any subject, and he was sure to lie in the most astounding manner about it. He lied about the river, about the gold he was getting, about the land, about the snakes, about every mortal and immortal thing he could think of. I was too lazy to contradict him or even doubt his word; (likewise, he was much larger than I, but when he said he had killed snakes sixty feet long on the Columbia, I thought it time for me to paddle.

He said as I got into the canoe, "Stranger, thar is a bad bit of water at the Hell Gate. Look out!" I thought he was lying, and so only nodded to him. What's the Hell Gate? I found out before long. At Hell Gate (and a more fitting name I never could think of,) the river narrows down to half its usual width, and there are three large rocks in the stream, making it still smaller. The water is forced through the passages with great force and rapidity, most of it taking the left passage. At sight of it I "peeled" and thought that if I got ashore with my skin, I would let my shirt and tobacco go to the dogs. I paddled that canoe—I paddled until I thought the skin across my back would surely give way. Two hundred pounds were put in every stroke, and I made about eighty per minute. The rocky banks looked as though they were being dragged back at railroad speed. Hurrah! through the Gate of Hell without shipping a drop of water! I looked back and hugged myself, took a smoke, I bragged like a mosquito about it, all to myself. It is a flip of a cent which I had rather do, run Spokane Canon or the Hell Gate; and I would rather walk ten miles than do either again.

Dressed and floated down the river in my lazy manner, enjoying the air, my pipe, and looking forward to my supper of bacon and flour with the greatest satisfaction, I saw a house on the bank, and went there—found two white men, and as it was late decided to camp. The men gave me onions, peas, corn, melons and coffee. I had a rare meal. After supper I went up to the house to talk and smoke. I wonder what makes the men of this river so profane, and so exceedingly inaccurate in their statements. These two outlied the noble liar I meet in the morning. They told me the wonderful tales, and, of course I believe them. One told me about the Columbia River Canon I would pass through about noon the next day; told me of the great number of men who had found a path to kingdom come, in those waters—of the Hudson's Bay canoe men that had been lost there; and seeing that I was a bit anxious, he ruined all by saying that he had seen great cedar trees broken in two by the whirlpools in the canon. That tree was a little more than I could take in, and as I don't like to reject a part of the tale I just set all his description down as one magnificent lie, and himself as a very promising young Baron Munchausen.

In the morning I started off with great contempt for the canon—but still the feeling grew on me that the Baron could not have made up all of the tales. So when I heard the rush of the water beyond a rocky point, I stripped to the skin, covered myself with a blanket, and lay back, looking at the water getting faster and faster, and the river getting narrower and narrower; I noticed that the high water line was far above the banks, or rather far above the present water; so I knew the canon must be very narrow to pile back the water in that manner. My courage was still good until I saw the water foam and boil up, and then retire into a whirlpool, and rush madly down the stream, fairly howling for something to stick in. I "weakened." I wanted to go ashore, but saw that one could not get away from the spot he landed at, owing to the nature of the banks. I grabbed the paddles, and that canoe had a very anxious white man in it. There in front of us, hiding from our eyes, was an infernal point of rocks, 'round which the river curved, and there I supposed from the noise the real canon commenced.

When there it was a picture for a painter. Two naked Indians and one naked white man—the Indians standing up—I on my knees—all with uplifted paddles—all bent forward and with tightly compressed lips—all looking anxiously at the point and wondering what was beyond it. 'Round we came at a ten mile per hour gait. There in the centre of the narrowed river was a mound of water at least ten feet high, and that mound seemed to be the signal for the waters to break into waves, whirlpools and foam. In went the paddles and we shot a little to the left of the rock that formed the the mound, and then I saw that I was in for it. As far as the eye could reach the water was white. I said to myself, "Good-bye wife and baby, father and all, I am salmon bait; sure as shooting; I will see Mary and Bayard to-night;" and then I grew a bit reckless, and thought I might as well enjoy the novel trip till we went under, still meaning to get out, if work would take me out. Far above our heads, at least 30 feet, were the platforms, from which the Indians spear the salmon in high water. The water had fallen about one-half; so the canon was not near as bad as it is at times. Then I paddled and looked about me, and yelled and got excited, and lost all fear and enjoyed it. I took hastily a chew of tobacco. I got a drink of water.

Suddenly the water boiled up just under us. We were hall filled in about a second. Not time to bail out. Shove those paddles into the water and do it almighty fast and strong, or we will be sucked under! We made about three quarters of a turn around the whirlpool, and then, with an effort, got into the white water where the great waves were, and away the canoe went like a frightened race-horse. It was glorious! The fighting at Cold Harbor, North Anna, Petersburg, was tame in comparison. In fifteen minutes we were through four miles of canon—canoe full of water—blankets gone—clothes all wet—so was my flour and tobacco. I shook my fist at the canon and taunted it. I was very brave then; but, little women, I don't ride through that canon again. I was a fool for doing it—yes, an ignorant fool.

GREAT EXCITEMENT ABOUT SEWING MACHINES.

"The Best Fruit Gets the Most Stones!"

It is not always the article that is sold the most which is the best, oft-times proving the greatest humbugs in the end.

THE ÆTNA

is not one of the last named, as is demonstrated to a fact, and it does not depend on the amount of its "blows" to introduce it, but upon its merits. I do not advertise Ten Dollars discount on Machines sold before January 1st, 1871, thereby to make it sell, because it has need let no such propelling motion since its introduction here. Call and see this Wonderful Machine—"a silent monitor of its own perfection"—and satisfy yourself as to price and quality in comparison with all others advertised.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL.

FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unprecedented success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable. They invigorate the debilitated, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Disturbed Sleep, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Sate in their operation, powerful in their happy influence upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization.

S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAN LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands entirely decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on any hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, TWELVE APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners of this city, I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of greattalent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to secure the services of this gentleman as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

New Hampshire Items.

The teachers' institute, held at Littleton last week, was one of the most successful ever held in Grafton County.

The trustees of the New Hampton institution have established a commercial department in connection with the school, for the training of young men and women in book-keeping, and all departments of actual business.

The coroner's jury, in the case of Mrs. Samuel Marble, who was found dead in the bar-room of a house of bad repute in Palistow, on Monday morning, have returned a verdict of "death by blows in the side, causing a rupture of the liver, inflicted by some person or persons unknown to the jury." The husband of the victim and a man named Sullivan have been arrested.

The catalogue for Dartmouth College for 1870–71 shows a total of 436 students, classified as follows:—Medical students, 44; academical department—seniors, 72; juniors, 66; sophomores, 85; freshmen, 82; scientific department—first class, 12; second 11; third, 31; fourth, 23; agricultural department—seniors, 3; middles, 2; juniors, 4; Thayer department, 1.

A GALLANT OFFICER.—On the recent voyage of the U. S. steamer Ossipee to San Francisco, an incident occurred which deserves to be recorded. On the morning of the 12th of October, when the vessel was steaming along at the rate of five knots, with strong winds blowing, and while making sail, the main-top-sail halyards parted, and the yard fell, precipitating the "captain of the top" into the sea. In falling he struck the rigging twice. Lieut.-Commander N. Mayo Dyer, navigating officer, was standing on the poop deck at the time, taking his morning observation, and saw the "captain" fall. Believing that the man had been stunned by the fall and seriously injured, Mr. Dyer jumped overboard and swam to him. He managed to tie a rope thrown to him around the drowning man's body and had him hoisted on board. This noble and daring act on the part of the officer, risking his own life to save another, was hailed with gratification by all on board, and he was greeted on his return with hearty thanks. Commodore Taylor proposes to make a report of this heroic conduct to the Secretary of the Navy.

☞ Joe Jefferson's engagement at Booth's Theatre, New York, is a peculiar one—it being without limitation. It is to continue indefinitely; in other words, as long as Jefferson wishes. The terms between him and Booth are that they share the receipts after deducting $500 a night to pay the expenses of the house. There have often been in the theatre $2300 to $2400 audiences; so that Jefferson has had for his share $900 and $950 a night. At a profit of from $4000 to $5000 a week almost any one might afford to play Rip Van Winkle; and Jefferson adheres to it, especially since the public insists on its constant repetition.

☞ We invite attention to the advertisement in another column, of The Great American Tea Co., of New York City. The hint to parties to get up clubs for their goods is worthy of notice. This company has been established for ten years, and their numerous patrons give them full credit for reliability, promptness and fair dealing, and all testify to the excellent quality and low price of their goods. As they warrant all their goods to give satisfaction or refund the money and expenses, no risk is run in sending them an order.

☞ D. M. of Newmarket sends the solution of the Cowcatcher Question. One cow sells for $25 and the other for $36.25.

ASHES IN AN APPLE ORCHARD.—The Maryland Farmer, in a talk about orchards, says:

We consider the ashes of hard wood, unleached, worth thirty cents per bushel to mingle with the soil used in setting apple trees for an orchard, and in prossing the surface of the land for a space of three to four feet in a belt around each tree, extending from the outer margin of the hole in which the trees are set. We have found great benefit in placing them on the surface of the ground, near the trunks of the trees, for a succession of seasons after they were set.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So completely is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 16, 1870.

ANOTHER WAR SPECK.—Russia's neutrality in the present European war is explained. She wishes to obtain the freedom of the Dardanelles and the Black Sea. The treaty of 1856 was made by England, Prussia, Austria, France, Russia and Italy, and limits the number of Russian vessels on the Black Sea to five. France was the principal power that Russia feared, should the abrogation or modification of the treaty be attempted. France is engaged in a life and death struggle, exerting all her energies now to drive the Prussian invaders from her soil. The weakness of France is Russia's opportunity. Austria, England and Italy are not feared. The latter power has Rome on her hands and may be too busy to care what Russia does. Prussia has no disposition or power to interfere, and Russia's friendship during the present war against France is politic as well as real.

England, which claimed, by the destruction of the Russian navy by the Allies in 1854-5, to have become the "mistress of the seas," now quakes at the possible consequences of the overthrow of the ally without whom the Russian navy would have not been destroyed, and shudders at the approaching crisis, which brings either desolation or disgrace. Austria, almost powerless, afraid of Prussia and Russia, remembering the thrashing the former administered in 1866, trembles and sees no safety but in neutrality or a fruitless alliance with Great Britain. That kingdom finds its own people opposed to its truckling and contemptible policy. The masses openly sympathize with the Republic of France and are thundering about the royal ears with unspeakable meaning.

The crowns of sovereigns sit loosely on their heads to-day, and even the Queen of England may take warning from Napoleon. Looking abroad, the whiffling Gladstone government finds no sympathy and but little respect. The United States government thoroughly represents the people on the Alabama question. Its friendship is alienated. France remembers that America and Americans sympathize with the Republic and that England's course has been cowardly as well as unfriendly in the present war. Prussia complains of England's course in supplying materials of war for the French, for England's selfishness overcomes her prejudice when money is to be made. The friendship between Russia and America is well established.

Russia has nothing to fear in comparison to the advantages to be gained by immediate action. The Dardanelles and the Black Sea are within her grasp. England's former power inspired respect; her present helplessness and treacherous policy breed but contempt. The fruit is ripe, everything is propitious and the gigantic preparations of Russia for war do not mean an alliance with France. Now the English statesmen are excited. They perceive that with their own rope they have hung themselves. To fight or not to fight; that's the question. To retain any hold on the people, they must first win their respect. This may be done by war, if successful. Should Great Britain enter the fight, she will find the sympathies of the great nations with her opponents; should she decline, she can have but little influence hereafter in European affairs, and will dwindle into insignificance.

THE ELECTIONS FOR THE NEXT CONGRESS are completed with few exceptions. The result as compared with the present Congress we give below.

These members of the next House, added to those previously chosen, make 130 Republicans and 93 Democrats, giving a Republican majority thus far of 37. Elections are yet to be held in Georgia, which votes in December; in Connecticut, next April; New Hampshire, next March, and California and Texas in February. These States elects twenty-one members, who will probably comprise 12 Republicans and 9 Democrats, which would make the total of the House 142 Republicans to 102 Democrats, giving a Republican majority of 40.

THE ELECTION RETURNS from 94 counties in Missouri give Brown, for governor, 41,588 majority, and the remaining 20 counties will probably add 1200 to this.

Official returns of the Louisiana elections show that the Republicans made a clean sweep of New Orleans by over 5000 majority. The Republicans claim 4 members of Congress. The fifth district is doubtful.

The Republicans lose the single election district in New York city which they claimed to have carried, it having been decided that John Cary, Democrat, is elected by 30 majority over Horatio N. Twombly. The democrats now claim 3 majority in the assembly.

THE WAR.—The rapidity of Garibaldi's movements are inimitable. In 48 hours after receiving orders to quit Dole, his whole force was in posession of the department of Saone et Loire. The movement was made by railway, and occupied seventeen hours. The troops filled one hundred carriages.

The victorious Paladine is now executing a movement designed to outflank Von der Tann's right.

Bismark strenuously advocates shooting all captured balloonists. Pity some balloonist wouldn't shoot him.

The announced intention of Russia to break from former treaties causes natural distrust throughout Europe, and alarm in Austria and England. A defensive alliance between Austria and England is probable.

A special dispatch to the New York Herald says: A mammoth inundation of the surrounding country began yesterday. For four miles is one broad lake, ruining the village of Lambros, which is entirely deserted. Five hundred families were driven away by the flood. Windows and doors of houses are walled up to keep out the waters. The zone of the inundation is 11 miles wide, and completely encircles Dousi. Over fifty thousand persons will be made homeless when the inundations are completed.

The French victory at Athernay is confirmed. The battle was a desperate one and was commenced by the French. The Prussians made a hurried retreat. A large body of Bavarians surrendered.

There was great enthusiasm in Austria, over the French victory at Orleans.

The siege of Paris is a gigantic mistake, says Odi Russell, an English ambassador, now at Versailles.

Russia has sixty iron-clad gunboats in the Black Sea ready for use.

☞ It does not require the Monitor to tell the people in this part of the State anything of Mr. Kendrick. Portsmouth has stockholders, employees and patrons of the Railroad who respect Mr. Kendrick as a business man and like him as a friend. No man ever left the State whose departure was more regretted in Portsmouth, and it is singular that the paper which has so stoutly supported the so-called "ring," should be so obtuse as to suppose that the Chronicle intended the squib to which it refers other than in the way that "Jimmy" or any other good natured man would receive it.

☞ Minister Motley has been peremptorily recalled, and Mr. Moran is to attend to our business at the court of St. James. Politicians who are listened to by the President are advising him to adopt a policy toward England which will be likely to lead to grave issues. The friends of one gentleman who was offered the English mission have asserted that he declines because unwilling to undertake forcing a settlement of the Alabama claims at the peril of involving the country in war.

☞ A naval battle off Havana between the Prussian steamer Meteor and the French corvette Bouvet, resulted in a victory for the Prussians. Both vessels are repairing at Havana.

NAVAL.—Orders have been received at the Brooklyn Navy Yard to fit out, with all possible dispatch, the frigates Minnesota, Tennessee and Shawmut.

☞ When will Superintendent Prescott put on that talked-of 3:30 train to connect with the Newburyport train for Boston? Our citizens desire it very much.

☞ The advertised sale of the stock of groceries belonging to the M. P. Union Association, is postponed until further notice.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

CERTIFICATE OF AN EMINENT CHEMIST. I have made a careful chemical analysis of the SOZODONT, from an impartial sample purchased by me personally, from a leading drug house of this city, but nothing of an injurious or objectionable character has been found in its composition. "SCALDING'S GLUE," useful and true.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A National Medicine.

One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Prof. So-and-so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. At the outset all medical preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in disease of the throat, bowels and liver. In that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburgh, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor.—Extracts from the Muscatine Courier, Iowa, Feb. 7, 1867. n11dawlw

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. daw2mn9

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Dr. Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

THE VOTE on the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad project in this city will be almost unanimous, next Tuesday. Our citizens generally are quite earnest in advocating the scheme. There will probably be no serious opposition to the Republican ticket if the nominations to be made this week are acceptable to the party. This would seem to indicate a small vote in the city; but we hope that the Railroad question will bring out a large vote of both parties in the affirmative. We do not hear of any citizen who will vote in the negative, and should like to record an affirmative vote of 2000.

PERSONAL.—Mr. George W. Fernald and family have returned home from Iowa. Mr. Fernald has been engaged in business in California, Kentucky, and Iowa for the past 20 years or more, and is to go into business in this city.

Mr. Albert Emery has returned from New Orleans.

Mr. Ezra H. Winchester has tile-drained the extensive mowing field in front of his residence on Lafayette Road, and has filled most of the ditches, making it the largest and handsomest lawn in this part of the country. Mr. W. left on Friday, for San Francisco, to be absent for a few months, to look after the extensive business interests of the house of Main & Winchester in that city. Success attend him.

☞ The Japanese Troupe hold high jinks at the Temple this (Wednesday) evening. Slack and tight-rope performances, feats of strength and agility, legerdemain, top-spinning and dancing are among the attractions.

Bret Harte says "the heathen Chinese are pecooliar," and he might have added the "Japanese." "For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain," that is as far as finding out their tricks is concerned, commmed us to the Royal Japanese Satsuma. Such cat-like youths in all their notions as the two little fellows who turn themselves inside out, and get into tubs which the healthy looking big Japanese holds in his teeth with a jaw whose power is greater than that of all womankind combined, we have never beheld, while the balancing, posturing top spinning, ect., are all wonderful. We were glad to see such a crowded house. Portland Press.

S. J. COURT, Tuesday.—Jones plff. in review v. Ladd and Perkins. The jury returned a verdict against Perkins. Ladd previously defaulted. Damages $31.74.

Jenness v. Wendell was resumed and finished. The case goes to the Law Term on a question of law. Hackett for plff., Hatch for deft.

Jos. H. Veasey v. John P. Treadwell was commenced, and the plff.'s case put in. The action is brought to recover the amount of Treadwell's check on the Hide & Leather Bank, and for protests, expenses to Boston, &c., amounting to $312.91.

The defendant contends that the check was given in payment for a horse purchased of Vesey which proved unsound. The plff. says that the horse was sound when delivered, and if lamed, it was done while in the deft.'s custody. Hatch and Page for plff., Marston for deft.

Thompson, who stole a team from H. R. Stoddard, and has been travelling in Maine since his departure from jail a short time ago, was brought into Court, and retracted his former plea and plead guilty. The Court made enquiries of the prisoner as to his antecedents, and he acknowledged that he had been before accused of such practices, but had been acquitted,—"acquitted once for two years!" The Court enquired of City Marshal Hill of Biddeford, as to the prisoner, who claims to be a youth, but has a bad record. He was sentenced to five years in State Prison.

A BAD STICK.—John L. Thompson, alias about twenty other names, who broke jail here on Friday evening, Oct. 28th, has returned, having had quite a time since he left here. On escaping from the jail, he hurried on foot to So. Berwick, where he arrived in time to catch the night freight train east, on which he rode to Brunswick, where he took another train for Bath. Stopping in the latter town Saturday night, he on Sunday morning hired a team for a little drive; but as it wasn't quite good enough for him he procured another one, worth some $600, from another stable, and drove off. He took the team to Auburn, and left it there, leaving the town himself the following (Monday) morning.

City Marshal Hill of Biddeford went on his track the night that he left Portsmouth, and followed him up closely, finding the team he left at Auburn, on Tuesday. Since then nothing has been seen of him until Sunday morning last, when he was arrested at Augusta by City Marshal Farrington of that place. His real name is John T. Longfellow, but he is better known down in Maine as the "second Jack Shepard," from his constant habit of breaking out of jail; and no little credit is due the Biddeford City Marshal for his skill and successful persistence in following up the chase. Mr. Hill went to Augusta on Monday and took the rogue into his charge, arriving in this city with him on Tuesday.

After Mr. Hill had secured his man, he asked him what his object was in breaking out. His answer was, "Who could blame me? I had asked for my trial, and the jailor had told me that they were all ready, but they did not try me; and I thought that I had fooled around that old jail long enough, and I would step out. Thought it no harm to let them know I didn't want to stop there any longer." Mr. Thompson cannot complain much of the law's delay now, for on the occasion of his present visit to our city he arrived by the 11 o'clock A. M. train from the eastward, and by half-past 3 P. M. had received a sentence to 5 years in the State Prison. By our S. J. Court report it will be seen that he was "acquitted once for two years," on a similar charge. He is a slippery customer, and his moral education must have been shockingly neglected in the days of his innocent boyhood.

He was one of a gang of four who were arrested in a freight car at the depot in this city by City Marshal Johnson, four years ago, for a burglary in Kennebunk. The gang fought the officer, but he used his club vigorously and captured the lot. Thompson was sentenced to two years in the Maine State prison at that time, and served out his sentence; but he has at different times broken out of Alfred jail, and half the other jails in Maine. Half the enterprise he displays in stealing and in breaking jail, if properly directed would make him a useful member of society.

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul and Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the sale of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

Morning Chronicle.

A WHOLE ISLAND OF SILVER.

We have before alluded to the Silver Island of the north shore of Lake Superior, in the British possessions, just below Thunder Cape, and some fifteen miles beyond Fort William. The Island is quite small in dimensions—say 100 feet by 40—and the most of it is submerged at high water—a small part at one end is about eight feet above the lake level. This island was entered by the Montreal Mining Company as part of a tract embracing 108,000 acres, and the island was subsequently purchased of them by Capt. William B. Frew (formerly of Port Lake, and superintendent of the South Pewabic copper mine) for himself and associates, including among them Major Sibley of New York, a brother, we think, of Gen. Sibley of St. Paul.

The Montreal Mining Company first made the discovery that the island contained silver, and by their agents sunk a shaft on the island; but these knew little or nothing about mining and the water coming in upon them, further working of the mine was abandoned as useless. It was only last summer that Captain F. and his company completed their bargain with the Montreal company for the island, and secured it by paying, or agreeing to pay $250,000 for the entire 108,000 acres. They went immediately to work at improving the mine in a "workmanlike manner." Their first step was to surround the island with cribs of timber, filled with stone, to serve as a breakwater and ice-breaker; and within these cribs a coffer-dam was built, and puddled with clay, having the effect of making the whole interior of the island nearly water tight, at least from the intrusion of the lake.

The next step was to set up two large syphon pumps worked by steam, by which the inside was pumped dry, or nearly so, and it has since been found that a very little working of the pumps daily keeps the island clear of water entirely. Then they went to work laying bare the vein; and now have exposed seventy feet in length, and find it to be a true fissure vein, with perpendicular walls—the vein of silver matrix being calcerous spar with some little quartz intermixed. The vein is eight feet wide, and eye-witnesses from there, state that for one-quarter of this width it will average seventy per cent. of pure silver.

On the first trial, after the water was gotten out, six men took out $35,000 worth of silver in four days; and up to the latest accounts the working has been continued at above this rate. Already 123 barrels of native silver, estimated to be worth $75,000 to $100,000, have been shipped. The yield of the mine, computed by the ton, is not less than a dollar to the pound! The mine employs about forty men, and the company will increase their force immediately.

The "royalty" paid on this to the English Government is quite small—not exceeding one-twentieth. Eye-witnesses of intelligence, judgment and experience report that Captain Frew will probably take out, of silver, up to the opening next spring, from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 in money value!

The steamer Meteor conveyed down the lakes, on her trip before last, sixty-two barrels of silver. This silver island is no humbug, but an actual bona fide affair, in which the most wonderful results have already been obtained, and all bids fair to make it, in yield and richness, the most remarkable mining discovery in this country for many years. Some masses of silver went down on the Meteor larger and heavier than a man could lift. A part of the island vein—say two feet of the eight in width—is wonderfully rich, and it is from this portion that the large masses are extracted. Other rich mines of silver are reported as having been found on the main north shore in the range of the silver island, and Captain Hodson, of Portland Lake, has gone east to organize a company to work them.—Duluth Minnesotian, Oct. 29.

INSTINCT.—Donn Piatt tells the following bucolic story:

I know of an aged ox who gave yet more extraordinary evidences of thought. Old Buck, of the famous firm of Buck & Brindle, had gone through life without being remarked for any intellectual superiority beyond responding slowly and with a certain senatorial dignity to the ordinary commands of "Whoa, gee!" He would close meekly his superb eyes when suffering from the impatient blows of his driver, and when released from work and filled with food he had a certain contemplative look, as if taking his laborious life in a sensible, philosophical way. His owner was therefore astonished to find Old Buck one morning guarding a breach in the corn-field fence. He watched him for a while in perfect amazement. The cattle had not only broken through the fence, but the tracks in the soft earth showed that they had been driven out again. Before this opening the faithful old Nestor of the farm walked to and fro like a sentinel, lowering his long sharp horns in preparation to charge whenever the hungry cattle made a move toward the tempting corn. By what instinctive process did the old ox come to the quick conclusions that prompted him to this faithful protection of his master's property? and what more have we in the way of reasoning powers that makes us liable to debt here and damnation hereafter.

NEW FAMILY SINGER SEWING MACHINE

Has proved itself the best for all classes and kinds of operators and work.

All that persons need to do to satisfy themselves of this is to enquire of those who have used them the most.

They Hem, Braid, Tuck, Quill, Cord, Embroider, Fringes, Ruffle, Fell, Puff, Gather, Fagot, Trim, Bind.

☞ They are light running, easy to learn and keep in order, and for durability unrivaled.

☞ They will stitch equally well the heaviest beaver or the thinnest muslin, in fact they will do every useful work that mechanical skill has yet perfected in the Sewing art.

☞ These celebrated Machines are Sold for Cash or on the installment principle, as best suits convenience of the purchaser, at the Regular Agency for Portsmouth, Kittery, York, Eliot, Newcastle, Rye, Hampton, North Hampton, Hampton Falls, Greenland and Seabrook.

No. 2 Chestnut St., Portsmouth,

J. J. FESSENDEN, Agent.

CAUTION.—Beware of all pretended agents or of those who pretend to sell all kinds, as no other person has an agency for the above named city and towns from the Singer Manufacturing Company. n9 J. J. FESSENDEN.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL,
FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions, they invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they are a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Sale in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization. S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAN LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

JOSH BILLINGS.—From his Farmer's Allminaz.—The cockroach iz a bug at large. He iz one ov the luxurys ov civilizashun. The cockroach iz born on the fust of May, and the fust ov November semi-annually, and iz reddy for use in fifteen days from date. They are born four from each egg, and consequently they are all twins; there iz no sich thing in the annals ov nature, as a single cockroach. Their food seems to consist, not so much ov what they eat, az what they kan git into, and often finding them ded, in the soup, at mi boarding house, I have cum tew the painful conclusion that the cockroach kan't swim, but he can float a long time.

To make good sharp pickles, whittle oph both ends ov them tew a pint.

It iz human to err, but devilish few brag on it.

Tew git red of cockroaches, sell your house and lot, and flee tew the mountains.

A dog is the only thing on earth that luvs you more than he luvs himself.

Opinyuns are like turnips, worth what they will fetch.

When yu find a man who iz very solisitus about the welfare ov everybody, you kan safely put him down az one who iz hunting for a fortune.

Don't undertake tew liv with yur mother-in-law but if wuss cums tew a wussness, let yure mother-in-law liv with yu.

Every time a man lafs he takes a kink out ov the chain ov life, and thus lengthens it.

A coquett in love iz as tame as a bottle of pop that haz stood sum time with the cork pulled out.

I don't kno ov enny thing more remorseless, on the face of earth—than 7 per cent. interest.

Three skore years and ten iz man's furlo, and it iz enuff—if a man kan't suffer all the misery he wants in that time, he must be numb.

What men kant do they are very apt to admire—they don't criticise a mountain bekause they kant make one.

There iz nothing like a sick bed for repentance, a man bekun so virtewous he will often repent ov sins that he never committed.

Grate transgreshuns seem tew baptize themselfs—if the devil only had been gilty ov pettit larceny, he never would hav bin heard ov again.

The man who wont beleave enny thing he can't see, aint so wize az a mule, for they will kick at a thing in the dark.

BRIDAL TROUSSEAU.—"Jennie June," who is good authority on things of this character, writes as follows:

The European war has upset many plans and calculations, among them those of brides, who had intended having their trousseau sent direct from Paris. Of course they can be made here, but the cost for the same quality of fine embroidery and hand stitching would be three times as much, and it would be difficult to get it done at all.

Fine hand sewing brings a much higher price than machine sewing, while hand embroidery, if done in this country, can only be obtained at enormous rates, but abroad labor is still so cheap, especially that done by women, that the tedious work of weeks and months hardly brings enough return to keep life in the poor fingers that execute it. Fine linen drawers, exquisitely embroidered upon the material, and durable as the linen itself, can be sold here of European make for five dollars per pair, but could not be afforded for ten dollars if the work was executed in this country.

There is one point worth noting about French drawers and underskirts, and that is that the bands around the waist are loose, and form drawing cases for strings, which can be loosened or drawn in at pleasure, thus saving an infinitude of trouble in enlarging button bands. Fine tucking and embroidery wrought into the material itself is the most fashionable method of ornamenting chemises and nightgowns, as well as drawers, and is to be commended because it is durable as well as beautiful.

Many ladies include in their orders for a trousseau a dozen fine linen cambric pillow covers, with initial or monogram embroidered in the centre. They are very large, probably six inches in diameter, and cost ten dollars a pair for a simple initial—a monogram which requires a special design costs more.

☞ In Muskingum County, Ohio, a man named Dutton had been out coon hunting, and, after returning home and retiring, dreamed in his uneasy slumber that he had caught the coon and struck it against a tree, killing it. He was awakened by the frantic screams of his wife, and to his horror found that he had picked up his little infant daughter and dashed her against a bed-post, killing her almost instantly.

☞ Corrected census reports give Massachusetts 1,457,385 inhabitants; New Hampshire, 318,300; Rhode Island, 217,256; Connecticut, 537,468; Delaware, 123,252; Michigan, 1,183,511.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is even restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on Patents, rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in ashuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, NOV. 17, 1870.

THE WAR.—The French are following up the recent victories with considerable fervor and dash, and the latest reports from the interior of Paris, where the news of the victories has been officially published, have given a silver lining to the dark cloud of despair that seems to hang over the city.

Gen. de Paladine is, by a decree of the government, appointed commander-in-chief of the army of the Loire. In addition to the forces now organized and on the field, four entrenched camps are to be formed, where, in all, five hundred thousand men may be divided.

Prince Frederick Charles is moving southward to strengthen Gen. Von der Tann.

Dijon has been recaptured by the French, who after a brilliant engagement drove the Prussians from the city. The Prussians are retreating northeast.

The ground at Autun, where Garibaldi's force is, is covered with snow.

A general sortie from Paris is expected about the 18th or 20th, and the preparations to resist an attack are vigorously pressed forward.

The returns from the municipal election in Marseilles foot up as follows: Republican, 29,000; communists, 8000.

Trochu now has equipped 1050 field guns of new and approved patterns. The organization of the three armies into which the garrison is divided are as follows: The first is commanded by General Clement Thomas, and consists of 266 battalions of the national guard sendiare, one legion of artillery and ten squadrons of cavalry. The Duke's force garrison the enciente and numbers 300,000 men. The second army is commanded by General Ducrot and divided into three corps commanded by General Vinoy, Renault and D'Exea. This army consists of eight divisions of infantry and one of cavalry, and numbers 155,000 men, all regulars. Its duties will be to make sorties, or strive to force its way through the Prussian lines and join the army coming from the Loire. The third army is commanded by General Trochu, and comprises seven divisions of infantry and one of cavalry, and numbers 150,000 mobiles and marines. Its duty is to defend the forts and undertake operations near them. Trochu informed the troops in a recent speech that the whole force of the Germans around Paris was only 200,000 men, spread over a circle of investment sixty miles in circumference, and when the proper time arrived he would easily break the attenuated circle. Official reports show provisions sufficient to give fresh meat, bacon, bread and dried vegetables, in all two pounds of solid food per day to each inhabitant until the 29th of January.

TROUBLE BREWING.—A telegram from Vienna announces that England, Turkey, Austria and Italy have agreed to preserve a common attitude toward Russia, and that a collective note to that effect is preparing at Vienna. The threatening attitude of Russia causes a panic in the money circles in that city.

In London, stocks and securities of all kinds are lower, and the markets are flat in view of the crisis on the Eastern question. There is much uneasiness in all circles. The question of an alliance between England, Austria, Italy and Turkey is discussed on all hands. The Times in its editorial remarks on the subject bespeaks disgust and indignation for the Russian circular.

A London telegram says that a British fleet is preparing, and that its object has been announced at Vienna and Florence. The same paper says that the Sultan was not consulted by Russia touching the contemplated revision of the Paris treaty of 1856, but was advised that Russia had demanded it.

☞ Calvin W. Starbuck, founder and practical proprietor of the Cincinnati Daily Times, died suddenly Tuesday morning from disease of the heart. He was 48 years old. He was at his office as usual the day before.

☞ The Tribune estimates the cost of the buildings at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, which must be destroyed in case of its removal, at $10,823,500; and the cost of removing the stores and ordinance at $286,400.

☞ A female tramp has been arrested for setting fire to Savacool's barn in Suffolk County, N. J., which was burnt recently, causing a loss of $6000. The woman did the deed in revenge for being refused shelter.

☞ In the Supreme Court of New York, a suit to recover $7100 against the Adams Express company, for goods burned, was decided against the company.

TRIAL BY JURY.—Somebody once called slavery and polygamy the "twin relics of barbarism." There is another "relic of barbarism" that is quite worthy of being classed with them as a "third twin," so far as being out of date and behind the civilization of the age is concerned,—I allude to that ancient "bulwark of British liberty," trial by jury. I doubt if a single sound argument can be brought forward in favor of keeping up the old custom of having twelve men (intelligent or stupid, honest or dishonest, almost as luck may have it,) to decide questions of facts from evidence brought before them. The antiquity of the custom may be adduced as a reason why we should still adhere to it; but I can see no sense in a man's committing a folly merely because his father and grandfather did the same before him.

Jury trials were of value in protecting the serfs from the rapacity and injustice of the nobles, in the old feudal ages; but they are not needed for that purpose now, and are useless for anything else, — except to still further lengthen out the law's delay, to give rogues a little better chance of escaping the penalty of their mis-doings, and to give honest men a little less chance of obtaining either justice or law.

There is no possible duty of a jury that would not be far better (and more cheaply, because better,) performed by one educated and intelligent judge, or a bench of judges. Juries are supposed to render verdicts according to the evidence presented to them, and this is easy enough to do when the evidence is plain and clear,—in which case it is certain that a judge would decide equally as well. But evidence is often confused and contradictory to the last degree; and in such a case every one must acknowledge that a man whose life has been spent in sifting testimony and observing witnesses would be more likely to arrive at a correct conclusion as to what part of the evidence was worthy of belief and what witnesses were telling the truth, than would any one of "twelve honest men" whose intellects had been unsettled by the conflicting statements, and then completely muddled by the counter arguments of the opposing lawyers.

If all jurors were intelligent and honest men—which is not always the case, —trial by jury would be nothing more than a cumbersome and useless piece of old-fashioned furniture; but as the case stands—when men who are famous only for obstinacy and prejudice, and men who are stupid and men who are immoral, serve on juries and have an equal voice with the best and most honorable citizens in the verdicts rendered, —trial by jury, instead of being a protection to society, is more often a shield for those who prey upon it, and the "best both" of cunning rogues and unscrupulous counsel.

That personal prejudice has much to do with juries' verdicts, is acknowledged every time a juror is excused from sitting on a trial for a capital offence, because he "has conscientious scruples against capital punishment,"—a common occurrence in some places. It is a virtual acknowledgment that prejudice is likely to return a false verdict, in spite of oaths and evidence; and that such is the case is proved by the many instances in which juries disagree where the evidence is perfectly clear, or render decisions directly opposed to both evidence and law.

And a jury's decision, instead of being always the verdict of twelve men, is often really that of but one or two,—the master spirits of the jury, whose superior energy and strength of will enables them to overcome the opposition of their weaker companions; and these men of strong will are generally men of strong prejudices also. If this is incorrect,—if juries are guided only by the evidence they hear in open court, how comes it that they ever settle upon a verdict after having at first disagreed? Do they hear further testimony in the jury-room? If not, then their final verdict is not that of "the jury," but of the members of it who possess most persuasive power, most obstinacy, or even—in cases where the jury are locked up to force them to an agreement—most physical endurance. One man of honor and integrity—such as any of the judges on the New Hampshire bench—would be more likely to give a just decision "according to the evidence" presented, than would ninety-nine out of every hundred juries that could be empannelled. NEW PARTY IN CONCORD.—Gen. Patterson, our efficient U. S. Marshal for the District of New Hampshire, is the father of a wonderful baby, aged 1 year, which he has named (partly for his wife's relative, the late gallant Col. Louis Bell, and partly for his friend and companion in arms, Gen. Gil. Marston,) "Louis Marston Patterson." We learn by the Monitor, that Louis entertained a few of the distinguished members of Concord babydom at the residence of his father, last week. Among the guests we recognize the lively and vivacious Lawrence Thompson, aged 14 months, son of Maj. A. B. Thompson of the Army, who, inheriting his mother's beauty, and his father's gallantry, was a prominent guest and doubtless "kissed young girls before their 'teens,' a way we have in the army."

Col. Peter Sanborn's grand-daughter, a blushing belle of 7 months, and a young scion of Judge Foster at the advanced age of two summers, and others not unknown to fame, were present. The party, which celebrated in good shape the young General's birth day, seems to have gone off without the usual stiffness incident to such occasions, although Concord always succeeds in having agreeable parties. A good time was enjoyed by all, and at five o'clock the cry was raised, "To arms, my braves," and the juveniles called their baby-carriages and departed.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It also cures the worst lingering Coughs, at the same time strengthening and purifying the whole system. Remember that Dr. Pierce's private U. S. Government Revenue Stamp bearing upon it his portrait, name and address, is upon every bottle of the Genuine. Sold by druggists.

THOUSANDS HAVE BEEN CHANGED by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP (a protoxide of Iron) from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. For Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific. 1wn14

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A National Medicine.

One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Prof. So-and-so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. At the outset all medical preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in diseases of the throat, bowels and liver. In that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburgh, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor. Extracts from the Muscatine Courier, Iowa, Feb. 7, 1867. nt2dawlw

UNION HALL,

HIS GREAT FEAT OF

Walking 36 Hours Without Rest or Sleep, on a Plank 20 feet long and 20 inches Wide.

AN EFFICIENT ORCHESTRA will be in attendance.

MR. HASKELL will walk to the Hall between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock, in his Walking Costume, and then commences his assiduous role, not leaving the plank until the feat is accomplished. Ladies and Gentlemen are cordially invited to attend. The public will bear in mind that this is a moral entertainment, with nothing to offend the taste of the most fastidious.

Admission 15 cts., till 6 o'clock P. M. Evening 25 cts. No Free List.

The London Times of Aug. 8, 1870, says that the feat of Walter B. Haskell, who walked 48 hours without rest or sleep at the Cremorne Gardens, was one of the greatest achievements of the age, and drew large and enthusiastic houses, embracing the elite of the city. Bell's Life of Aug. 10, also says the great feat of the age has been accomplished, that of walking 48 hours without rest or sleep, amid the applause of crowded and admiring audiences. nlf

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

BRUSH AND RUBBISH.—Messrs. Editors:—We don't see that a copperhead need always be a muttonhead — but what else can a man be, who thinks (or says) that the limbs cut from trees in pruning, are of any value—when everybody of sense knows that such stuff is only a plague and a nuisance anywhere, which very few people will accept the gift of or allow on their premises.

S. J. COURT, Wednesday. — Case Vesey vs. Treadwell, occupied the day. The plaintiff testified that the horse was sound when sold, and the defendant testified that he was lame as soon as he first drove him. The horse was sold on Saturday evening, and the check sued for, paid on Sunday morning. The horse was sold by Treadwell at auction for about $30. Vesey denies warranty. Hatch for plaintiff, Marston for defendant.

☞ Dr. Loring's lecture in the course of the M. E. Church, Tuesday evening, was listened to by a very large concourse of people. The theme was "Jefferson and Lincoln — the American Statesmen and Philanthropists." The lecture was a polished production of the first class, and handsomely delivered. Dr. Loring was the guest of Capt. Harding, of the firm Harding & Doane, of Newcastle.

The third lecture will be given by Rev. S. K. Lothrop, D. D., of Boston, on Thursday evening, Dec. 1.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE for Mayor, to be supported at the polls by that party next Tuesday, is Gen. Josiah G. Hadley. The meeting which nominated him, also appointed a sub-committee to confer with the Republican city committee relative to holding a mass meeting at the Temple as soon as practicable, to get the sense of the taxpayers on the question of loaning the city's credit to help build the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. As to Gen. Hadley's being Mayor next year, there is some little doubt; but on the P. & D. Railroad question we think both parties can agree.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors; In your paper of yesterday morning, you exhort all persons to vote in favor of the projected Railroad to Dover. I presume that no one will say nay to this project. But there is one aspect in this affair, of which our citizens should take notice. I mean the scheme of some parties of locating the terminus of the road near the Creek Bridge. To this I imagine they will never consent, but after the vote is passed, it will be in the hands of the City Authorities, and it is very proper that they should have an expression of the public opinion on this subject. With this view would it not be well to have the matter brought up at the several ward meetings at the approaching election, and resolutions adopted for the guidance of the City Authorities.

A LOOKER ON.

NAVY YARD MATTERS.—The Monongahela, the vessel which the great tidal wave handled so roughly and sent ashore on the island of St. Thomas a year or two ago, was docked on Tuesday, preparatory to extensive repairs. She will be furnished with a new keelson and many new timbers, to replace those that were broken.

No discharge has occurred since Saturday, although it is daily expected. It doubtless forms the topic of conversation among the workmen there employed; and much calculating and figuring to ascertain how much will be due them, takes place in many gangs of laborers, if we may judge by the chalking displayed on the doors of the timber sheds and other available spots. But the best mathematician among them,—even if he possesses the key to Greenleaf's National Arithmetic—cannot calculate how long he will remain on the Yard or how much he will lose by the operation of a discharge. Poor fellows! It is an unfortunate season of the year to set men adrift, and some of them realize it too forcibly.

ENDURANCE.—Walter B. Haskell, a tough young English pedestrian, is advertised to walk a 20 foot plank for 36 hours without sleep or rest, at Union Hall, Market Street, commencing Friday forenoon at 10 o'clock. He has recently performed this remarkable feat at Dover, actually walking over one hundred miles without stopping. It is certainly a wonderful exhibition of human endurance. See adv't.

☞ The 4:45 P. M. train from Boston, on the Eastern Railroad, Wednesday, was unable to come through, owing to a freight train being off the track between Lynn and Salem; but a train was made up this side of the obstruction, and the passengers brought to this city, arriving at 9 o'clock.

☞ Dr. S. F. Ham, a Portsmouth boy, has become a partner with Dr. N. C. Keep of Boston, for the practice of Dentistry, the new firm being Drs. Keep & Ham.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—I was glad to see the name of Hon. William C. Patten of Kingston among the candidates for Representative to Congress in this district, as he is one of the most popular men in the State, and has filled with honor and ability the various public positions which he has held. It is also just and proper that Kingston, which furnished one of the Singers of the Declaration of Independence, should with the southern part of the district occasionally present a candidate to the Congressional Convention. G. O.

☞ The Democratic organs have figured out how the electoral vote will stand in the Presidential contest of 1872. They give it as follows: Democratic electoral votes, 154; Republican, 148. It's well to know the worst at the start; but we can't help feeling sad.

☞ "New Hampshire next," says the Manchester Union. You 'uns will have a good time getting New Hampshire, Mr. Union.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

MARRIAGES.

In this city, Nov. 6th, by Rev. James DeNormandie, Mr. HENRY T. RIDGE and Miss ELLA H. HARTFORD, all of this city.

DEATHS.

In Newington, Nov. 7th, Miss CHARLOTTE HOYT, aged 75 years.

☞ Funeral of child of Asa and Ruth L. Walker, will take place from No. 33 Cabot Street, this (Friday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

CERTIFICATE OF AN EMINENT CHEMIST. I have made a careful chemical analysis of the SOZODONT, from an impartial sample purchased by me personally, from a leading drug house of this city, but nothing of an injurious or objectionable character has been found in its composition. JAMES G. POHLE, M. D., Analytical Chemist, 489 Broadway, New York. Late Dr. James R. Chilton & Co.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," useful and true.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway N. Y.

None are Genuine unless done up in steel engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed H. T. HELMBOLD.

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.
2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.
3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.
4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.
5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.
6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.
7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

Cashier First National Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

Principal and Interest Payable in Gold,

ISSUED BY THE

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railroad Co.

The small remaining balance of the Loan for sale

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Interest payable May and November.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul and Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrants us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 30 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to place them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent, currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

Morning Chronicle.

A NAVAL COMBAT.—The Prussian war steamer Meteor, three guns and sixty men, and the French corvette Bouvet, five guns and eighty men, fought a naval duel off Havana on the 8th instant, which was witnessed by the Spanish war steamer Hernando Cortes, and in which Captain-General De Rodas was umpire. Both vessels arrived on the 7th, and the officers arranged for the fight,—the Frenchman left on the night of the 8th, waiting outside for the German vessel, which was obliged by law to remain in port 24 hours later. On the coming out of the Meteor, the Bouvet retreated toward the neutral line and opened the contest by firing three shots, which the former promptly returned. The Bouvet then attempted to board the Meteor, in which she was unsuccessful. Her rigging became entangled, carrying away the main and mizzen masts, and the rigging, falling with the masts, became entangled in the Meteor's screw. At the same moment the Meteor sent a shell into the inside of the Bouvet, smashing her steampipes.

The Meteor, by reason of the disabling of her screw, became unmanageable; and the Bouvet, herself, set sail rapidly and made for port, the Meteor continuing to fire meanwhile. With a fair wind the Bouvet was enable to cross into Spanish water, before the Meteor could disentangle her screw. At this time the Cortez fired a gun as a signal, and the combat closed. The German gunboat was accorded the victory. Both vessels are now in port repairing damages. The Meteor had three killed and one wounded; the Bouvet had three wounded.

☞ A citizen of Foxcroft, Maine, a few days ago, attempted to cleanse a cider barrel with quick-lime. He put a quantity into the barrel and turned water upon it, and put in the bung to keep the steam in. Finding, however, that the strain upon the barrel was rather severe, he undertook to take the bung out again, and while doing so the barrel exploded, covering him with hot lime and seriously scalding him.¶

☞ The difficulty between the owners of the Creole and Banner mines in Pioche City, Nevada, culminated on the 9th in a battle, in which W. G. Snell was killed and ten others wounded. Several men were precipitated down a shaft of the Creole mine seventy feet, escaping with slight bruises. The parties retaining possession of the mines were arrested by the sheriff.

☞ Cadet Smith (colored) of West Point was sentenced by court martial to walk on his post, under charge of a cadet sentinel, from two in the afternoon until the retreat, for six consecutive Saturdays, for assaulting cadet Wilson with his fists and a dipper. Smith was acquitted on all other charges. Secretary Robeson disapproves the sentence and Smith is released from arrest.

☞ The Mississippi supreme court decides that railroads are liable for damages for carrying passengers beyond their destination. We should advise the Mississippi railroad companies to discharge their conductors and put their passengers in charge of an express agent, who would doubtless have them properly labelled and delivered "right side up with care."

☞ Nothing further has been heard from the steamer Algomar, plying between Collingswood and Lake Superior ports. She has been out twenty days, and it is feared she has gone down with all on board, nearly one hundred persons.

☞ The statement that Minister Motley has been recalled from England is contradicted. It is also confirmed—the reader can choose which to believe.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL.

FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Safe in their operation, regulated in their happy influence upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization. S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAN LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

INDIAN AND NEGRO PRINTERS.—The art of printing, true to its representative function, soon came into immediate relation with the two great problems of American society—the Indian and the negro! But just in the points where it would seem destined to come to grief, events consistent in their very inconsistency seemed to be especially fortunate, for an Indian boy, taught at the charity school of Cambridge to read and write English, was apprenticed in 1659 to Samuel Green, and forthwith became a worthy member of society, under the name of James the Printer, or James Printer.

He rendered such effectual aid upon the Indian Bible, that, in the language of John Eliot, "we have but one man, viz., the Indian Printer, that is able to compose the Sheets and correct the Press with understanding;" and the Psalter of 1709, in the Indian and English languages, bears the imprint, "Printed by B. Green and J. Printer for the Honorable Company for the Propagation of the Gospel amongst the Indians in New England." James seems to have conducted himself as a good citizen and industrious workman, only evincing his native characteristics once by secretly stealing off to join King Philip; but, as the war ended disastrously, James conformed to the condition of the amnesty proclamation of 1676, and exchanged his new title of James the Apostate for the more worthy one of James the Printer, and returned zealously to his work.

The negro appears first in an American printing-office under direction of Thomas Fleet, who fled to this country for refuge from the rage of an insensate mob. When the silly Sacheverel, followed by an irrational throng, traversed London streets, proclaiming the revival of a dead cause, Fleet had boldly defied the popular fanaticism by displaying signs of derision instead of garlands of applause, and the mob, sorely in want of a stimulant to enthusiasm hunted him with such zeal that he had to hide for safety and set sail for America at the first opportunity. The Stuart cause was dead, and wiser heads than Sacheverel's could not revivify it; yet the fanaticism of the hour sped the poor printer over the sea to Boston, where he established a printing-house with the sign of the "Heart and Crown," in which his sons afterwards also printed acceptably, changing the obnoxious crown into a Bible.

Fleet owned several negroes, one of whom he taught not only to work the press but to set type. He found special profit in printing small books for children, and popular ballads; and these little books were rendered more attractive by the wood engravings cut for them by this negro artist. Cæsar and Pompey, the sons of this negro, born in Fleet's house, also became printers, and remained in the office of the master's sons.—Printers' Circular.

MARTHA AND MARY.—Commend us to our good brethren of the clergy for anecdotes of pith and delicacy. At the house of the late Dr. Archer, in London, there was a gathering of friends, and among them Dr. Harris, author of "Mammon," and Dr. Philip, of Maberly Chapel, author of "The Marthas," "The Marys," etc. In the course of conversation the question was mooted, which was the most amiable of the two sisters of Bethany, Mary or Martha? Dr. Archer replied:

"I prefer Martha for the unselfishness of her character, in being more ready to provide for the comfort of her Lord than gratify herself."

"Pray," rejoined Dr. Harris, addressing Dr. Philip, "what is your view? Which of the two do you think would have made the best wife?"

"Well, really," replied the good man, "I'm at a loss; though I dare say, were I making the choice for myself, I should prefer Mary."

Dr. Archer turning to Dr. Harris, said, smartly, "Pray, Dr. Harris, which of the two should you prefer."

The author of "Mammon" was only for a moment disconcerted, and replied, in a style that set the table in a roar: "Oh, I think I should choose Martha before dinner, and Mary after it."—EDITOR'S DRAWER, in Harper's Mag. for December.

PREMIUMS FOR FOREST TREES.—The Massachusetts Society for promoting agriculture has awarded to Major Ben: Perley Poore of Indian Hill Farm, near Newburyport, the premium of one thousand dollars, which it offered in 1858 for the best plantation of forest trees, planted before 1860 and growing in 1870. The first premium for forest trees offered on this continent was by the Massachusetts Society for Promoting Agriculture, in 1797—a gold medal worth two hundred dollars. It was awarded to Col. Robert Dodge, of Hamilton, who was Major Poore's grand-father, on the mother's side, and this prompted the Major to compete for the premium last offered by the same society.

—There is a man at Gold Hill, says the San Francisco Figaro, who has drank so much benzine that he is wholly indifferent to the assault of bed-bugs. The most voracious insect can't plague him and it has been ascertained that, having taken a nip after at him, the bugs become insane, engage in civil war, and become exterminated.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or Gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 70 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.'
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, NOV. 18, 1870.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE MEETING at Concord on Wednesday, was largely attended and highly enthusiastic. Many of the prominent leaders were present, and a union of purpose to maintain Republican ascendency in the State was evinced. Hon. E. H. Rollins, the indefatigable Chairman, who has no superior as an organizer in the United State, presided, with Col. C. H. Roberts as Secretary. The following places were selected to hold the various conventions:—

The State Convention will be held at Phenix Hall in Concord, on Wednesday, Jan. 4.

The Convention in the First Congressional District will be held at Dover, Wednesday, Dec. 14; the Second at Manchester, Wednesday, Dec. 28; and the Third at Lebanon, Thursday, Jan. 5.

The First District Councilor Convention will be held at Exeter on Thursday, Dec. 22; the second at Alton, Thursday, Dec. 15; the Third at Manchester, Wednesday, Dec. 28; the Fourth at Marlow, Tuesday, Jan. 10; and the Fifth at Lebanon, Thursday, Jan. 5.

The First District Senatorial Convention will be held at South Newmarket, Wednesday, Dec. 28; the Second at Exeter, Thursday, Dec. 22; the Third at Manchester, Wednesday, Dec. 28; the Fourth at Concord, Wendesday, Jan. 25; the Fifth at Rochester, Wednesday, Dec. 28; the Sixth at Alton, Thursday, Dec. 15; the Seventh at Milford, Wednesday, Dec. 14; the Eighth at Hillsboro', Thursday, Jan. 5; the Ninth at Keene, Wednesday, Jan. 11; the Tenth at Newport, Thursday, Jan. 12; the Eleventh at East Canaan, Tuesday, Jan. 10; and the Twelfth at Lancaster, Friday, Jan 6.

The Rockingham Co. Convention will be held at Exeter on Thursday, Dec. 22; Strafford Co., at Farmington, on Thursday, Dec. 29; Belknap Co., at Laconia, on Tuesday, Jan. 17; Carroll Co., at Tamworth, on Wednesday, Dec. 28; Merrimack Co., at Concord, on Wednesday, Jan. 25; Hillsborough Co., at Nashua, on Wednesday, Dec. 21; Cheshire Co., at Keene, on Thursday, Jan. 12; Sullivan Co., at Newport, on Thursday, Jan. 12; Grafton Co., at Lebanon, on Thursday, Jan. 5; and Coos Co., at Lancaster, on Friday, Jan. 6.

After completing this business, a series of resolutions for a vigorous opening of the campaign were debated and adopted. Clubs will be organized in every town and ward throughout the State and a thorough canvass made.

Speeches were made by Hons. James W. Patterson, Aaron F. Stevens and Jacob H. Benton, and the committee adjourned until Jan. 3, 1871.

WAR NEWS.—Private letters from Versailles say that the position of the Germans is becoming extremely critical, and alarm prevails among all who understand the situation. The King would return immediately to Berlin, but it was not considered safe to permit him to depart without a very large escort, which could not be spared, as he would be captured or shot by the francs-tireurs, who are swarming all over the country. So great are Moltke's apprehensions of the consequences of attacks by the force of Trochu and a simultaneous assault on the part of the army of the Loire, that entrenchments are now being thrown up in the rear and flank of the German position. Officers in high rank at Versailles declare that the Germans find themselves besieged, and other letters state that a transformation in the scene has occurred. The French people are changing depression and fear into confidence and bravery. Immense supplies of Snider rifles and Armstrong guns are in their hands, and the numbers of their armies are constantly increasing. In short, everything is promising the complete turning of the tables and the utter annihilation of the invaders.

After General de Paladine occupied Orleans, he with the entire army of the Loire turned northwest towards Chartres, apparently intending to attack the western flank of the German army investing Paris. Chartres has again been occupied by the French.

It is said that England, Turkey, Austria and Italy have agreed to preserve a common attitude toward Russia.

There is much excitement in England. Breadstuffs are advancing. War preparations are being conducted on a large scale. The fortress of Gibraltar is being revictualed. A portion of the British fleet in the English Channel has been ordered to the Mediterranean to reinforce the English war vessels already stationed there.

☞ Mr. Motley has been recalled.

Communication.

ECONOMIZING.—A writer awhile ago talked pretty sharply about Mr. Ela, our Representative in Congress from this District, because he had not managed to get Fort Constitution built and garrisoned; and Mr. Ela, in answer, told him that it would be a waste of money to lay out any more of it on handsome and useless stone-work that won't stand heavy cannonading, and that economy of the people's money is of more importance than having a company or a regiment of soldiers stationed here. Without expressing any opinion one way or the other, on the fort-and-soldier question, I beg leave to call Mr. Ela's attention to one piece of economizing on the part of the Navy Department, with which the people have a good right to be dissatisfied,—the maintenance of a Band of musicians at this Naval Station, at an expense to the nation of over $8000 a year, to furnish music gratis for the naval officers.

When Admiral Thatcher was detached, Oct. 1st, the Post Band was to have been discharged also, as the expense of maintaining it was not considered to be warranted by any advantage accruing therefrom; but representations were made from here to the powers at Washington, which resulted in the order to dismiss the organization being revoked. So the Post Band is to be retained until next May—by which time the dancing season will be ended, and the naval officers will have had their winter's fiddling free gratis for nothing—tho' the tax-paying plebeians will have to fork over some $5000 to pay for what is neither of interest nor service to the public. I have been listening for some time to catch the warning sound of "democratic thunder" against this "unauthorized radical expenditure," but as the democracy don't seem inclined to thunder any about it, I take advantage of the Chronicle's open columns to utter a mild remonstrance myself.

Now I respectfully submit to Mr. Ela, as an economist, (if he is one,) that this is not legitimate economy—this taking a large sum from the Treasury in order that private amusements (with which the public has nothing to do) may be free of cost. But if we must foot the private bills of the naval officers, I would suggest to Mr. Ela that it would be much cheaper for us to pay some private musical organization, whenever their services were required, than to maintain a costly public Band all the time. Enough might be saved in this way to warrant Government in hiring Congress Hall whenever the officers required it—and it could easily be kept sacred on such occasions, for a squad of marines on the sidewalk, a few well-loaded howitzers in the entry, and the American flag beneath the naval one, over the door, would be sufficient to keep the common people at a properly respectful distance from the music they pay for.

A friend informs me that the naval officers always pay the Band for playing at dances. I don't care—I sha'n't alter what I've written. The Band is for the gratification of the officers—to make them more thoroughly independent of and more elevated above the common herd, and their paying for incidentals does not vitiate my statement that maintaining the Post Band is making the people pay for the naval officers' amusements. That the Band is a good one and its members gentlemanly and courteous, has nothing to do with the question. Yours, ALOES.

AN OLD CHURCH.—Weare has a century old church in a good state of preservation. It has the large high-backed pews which David Copperfield tells us of, and the high pulpit which David on Sundays thought, "what a good place it would be to play in, and what a castle it would make with another boy coming up the stairs to attack it, and having the velvet cushions with the tassels thrown down on his head!" The sounding-board over the sacred desk, the galleries, the aisles crossing each other at right angles, the seats which turned up in prayer time out of respect to the minister, and went down with a bang at the word "Amen" to signify that they had been "all up," are suggestive of ancient days. The church is not now in use, the day for large churches which gathered all the worshippers in the town having passed away. Some of the practical owners contemplate taking it down and removing the materials to Manchester, where there is no predicting "To what base uses we may return."

S. J. COURT, Thursday.—In the case Vesey vs. Treadwell the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

Daylight Burner Co. vs. James W. Odlin. Pltf. sent by deft., (the well known Expressman between Exeter and Boston,) a lot of patent burners, marked "C. O. D.," which meant collect the bill or not give up the articles sent. The consignee refused to pay the bill, and subsequently presented what purported to be an order to Odlin from the pltf.'s agent who sold the goods, to give up the articles to the consignee without C. O. D. Pltf. now sued for the bill, but the jury returned a verdict for Odlin. Wood for pltf., Marston for deft.

Prescott vs. Locke & Jewell. Defts. bargained with pltf. for all the spokes he might saw out in the season, defts. to cull and count them. Pltf. notified defts. that he had 10,000 spokes ready, whereupon defts. went to pltf.'s mill and culled but did not count them. Defts. agreed to count the spokes and take them away the next week if they could get a team. The going was bad, they could not get a team, and did not go for the spokes; and in about a week the mill and spokes were burned. The question is, who owned the spokes at the time of the fire? Tried by the Court. J. F. Wiggin for pltf., Marston for defts.

Aaron L. Rand, James W. Nutter and George S. Leach were tried on an indictment for striking from the check-list of Ward Three, in Portsmouth, at the last March election, the name of James Andrew, a native-born citizen, twenty-one years of age and otherwise entitled to vote, and for a long series of years resident in that ward,—and refusing to allow him to vote. Small for State, Hatch and Frink for respondents.

☞ At Lynn, a train being off the track, on the Eastern Railroad, Wednesday evening, the passengers by the evening train down had to walk across an open bridge; and there being no light placed, many were in great danger. Capt. James M. Hill of this city, being in advance, fell between the stringers, catching by one arm, and losing his hat overboard. He was much jarred, and naturally somewhat startled, and was indignant that better provision was not made for the safety of passengers by the railroad officials of the depot or the train.

☞ The Spanish Cortes have elected the Duke of Aosta, son of Victor Emanuel, King of Spain, by a vote of 191 against 120.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A National Medicine.

One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Prof. So-and-so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. At the outset all medical preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in diseases of the throat, bowels and liver. In that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburgh, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor.—Extracts from the Muscatine Courier, Iowa, Feb. 7, 1867. nl2dawlw

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. daw2mn9

HARPER'S BAZAR.

A supplement containing numerous full-sized patterns of useful articles accompanies the paper every fortnight.

HARPER'S BAZAR contains 16 folio pages of the size of HARPER'S WEEKLY, printed on superfine calendered paper, and is published weekly.

Notices of the Press.

HARPER'S BAZAR contains, besides pictures, patterns, etc., a variety of matter of special use and interest to the family; articles on health, dress, and housekeeping in all its branches; its editorial matter is specially adapted to the circle it is intended to interest and instruct; and it has, besides, good stories and literary matter of merit. It is not surprising that the journal, with such features, has achieved in a short time an immense success; for something of its kind was desired in thousands of families, and its publishers have filled the demand. The young lady who buys a single number of HARPER'S BAZAR is made a subscriber for life.—New York Evening Post.

The BAZAR is excellent. Like all the periodicals which the Harpers publish, it is almost ideally well edited, and the class for whom it is intended—the mothers and daughters in average families—can not but profit by its good sense and good taste, which, we have no doubt, are today making very many homes happier than they may have been before the women began taking lessons in personal and household and social management from this good-natured mentor. The Nation, N. Y.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.

It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, for the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.

One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats,—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.

The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.

The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

UNION HALL,

HIS GREAT FEAT OF

Walking 36 Hours Without Rest or Sleep, on a Plank 20 feet long and 20 inches Wide.

AN EFFICIENT ORCHESTRA will be in attendance.

MR. HASKELL will walk to the Hall between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock, in his Walking Costume, and then commences his assiduous role, not leaving the plank until the feat is accomplished. Ladies and Gentlemen are cordially invited to attend. The public will bear in mind that this is a moral entertainment, with nothing to offend the taste of the most fastidious.

Admission 25 cts., till 6 o'clock P. M. Evening 25 cts. No Free List.

The London Times of Aug. 8, 1870, says that the feat of Walter B. Haskell, who walked 48 hours without rest or sleep at the Cremorne Gardens, was one of the greatest achievements of the age, and drew large and enthusiastic houses, embracing the elite of the city. Bell's Life of Aug. 10, also says the great feat of Haskell has been accomplished, that of walking 48 hours without rest or sleep, amid the applause of crowded and admiring audiences. n17

RE-NOMINATION OF MAYOR ADAMS. The Republican caucus, Thursday evening, was largely attended. William H. Hackett, Esq., was chosen chairman, and on motion of Mr. John M. Davis, Hon. JOSEPH B. ADAMS was unanimously nominated for re-election to the Mayoralty. Messrs. John M. Davis, Wm. O. Sides and Oliver G. Fernald were appointed a Committee to inform Mr. Adams of his nomination. The Mayor returned with them, and in a brief speech accepted.

TENTING ON A NEW CAMP GROUND. Those enthusiastic veteran politicians, William, the prophet, and Moses the Scribe, have re-organized the Democratic party of this city, and at a meeting held somewhere, at some time or some other time, put in nomination Gen. Josiah G. Hadley as a "Democratic Reform" candidate for Mayor. Gen. Hadley deserved a better fate, for he is a genial man, who had never injured either of the nominators—had never done anything to merit such treatment.

The task of Democratic Reform is a hard one to set any man at, with any hope of success in five days—not counting Sunday. There's plenty of need of Reform in that poor broken down party, and if it had been led the past 15 years by as sensible men as Gen. Hadley, there might be more hope of its resurrection through repentance.

However, William and Moses are sanguine that some reform can be accomplished—because the party has reached low water mark, and if it moves at all, must rise a bit. To start it, the Prophet and Scribe have builded a platform and placed themselves between it and the mud, with the General atop. It is built of basswood, fastened with pins, being a temporary affair, but they are hoping it will last for three days—or during the war. If it should last longer they propose the following reformatory measures:—

The prophet, being a "solid man," and single-eyed (on both sides of his head), will frown down all attempts of cliques to control municipal affairs, unless composed of men worth at least as much as he is.

The Scribe, being an honest man and good at the helm, (although he can't beat the Postmaster's yacht in a stiff breeze) will collect all taxes offered for payment, coercion being anti-Democratic (vide Buchanan).

The municipality of Portsmouth will be subject to the following improvements, to wit, viz., namely, &c., etc—thusly:—

All the limbs cut from trees during the year 1870, to be replaced.

The police force to be abolished, as prevention is not better than cure in Democratic tactics. This will enable the elite of that party to enjoy their innocent recreation without impertinent interference of justice.

Street mending and sprinkling, sidewalk repairs, &c., to be prohibited.

Assessors to be compelled to put the largest valuations on Republicans, and the smallest on the Prophet and Scribe—and their noble compatriots.

Every future Mayor chosen, to be obliged to adopt the messages of Frank Jones to the City Councils of 1868–9, that the time heretofore spent in the preparation thereof by other past Mayors may be given to the interests of the city.

After the Democratic party has been sufficiently reformed by the loss of any fear of justice at the hands of the law, and the aforementioned municipal reforms inaugurated, the Mayor will resign, in accordance with the platform; and future elections be abolished.

Vive la Reform! Great is Moses, and William is his Prophet.

☞ The great Walking Feat commences this forenoon at Union Hall,—for full particulars see advertisement. Saturday evening there is to be a Dance at the Hall, during the continuance of which the pedestrian will finish his severe task. Tickets to dance and all, 25 cents for Gentlemen, 15 cents for Ladies.

THEATRE.—Locke & Leslie's Company, with Miss Kate Reignolds, will give two entertainments at the Temple, on Thanksgiving Day—in the afternoon and evening. The new play "Man & Wife" will be performed. Mr. Albert H. Fernald, pianist, furnishes the music.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—Hon. Wm. C. Patten of Kingston, mentioned in a communication in your paper as a candidate to supply the position to be made vacant by Mr. Ela, as representative of this district to Congress, has many warm friends in Portsmouth who will work in earnest to secure his election, and aside from Mr. James W. Emery of this city there is no other candidate who can control votes outside of the party. Mr. Patten possesses all requirements for the position, and we consider that his nomination will result in a lasting benefit to the party.

REPUBLICAN VOTER.

☞ "The Lyceum," a little paper published by C. A. Hazlett and F. W. Robinson as an aid to the Lyceum Course of the M. L. Association, is out. It has an item, probably paid for as an advertisement, tending to mystify its readers on a certain point, but we don't choose to go gunning for poor game. The gravestone cut on the 4th page should have headed the advertisement in question. Messrs. Hazlett & Robinson have shown that they can edit a local sheet with ability. Success to them.

☞ Numerous circulars, purporting to be from Owens & Co., New York, are being circulated through our Post Office, offering to sell Counterfeit Script at a very low price. We can hardly tell whether any person who should decide to buy, would be the bigger knave or fool.

☞ We learn that John Lowe, Esq., of Exeter, has sold his residence in that town to the Catholic priest for $7500.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

HEALTH, MONEY, COMFORT.
TINGLEY'S AUTOMATIC HEAT GOVERNOR
FOR HOT AIR FURNACES.
This invention has now been thoroughly tested for Four Years, and is offered to the Public as a perfect remedy for the Inconveniences, Dangers and Annoyances arising from Furnaces as ordinarily managed. Some of its advantages are.
1st. A sure Remedy for the Escape of Gas or Smoke through the House.
2d. An Economy in the use of Coal.
3d. It prevents Chilings and the necessity of Sifting Ashes.
4th. Insures all Danger against Fire from an overheated Furnace.
5th. Gives uniformity of Temperature with every change of the Weather, saving care and time in the Management of the Furnace.
In order to gain these advantages, it is only necessary to kindle the fire, supply the coal and leave the Furnace, (without regard to the Drafts, to the "GOVERNOR."
ATTACHED TO BRICK OR PORTABLE FURNACES, OLD OR NEW.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family; and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in large and frequent doses.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

CENTRAL RAILROAD
OF IOWA,
Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.
NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.
This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.
ONE MILLION
—OF THE—
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.
Among their advantages are—
1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.
2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.
3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.
4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.
5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.
6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.
7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.
We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.
Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by
JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,
Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,
SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,
Cashier First National Bank,
Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railroad Co.
The small remaining balance of the Loan for sale
At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.
Interest payable May and November.
J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.
The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.
The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul and Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.
The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.
The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 8½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 10 per cent. currency, and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.
All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

POEM.

The following original poem was delivered by Rev. George Osgood of Kensington, on the occasion of the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the town of Cohasset, Mass., on the 7th day of May last.

The child, who tracked Cohasset's sand,
One hundred years ago,
May sleep in some far distant land,
Or i nthe deep, whose billows grand,
Above him ceaseless flow;
Or rest in yonder slope of green,
Where sweet and tender flowers are seen,
And friends may come and go,

The same wild scenes around us lie,
That met of yore his kindling eye,
Though cultured grounds and villas fair,
Adorn the landscape everywhere.
Yes, here, like him, we still may find
The wild and beautiful combined,
The lovely and the grand.
Whether through woodland paths we stray,
Or sit where ocean surges play
In broken wreathes of foam and spray,
Around the ancient rocks of gray
That line our rugged strand,
Like him, from headland bold, we view
The wide expanse of waters blue,
Or on the beaches stroll,
And listen to the solemn roar,
As on the smooth and shining shore
The billows break and roll.
When summer sheds its sweetest smiles
On wave and shore, on rock and isle,
On lake and winding stream,
We love on yonder hills to stray,
And watch the twilight fade away,
Till shines from Minot's tower of gray,
The lamp's resplendent beam.
We, on a summer eve serene
May find a lovely moonlight scene
While sitting on the cliff;
And think of those, who, years ago,
Beheld the breakers dash and flow
Around the fisher's skiff.
The child who climbed from crag to crag
A hundred years ago,
Beheld the folds of England's flag
From many a war-ship flow.
Then, as he saw the royal fleet
Sail by Nantasket shore,
With joy and pride he loved to greet
The ensign that it bore.

But ah! the child too fondly dreamed
The fleet and flag that friendly seemed,
Would always guard his home;
Nor feared the tyrant's beneated power
Would, in some dark and evil hour,
In woe and vengeance come.

And soon, his earnest heart was stirred
By many a true and fearless word
From those who led the age;
He heard the statesman's strong appeal,
Beheld the hero's force and zeal,
And watched the gifted sage.
When Franklin, with unerring eye,
Could see the gathering tempest nigh,
And gave his warning clear;
When Henry, 'gainst the tyrant's throne,
Spoke with that true inspiring tone,
That knew no doubt nor fear;
When Otis fired the patriot's zeal,
With many a true and bold appeal,
And urged the freeman's right;
When Lincoln drew his trusty sword,
To show by deed as well as word
He for the cause would fight;
The boy that tracked Cohasset's sand
Then bravely joined the noble band
Which rose to save his native land
In danger's darkest hour;
And through war's long and dreadful storm,
His faithful heart beat true and warm
For freedom's blessed power.
When overhead they threw the tea,*
What patriot had more pluck than he?
When came the news from Lexington,
Who was more glad to grasp his gun,†
And show on famous Bunker Hill
He could defy the tyrant's will?
When Lincoln from the English lord,
At Yorktown took the yielded sword,
And shouts of joy and triumph rose,
He gladly hailed the contest's close,
And saw with pride his country's foes,
Defeated, pass away;
And to his home of peace returned,
For which his heart had fondly yearned
Through many a weary day.

Years passed away—and yet again,
England, the mistress of the main,
Despised our nation's power;
And then Cohasset's sons arose,
And met on sea and land her foes.
In many a battle-hour.

Here some may yet remember still,
How oft they saw from rock and hill,
The hostile ships pass by;
While to the battle's fearful roar,
In echoes from our rocky shore,
Came back a sad reply.

The war soon closed, and peace again
Brought hope and joy to earth and main,
Then might the fisher safely guide
His bark among the trackless tide;
Then might the earth her treasures yield,
To him who tilled the fertile field,
And the mechanic's skillful hand
Enrich and bless the prosperous land;
Then steam outstripped the changeful sail,
Or sent her trains along the rail,
While lightning, tamed by human skill,
Sent forth the words that cheer and thrill,
To those of every clime,
And through the dark, untathomed deep,
Through deserts drear and mountains steep,
Outrun the steps of time!
Thus has our hard and rocky strand
Joyed in the progress of the land;
And in the patriot's spirit shown
The nation's weal to be her own!
When slavery's minions sought to tear
From Sumter's walls our banners fair,
And blast the nation's power,
The boys who tracked Cohasset's sand,
Uprose, a brave and noble band,
And met the fearful hour.
Then, after fights on land and main,
After the loss of comrades slain,
Or starved in prisons vile;
After sad years in suffering spent,
They saw upon a land unrent,
The sun of Freedom smile.

The freedman now may blithely rest,
Or revel in the traitor's nest,
And show a nobler life,
Than those who deemed it high renown
To crush the poor and down down
Through years of bloody strife.

No ye, through this happy land of ours,
From where smiled the tropic flowers,
To where the Alaska's snows:
From the right arm that guards our State,
Far westward to the Golden Gate,
The air of freedom blows!

*Major James Stoddard.
†Joseph Bates.
‡Hon. Hiram Revels, the successor of Jefferson Davis, was present at the celebration.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL.

FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly periods. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success, ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Safe in their operation, peerless in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization.

S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAN LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially by any address.

MAKE GARDENS NOW.—The autumn preparation of land, is of great importance to the corn crop; is also of particular application to all gardens, and is a plan which should be adopted in the economical management of such lots to a far greater extent than is now practised. This should especially be the case with those gardens to which their owners look for profit, as well as to those cultivated simply for the gratification and pleasure they afford in an early dish of freshly gathered vegetables. If one wishes to be first in the market with green peas, corn, ripe tomatoes, and in fact almost any garden truck whatever, it is necessary he should give his seed an early start; but this cannot be obtained if all the work of preparing the land, manuring, &c., is left till spring.

Therefore we urge upon our farmers and gardeners the preparation of their garden soil; or at least a portion of it, this fall. How often do we wish to put out some flower seeds, plant a few peas or other vegetables, almost as soon as the snow is off, or at least by the time we can get four or five inches of surface soil to cover them with. But we find the ground compact and frozen, the manure in a solid heap on the cold side of the stable, and there is nothing to do but wait several weeks for the sun and rain to carry out the frost, and then wait a week or two longer before the seeds can be planted. By this time, those so fortunate as to have had their ground prepared the previous fall, have perhaps potatoes and peas already out of the ground.

Now is the time to make preparations, if we would have early vegetables another spring. First clear off the garden, raking up all vines, leaves, &c. Then spread on a good dressing of manure, and spade it in. We are speaking now of village and town gardens; with gardens in the country where there is abundance of room, the team can perhaps be well employed in plowing the manure under, if the ground is next pulverized by the use of the spade and garden rake. After this you can make such preparation for special crop as you desire.

If for peas, decide upon the location, make the drills, fill with manure, cover with earth, and place stakes at each end of the drills. Proceed in similar manner for other crops. Then as soon as four or five inches of the surface soil is dry in the spring—even if the frost is not all out—the early crops can be planted. We have great faith in this method of annual preparation of garden soil, and hope many of our readers, who have never tried it before, will do so this fall, and watch the results.—Maine Farmer.

VALUE OF BRAN FOR STOCK.—We have long regarded bran as one of the cheapest and most useful kinds of food we can have. Many farmers who are unable to raise sufficient hay and grain for their stock on their own farm, have found it profitable to buy it in large quantities for extra feed.

But its value is generally very much under-rated, the common impression being that it contains but little nourishment, with much refuse material. The reverse is the truth; it is especially rich in albumen, phosphoric acid and lime—elements especially adapted to the wants of young cattle and milch cows. Given in connection with hay, young cattle thrive better on it than when fed on richer food; and in fattening cattle, its use when mixed or alternated with corn meal, seems to give a more rapid growth and greater weight than when the meal is fed alone.

When it is fed to calves, it relieves the extreme costiveness to which they are subject in the winter, and they have a thrifty, healthy appearance in place of the too common hump-backed, pot-bellied form. Those who have used it in the dairy find that it helps largely in keeping the cows in health, and adds much to the yield of milk.

Chemical analysis shows that in comparison with timothy hay it contains more nourishment, and has it in a form better adapted to the wants of the animal. As its flesh-forming constituents it surpasses wheat flour and corn meal, but has less fat and heat-forming elements.

But the true test of its value is in its actual use. The benefit we have derived from it ourselves and what we have seen of the effect resulting from its use, both as summer and winter food, by others, has impressed us very much in its favor; and we have no hesitation in saying that stock-raisers, especially those who have to buy extra fodder, will find it a very cheap and economical as well as useful kind of food.—Western Farmer.

TO PHYSICIANS.
NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.
ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It has a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœas, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,
With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

BUCHU! BUCHU!
[From Dispensatory of the United States.]
Diosma Crenata—Buchu Leaves.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaint of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethe, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement, or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy. In Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, &c.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudence in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere. Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, 594 Broadway, New York.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is even restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a graceful perfume.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made twice rejected applications. SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of greatness and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, NOV. 19, 1870.

THE WAR.—The London Post says the cause of France has now become the cause of Europe. All the neutral states are bound to assist her to obtain her peace and have her intact, or aid her to continue the war in order to hold Prussia engaged, while England, Austria, Italy and Turkey whip Russia into submission. Either Prussia must sign an easy peace to liberate her forces, or France detaining them, will show herself once more the savior of Europe.

Turkey strongly protests against the action of Russia, and calls upon the great powers who were a party to the treaty of 1856 to enforce its provisions.

New Hampshire Items.

Sleighs were used in Lancaster on the 14th.

The Nashua Gazette states that as Mr. E. D. Wilder, of North Lyndeborough, was riding on the 11th inst., a short distance from his house, he encountered a large moose, which disputed the passage of the road, and it was only after much effort that he succeeded in inducing the animal to retire. It was probably tame.

The Labor Reformers propose to hold their State, Congressional and Councillor Conventions in Concord, on the 27th of December.

The Keene Sentinel advocates the claims of Gen. Griffin for the congressional nomination in the Third District.

In three of the four wards of Dover the voters are next Tuesday to answer the following question at the ballot box:

Are you in favor of having the law of the State, for the suppression of intemperance, enforced in Dover?

The Dover Local Record favors the re-nomination of Congressman Ela.

☞ The Tribune figures that the next U. S. House of Representatives will stand 137 Republicans to 106 Democrats, giving the Republicans a majority of 31. In the present Congress the Republicans have 157 Republicans to 79 Democrats, a majority of 78.

There was a great farmer named Greeley,
Whose itching for office was really
Appalling; yet he Delighted to be Called "the unwilling candidate, Greeley."
—Boston Post.

☞ Charles B. Farwell, Congressman elect from the Chicago district, has won in wagers upon his own election $10,000 over and above all his campaign expenses.

☞ The Duke of Aosta has been proclaimed King of Spain. He received 191 votes against 63 for a republic and 27 scattering.

☞ There was a freezing black frost at Mobile on Wednesday night, the second of the season. There is no longer any fear of yellow fever.

☞ The New York Globe is one our raciest exchanges. Its corps of editors suit the public to a T. Long life to it.

☞ The Boston Saturday Evening Gazette is thriving under its new management. Success to it.

☞ Josh Billings is after "the man of sin." He may find him at New Haven, Connecticut.

TREATMENT OF SICK ANIMALS.—The crying evil of the agriculture of this country is, that we have no good system of veterinary instruction. Throughout the whole length and breadth of the land, our poor dumb brutes, condemned to suffer from diseases brought about by our own carelessness or neglect, are obliged to bear the still greater suffering of the barbarous treatment of common farriers and quacks, who know almost nothing of the organization of their bodies. With animals, as with men, there is far too much medicine giving, blistering and bleeding; and probably more are killed or permanently injured by these practices than are cured by them. Warm clothing and thorough grooming will usually do the work of the blister, and do it much better. In all cases of strains, bruises, and wounds, water is an almost sovereign remedy.—Am. Agriculturalist.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

S. J. COURT, Friday.—The trial of Rand and other Selectmen of Ward Three occupied most of the day. It was proved that Anderson was a voter for over twenty-five years in the Ward, and the defence seemed to be that the Selectmen thought from his language that he was a foreigner. Mr. Hatch in his closing argument stated that he was not a politician and desired no office, forgetting that on the previous evening he had addressed the Democracy, on the same spot, on the issues of the approaching election, and that he had held an office for a long series of years under the government,—which he still holds, and which preventing his accepting a State office, left him at liberty to decline all such honors as his party has not at this time the power to confer! Mr. Small, in his reply, regretted that the people of the State would be deprived of the pleasure of voting for his learned brother for Governor, next March.

Mr. Hatch's liberal Scriptural quotations shew a far greater knowledge of the Bible than we supposed was possessed by any member of the Rockingham bar.

STAGE-COACHING. — We had supposed that stage-coaching from London to any other important place had long since been done with. But a notice in a recent London paper announces the sale, at Tattersall's, of the "well known four-horse teams which worked the stage-coach between London and Brighton." These horses were celebrated trotters, many of them had been hunters, and were of good blood, and brought high prices.

Speaking of stage-coaches, suggests to us that it would be a rare treat to pass over the old Eastern Stage Route once more, in one of the company's six-passenger mail-coaches, with such horses as Colonel Coleman usually furnished to Old Barnabee, and Robinson, and Mendum, and all those famous old-fashioned coach-drivers; than whom the world never saw a finer set of men for their business; or men provided with better horses; or superintended by a more upright, conscientious, competent and excellent man.—Boston Traveller.

☞ Mr. Henry C. Barnabee's concert company have met with success in the West. The Utica Herald says:—

Utica has had nothing better than the concert given at Mechanics' Hall last evening. We have never witnessed more enthusiasm on the part of an audience, and we are free to say we never saw more occasion for it. Mr. Barnabee has not only a splendid baritone voice, but he is an irresistible humorist, and consummate actor.

☞ Hon. Sidney Clark of Kansas has the inside track for U. S. Senator from Kansas, vice the renegade Ross. Glad of it. I. S. Kalloch wants the place, but had better come East and help Fulton out of his scrape.

☞ The "Magic Flute," Christine Nilsson sings f above the staff.

New Publications Received.

The November monthly part of Oliver Optic's Magazine contains additional chapters of "Desk and Debit," which has proved exceedingly popular; several capital stories; choice poetry; biographical and historical sketches; the famous "Letter Bag" and "Head Work," and numerous illustrations, including four full-page pictures. Oliver Optic also continues his popular series of letters descriptive of his travels in Europe. Published in weekly and monthly editions by Lee & Shepard, 149 Washington Street, Boston, at $2.50 a year.

The Children's Hour for December. T. S. Arthur, the editor, will commence a serial in the January number called, "The Wonderful Story of Gentle Had," which cannot fail to be deeply interesting. A Holiday Supplement will be given with this number, containing nine Carols for Christmas, new and old.

Peterson's Magazine for December is on our table in advance. It is unusually splendid even for "Peterson." It has two superb steel plates, a mammoth colored fashion plate, a costly colored Berlin pattern, and more than fifty wood engravings.

Arthur's Lady's Home Magazine for December is the richest and handsomest ever issued. It has a beautiful picture, "The Welcome Home," a double fashion engraving, and a large variety of styles of dress and patterns for needlework. T. S. Arthur & Sons, Phila.

The Galaxy for December completes its tenth volume. It contains a fine portrait of Justin McCarthy; a continuation of his story "Lady Judith," and of "Overland;" a sketch of the Martha's Vineyard Camp-meeting; "An afternoon at Wilhelmshohe," before Louis Napoleon went there; a long article on King David and his Psalms, to be followed by another; "Shakespeare as a Plagiarist," by Abby Sage Richardson; Mark and Twain's "Memoranda." The Galaxy is one of the best of monthlies, and is constantly improving. Sheldon & Co., Publishers, New York.

—A contributor to the Western Rural raises sunflowers for his stock. He says the leaves are the best of all green feed for milch cows. He also feeds them to his horses.

—If the night air is unhealthy, as the doctors say it is, how do they account for the longevity of owls.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It also cures the worst lingering Coughs, at the same time strengthening and purifying the whole system. Remember that Dr. Pierce's private U. S. Government Revenue Stamp bearing upon it his portrait, name and address, is upon every bottle of the Genuine. Sold by druggists.

THOUSANDS HAVE BEEN CHANGED by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP (a protoxide of Iron) from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. For Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific. 1wn14

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Shall Nature Be Sustained?

To give debilitating medicines to the weak is about as sensible as it would be to try to help a man to his feet by kicking him when he was down.

That sort of practice is going out of fashion. It has killed so many, graveyards that people no longer believe in it.

If those who are not strong by nature expect to avoid the attacks of disease, they must endeavor to acquire the vigor necessary to resist it.

How is this to be done? Common sense suggests by the use of invigorating medicine.

The great object is to STRENGTHEN THE SYSTEM WITHOUT EXCITING IT.

This object is accomplished by the judicious use of the most potant and genial of all vegetable tonics and alteratives, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Many valuable properties are combined in this preparation. It improves the appetite and renders digestion easy and perfect.

It gives steadiness to the nerves, induces a healthy, natural flow of bile; prevents constipation without unduly purging the bowels; gently stimulates the circulation, and by promoting a vigorous condition of the physical system, purifies the blood, and cheerfulness which is the truest indication of a well-balanced condition of all the animal powers.

Summer leaves both the body and the mind more or less exhausted. Now is the time to recruit them, and thus forestall the malarious fevers and other complaints which prostrate so many thousands every Fall.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world: the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effect of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful, black or brown. Sold by all Druggist and Perfumers, and properly applied at Batchelor's Wig Factory, No. 16 Bond Street, New York. 1ydawjel

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. dawl2m9

DR. SCHENCK ADVISES CONSUMPTIVES TO GO TO FLORIDA IN WINTER.

HAVING for the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably bad case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold; and the best of all places on this continent for this purpose, in winter, is Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is regular, and not subject to such variations as in more northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Peterman. Last winter I saw several persons there who had lungs had been badly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well.

One hundred miles farther down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, as the temperature is more even, and the air dry and bracing. Mellonville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Mellonville, it is two miles from river or lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The cables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times; but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite; and, when this is the case, they generally increase in flesh, and then the lungs must heal.

Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other places in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are, that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature; and it is not necessary to say, that, where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds, he is certain to die shortly: therefore my advice is, go well down into the State, out of the reach of prevailing east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named, will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver, a disordered stomach, deranged bowels, sore throat, or cough; but, for those whose lungs are diseased, a more southern point is earnestly recommended.

For fifteen years prior to 1869, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore, and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive, embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully; and hence my caution in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills," and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold.

In Florida, nearly everybody is using Schenck's Mandrake Pills; for the climate is more likely to produce torpid habits than more northern latitudes. It is a well-established fact, that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption, especially those of the southern part. On the other hand, in New England, one-third at least of the population die of this terrible disease. In the Middle States, it does not prevail so largely; still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh colds as they are about scarlet fever, small-pox, etc.! but they are not; they take what they term a little cold, which they are credulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still, until the lungs are diseased, when all hope of cure is over.

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected, even slightly, is to buy a stock of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic, and Schenck's Mandrake Pills, and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines, because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know, that, when they are used in strict accordance with my directions, they will do the work that is required. This accomplished, nature will do the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold, cough, or night sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long.

My plan is, to give my three medicines in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a freer use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary. My object is, to give tone to the stomach,—to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry. I have hopes of such. With a relish for food, and the gratification of that relish, comes good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs,—then the cough loosens and abates, the creeping chills and clammy night sweats no longer prostrate and annoy, and the patient gets well, provided he avoids taking cold.

Now, there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, is there no hope for such? I think there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again. Consumption is so easily cured in its first stages, if taken it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed on record, that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills, and Seaweed Tonic have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will, you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on the liver better than calomel, and leave none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact, they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit, and diarrhœa causes, a dose of the Mandrakes will cure you. If you are subject to such headaches, take a dose of the Mandrakes, and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of a change of water, or the too free indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrakes every night, and you may drink water, and eat watermelons, peaches, apples, plums, peaches, or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They can do you good only.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9, A.M., to 3, P.M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and enables the medically learn whether they are curable or not. I desire it distinctly understood, that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say, that when persons take my medicines, and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold; yet no one with diseased lungs can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes.

Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be bought from any druggist.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Nov. 17th.—Application for acceptance of gas-post corner of Islington and Cass Streets, referred to Committee on Gas Lights, with power.

The name of Anthony Street was changed to Union Street.

Richard Davidson was appointed watchman, constable, and police officer.

The Mayor, Aldermen Fernald and Cotton were authorized to lease or buy a lot for locating a stone crusher.

The Clerk was directed to notify the Gas Light Co. that Cabot Street had been left by them in a very unsatisfactory condition, and that the Board expect them to put the street in proper order, or they will be held responsible for all damages.

Also to send a like notice to the Aqueduct Company, relating to Union Street.

Adjourned for two weeks.

THE REPUBLICAN WARD CAUCUSES, Friday evening, passed off without much excitement. In Ward One, the vote for Aldermen was as follows:—Richard H. Waldron 188, Albert A. Fernald 187, George Annable 177, Edward D. Coffin 78, Scattering 12; and Messrs. Fernald, Waldron and Annable were chosen.

In Ward Two, for Aldermen, Thos. E. O. Marvin 89, John E. Giddings 51, Chas. H. Mendum 47, Wm. H. Sise 38, Geo. L. Traedwell 34; and Messrs. Marvin, Giddings and Mendum were chosen.

At the Ward Three caucus, Thursday evening, Messrs. Joshua Stackpole and William A. Vaughan, Jr., were nominated as candidates for Aldermen. They came within 31 votes of an election last year, and last Spring the Democratic majority was but five. Henry F. Wendell and A. R. Hatch are the Democratic candidates.

Communication.

REDUCING THE TAXES.—Messrs. Eds. Much has been said of late by some people about reform in our municipal affairs; and as I read or hear it from time to time, I am reminded of a conversation I heard soon after the election of Hon. Frank Jones for his second term as Mayor. One of our large tax-payers, after congratulating him on his re-election, hoped he would so conduct the affairs of the City as to reduce the taxes materially; when Mr. Jones, taking the Appropriation Bill as passed the year previous, asked him how he could save.

"Will you pay the State tax?" asked the Mayor. "O! yes; that must be paid," replied the tax-payer. "Will you pay the County tax?" "Certainly." "Will you pay the Debt falling due this year?" "Yes, that must be paid, too." "Will you pay the Interest on the debt?" "Of course." "Well," said the Mayor, "you see you have not saved anything yet. Will you allow anything for our Schools?" "By all means; let our schools be continued." "Shall we keep our Streets in repair?" "Certainly; let our Streets be kept in good repair." "Will you appropriate anything for the Fire Department?" "Yes; as our only protection in case of fire, let the department be amply provided for." "How about the Poor;—shall we continue to support them?" "Yes; humanity demands that they shall be cared for."

And in like manner the Mayor went over the whole list, but our tax-payer could see no place where anything could be saved, except in the Police Department, where he thought the services of one man could be dispensed with. BEN.

STREETS.—Mr. Frank W. Miller, recently of the Chronicle, seems to be operating somewhat in real estate. We understand that in addition to his estate at Lincoln Hill, where the remaining house lots are gradually being taken up for buildings, — he has purchased of Col. J. W. Peirce the fine estate next adjoining, west, known as the Adams place, which comprises some of the most beautiful lands in the city; and also the remaining lands on Lincoln Avenue and Union Street belonging to Messrs. Sides, Odlon and others—the two purchases extending from Union and Wibird Streets to South Road.

Mr. Miller it is said will immediately lay out and construct Union Street through to South Road, and has already commenced operations on the same; and will also open a private way through from Wibird Street to South—there being already a petition entered at the present term of Court, by Simon Marston and others, for the laying out of this as a highway, on an appeal from the vote of the Board of Aldermen two or three years ago, not to grant the same. By all such operations, eligible building lots are opened to the public, and the taxable property of the city greatly increased.

The extension of Summer Street is at last completed and accepted by the City, and is open as a highway, from Middle Street to South. This was laid out once before for a highway, many years ago, ere Richards Avenue was built, but was afterwards allowed to be closed by a vote of the town, after it had been partially constructed from Middle Street. Summer Street was then to run in a somewhat different direction, and would end near Cotton's burying ground or the gravel pit. The late James Rundlett agreed with the town that he and Mrs. Elwyn would give the land, and that he would pay the town $300 towards the construction of the road. Now the city will pay more than this amount for land damages, to the Rundlett heirs, and $1149 for building this end of the street; while below Messrs. Elwyn and Miller give their land, and Mr. Miller has built the street, at a reported cost of $1500 at least—and it was stated at a public hearing on the question, that he offered to buy the land and construct the whole street himself, but the Rundlett heirs declined. The late Mr. Rundlett about 1822 also offered the Messrs. Hale $110 per acre for the land on South Summer Street now owned by Mr. Miller, and which he bought of the younger Mr. Hale, forty years later, at $75 per acre—but $120 was then demanded, and Richards Avenue (as it is now called) being first opened, the trade fell through. So we are informed by an old citizen.

Speaking of South Summer Street, it is well known that there is a large spring of the purest water there, and the pump placed there is in frequent demand, and during the drought has been heavily drawn upon. We understand it is in contemplation to erect a steam laundry at the spot—which, while it would be a great convenience to our citizens, the beach hotels, and all, could hardly fail of being good property.

☞ Rev. Geo. W. Bicknell, the pastor, is to preach at the Universalist Church, to-morrow. Services in the evening; subject "The Christian Union," probably.

☞ The Philharmonic Society will meet at the usual place, for Rehearsal, to-morrow (Sunday) evening, at 8 o'clock—with full Orchestra.

☞ The estimates of the Navy Department for next year are $8,000,000 less than for 1870.

☞ Why don't some one start a cheese factory in Portsmouth?

—If any voter in Dover is asked to vote No, on the Dover & Portsmouth R. R., let him at once ascertain if his advisor is not an owner of Boston & Maine stock or holds a free pass over the Road.—Local Record.

THIRTY OYSTER SALOON,
Corner Congress and Church Streets.

CENTRAL RAILROAD
OF IOWA,
Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.
NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.
This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.
ONE MILLION
—OF THE—
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest..
Among their advantages are—
1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.
2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.
3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.
4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.
5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.
6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.
7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.
We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.
Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by
JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,
Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR
ARTIFICIAL TEETH!
DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use
DR. STRAIT'S
"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE."
With this FLEXIBLE EDGE the suction of atmospheric plates can be made so strong, that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruction; and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, pears, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyances, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of sneezing, eating, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how irregular the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same—
Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.
Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.
GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"
For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.
DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"
Can be applied to
Goodall's Spring Plate,
With Complete Success.
DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patrons and the public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

USE OF NAVY YARDS IN TIME OF PEACE.—The war which created the American navy destroyed the American merchant service. Scores of merchant ships were then changed to men-of-war; hundreds of sea-captains entered the naval service for the war; and thousands of sailors, trained to the free life and simple duties of the merchantman, voluntarily submitted themselves to the strict discipline and dangerous duty of the men-of-war.

As the chief dependence of the navy, in time of war, was on the merchant service, it is now proposed to rely on the navy-yards and the naval service to aid in reviving American navigation. The idea proposed is the employment of the national dock-yards, in time of peace, in the construction of a merchant marine, which shall do service, in time of war, as a national navy.

The various measures for reviving American navigation and reducing the American navy, which were agitated during the last session of Congress, had this result; and, as yet, no other. The plan is still merely a suggestion of that debate, and, not yet having taken shape, remains to be considered in its details. Such a proposition, it is understood, will be introduced during the coming winter session of Congress, in a bill which will encourage the building of iron ships at American navy-yards and the manning of the merchant marine with American seamen and American naval officers.

That the nation must resort to some plan like this seems indisputable in the face of the experience of other countries. Instead of selling the national navy-yards, they should be utilized, and employed no less vigorously in the arts of peace than in those of war. It has been by permitting her naval officers to engage in it that England has made her merchant service the finest in the world, and fitted her every sailor for instant duty as a man-of-war's man when occasion requires. Her naval stations are public ship-yards, at which merchant ships and men-of-war alike are built, and her iron ships are built alike at private and national ship-yards.

It is to this resort we are urged by our experience and the advice of our leading officers. It seems a wiser one than that other suggestion, to sell the stations and reduce the navy, which, in an emergency, might be indispensable to national safety. Since it is simply a question of destroying or utilizing a great power, there can be no hesitation in choosing, and the American Congress can hardly refuse its consent if a plan shall be devised to convert our idle naval stations into busy dock-yards, nor fail to extend every aid of legislation for the consummation of that desirable achievement.

"Ships and naval organizations," says the letter from Secretary Robinson, of May 30, to the House Commitee on Naval Affairs, "cannot be extemporized like regiments, but are the growth and product of long-continued industry and skill." And this, which is true enough of ships, is pre-eminently the fact in respect to their birth-place, the navy-yard. Its growth is inevitably slow. The dismantling of any one of those already completed is not, therefore, to be hastily resolved upon. — W. F. G. SHANKS, in Harper's Magazine for Dec.

THE FISH STORY OF THE CENTURY.—He came into the breakfast room one morning, and in a moment it was seen that a cloud was on his brow. There sat the lady-like wife waiting for him; the table fairly groaned, not with plated silver, but the solid material. The cloth was white as the snow; the family seated around in pleasant expectancy; everything was smoking hot, and not an article there but even a pampered appetite could revel on. But the man's favorite dish was not there. Closer he came to the table, and with the inquiry, "Did you not know that I wanted a shad for breakfast?" he raised his foot and overturned the whole table on the floor.

"It was at the fire being kept warm for you," replied his wife in her quiet, lady-like and conquering way.

In an instant the haughty husband comprehended the situation: next he was on his knees, exclaiming, "Dear wife, you are nothing less than an angel born."

Not a great while after that he died. His will was opened; his wife was executor; she left her all he had—$2,000,000.—Hall's Journal of Health.

FEEDING ON THE ROAD.—Many persons, in travelling, feed their horses too much and too often, continually stuffing them, not allowing them time to rest and digest their food; of course they suffer from overfulness and carrying unnecessary weight. Horses should be well fed in the evening, and not stuffed too full in the morning, and the travelling should be moderate on starting with a horse having a full stomach. If a horse starts in a good condition, he can go twenty or twenty-five miles without baiting. This is evident, when we consider the time necessary to accomplish this pace with tolerable speed. On the contrary, with a heavy load and a bad road, a horse would only go eight or ten miles in that time. Why can not horses travel half a day without eating, as well as work that time on a farm? If there be more exertion on the road, it is a reason against frequent feeding at that time.—American Veterinarian.

—France has another Joan d'Arc, under whose standard many troops are rallying.—Exchange.

Her soldiers will be armed with spears from her head, we presume.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL,
FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly period. This is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the Complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz., General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhea or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by restoring the strength to the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age, they will prove perfect healing. There is nothing in the pills that can do injury to life or health. Safe in their operation, perfectly in their happy influence upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization. S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. ALVAR LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

GREAT EXCITEMENT ABOUT
SEWING MACHINES.

"The Best Fruit Gets the Most Stones!"

It is not always the article that is sold the most which is the best, oft-times proving the greatest humbugs in the end.

THE ÆTNA

is not one of the last named, as is demonstrated to a fact, and it does not depend on the amount of its "blows" to introduce it, but upon its merits. I do not advertise Ten Dollars discount on Machines sold before January 1st, 1871, thereby to make it sell, because it has needed no such propelling motion since its introduction here. Call and see the Wonderful Machine—"a silent monitor of its own perfection"—and satisfy yourself as to price and quality in comparison with all others advertised.

A LOVING HEART.

The following touching song by Wm. H. Clarke, (Author of the "New Method for Reed Organs,") has just been issued in sheet form with accompaniment for the Piano or Reed Organ, by Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston, and C. H. Ditson & Co., New York.

A loving heart, so pure and true,
Inspired my young and happy hours;
Each passing day was dream'd away,
In fancy's land of blooming flow'rs.
A loving hand of beauteous mould,
Led gently thro' the toilsome strife;
Oft pointing up t'ward heav'n above,
And cheering one with hope and life.

A loving eye, with tender look,
Sent thro' my soul its thrilling gaze;
No earthly glance could e'er impart
Such living warmth and genial rays.
A loving voice, in music sweet,
Calm'd all my fears in accents blest,
I long to hear that voice again,
Which sooth'd my aching heart to rest.

A loving world, not far away,
Hath drawn my angel to her home;
That loving heart still beats for me,
That loving hand now beckons "come."
That loving eye, in heavenly light,
Now sees what mortals ne'er behold,
That loving voice, in rapturous tones,
Will soon to me her joys unfold.

CHAMPAGNE.—Fears have arisen the invasion of France, among its minor evils, would result in a scarcity of sundry sorts of wines. There are grounds for these fears. Much of the vine-growing region of France has been invaded. Green or ripe the Prussian soldiers have devoured an immense quantity of grapes. The perturbation has interfered seriously with the product.

Lovers of the sparkling, however, congratulate themselves that there is not likely to be any great deficiency in the production of the favorite wine of France, the effervescent and foaming champagne. The principal province from which the champagne for the American market is produced has not yet been reached by the Prussians. This is the Province of Jarsay le Neuveau, which remains entirely unscathed. Its exemption from invasion is due partly to its isolated position, being separated from the mainland by a salt water barrier of considerable width. It may have been a simple oversight of Gen. Von Greeley, or it may have been from some unfathomable diplomatic consideration that Jarsey has been spared from the rude visitations of war. But the wine crop from that province promises to be unusually abundant.

The Jarsay grape grows spontaneously on trees instead of vines; not in clusters as in the rest of France, but a single enormous grape on every twig. They are seldom less in size than the egg of the most enterprising hen, and are sometimes found as large as the ball of a four-pounder. When the grapes are ripe the natives climb into the branches of the vines or trees and shake them down upon the ground. The grapes are then gathered up and conveyed to the grinding mill, where they are converted into a pulpy mass, and this is subjected to a heavy pressure which forces the wine from the macerated fruit into tanks and tubs, from which the natives absorb a large percentage through straws. It has, in its unfermented condition, no other intoxicating effect than to deprive the drinkers of the faculty of speaking the truth. This fluid is not champagne, but is called, in the language of the country, "cider," a word of unknown origin. It is not until another wine, from another province, is mixed with it that it becomes marketable. The method of mixing is known to few outers than the purchasers of the original Jarsay fluid; but its effect is the production of that effervescent and explosive property, which stands first in the esteem of cis-Atlantic consumers. The French of Jarsey consume but little of their own tree wine, and are generally ignorant of the process of transforming it into hotel champagne.

—A story is told of Anna Dickinson, which illustrates that a woman, however eminent, is a woman still. When she opened the "Boston Lyceum," she came promptly to the platform at half-past seven, and quitely surveyed the audience without opening her mouth for several minutes. She did not sit down although a chair had been provided for her. "Why didn't you sit down?" asked one of the managers. "What answer" gave the eloquent little woman? "Do you suppose I was going to sit down in my new dress?"

WHAT A FARMER DISCOVERED.—The developement of the Illinois coal fields is claimed to be due to a farmer near Springfield, who thought that such a country could not be destined by Providence to be without fuel. "The wood is nearly gone," said he to himself; "ergo there must be coal." In this almost whimsical faith he sunk a shaft 169 feet, and then struck a vein of excellent bituminous coal, of which he is now mining to the amount of $27,000 per week.

A lady found a flower of the trailing arbutus in full bloom at Concord, Nov. 15th.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœas, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and Inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway N. Y.

None are Genuine unless done up in steel engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed H. T. HELMBOLD.

BUCHU! BUCHU!

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

Diosma Crenata—Buchu Leaves.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement, or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, &c.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms; Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pale Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudence in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere. Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, 594 Broadway, New York.

GREAT FORTUNES,
AND HOW THEY WERE MADE. By J. D. McCabe, Jr. New, fresh and original. Profusely illustrated and beautifully bound. It shows how a poor school-master made $40,000,000; how a poor half-blind sailor became a great banker, a butcher's apprentice the wealthiest man in America, an unknown mechanic a millionaire in seven years, with many more such examples; how energy, talent, and patient industry have always met with success when properly exerted; how money can be made honestly and without sacrifice of principal. AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, nor yet leave long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a graceful perfume.

THE WAR.—The rumors of a French sortie from Paris are reiterated. It is said the German loss was terrible.

A division of the Duke of Mecklenburg advanced along the road leading from Hondan to Dreux, and occupied the latter town, meeting a slight resistance from a portion of the French army commanded by Viereck, who were marching to join the army of the Loire from Chartres. Hard fighting was reported to be going on along the road from Angerville to Etampes.

The Prussians have retired to the northward beyond Artenay. The French have constructed heavy earthworks in front of the railway junction just outside of Orleans. Ten thousand men are employed at the work.

General de Paladine has repeated his strategic movement, which secured his late victory at Orleans, and has accomplished a still more important success. While holding the German forces at Toury, by threatening them in front with a force equal to their own, he has swung around his left wing and moving at the same time the whole corps from Chartres along the road leading through Ablis, Orsonville, Anthon and St. Hilare to Etampes, where the corps paused. By this movement he thrust himself between the Duke of Mecklenburg and Paris, while also encircling the German army on the front, right flank and rear. While this was going on, the Germans, divining danger, began to retreat, from Toury northward along the road to Angerville, a point 12 miles south of Etampes. Some fighting occurred, resulting in an advantage to the French, who everywhere greatly outnumbered the enemy. De Paladine's vanguard is now 22 miles due south of Versailles. The advance of the army of Prince Frederick Charles was only ten days' march from Toury.

The garrison of La Tere made a brilliant sortie and relieved the neighboring town of Terguier, which was sorely pressed by the enemy. The besiegers lost several hundred, wounded and prisoners.

The Bremen ship Magdalena, Capt. Wencke, which sailed from New York, October 15, for Bremen, has been captured by a French cruiser and taken into Brest.

The battle at Dreux was between 7000 French Mobiles and 80,000 Prussians. The former retreated.

☞ The authorities of the town of Saybrook, Conn., removed the monument erected there to Lady Fenwick, the first white woman buried on Connecticut soil, the removal being necessary for railroad improvements. In searching for the remains, the bones of the deceased were discovered, the skull being found intact, and the teeth well preserved, and about the skull were the the remains of the hair, which crumbled at the touch. Lady Fenwick was buried at Saybrook Point in 1648, 222 years ago. The remains and monument are to be placed in the Saybrook cemetery with formal ceremonies.

The Machine Works at Exeter are being rebuilt.

Apples and cider are selling in Exeter at $1.50 per barrel. The News Letter says many farmers are putting into their cellars from fifty to one hundred barrels of cider, for the purpose of keeping it until it brings a higher price.

Dr. J. H. Graves of Nashua offered to subscribe $1000, with certain provisos, for the establishment of the normal school in that city, provided a certain number of other citizens will do the same.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 24.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

JOHN CUTTS — FIRST PROVINCIAL GOVERNOR OF N. H. — The first settlements in what is now New Hampshire were commenced in 1623. When Exeter was settled, in 1638, a combination was entered into so that it was a body politic for government. The example was afterwards followed by Portsmouth and Dover. In 1641 the Province voluntarily put itself under the government of Massachusetts. There were at that time but four towns where there was much settlement—Portsmouth, Dover, Exeter and Hampton. It is supposed by Whiting that the whole population was but about 1000. The union with Massachusetts continued until 1679.—38 years. When it commenced Charles I was on the British throne. His turbulent reign ended with the loss of his head, 8 years later. Then succeeded the Protectorate of Cromwell, then the restoration of the Monarchy with Charles II on the throne. This king and council made New Hampshire a royal Province, and John Cutts was appointed governor, who got his commission and entered upon his duties early in Jan., 1680. Whiting says the population then was about 4000. Settlement had commenced in other towns, but they were not chartered.

Governor Cutts was born in Wales, and came to this country before 1646. Of course he was one of "three brothers" who came over. Richard lived on the Isles of Shoals and afterwards in Portsmouth. Robert lived first in the West Indies, then in the part of Portsmouth now Newcastle—and afterwards in Kittery, Me.

Mr. John Cutts settled in Portsmouth, became a merchant and succeeded well in business; acquiring wealth and at the same time a good reputation. His residence was near the corner of Market and Russell Streets, about where the stone store was afterwards built. He also had a farm about two miles northerly, up the river. The only office we know of that he held previous to that of Chief Magistrate, was Deputy or Representative to the General Court of Massachusetts, from Portsmouth, in 1676.

Mr. Cutts' commission was a lengthy document, and was a sort of Constitution. In it the king appointed six counsellors, who were to add three others. An Assembly was to be chosen by the legal voters, and all laws were to be sent to the king of England for ratification or rejection.

The qualifications of a legal voter as specified by an early law were the following: Twenty-four years of age, Protestant in religion, not vicious in life, but of honest and good conversation, rateable estate of 20 pounds and taking an oath of allegiance to his majesty. The whole number of voters in 1680 was 209. The number of Representatives chosen to the Assembly was 11. By the early laws fourteen offences were to be punished with death, among which were idolatry, blasphemy, witchcraft and children cursing parents.

It has been seen that Mr. Cutts entered upon his office early in 1680. He continued but little more than a year when he fell dangerously sick. Just at that time a comet of remarkable appearance was in the heavens,—the same was being noted by Sir Isaac Newton in England. The authorities appointed March 17 for a Fast to turn from sin, pray for the life of the Chief Magistrate, and that threatening calamities might be avoided. But 10 days later, that is, March 27, Mr. Cutts died. His age is not known. Dr. Banton, (in the Provincial Records Vol. 1,) supposes he was aged. If so he must have been much older than his first wife, who died seven years previously, aged 42. He had five children.

Mr. Cutts left a will which he began by saying his memory was good, but his body crazy. In it he says, "I commit my body into a decent burial in my orchard where I buried my wife and children that one deceased." It is believed he was buried there, but no monument marks his resting place. The writer visited it not long ago. It is on the north side of Green street, is perhaps two rods square, with buildings close up to it.

Mr. Cutts left his second wife a residence. In July, 1649, a party of Indians went to Oyster River, now Durham, and killed about 20 persons. They then came to Portsmouth. Mrs. Cutts was out at the farm, two miles from her residence in what is now Market street, and was killed. Before leaving her the Indians cut off her fingers to secure the rings on them. She was undoubtedly buried in the small family yard in Greenland.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET,

FOR THE WEEK ENDING WEDNESDAY, NOV. 16.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 3209; Sheep and Lambs 11,885; Swine 6875; number of Western Cattle 1716; Eastern Cattle 1068; Northern Cattle and Working Oxen 425. Cattle left over from last week —.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 75 @ $13 00; first quality $12 00 @ $12 50; second quality $11 25 @ $11 75; third quality $10 00 @$11 00; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $6 00 @ $9 50 ℔ cwt, (the total weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 7¼@ 8c ℔ lb; Country Hides 7 @ 7½c ℔ lb.

Brighton Tallow 4½@5c per lb; Country Tallow 6 @ 6½c ℔ lb.

Sheep and Lamb Skins $7½ @ $1 each; Calf Skins 16@ 18c ℔ lb.

The quality of the Western Cattle were not so good as that of last week, there being but few nice Beeves among them. The supply from the East was large, and the trade for all grades has been dull. There were but few Beeves in market sold as high as 12c ℔ lb. Most of the Maine Cattle were Working Oxen and Stores, for which drovers were not obtaining home prices in many instances. On account of the large supply of poor Cattle in market the trade at Boston for Beef has been dull the past week.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $12 @ $21; two year olds $21 @ $45; three year olds $45 @ $65 ℔ head, or much according to their value for Beef; poor yearlings and two year olds $8 @ $20 ℔ head. Many of the small Cattle are brought up to slaughter.

Working Oxen—We quote sales at $100, $125, $130, $140, $150, $155, $135, $120, $110, $200, $180, $181, $185, $205 ℔ pair. The supply in market was large and the trade dull.

Milch Cows—Most of the Cows offered in market for sale are of an ordinary grade. Prices range from $30 @ $100 ℔ head.

Sheep and Lambs—Extra and select lots $3 50 @ $5 00; ordinary lots $1 50 @ $3 25; Lambs $2 00 @ 4 50 ℔ head, or from 3 @ 7c ℔ lb. From the West the supply was light. Most of the Sheep and Lambs are brought from the North.

Swine—Store Pigs, wholesale 9 @ 10c ℔ lb; retail 10 @ 12c ℔ lb. Fat Hogs—4000 at market; prices 8¼ @ 9c ℔ lb.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Shall Nature Be Sustained?

To give debilitating medicines to the weak is about as sensible as it would be to try to help a man to his feet by kicking him when he was down.

That sort of practice is going out of fashion. It has filled so many graveyards that people no longer believe in it.

If those who are not strong by nature expect to avoid the attacks of disease, they must endeavor to acquire the vigor necessary to resist it.

How is this to be done? Common sense suggests by the use of invigorating medicine.

The great object is to STRENGTHEN THE SYSTEM WITHOUT EXCITING IT.

This object is accomplished by the judicious use of the most potent and genial of all vegetable tonics and alteratives, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Many valuable properties are combined in this preparation. It improves the appetite and renders digestion easy and perfect.

It gives steadiness to the nerves, induces a healthy, natural flow of bile; prevents constipation without unduly purging the bowels; gently stimulates the circulation, and by promoting a vigorous condition of the physical system, promotes, also, that cheerfulness which is the truest indication of a well-balanced condition of all the animal powers.

Summer leaves both the body and the mind more or less exhausted. Now is the time to recruit them, and thus forestall the malarious fevers and other complaints which prostrate so many thousands every Fall.

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at one dollar for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. dawzmo9

DR. SCHENCK ADVISES CONSUMPTIVES TO GO TO FLORIDA IN WINTER.

HAVING for the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably bad case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is, for the patient to avoid taking cold in the head or all places on this continent for this purpose, in winter, is Florida, well down in the interior, where the temperature is regular, and not subject to such variations as in more northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Young, die-cases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably bad case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is, for the patient to avoid taking cold in the head or all places on this continent for this purpose, in winter, is Florida, well down in the interior, where the temperature is regular, and not subject to such variations as in more northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Young, die-Last winter I saw several persons there whose lungs had been badly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well.

One hundred miles farther down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, as the temperature is more even, and the air dry and bracing. Mellonville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Mellonville: it is two miles from river to lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times; but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite; and, when this is the case, they generally increase in flesh, and then the lungs must heal.

Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other places in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are, that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature; and it is not necessary to say, that, where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds, he is certain to die shortly; therefore my advice is, go well down into the State, out of the track of prevailing east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named, will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver, a disordered stomach, derangement of the bowels, sore throat, or cough; but, for those whose lungs are diseased, a more southern point is earnestly recommended.

For fifteen years prior to 1860, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Baltimore, and every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive, embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully; and hence my caution in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills," and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold.

In Florida, nearly everybody is using Schenck's Mandrake Pills; for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than more northern latitudes. It is a well-established fact, that livers of Florida rarely die of consumption, especially those of the southern part. On the other hand, in New England, one-third at least of the population die of this terrible disease. In the Middle States, it does not prevail so largely; still there are many thousands of cases where What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh colds as they are about scarlet fever, small-pox, &c.! but they are not: they take what they term a little cold, which they are credulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope of cure.

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected, even slightly, is to lay in a stock of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic, and Schenck's Mandrake Pills, and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines, because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know, that, where they are used in strict accordance with my directions, they will do the work that is required. This accomplished, nature will do the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold, cough, or night-sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long.

My plan is, to give my three medicines in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a freer use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary. My object is, to give tone to the stomach,—to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry: I have hopes of such. With a relish for food, and the gratification of that desire, comes good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs, when the cough loosens and abates, the creeping chills and clammy night sweats no longer prostrate and annoy, and the patient gets well, provided he avoids taking cold.

Now, there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, Is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again. Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease, if it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed in the world, that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills, and Seaweed Tonic have cured very many of those seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will, you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on the liver better than calomel, and have none of its sorrowful effects behind. In fact, they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have gorged too freely of fruit, and diarrhœa ensues, a dose of the Mandrakes will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache, take a dose of the Mandrakes, and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of a change of water, or be free from indigestion in future, take one of the Mandrakes every night, and you may drink the water, and eat water-melons, pears, apples, plums, peaches, or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fever. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They can do you good only.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9, A.M., to 3, P.M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs; and patients can readily ascertain whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understood, that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say, that when persons take my medicines, and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold; yet, should a single cold lodge can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes.

Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be bought from any druggist.

S. J. COURT, Saturday, Nov. 19th.—In the indictment of Rand and other Selectmen of Ward Three, the jury after being out until midnight, were unable to agree, and were discharged.

The court came in on Saturday forenoon, and concluded the "unfinished business" of the session. The term began on the 18th of October, and Judge Doe has made great progress in disposing of the actions on the docket, with a determination to reach the true merits of every case that comes before him. Stripped of technicalities, he has realized the fevent anticipation of Rev. Canon Walsh in his prayer, at the opening of the Court.

At 10 o'clock, Sheriff Moulton, who for the first time attended Court as High Sheriff of the County, vacated his desk; Mr. Conner, the well known clerk, began to gather up his papors; Mr. Davis, the new messenger, put on his regretful looks at the cessation of his punctual attendance, and the last hour of the October term 1870 expired.

☞ The result of the trial of the Selectmen of Ward Three is as might have been expected. A partizan jury will not convict even the most corrupt board of Selectmen. Mr. James Anderson, whose name was stricken from the check list, voted the Republican ticket there in March, 1869, and a prominent democrat in that Ward offered him a sum of money to vote the Democratic ticket, which Mr. Anderson refused. Since then the copperhead board of Selectmen struck his name from the list on the ground that he was a foreigner.

BREAD.—We are in receipt of a box of palatable machine bread, from John Pearson, Jr., manufacturer and wholesale dealer, Newburyport, Mass. Mr. Pearson is one of the largest manufacturers in the State, and has an enviable reputation wherever his bread has found a market. The trade can be supplied on liberal terms.

☞ The Democrats of Ward One have nominated Daniel Littlefield, Arad Tibbets and Nathiel D. Miller for candidates for Aldermen, and Richard Jenness, George L. Treadwell and Jerome C. Butler in Ward Two.

☞ A Democrat was seen on the streets, Saturday evening, being escorted home in a drunken condition by his wife on one side and a colored individual on the other. Oh! for a white man's government.

☞ A vote against the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, is a vote against waking old Portsmouth up. We should suppose no live man would be found among the opponents of a City loan or guaranty.

☞ "About this time," look out for sailing—both of the north wind, and respecting taxes, The two are about equally windy—but perhaps both are necessary for the relief of nature.

☞ M. T. Betton & Co. sold the old half burned Waldron building on Congress Street, at auction, Saturday, for $18 to Mr. Harry Freeman. It is to be removed this week.

☞ No. Two's boys, who can't be beaten on good times, well conducted, advertise one of their popular balls, the 11th annual, at Congress Hall on Thanksgiving Eve.

☞ Several flakes of snow fell Saturday.

☞ The Boston Advertiser has the following names of candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in this State:—

Gen. Natt Head of Hooksett, Hon. E. A. Straw of Manchester, Hon. James Pike of South Newmarket, Hon. Samuel W. Hale of Keene, Hon. H. D. Walker of Portsmouth, Hon. John M. Brackett of Wolfeborough, Hon. B. N. Cole of Lake Village, Hon. William C. Patten of Kingston, and Hon. George W. Nesmith of Franklin. The State convention will meet at Concord on the 4th of January next.

YORK COUNTY.—The following is the official vote for State Senators, at the last election:

John B. Neally,	5879
Joseph C. Roberts,	5847
Joseph Hobson,	5960
Edward Eastman,	5233
E. C. Spinney,	4854
George Bragdon,	5052
Scattering,	336

☞ The Democratic State Convention will be held at Concord, Jan. 11, 1871; Congressional for this district at Dover, Jan. 12; Councillor at Candia, Jan. 14; and Senatorial at Hampton, Jan. 18.

☞ It is rumored that the Russian government is negotiating in New York for some navy-yard-built men-of-war.

"REPUBLICAN CORRUPTION."—The Jacksonville (Ill.) Sentinel having printed a jeremiad over the unhappy condition of the country, owing to "Republican corruption," and having presented a long list of imaginary "evidence" of this "corruption," the Jacksonville Journal adds the following grievances to the catalogue:—

The shortness of the potatoe crop.
The capture of Napoleon.
The death of Gen Lee.
Black tongue in cattle.
The woman's rights movement.
The bad smell of the Chicago river.
The Crimean war.
The fall of man.
The Deluge.
Hash.
The hog cholera.
The massacre of St. Bartholomew's day.
Cholera infantum.

☞ Bro. Moore of the Nashua Telegraph hits out at "F. F." of the Boston Journal, because he spelled Ruel Durkee's name "Dwike." Says the Telegraph:—

For that slip we reckon "F. F." will have to "come down" with something stronger than an apology, notwithstanding the philosopher from Croydon counts tectotalism among his shinning virtues.

Ruel's "shinning virtues" were never brought to light, quite so publicly before—and if Bro. Moore wasn't such a decided temperance advocate, we should judge that when "F. F." did "come down," the State Printer must have been an invited guest.

☞ A dispatch from Wood's Hole says Brig Proteus, from Elizabethport for this city, with coal, is off that port leaking badly. The crew are worn out with pumping. The vessel is strained in her upper works.

☞ Rev. Charles Greenwood of Plymouth was tried on a charge of setting fire to his own residence, to defraud an insurance company, last week. The jury disagreed—six to six.

☞ The frame of the new hotel at Wells Beach, being built by H. B. Davis and W. A. Worster of Great Falls, is up, and forty workmen are rushing the work along.

☞ York County jail has but eight prisoners.

☞ The Dover Gazette is offered for sale.

☞ Vinnie Ream, who has been engaged for the past three years on a $10,000 statue of Lincoln, writes from Rome that the statue is completed, and will be at once shipped to Washington.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD OF IOWA, Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul. NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION —OF THE— FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.
2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.
3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.
4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.
5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.
6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.
7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq., Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank, SAMUEL LORD, Esq., Cashier First National Bank, Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

W. B. SHATTUCK, Treasurer. 32 Pine Street, New York.

After a full examination, we have accepted an Agency for the Sale of the above First Mortgage Bonds, and desire to recommend them to our customers AS A THOROUGHLY SAFE, AS WELL AS PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

D—E—N—T—A—L C—A—R—D—. SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR ARTIFICIAL TEETH! DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use DR. STRAIT'S "PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE." With this FLEXIBLE EDGE the suction of atmospheric plates can be made so strong, that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruction; and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, grapes, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyances, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of sneezing, eating, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how irregular the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same— Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE," For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing. DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE" Can be applied to Goodall's Spring Plate, With Complete Success. DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated. GOODALL'S DENTAL ESTABLISHMENT, No. 111 State Street, oct24 PORTSMOUTH, N. Morning Chronicle.

—The decease of Edward Ballard, D. D., which occurred quite suddenly at his residence in Brunswick, Me., on Monday, is an event which will be deeply regretted by all who have heretofore enjoyed his acquaintance, and especially by every person interested in the history of our State. He and the late William Willis of Portland, were the chief workers in the Maine Historical Society, and since the decease of Mr. Willis, Dr. Ballard has perhaps performed the greater part of the labor of the Society. He was admitted a member in 1859, and since 1861 has been its Secretary. He was a thorough historical student, accurate and painstaking, and understood better than most men among us the history of early colonization in that portion of our country now embraced within the limits of our own State. His knowledge of the Indian dialects was quite extensive, as he had made that a special study for some years. In the sixth volume of the Collections of the Maine Historical Society, appeared an article from his pen on the "Early History of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Maine," and since that date he has prepared numerous important papers which have been read at regular meetings of the Society, and now preserved in its archives.

Let us hope they will ere long be published. In the first volume of the second series of the Collections, Mr. Willis acknowledged the aid received from Dr. Ballard in the preparation of that work in the following complimentary terms: "His wide historical researches, and critical judgment, have supplemented very many deficiences." In 1867 and 1868 he was Superintendent of Common Schools, but was hardly progressive enough in his views and methods to be of so great service in this capacity as many younger men, and we very much doubt if the labor accorded with his tastes and inclinations. The Historical Society has lost its most earnest and faithful worker, the church a faithful minister, and the community an honored member.—Maine Farmer.

NEW METHOD OF PURIFYING WATER. It is claimed that metallic iron affords the readiest and simplest means of disinfecting water and keeping it fresh. The water of the Thames, taken to sea in iron tanks, soon become perfectly sweet, and remains so during a long voyage. A small piece of iron or a few nails in the water in which cut flowers are put, will keep the water sweet. The experiment has been tried of putting some iron filing in a vessel with a very small quantity of water and then placing a leech therein. After six months had passed the water was found quite fresh and the leech alive and healthy. These fact are curious and suggestive.

TREATMENT OF HEIFERS.—We neglect our heifers. As well might we neglect our cows, as the treatment of the heifer tells upon the cow.

Shelter is one of the first things of importance to a calf. It is not accustomed to storms, and its limbs which are tender, will suffer if it is not sheltered.

The best feed, aside from tender grass, is bran, oat meal and milk. The feed should be regular once or twice a day, and in small quantities, for it will not do to fatten or pamper a calf; this must be avoided.

The first year is the critical time; that passed successfully, there is little difficulty afterwards.—Utica Herald.

—Will o' the Wisp gives the following picture of Europe:—

Russia covets,
Turkey fears;
Austria ponders,
Italia cheers.

Belgium—Holland,
Wait in dread;
Denmark's palsied,
Spain is dead.

France lies bleeding,
Prussia soars;
Britannia shuts her eyes
And—snores!!

"THE TUNE THE OLD COW DIED ON." Few persons know the origin of this phrase. They only remember to have heard it used in speaking slightly of a piece of music, but we do not remember ever to have seen any explanation of it until the following bit of poetry came up as suggesting the expression:

"A certain fifer had a cow,
But he had no hay to feed 'er;
So he took his fife and began to play,
Consider, cow, consider."

LAMPAS IN HORSES.—Colts affected with the lampas may have the palate lanced, which relieves the tension of the swollen part. Where there is not much swelling, apply to the palate a solution of alum — a tea-spoonful to half a pint of water.

—Miss Fanny Rutherford, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, is city physician. When the Rutherford goes feeling a young fellow's pulse and finds it beating like all possessed, how does she know whether its fever or Fanny?

—A good story is told of a railway station agent, who, on being reprimanded for allowing a car to be so heavily loaded that it broke down, replied, "Mr. G., what do you expect a man to know for $20 per month?"

—A valuable Connecticut cow died the other day of too many quinces at a meal.

A CHANGE OF BASE.

BY RUTH CHESTERFIELD.

David Thompson's new home was finished at last, the litter of carpenters, masons, and painters was cleared away, and now he brought with him his intended wife, that they might plan for fitting it up.

David had been engaged three years, but being a prudent young man, he said he never could marry till he had a fair start in the world. He thought he had it now, since in addition to youth, health, a house and twenty acres of land, Mr. Burch, the great mill owner, had lately made him his foreman, a position he had long coveted. The wedding day was therefore fixed for September—three months hence.

For once in the world's history, no one found any fault with the match, but all declared the happy pair were very well suited to each other.

Sallie Deering, the bride elect, was neither a beauty, a belle, nor a genius, —she was just a sweet womanly woman, with domestic habits, and a great many little feminine tastes and fancies.

As to the Deering family, they were respectable, root and branch, and always had been as far back as memory or records could go.

At the present time there were none of them remaining in the town save Sallie and her parents, who were getting to be elderly people when she was born. "It's a good house and thoroughly built," said David, looking around him with satisfaction. "I allowed none but the best material to go into it. It might have been done a third cheaper but I said, no—it's for a life time."

"And so bright and sunny"—said Sallie, "it seems like a home already. Some houses strike a chill as soon as you enter them, but I don't think ours can ever be one of that kind."

"I don't think any house could with you for its mistress," returned David gallantly.

In every apartment Sallie found something to praise and admire, from the bay-window in the parlor, to the wash-boilers in the back-kitchen. Opening the door of the bed-room on the ground floor, she remarked — "This shall be father's and mother's room. It's just near enough to the parlor for company, and just far enough off to be quiet. You must have planned it on purpose for them, such a dear good David as you are," and the young lady laid her hand caressingly on his arm.

David took no notice of the slight advance, however, but stood twirling his moustache, and looking thoughtful and embarrassed.

"Of course my parents are to live with us?" said Sallie questioningly, after a pause.

"I feared you might be expecting it," answered David, "and I have evaded the subject in such a way that I hoped you would understand me without any explanation. It seems you did not, however, and the explanation may as well come now as any time. If you will think the matter over, you will see that this thing cannot be."

"Why not?"

"Because nobody could reasonably expect a young man to take such a burden upon his shoulders."

"But they'll not be a burden upon you—at least not much. My parents are not paupers."

"And who'll take care of them in their old age?" asked David.

"Who should, but the daughter they took care of when she was a baby?" replied Sallie.

"I want my wife to wait on me."

"I don't think I should ever fail in my duty to my husband."

"I'm sure you wouldn't, my darling, so now it's settled and we'll say no more about it."

"David, I put to you the same question you put to me. Who will take care of my parents in their old age? Who if their daughter forsakes them?"

I don't ask you to forsake them," said David impatiently, "that's just like your high flown way of putting things. I'm willing you should do as much for your parents as other people do for theirs, but who hesitates to marry and leave the old folks behind? It's the way of the world. The young bird forsakes the old nest and builds for herself a new one."

"But have you never read how the stork that was young and strong-winded, carried the old one on its back? And would you have me less dutiful than the fowls of the air?" replied Sallie. "After all, the brute creation are no patterns for us," said David, seeing how Sallie had turned the tables upon him. "And doesn't the Scripture say that a man shall leave father and mother and cleave unto his wife? Answer me that. Of course the same rule holds good for women too. So now, my dear, let's drop the subject. I haven't shown you the second story yet. I hope you'll admire this staircase, for I quite pride myself upon it," and the young man started to lead the way up stairs.

"It's no use to go any further," said Sallie mournfully, yet firmly.

"What do you mean by that?" asked David, pausing and looking back.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most potent remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 29 square yds, 2 coats,—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing, and we shall not examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS,
which are for sale at the
GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,
No. 16 and 18 Cabot Street, where are kept the best of Meats and Groceries as low as can be bought in the city.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railroad Co.
The small remaining balance of the Loan for sale
At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.
Interest payable May and November.
J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.
The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.
The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul and Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.
The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.
The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 6 per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

BOOK AGENTS MAKE
$50 TO 200 PER MONTH by selling
GREAT FORTUNES,
AND HOW THEY WERE MADE. By J. D. McCabe, Jr. New, fresh and original. Profusely illustrated and beautifully bound. It shows how a poor school-master made $40,000,000; how a poor half-blind sailor became a great banker, a butcher's apprentice the wealthiest man in America, an unknown merchant a millionaire in seven years, with many more such examples; how energy, talent, and patient industry have always met with success when properly exerted; how money can be made honestly and without sacrifice of principal. AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of forcing the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 70 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made twelve rejected app ications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has obtained for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and a very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOV. 22, 1870.

WAR AND PEACE NOTES.—A despatch from Tours says that England, with the approval of the provisional government of France, has renewed her proposal for an armistice, based upon the pecuniary compensation for war expenses, the razing of the fortresses upon the frontier, and the neutralization of the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, the great powers guaranteeing the fulfilment of these conditions by any future government of France.

A St. Petersburg correspondent, in announcing the speedy presence of a Russia fleet in the Dardanelles, says that vessels will be bought in the United States with the money due for her northern possessions.

The battle at Dreux was an unimportant affair. The French loss was 60 killed and many wounded. This engagement has nothing to do with the movements of the army of the Loire, which, at last accounts, had fully completed the turning of the German right.

It is officially reported that Gen. de Paladines does not propose to make a further advance, but having secured an extremely strong position, he will await the attack from the combined forces of Prince Frederick Charles and the Duke of Mecklenburg. He continues to receive re-enforcements of all arms daily. An official statement shows that his army numbers nearly 250,000 men, with a daily increase of 5000.

Russia has an army of 1,357,657 men.

A warlike feeling decidedly prevails all over England. An important division exists in the cabinet on the Russian question, which will likely lead to the dissolution of the ministry. Granville insists that England must now put down her foot firmly, or forever give up her voice in European affairs.

The German ship Estafette, returning from the South Sea, entered the port of Havre and was promptly seized; her men had not heard of the war.

Eight hundred Prussians were surprised at Chatillon by a party of Garibaldians under Ricciatti, and all either killed or taken prisoners.

A commission of inquiry is to be called to try Marshal Bazaine.

KANSAS.—The republican majority will exceed 20,000. The legislature stands 108 republicans to 16 democrats, and 5 settlers. The official returns give Kansas a population of 353,478, not including Forts Reills and Larned, which will add 1400. The value of farms and farm property in the State is over $83,000,000, and that of the live stock over $23,000,000. The grain raised last year amounted to 24,000,000 bushels. Sixty miles beyond Ellis, the country is literally covered with buffalo. They are in droves of 200 and 300 each and range within gunshot of the railroad.

☞ Since the naval combat between the French corvette Bouvet and Prussian steamer Meteor, off Havana, in which the Bouvet was disabled by a shot which struck the connecting pipes of the engine and prevented its working, the Prussians at Havana have boasted so much, that the French commander declares that he will renew the contest outside the harbor, even if he is compelled to wait during the entire season for the Meteor to come out. Both vessels have their repairs nearly completed.

New Publications Received.

Scribner's Monthly has absorbed The Riverside in addition to Putnam's, and the multitude of attractive features which appear in the December number are a capital illustration of the good effects of the absorbing process. The December number is a great advance on the previous one, and shows conclusively that the magnificent promises of the publishers will be carried out to the letter.

☞ At Portland, Friday night, the accident by which Mr. Larkin, the engineer of the steamer Chase, was killed, was caused by the dropping out of the fid, letting the rod come up against the head of the cylinder, causing it to burst. The steam rushed out in terrible force. Mr. Larkin was in his room, and when found was in his berth with the bedclothes on the floor. His flesh was horribly burned. He seems to have tried to escape, but the steam overpowered him, and he was found as stated. Mr. Clark, the second engineer, was also badly scalded, but succeeded in getting on deck.

☞ The Springfield Republican wants Horace Greeley as Minister to England. The people want a man of back-bone.

☞ In Sweden, Me., the family of Mr. William Stevens, being called away from home, left their little girl, a bright and interesting child three years of age, in charge of two older children, one being about five years of age. Soon after the parents left, the clothes of the little girl took fire from a spark from the stove, but the fire was extinguished by a neighbor who happened in, and cautioned the children in regard to the fire. Afterwards, the children being left alone, the clothes of the little girl again took fire, and the oldest of the party ran to the nearest neighbor's house, three-fourths of a mile distant, for aid. Upon returning the unfortunate little sufferer was found sitting on the door-step, perfectly naked, the clothes having been burned to a crisp and fallen from her person, and so much baked was her person that when the poor child was lain in the cradle the flesh across the breast broke open with a noise resembling that occasioned by the breaking of a burnt crust of bread. The agony endured by the youthful sufferer may be imagined, but we have no words in which to describe it. She lived about two hours after her clothes took fire, though she was apparently unconscious most of the time.

THE 74 BAR, BOSTON HARBOR.—In the year 1782, (the French nation being then in alliance with the U. S.) the Marquis de Vaudreuil, an Admiral of the French Navy, entered Boston harbor with (12) twelve sail of the line. Another 74 gun ship of the same fleet, the Magnifique sunk by running on a rock while entering the harbor through Broad-Sound. A bar has formed around the wreck which is known to pilots as "the 74 bar."*

When Congress, then in session at Philadelphia, heard of the loss of this ship, they passed a resolution offering to the French government the new ship of the line, "America," then on the stock at Portsmouth, N. H., and nearly finished, which was accepted by the French minister with many expressions of thankfulness. The armament, anchors, sails, &c., were stripped from the wreck of the Magnificent and sent to Portsmouth and fitted to the America, which was thus made ready for sea in a few months, to sail under French colors to battle for the liberties of America.

This arrangement was a great disappointment to the famous Captain, John Paul Jones, at whose suggestion the ship America was built. He had been residing at Portsmouth about two years, superintending the building of her, furnishing plans, &c., and was promised, or expected the command of her when finished. But Congress was embarrassed for money, and to find armament and rigging, &c., and concluded it best to have the crew, rigging, guns, &c., transferred from the Magnificent to the America.—Charlestown Advertiser.

*About twenty years ago (1850) some of the timbers of this old French ship of "the 74 bar" in which it had been imbedded about seventy years, and was found to be sound and untouched by worms. It was of oak and jet black, it having acquired that color by the astringent acid of the oak uniting with the iron in the mud in which it was sunk and covered. These old black timbers were sawed up and made into canes and rulers and so preserved by antiquarians as mementoes of the ship Magnificent and of the French Alliance which helped us to our independence.

—The St. Louis Journal of Agriculture thinks the present is the time to attack and destroy bordock. It says the old stems, with burrs on them, should be cut with a spade or mattock just below the surface, and carefully piled together while green. After a few days of dry weather, set fire to them, and stand by till the last burr goes to ashes. This done, the young plants that have grown from the seed this year should either be pulled up or the roots cut off below the collar, and thrown upon the manure heap.

POLITICAL.—The Senatorial contest in Illinois has begun. We hope Dick Yates will be succeeded by a sober Republican.

The New York Herald says Gen. Natt Head is the most prominent candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of this State!

DeLarge, Ramey and Elliott of South Carolina, Turner of Alabama and Dr. Norton of Virginia are the five colored men elected to the next Congress.

SUICIDE OF A LADY AT NIAGARA FALLS.—About twelve o'clock Sunday, a lady apparently about 35 years old, well dressed and fine looking, committed suicide at Niagara Falls by jumping from the Goat Island Bridge, the body going over the falls. She was stopping at the Spencer House and was recognized as Mrs. Hill, from Chicago, Ill.

GRABBING SHEEP.—Daily do we see sheep grabbed by the wool and hauled about. Will people never learn better? Let some one take them by the hair, and they would probably learn a lesson. Could they look under the skin they would be surprised how much suffering they inflicted—for the sheep is dumb, and does not tell its pain. Take by the neck—any place rather than the wool—any place but the hair.—So it is where the sheep are hooked or thumped or knocked about.—They are tender it must be remembered—more so than any stock on the farm.

NAVAL.—U. S. S. Delaware, (formerly Piscataqua) which arrived at New York on Saturday from a three years cruise on the Asiatic squadron, will probably go out of commission in about ten days, when the officers will receive a leave of absence, and the men will be discharged. We hear it stated that the Delaware will be ordered to this Station for repairs.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Thieves! KNAVES!! SWINDLERS!!! These are mild terms with which to designate those mean contemptible adventurers who have been induced by the high reputation which Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has won, to put up and offer for sale a worthless imitation of this celebrated medicine. Remember that Dr. R. V. Pierce's private Stamp, which is the only Positive Guarantee of Genuineness, should be on every package. This private Stamp, issued by the U. S. Government expressly for stamping Dr. Pierce's medicines, has upon it his portrait, name and address, and the words U. S. Certificate of Genuineness." Don't get swindled by men calling themselves Dr. Sage; Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., is the only man now living that has the right and can make the original Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT, that Consumption can be cured; but it is far better to prevent the cruel disease from fastening itself on the system, by the timely use of a remedy like Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. This standard preparation will speedily cure a cough or cold, and even Consumption often yields to its great power.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"Shall Nature Be Sustained?

To give debilitating medicines to the weak is about as sensible as it would be to try to help a man to his feet by kicking him when he was down.

That sort of practice is going out of fashion. It has filled so many graveyards that people no longer believe in it.

If those who are not strong by nature expect to avoid the attacks of disease, they must endeavor to acquire the vigor necessary to resist it.

How is this to be done? Common sense suggests by the use of invigorating medicine.

The great object is to STRENGTHEN THE SYSTEM WITHOUT EXCITING IT.

This object is accomplished by the judicious use of the most potent and genial of all vegetable tonics and alteratives, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Many valuable properties are combined in this preparation. It improves the appetite and renders digestion easy and perfect.

It gives steadiness to the nerves, induces a healthy, natural flow of bile; prevents constipation without unduly purging the bowels; gently stimulates the circulation, and by promoting a vigorous condition of the physical system, promotes, also, that cheerfulness which is the truest indication of a well-balanced condition of all the animal powers.

Summer leaves both the body and the mind more or less exhausted. Now is the time to recruit them, and thus forestall the malarious fevers and other complaints which prostrate so many thousands every Fall.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world: the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effect of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful, black or brown. Sold by all Druggist and Perfumers, and properly applied at Batchelor's Wig Factory, No. 16 Bond Street, New York. lydawjc3

Dr. Greene's Hair Restorer

Restores gray and faded hair to its natural color, strengthens its growth, and insures a good head of hair. It is also the best dressing for the hair ever discovered. It is prepared by DR. R. GREENE, of the Medical Institute, 34 Temple place, Boston, which should be a sufficient guarantee that it is free from all injurious substances. Sold at his office for $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or sent by express to any part of the country. dawⅿ2m0

Republican Ward Caucuses.

☞ Republicans of Ward Two, beware of split tickets for Aldermen. The regular Republican nominees are THOMAS E. O. MARVIN, JOHN E. GIDDINGS and CHARLES H. MENDUM.

CITIZENS OF PORTSMOUTH!

You are called on to vote to-day on one of the most important local projects of the present time. Vote YES on the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad question. The Boston & Maine Railroad is making superhuman efforts to defeat the question in Dover, but the indications point to a decided affirmative majority there. Let Portsmouth give a rousing vote for enterprise and public spirit.

As Ye Would That Others, &c. We learn that bogus Republican tickets will be circulated at the polls to-day. There is no necessity for our friends to divide their forces. The nominations were fairly and squarely made and those who do not choose to attend the the caucuses have no reason to complain of the nominees. The Republicans have put forward strong tickets in all the wards and none of the candidates for the City Council are objectionable. The Golden Rule will apply in politics, sometimes. We think that those who are endeavoring to create division and discord by opposition to the regular nominees would be incensed were they the candidates under such circumstances.

Vote for Mayor, Nov. 1869.

	Ward I	II	III	Total
Adams	399	400	166	966
Jones	210	183	203	596
Scat	1			1
Total	610	583	369	1562

☞ U. S. S. Wyoming was docked on Saturday; the Ferry Boat Emerald was launched on Monday. She is a handsome little craft and looks nice in her new rig.

☞ Never mind if it does rain, today. Let Portsmouth's citizens, old and young, rally for once with a united front for the development of the resources of old Strawberry Bank. Vote YES on the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad question.

☞ A scow, propelled by two men, came up river Sunday, ran against Portsmouth Bridge and turned bottom up. The men escaped by climbing on the bridge, and the scow went down river when the tide turned. It was picked up at Kittery Point on Monday.

A Plurality of Votes Elects, today. Mayor Adams will have a large majority over Gen. Hadley. Remember that the three highest candidates for Aldermen in Ward Two will be chosen. It does not require a majority to elect. Republicans! Give your Aldermanic ticket, in the various wards, a rousing vote that will place every man on the ticket beyond defeat.

☞ Some paper stated recently that the U. S. S. California, which went to the Charlestown Navy Yard, could not be put in the Dry Dock at this Station. This is untrue. The Dock is large enough for any vessel in the U. S. Navy. The objection to docking the California here was made because her stores were aboard. They were taken out at Charlestown and then the vessel was docked there.

Portsmouth & Dover Railroad.—It may not be generally known that the charter of the P. & D. Railroad provides for the construction of a bridge over the river for the accommodation of travellers with teams, as well as for the railroad cars. A vote in aid of the railroad, then, not only tends to connect Portsmouth with Dover and the country above by rail, but also to open communication with a large tract of country by highway.

☞ The course of lectures to be given under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association commences this (Tuesday) evening, with a concert by the Unitarian choir and a double quartette of male voices. Rehearsals have been going on for some time, and the programme, as published in "The Lyceum," is attractive enough to draw out our music-loving citizens in full force. The course tickets, admitting the holder to the opening and closing concerts, a reading and seven lectures on popular subjects by well known citizens, are offered for one dollar, which is only for an ten cents evening's entertainment; and this low price and the worthy object for which the course is given will undoubtedly fill the Temple.

Communication.

A Correction.—In last week's Journal was a paragraph stating that the project of holding the Philharmonic Society rehearsals on Sunday evenings met with serious opposition; and that the reason for making the change was that the services of the Quadrille Band could not be procured on week evenings. As these statements are calculated to convey an erroneous impression concerning the Society, I beg leave to offer a correction.

The reason for making the change in the evening for meeting, was that the many week-evening amusements interfered with the attendance of the members,—so much so that the orchestra was sometimes about as numerous as the chorus; and that the change is judicious and agreeable to the wishes of the Society, was shown by the unusually large attendance at the first Sunday evening rehearsal.

And the Society object largely to having their fine Orchestra called a "quadrille band." The leaders (Messrs. Cushing and Harlow,) of the two local quadrille bands, the leader of the Cornet Band, and other members of one or more of those organizations, do render efficient aid in the Orchestra, which—now comprising two first and two second violins, clarinet, flute, trombone, cornet and double-bass—is certainly as deserving the name "Orchestra" as any organization ever collected (or even heard) in this city.

With our able and attentive conductor, our splendid orchestra, our skillful pianist and the many fine voices in our chorus, we expect our evenings of practice to be even more pleasant and profitable in the future than in the past.

Phil Harmonican.

The International Telegraph Co. have extended their lines from Danvers to Peabody, Salem to Gloucester and Bay View in Massachusetts; also to Hodgdon's Mills below Boothbay, Me. Our Kittery neighbors are to be accommodated with an office, the coming week. It is to be located at the Post Office, and will be a great convenience to our friends across the river.

Communication.

Surprise Party.—A few evenings since a party of 50 of the ladies and gentlemen at Cape Neddick, Me., gave Miss Joanna Avery a surprise, and left substantial tokens of friendship for that lady, who is about ninety years old. She is frequently seen at church, which is over a mile from her home. Seth.

Theatre.—Leslie & Locke announce two Thanksgiving entertainments. Kate and Georgie Reignolds are with the company. Both are popular here. See advertisement.

☞ The Springfield Republican advocates Hon. Henry L. Dawes for some national position. Why not send him Minister to Paraguay? They might have use for him there.

☞ Among the mails brought by the steamer Calabria were 2000 balloon letters from Paris.

New Subscribers who now pay in full in advance, for the Daily Chronicle or the N. H. Gazette, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ Job and Card Printing is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ Advertisements, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

TINGLEY'S AUTOMATIC HEAT GOVERNOR

FOR HOT AIR FURNACES.

This invention has now been thoroughly tested for Four Years, and is offered to the Public as a perfect remedy for the Inconveniences, Dangers and Annoyances arising from Furnaces as ordinarily managed. Some of its advantages are.

1st. A sure Remedy for the Escape of Gas or Smoke through the House.
2d. An Economy in the use of Coal.
3d. It prevents Clinkers and the necessity of Sifting Ashes.
4th. Insures all Danger against Fire from an overheated Furnace.
5th. Gives uniformity of Temperature with every change of the Weather, saving care and time in the Management of the Furnace.

In order to gain these advantages, it is only necessary to kindle the fire, supply the coal and leave the Furnace, (without regard to the Drafts, to the "GOVERNOR."

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of

90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.
2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.
3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.
4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.
5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.
6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.
7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

DR. STRAIT'S

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE,"

With this Flexible Edge the suction of atmospheric plates can be made so strong, that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruction; and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, pears, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyances, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of coughing, eating, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how irregular the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same—

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

DR. STRAIT'S "FLEXIBLE EDGE"

Can be applied to

Goodall's Spring Plate,

With Complete Success.

DR. GOODALL will be happy to give particular information concerning the above, to his Patients and the Public, and he solicits the most difficult cases to prove what he has stated.

Continued from first page.

"That I shall live where my parents do."

"Without me?"

"That's for you to decide,"

"And I have decided. Of all the women in the world I have chosen you—but when I marry you, I do not marry your family."

"Very well, David."

"How am I to understand that?"

"That you and I part company."

"Very well, it is then. But let me tell you this, I'm not a man to be trifled with. It's now or never with me—"

"Never—" said Sallie.

"And let me tell you further, that if you won't be mistress of this house, there are plenty that will. There's Jeannie Burns, the handsomest girl in the country—I won't say that she's to be had for the asking, but I have reason to know she thinks favorably of me. As to this freak of yours it's nothing more or less than sheer obstinacy under the guise of filial piety."

"Hard words avail nothing, but this I will say, that whoever you bring here, be it Jeannie Burns or another, I scarcely think she can be to you what I could be — I, who have loved you so long and faithfully. And David, when you shut me out of your life and home because I refuse to break the fifth commandment, take care that you do not shut out God's blessing at the same time."

Sallie had advanced to the outside door and was standing on the threshhold, and the setting sun, which through the hazy atmosphere was red as blood, shone full upon her. As she said the last words she raised her hand to Heaven, and bathed in that crimson light, she looked like a martyr in the flames. He thought that she had never looked so noble, and that he had never loved her so well, but he answered not a word. He walked home with her in silence, and refused to enter the house.

When the news of the broken engagement spread through the village—as it soon did, for David made no secret of the affair—it was the occasion of much wonder and not a little gossip. Sallie's course was applauded by the few, and condemned by the many—but the few were those whose good opinions were most to be desired.

That she could banish from her heart a love of so long standing, without a struggle, is not likely, but on this subject her lips were silent. She grew a little thinner and paler, but went into society as usual, and neither seemed depressed, nor assumed an artificial gaiety. On this account some called her heartless.

"Isn't it shameful to see her wear them pink ribbons—for all the world as if she gloried in what she'd done!" said Mrs. Burdock, which remark was duly repeated to Sallie.

"I didn't know they expected me to put on mourning," she answered smiling a little bitterly.

When Mr. Deering heard what had happened, he said, "Our Sallie was always a good girl," and then seemed to forget all about it. He had received a paralytic stroke a few years before, and his mind had never been quite the same since, so that nothing made a lasting impression upon him. Mrs. Deering, on the contrary, begged her daughter not to sacrifice her happiness to them.

"My happiness will not be sacrificed, mother, said Sallie quietly."

Still it was not without a pang that she saw David riding by with Jennie Burns—he on the white-faced horse she knew so well, and she on her pretty pony. They saw her, too, and nodded and smiled two or three times, and he looked back, still holding his hat in his hand, till they turned the corner.

Mr. Burch, besides being owner of the mills was an amateur farmer. He took delight in drives and strange breeds of animals, and rare specimens of plants. He seldom visited the mills, leaving the care of his business almost entirely to his foreman. Beyond these facts, the townspeople knew little of him, for he lived in great seclusion at his place, Riverbank, which was a mile or two out of the village.

Having heard that his foreman was about to be married, he had offered him the prettiest Alderney heifer on his farm as a present, and invited him to come and select it himself. David thanked him very heartily at the time, but had never availed himself of the offer. Mr. Burch supposed this might be owing to diffidence, and one day rallied him on the subject.

"I'm not going to be married sir—at least not at present," said David, looking glum.

"Indeed! I hope nothing serious has occurred," said Mr. Burch.

"It's all off—" said David, shaking his head.

"A lover's quarrel, perhaps. If that's all, don't despair. Young ladies like to be coaxed."

"Not Sallie, sir," said David.

"I suppose then she has taken some new fancy. They're fickle creatures, these women-kind. What suits them to-day, offends them to-morrow. Well, cheer up, my lad, and learn to get along without them, as I do" said Mr. Burch smiling, and laying his hand lightly on David's shoulder.

"I'm certain Sallie never loved any one but me," said David decidedly, "and since you are so kind as to take an interest in the affair, I will tell you the truth about it. She was unreasonable to expect to saddle me with the care of her old father and mother."

"And you couldn't afford to take such a charge. Well, I'm glad you told me, for that is easily settled. Rather than two young people should be disappointed, I'll raise your salary."

"It was not just that," said David, "the Deerings have a little property of their own—but she has some fine-spun notions about the matter, and wanted to take them into the family."

"Oh!" said Mr. Burch, and paused abruptly, seemingly intently occupied with punching little holes in the ground with his gold-headed cane. "One shouldn't be hasty in affairs of so much importance," said he, at length. "Perhaps you may yet induce her to reconsider."

"It would be of no use to try," said David, "for you might as well attempt to move the sun, as to move Sallie Deering when she sets upon anything she fancies to be her duty."

"Very unreasonable, truly," said Mr. Burch, but there was a touch of sarcasm in his tone. "And you couldn't think of yielding yourself?"

"Never, sir, never."

"Well, you shall have the Alderney all the same, for I suppose you won't sell your place?"

"No! I, sir, nor buy a rope to hang myself with, neither."

Mr. Burch laughed, and as he walked away, he said to himself, "I guess the heifer will console him for the loss."

Concluded to-morrow.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DUPONCO'S GOLDEN PILL. FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in correcting irregularities, and removing obstructions of the monthly period. It is over forty years since these now so well known pills were first brought to notice by Dr. Duponco, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used by some of the leading physicians, with unparalleled success. Ladies in poor health, either married or single, suffering from any of the complaints peculiar to Females, will find the Duponco Golden Pills invaluable, viz, General Debility, Headache, Faintness, Lack of Ambition, Mental Depression, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Loins, Bearing-down Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menstruation, Rush of Blood to Head, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Fatigue on any slight exertion, and particularly that most annoying, weakening ailment, so common among Females, both married and single, the Leucorrhœa or Whites. Females in every period of life will find Duponco's Pills a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. They invigorate the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system, prepare the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken by those in middle life or old age they prove a perfect blessing. There is nothing in the entire organization to injury to life or health. Safe in their operation, perpetual in their happy influences upon the Nerves, the Mind and the entire organization. S. D. HOWE, Prop'rietor, N. Y. ALVAN LITTLEFIELD, Boston, Agent, N. E. States.

Ladies by enclosing $1 by mail will have the Pills sent confidentially to any address.

A CHANGE OF BASE.

BY RUTH CHESTERFIELD.

David did not intend to buy a rope to hang himself, but he slipped his neck into the matrimonial noose in the course of a few months, and moved into his new house precisely as he had planned to do—the only difference being that Jeannie Burns was his bride instead of Sallie Deering.

Sallie, meanwhile, was not left entirely without consolation, for if she had lost a lover, she had gained a friend, and that friend was no less a personage than Mr. Burch.

She was much surprised one day on opening the front door in answer to the summons of the great brass knocker, to behold him standing on the step, and his horse pawing at the gate—about as much surprised as you would be, if the statue of Washington which adorns the square would dismount from his rampant steed and pay you a visit.

He extended his hand smilingly, and inquired for her father and mother, upon which Sallie invited him in. He said he had been trying to obtain some of the old English strawberry plants—he had the Hovey's seedling and the Bartlett, and in fact almost every other variety—but the old English had become very rare, and he was told that Mr. Deering had it. Upon which Mr. Deering said that he had, and that Mr. Burch was welcome to some. And then they fell into a long conversation about horticulture in general. So he staid an hour or more, and though he addressed but a few words to Sallie, his hazel eyes were upon her even when he talked to her father. And so upon one pretext or another he continued to come, until at last he came without any pretext at all.

The old people valued his society on their own account not a little, but more because, as they said, the companionship of a cultivated gentleman was such an advantage to a young girl like their daughter. As for Sallie, she regarded him as a dear brother, or at least she thought she did, until her old friend Mrs. Burdock—the same who was scandalized by the "pink ribbons," destroyed the illusion. It was one afternoon in early June, when Mr. Deering slept in his arm chair, his wife darned his stockings and Sallie sat stitching away upon some pretty piece of nonsense—which truth to tell she was much addicted to doing—that Mrs. Burdock stalked in like some gaunt and grizzled fate. After discoursing a short time about the lateness of the season, the prospect for the crops, Mrs. Black's "rheumatiz" and Mr. Brown's broken leg—she came at last to the subject uppermost in her mind, and which had been the real motive of her call.

"So Mr. Burch is going to be married," she remarked, looking keenly at Sallie. That young woman gave a little start which caused her to prick her finger and stain her work with blood, and let us hope she deprived a momentary satisfaction from the fancy that the cambric was Mrs. Burdock, and the needle a dagger. She did not, however, look up nor make any reply, but her mother said in the most cosmopolitan way in the world.

"Is he? Who's the lady?"

"That I ha'nt found out, but he's fixin' up his house with the beautiflest new things. I made an arrant there and saw them myself. It must be the Queen of Sheby at least," and Mrs. Burdock cackled at her own wit. "He's been down to Boston three times in one week—only think of it," she asked.

What followed Sallie did not hear—she felt confused and bewildered, and was thankful when she could steal away to her chamber. Then she reproached herself for feeling distressed at the news. "What is it to me," thought she, "whether he is married or not? He has been the kindest and dearest of friends, and I hoped things might continue as they were, but I had no right to expect it. Well, whatever happens, I shall always reverence him as the noblest man in the world—nobody can deprive me of that comfort."

Like many other young ladies, Sallie was a little given to superlatives, as may be seen.

The next day Mr. Burch called, smiling as handsome as ever. He confirmed the truth of Mrs. Burdock's statement with regard to refitting his house, and paid Sallie the compliment of asking the benefit of her taste in completing the arrangements.

"Will you put on your hat and go with me now?" he asked.

"Certainly," she said, and tried to add "with much pleasure," but the words got no further than her throat.

She remembered how she had once gone over another house with another bridegroom, but it was not that memory which caused her to sigh as she crossed the threshold at Riverbank.

"Indeed, Mr. Burch, you had little need of any taste but your own," observed she.

"Then you are pleased?" he asked.

"I am charmed."

"It still lacks one thing without which even Paradise was not complete"—he said—"its Eve."

"A difficulty which will soon be sup-
